Trade at luncheon when Mr. A. Waltham Gaudet, secretary of the Charlottetown Board, was chairman. Mr. Matheson, the guest speaker, was introduced by Mr. A. T. Parkes, executive secretary of the Maritime Board, who referred to the great service to his country performed by Mr. Matheson during the war years and in peacetime. In his closing sentence he introduced the speaker as "Mr. Maritime Freight Rates."

Working Commission

The executive manager of the Transportation Commission traced the birth and growth of the Commission from its inception in 1925. At that time, he said, there was a strong feeling that there was something wrong with the freight rate structure and the Maritimes had fallen heir to one not in compliance with the previous rate policies of the International Railway.

He told of the Duncan Commission report and how it eventually led to the passing of the Maritime Freight Rates Act. He also noted that in the early 1930's it became apparent that as a result of truck development, and associated lower transportation cost in the Central Provinces, the benefits obtained under the Act were being whittled away.

To offset this trend the Maritime Board appointed a permanent full-time adviser to the Transportation Commission. Most of the secretarial work of the Commission in its early days was done in the offices of the Saint John and Halifax Boards where full-time secretaries were employed, and which were the principal sponsors of the Commission.

Contract With Premiers

Direct contact with the Premiers of the Maritime Provinces is maintained as a matter of policy. This contact is through the chairman or vice-chairmen of the individual Provinces. It is only through the Premiers that funds for the engaging of special counsel can be obtained when there is a rate case of sufficient scope to justify such action.

Mr. Matheson told the group that the commission maintained in its offices a complete file of railway tariffs which are constantly checked.

The dockets for the Commission's consideration include requests for assistance and intervention which appear to be purely in character and likely to give rise to conflicting issues from other local ties. The policy of the Commission in matters of this kind is to make available to the interested parties rate data and any other factual information, but refraining at the same time from becoming involved in the local issues in dispute.

Chief Objective

The principal purpose of the Commission meetings is to decide on questions of policy, to receive reports, and to consider finances. Interim meetings are held principally for the disposition of questions of policy. Sometimes these questions are limited to but a few, such as in the case of the meeting held on January 5th. The services of the Commission are not restricted to Boards of Trade or other trade organizations and Government departments within the Maritimes. Any person or industry in the four Atlantic Provinces desirous of information or advice within the scope of the Commission's activities is privileged to write direct to the office of the Commission.

The speaker was thanked on behalf of the secretaries by Mr. A. C. Milner, secretary of the Amherst, N.S. Board, who expressed the appreciation of the audience for the clear explanation of the work and duties of the Transportation Commission.

Wide Representation

Attending the secretarial sessions, which preceded the annual meeting of the Maritime Provinces Board of Trade starting today, were a representative group from all three Provinces. Included were A. E. Eagles, past president, Springhill A. W. Gaudet, secretary, Charlottetown C. R. McLagan, president, Campbellton, N.B.; A. N. Hattie, secretary, Miramichi; C. G. Milner, secretary, Amherst; C. J. Fitch, Moncton, secretary; Mr. Matheson; Kenneth A. Ross, Halifax; J. R. Dudley, secretary, Saint John; D. S. Griffin, Montreal, Field Secretary for the Canadian Chamber of Commerce; Frank Curtis, president of the Maritime Provinces Board of Trade; A. T. Parkes, executive secretary of the Board; H. L. Rodd, secretary, Summerside; and Miss Joan Fitzgerald, assistant secretary, Saint John. The afternoon sessions were un-

X-Ray Unit To Visit Montague

"Some people in Montague have been wondering when the T. B. League's chest X-ray unit is coming to town. We have heard of its visit in surrounding districts in the past few weeks. Word has been received that it will be here this week.

On Thursday it will X-ray our school-aged children at the school during normal school hours. For the convenience of our adult population it will also be open Thursday evening from 7:00 to 9:00 p.m., Friday from 11:30 to 12:30 and from 3:00 to 5:00 p.m. Those who wish to make it possible for most of the business men and housewives to take a few minutes off and go to the school house to be X-rayed.

Montague has been an area of several open active cases of T. B. in the past and it is advisable for all to take this simple precaution of being X-rayed. When the unit was in Montague two years ago 527 were X-rayed. In proportion to population the T. B. League believes this figure should be nearer 700 and hopes that that many will avail themselves of this opportunity Thursday and Friday.

