Mr. Campbell Acts

THE public address announcer in Chicago Stadium has a perfect right to have a team of his choice in these Stanley Cup finals but he hasn t any right to be making any comment as a public address announcer.

Clarence Campbell, president of the National Hockey League, got fairly well worked up Sunday in Chicago when he listened to the 'unnecessaries' thrown in by a gentleman by the name of Bob Foster. Bob has become almost overcome by the doings of the Hawks and has let his feelings run away with him He hasn't been sticking to facts but rather he has been pushing his opinion upon the fans in the rink and the fans on radio and television.

Now mind you, this certainly doesn't make a team win or lose. However, he does cheapen the affair and when it does Mr. Campbell has every right to step in and cry halt.Not only is it his right but it is his duty as president looking after the interests of all clubs.

Chicago Stadium is the only place we have heard opinions expressed by the public address announcer. All other rinks have individuals who give the cold hard facts to the public.

Sunday night we wandered when a stop would be put to this practice and it didn't surprise us one bit to learn Monday that Campbell had sent his edict to the Hawks management.

Now if the NHL prexy had some way of stopping this horrible practice of throwing just about everything on the ice, things in Chicago would be nearly like any other NHL city.

But, then, that's hoping for too much.

What About Meetings?

WE HAVEN'T heard a sound of any baseball or softball meetings on the Island.

Perhaps there have been some and we missed out on them but at least, Charlottetown, Summerside and King's County haven't done anything as yet.

We know it will be considerable time until play actually gets underway but we think that some of the organizational work should be started now.

Undoubtedly things will begin to take shape in the very near future.

Those Olympics

MONTREAL Olympics are in the Allan Cup finals and that makes Amherst Ramblers look mighty good.

The Quebec champions were the first ones that Amherst encountered on the Allan Cup trail. The Ramblers managed to take the first game in overtime but lost the next three. That loss to the Amherst squad was the only one suffered thus far by these Olympics. They sidelined Ottawa District champions in straight games and then upset the Ontario Hockey Association champions, Kapuskasing Kaps in four straight. This last triumph over the OHA winners was certainly unexpected and must have OHA officials shaking their heads.

Now the Olympics head west for the Allan Cup finals and after their great showing to date it would not be surprising to see them go all the way.

Folks in the east will be pulling for an Olympics' victory.

Reiser Has Job

REMEMBER that great outfielder of Brooklyn Dodger's days, Pete Reiser?

Well, Pete is at Los Angeles these times holding down a coaching job with the Alsonites. Pete has plenty to think about but one of his ambitions is to make Frank Howard a better slugger.

Says Pete: "Frank Howard hasn't got the same snap in his swings he had when I had him as a rookie at Green Bay in 1958. I'm no psychologist, but I'm going to try and get Howard back to his Green Bay days, when he stood there flatfooted and hit bullets. We're not going to talk about what happened to him these last two years."

If Pete can accomplish this task, the Dodgers will surely be a much more serious contender for the National League crown.

Terry Is Grateful

YOU would think that Ralph Terry would always remember with real disgust that world series home run ball he fed to Bill Mazeroski in the 1960 world series. That was the ball that won the world championship for the Bucs from Pittsburgh.

Asked recently about that pitch, Ralph had this to say:

"That home run I fed to Bill Mazeroski, that won the 1960 world series for the Pirates, didn't stay with me too long, and I'll tell you why it didn't.

"I walked over to Casey Stengel as soon as I entered the clubhouse after the game. 'Casey' I said, 'I hate to end it like this.'"

Casey replied: "How were you operatin' — what were you trying to execute?" he said.

"I tried for a low one, breaking and away," I told him, "it came in high." "At least you pitched as you should, so I ain't complainin'," he said.

He spoke those words like the old pro he is. They gave me a lift needed when I needed it most. Otherwise I might have brooded for the rest of my days. I'll always be grateful to Casey for them.

CHAMPIONSHIP RINK

A rink skipped by Sybil MacMillan, won the Charlottetown ladies curling championship last Wednesday at the local club. Along with the championship went the Wellner trophy, emblematic of this competition. Members of the winning rink left to right are:— Sybil MacMillan, skip; Isabel MacDonald, mate; Tess Lecky, second and Kitty MacLeod, lead.

YMHA Team Forced To Cede Hoop Series

MONTREAL (CP) — Montreal's YMHA Blues apparently will have to drop out of playoff competition for the national Senior B basketball championship, it was learned Tuesday night.

Coach Murray Waxman said his team is unable to play on the dates set by the Canadian Amateur Basketball Association because they conflict with the Jewish passover holidays.

"So far we haven't been able to get them changed and it looks as though we'll have to forfeit," said Wyman, a construction firm operator who played on Canada's 1948 Olympic basketball team.

The Blues were to meet Saint John, N.B. YMCA in a two-game total-point series here Saturday and Sunday with the winner to advance to the national final against Sarnia, Ont., YMCA in Sarnia April 23-25 in a best-of-three set.

But the high holidays fall on April 24-25.

WILL HAVE TO CEDE

"We can't play on those dates and since there is no point to advancing we have been told we'll have to cede the series with Saint John," said Waxman.

"We asked the Sarnia officials if they would agree to move the dates back a couple of days. But they said they couldn't do it because three of their players would be unavailable."

Waxman said the players on his club offered to put up money "out of their own pockets" to guarantee expenses for the Sarnia team if the dates were set back.

"But they still wouldn't accept.

Indians Beat Red Sox 5-0

CLEVELAND (AP) — Dick Donovan pitched a five-hitter for his second straight shutout over Boston as Cleveland Indians beat Red Sox 5-0 Tuesday night.

