SELFISHNESS.

We Nearly Always Discover It in Others but Never in Ourselves.
Probably the most insidious of all the faults is that upon the absence of which we most pride ourselves, and that at the same time we notice most readily in others. In some of us it is pride, in others gossiping. The list is long, and we know it without going into details, but that which we do not seem to realize is that the very most common fault of us all as a mass is selfishness.

We do know that nearly every one we meet is selfish, but we seldom discover how selfish we are ourselves unless shown by a sudden touch of deep regret. Most of us discover, for instance, that we were selfish in reference to some dear friend dead, but we stop right there, and while we regret the past and shed useless tears over the lost chance we do not make any new discoveries—namely, that we are selfish to our living friends—and while we think that they are being unfair, unkind, to us we forget to be generous ourselves, to look beyond the frown, the hard word, the selfish act or neglect, and see what it is that causes all this, to see what strain our friend is bearing and share it in so far as patience, generous forbearance, will lighten it.

Think how selfish most of us have been in time gone by, how quick words have gone out to hurt hearts already hurt, when from us at least that particular cross friend had a right to hope for better things.
Do not make a very close examination of things in general and see whether you are not yourself more selfish than are your friends, and remember that the greatest generosity in this world is to have patience with others in their "selfishness," for in half the cases at least it is pain or worry, not real intended unkindness at all.—Philadelphia Times.

THE HEAL-ALL.

near blossom of the wayside kn,
Whose homely, wholesome name
Fells of a potency within
To win thee country fame.

The sterile hillocks are thy home,
Beside the windy path;
The sky, a pale and lonely dome,
Is all thy vision hath.

The unobtrusive purple face
Attend the meagre grass
Greet me with long-remembered grace,
And cheers me as I pass.

and I, outworn by petty care,
And vexed with rival wrong,
Heed thy brave and joyous air
Until my heart grows strong.

A blessing from the Power I crave
That moves in thee and me,
That makes thee modest, calm and brave,
As restless as the sea.

My simple wisdom I would gain—
To heal the hurt life brings
With kindly cheer, and faith in pain,
And joy of common things.
Charles G. D. Roberts, in Harper's Bazar.

Really a Kind Man.

"Did you see anything of a pocket-book that I dropped somewhere in the bedroom I occupied last night, landlord?"

"Any money in it?"
"About £100."

"Yes, sir. Here is your pocketbook, with the money. The maid was honest enough to bring it to me, and I locked it up in the safe."

"Ah, very correct proceeding, very. I had intended placing the money in the bank this morning, where it would have been drawing 4 per cent. As a reward for your honesty I will say nothing about the interest for the time it has been in your possession, and you can make it square with the chambermaid. There is nothing small about me when I run across a man who seems to be trying to do what's right."—London Telegraph.

PROVIDER NO. 23968.

By Preceptor, sire of Nutgragor, 2.17 1/2 at 4 years, and five others in 2.30 list; dam Lill, dam of Dot, 2.18, and granddam of Kickapoo, 2.16, by Dean Swift, sire of 4 in 30 list.

PROVIDER is so well known to the public, both as a trotter and race horse, that little need be said of him. At the trotting meeting held at Charlottetown last September, he started the first day in the 2.25 class, and won in three straight heats, making the fast time of 2.22, 2.21, and 2.21. The next day he started in the free for all, and again won in straight heats, time 2.22, 2.23, and 2.24, trotting every heat in the two races but one, in 2.25, and better, without making a break or mistake, beating such fast ones as Arlight 2.19, and Montrose, 2.20.

Persons who may not desire to breed trotters will please take notice that Provider has that superiorly good high knee action, so desirable in roadsters, and carriage horses. These qualities combined with his fine breeding size, good color, and disposition, must be sufficient recommendation to insure patronage.

Provider will make the season at John Connor's stables opposite the Opera House—Terms $10.00 for the season, with usual return privilege if mare is not in foal.