Heavy Catches Of Flounders In Souris Area

Dragners fishing out of Souris have been landing plenty of flounders in the past few days. Yesterday (Monday) fifteen thousand pounds reached the filleting plant now in operation in the Eastern town. Passing through the hands of skilled filleters the fish were mechanically packed in attractive one pound cardboard containers. The mechanical wrapper was being used for the first time. It had just been installed. Island fish hotels will very likely become well acquainted with several kinds of filleted fish which will be marketed in these distinctive packages.

Nahas Resigns As Wafd Leader

CAIRO, Oct. 6 — (Reuters) — Mustafa El Nahas, seven times prime minister and Egypt's most powerful politician until Gen. Mohammed Naguib took power this year, resigned today from the Wafd Party he led for more than 20 years.

The Wafd executive committee bowed to Naguib's demands and resisted under the new "purge or dissolve laws" — without the 77-year-old Nahas as its chairman.

Naguib's government had made it known that it had "certain objections" to Nahas as the party boss.

He is replaced as chairman by Abdel Salam Gomaa, 66, senior member of the Wafd but little known outside Egypt.

Wafd supporters greeted the party announcement with a pro-Nahas demonstration, saying "We will not abandon you, O Nahas," and shouting against Gomaa.

The announcement constituted a political about-turn by the Wafd, Egypt's biggest party. Last week it decided to dissolve rather than lose Nahas. Old guard leaders claimed the party would crumble without Nahas. Gomaa was reported then to be at variance with this view.

Under the chairmanship of Mr. J. Russell Dudley, Commissioner, Saint John Board of Trade, who led a talk on industrial promotion activities. Mr. Derek Griffin, Montreal, briefly told of the proposed pension plan for Board of Trade secretaries which is now being formulated all across Canada. He also gave a short description of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce Institute at Hamilton, Ontario, which is literally a school for Board secretaries.

T. Parkes, Moncton, opened a brief discussion on ways in which the Board and Chamber might better serve their members. He also noted that the meeting held here was a result of the one held last year in Sydney, N.S. when it was agreed that it would be an excellent idea for the secretaries to get together annually and discuss mutual problems.

This morning the annual meeting of the Maritime Provinces Board of Trade will begin with registration and a session of golf for the sports minded. Mr. J. Gordon MacDonald, president of the local Board, will be chairman at the noon luncheon tendered by the City of Charlottetown.

There will be four speakers heard at the luncheon at the Charlottetown. They will be Lieutenant Governor T. W. L. Prowse, Premier J. Walter Jones, Mayor J. D. Stewart and Mr. Frank Curtis, president of the Maritime Board. During the afternoon Mr. Curtis will present his report, as will Mr. Parkes.

The evening session will be featured by a talk by Hon. D. C. Abbott, Federal Minister of Finance, who will speak to the Board members following the dinner at the Charlottetown. Business sessions will also be held tomorrow morning and afternoon.

Chinese Use Stones Against Canadian Troops

By Bill Boss Canadian Press Staff Writer

WITH THE CANADIANS IN KOREA, Oct. 6 — (CP) — The Chinese have started throwing stones at the Canadians in the front line.

They do it mostly by night, sneaking up to the Canadian barbed-wire entanglements rattling them and then tossing their new weapon.

At first the troops used to shoot at the throwers but they were ordered not to. A few Canadians were hit, none badly, one Royal Canadian Regiment man suffered a badly-bruised neck.

All three Canadian infantry battalions here have experienced the latest Chinese tactic.

It seemed childish at first, but authorities now accord the stone-throwing respect as sensible on the enemy's part.

Brig. M. F. Bogert, commander of the 25th Canadian Infantry Brigade, believes the Chinese have three purposes.

1. To draw fire, causing the troops to betray their weapons' locations and types.

2. To build up their intelligence picture for future use.

3. To divert attention while the main action goes on elsewhere.

Bogert ordered his troops to answer the stones with stones or better, with grenades. The latter explode without revealing where they came from.

The Van Doos reported being stoned by Chinese one night, then amended their report the following morning.

Saying investigation had revealed the stones to have been polished, they accused the R. C. R. of hurling the barrage.

Lt. Col. Peter Bingham, commanding the R. C. R., played a brass-polishing reputation and issued new orders:

"Henceforth all polishing of stone missiles will cease. They will be painted blue and gold (the regimental colors)."

Plan Rates Slash On Lubricating Oils To The West

OTTAWA, Oct. 6 — (CP) — The railways and a group of inland steamship companies are proposing to slash freight rates between 20 and 25 per cent on lubricating oil shipped from Eastern refineries to points in Ontario and the Prairie Provinces.