Donovan (2-0) struck out six and walked three.

Willie Kirkland hit a solo homer in the eight, his first of the year. He also had three singles for a perfect night. Rookie Al Luplow hit his first major league homer in the seventh with no one on.

Bill Monbouquette (1-1), who pitched 12 scoreless innings against Indians in his last appearance, stretched it another three innings but was charged with the loss.

Cerulty Believes He Can Persuade Herb To Continue

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP)—Percy Cerutty, the coach who guided Australian miler Herb Elliott to fame, still believes he can persuade the runner to change his mind about retiring from international athletics.

In an article written for The Melbourne Sun, Cerutty says although he thinks Elliott has made the wrong decision, he does not think it irrevocable.

"I know what Herb has had to put up with and I know he has reasons for wanting to retire," Cerutty says.

"But I still say he can do all the things he has to do these days and still come back.

"Right now he has lost confidence—he never did have a great deal of confidence in himself.

"He is on his own over in the United Kingdom and that is why he decided he is not keen to go on.

"I feel very deeply that he owes a lot to his home city of Perth, to the (forthcoming) Commonwealth games and to his country.

"I wish I was over there with him. I feel I can convince him of these things if he let me talk to him."

Big Cove Cops Mar. Crown

NORTH SYDNEY, N.S. (CP) — New Brunswick's Big Cove T'xmacs captured the Maritime Indian hockey championship here Tuesday night as they blanked the Cape Breton champions, Eskasoni Eagles 3-0 in the second game of their best-of-three series.

Big Cove won the opening game in the round Monday night by a 6-5 margin.

Big Cove scored single goals in each of the three periods, Steve Joseph opened the scoring in the initial session while Vincent Paul tallied in the second frame. Peter Sock closed the scoring in the final period.

Chihawks Square Series; Trounce Maple Leafs 4-1

BULLETIN

By JACK SULLIVAN

Canadian Press Sports Editor

CHICAGO (CP)—A screaming, debris-throwing crowd of nearly 20,000 sang a resounding victory song Tuesday night as Chicago Black Hawks crushed Toronto Maple Leafs 4-1 and squared their best - of - seven Stanley Cup final 2-2.

It was one of the roughest cup games in years. Fights broke out in each period, climaxed by a stick-swinging duel between the Hawks' Stan Mikita and big Frank Mahovlich of Leafs. No damage was done.

Referee Frank Udvari slapped them with game - misconduct penalties with less than three minutes of the game remaining and both skated to there dressing - rooms. Mahovlich was pelted with debris from the frantic Hawk fans.

All told, Udvari called 24 penalties—the two game misconducts, one misconduct, four majors and 17 minors.

USE SAME FORMULA

Hawks, who shut out Leafs 3-0 in Tuesday's third game here after two straight losses in Toronto, used same success formula of hitting hard from the opening faceoff. They hammered at Leafs for the opening two periods—when all the goals were scored—and then played it cozy in the last 20 minutes.

It could be a costly game for Leafs, who lost goalkeeper Johnny Bower, a non-combatant, in the first period when he pulled a leg muscle after doing the splits to save on an ankle-high drive by Bobby Hull. Bower limped off and spare goalkeeper Don Simmons was called in from the stands.

It was Hull and penalty-killing Reggie Fleming who killed Leafs with goals. Each got a pair while Toronto's scoring was handled by veteran Red Kelly in the first period after Hawks had built up a 2-0 lead.

Fleming's first goal—at 15-41 of the opening period—turned out to be the winner and it was an ironic touch. He hadn't been able to score against Leafs in 14 Toronto - Chicago National Hockey League games this year.

SIMMONS YIELDS THREE

Bower was beaten on Hull's first goal and the masked Simmons, who gave up hockey a year ago to sell mink rather than play in the minors, yielded the other three. Exactly 61 seconds after Simmons took over, Fleming beat him with a low blistering drive in the corner to the netminder's left from about 15 feet out.

Ironically, too, it was Chicago's first shot on goal after the 31-year-old Simmons took over.

This marked Simmons' 22nd playoff game. He minded the nets for Boston in 1957 and 1958 and had two shutouts in 21 games.

It was clearly evident early to the hysterical crowd at Chicago Stadium that this was going to be a sock-'em, rough-'em-up battle between the two teams.

The crowd had hardly settled in their seats when Murray Balfour, who was wearing a helmet following a head injury in the second game at Toronto, and Leaf defenceman Bobby Baun tangled behind the Toronto goal.

That was the signal for players of both clubs to shed their gloves and pick partners. But they acted more as peacemakers than warmongers, much as they did in later flurries of fist-swinging.

But these brief battles didn't stop the heavy checking, particularly by the Hawks who apparently went out to soften up the Leafs for the kill.

Dollard St. Laurent, who apparently has discovered he has muscles in this series, got a good piece of Captain George Armstrong and Mahovlich in the first minute and a half.

From that point on, until the final period when the Hawks sat back and simply protected their 4-1 lead, they matched bodycheck for bodycheck with the Leafs. And the Hawks appeared to hit the hardest.

"I have to admit one thing," coach Punch Imlach of Leafs said after the game. "They were the aggressors but we didn't back down from them."

SUMMARY

First period: 1. Chicago, Hull 6 (Mikita) 10:35; 2. Chicago, Fleming 1 (Nesterenko) 15:41; 3. Toronto, Kelly 4 (Duff, Armstrong) 18:08. Penalties—Baun, major :17, Balfour, major :17, Mahovlich 1:46, Brewer 7:08, Horvath 7:08, Nesterenko 12:05, Wharram 17:37.