The rail and water carriers have filed application with the Board of Transport Commissioners for approval of an "agreed charge" contract under which they would get, in return for the lower rates, all lubricating oil shipments from refineries of four big oil companies to destinations in the four provinces.

Joining with the two transcontinental railways in the proposal are Canada Steamship Lines, Northern Navigation Company, Northern Steamships, Ltd., Ontario Northland Railways and the Northern Alberta Railway.

The oil companies are British-American, Canadian, Imperial and McColl-Frontenac.

Railway officials said the proposed contract involves a fairly heavy volume of oil mainly to Western points from Montreal, Toronto, Sarnia, Ont. and Clarkson, Ont.

Purpose of the reductions, they said, is to meet competition from lake and river tankers—whose cargo rates are not regulated—and potential competition from highway tank trucks west of the lake-head. The tankers particularly have been cutting into the rail business.

Europeans May See Coronation On TV Hookup

By Ken Botwright LONDON, Oct. 6 — (Reuters) — About 2,000,000 viewers in six European countries will watch the coronation next summer on their television sets if a revolutionary British Broadcasting Corporation plan works out.

The state-controlled BBC plans to transmit its TV coverage of the pageant to France, Belgium, the Netherlands, and possibly to West Germany and Denmark, over Europe's first continent-wide television hook-up.

It also hopes to show the televised coronation in theatres in four major British cities, enabling thousands more than Britain's 457,000 TV set owners to see the most magnificent spectacle of the post-war era.

"Right now we are awaiting permission from the Duke of Norfolk, who, as earl marshal, is responsible for organizing the coronation," said a BBC spokesman.

North American Project Off

The National Broadcasting Company earlier this year considered bringing the televised coronation to North America by means of a "moving staircase" of 10 aircraft, carrying relay equipment, spaced out over the Atlantic.

But today, Romney Wheeler, NBC representative in London, reportedly that the project "is definitely off."

The BBC spokesman said his firm could only transmit its coronation coverage "as far as the French north coast."

"When it would be up to the French to relay it to the rest of the continent," he added.

TV experts here say that a conversion station will be required if the continental hook-up is to work. That's because the BBC transmits a different type of picture (European) than that used in other European countries (25-line system).

Engineers solved the same problem earlier this year when a Paris-London video network was established.

SOURIS LINE ROAD SOUTH W. I.

Twelve members of Souris Line Road South Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. Lorne Keays to hold their September meeting, which opened in the usual manner, followed by reading and adoption of the minutes of previous meeting. Roll call was answered by members wearing glasses paying a nickel, and those not wearing them to paying a dime.

The sick committee reported and Mrs. Joseph MacAulay and Mrs. Wilfred Bernard were appointed as the new sick committee. Mrs. Hugh MacAulay was appointed on the school committee.

It was decided to hold a dance in the school, proceeds in aid of the C.W.L. A drawing of blanket is to take place, and members decided to clean the school at as early a date as possible after that.

A very interesting report of the convention held in Charlottetown was given by the delegate, Miss Helen MacIsaac. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Joseph L. MacDonald, when roll call will be answered by members paying a quarter to the A.C.W.W. entertainment fund.

The meeting adjourned, after which a Dutch Auction was enjoyed by all. Lunch was served and a vote of thanks tendered.

Declares South Korean Army Has Greatly Improved

OTTAWA, Oct. 6 — (OP) — A British general who spent 18 months in Korea said today the South Korean army has improved tremendously in that time but still couldn't be expected to take over the whole United Nations front for a considerable time.

He said the South Koreans already are doing a "very large" part of the United Nations fighting.

Maj.-Gen. James Cassels, former commander of the First Commonwealth Division which includes the Canadian 25th Brigade, was commenting at a press conference on a recent statement by Gen. Dwight Eisenhower that the U. N. front must eventually be entrusted to the South Koreans.

Gen. Cassels said he has a "hunch" — a strictly personal feeling — that there will be an armistice in Korea within six to nine months, mainly because he thinks both the Red Chinese and North Koreans are fed up with the war.

He didn't think the South Koreans would be ready in anything like that time to take over the whole front line but thought it might be possible to entrust a static front to them if a stable armistice actually did come.

"They have a lot of divisions in the line and they are training men," he said.

He estimated that possibly 40 to 50 per cent of the U. N. fighting now is being done by South Koreans.

Gen. Cassels, who sandwiched
