LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

GRIT SOPHISTRIES CONSIDERED.

It is amusing yet pitiable to see how assiduously the grits are whistling to keep up their own and their followers' courage by asserting that the Dominion Government will be defeated at the next general election.

From Mr. Laurier, the grit leader, down to the smallest of their camp followers the burden of the cry is the defeat they expect the conservatives will sustain. So much in this case that one can keep quoting their benefit the words of Edmund Burke in his "Reflections on the French Revolution" viz:—"Because half a dozen grass-hoppers under a fern make the field ring with their importunate chirp, whilst thousands of great cattle repose beneath the shadow of the British oak, they the oak and are silent, pray do not imagine that those who make the noise are the only inhabitants of the field; or that of course, they are many in number, or that, after all, they are other than the little shriveled meagre, hopping though loud and troublesome insects of the hour."

The reasons given by the grit politicians and press are vague and perle in the highest degree. Mr. Laurier lays stress on the fact that Sir John A. Macdonald and Sir John Thompson have joined the great majority beyond and beyond others claim that the fact of the Conservatives having so long been in power will cause their defeat. Others, again, think that the charges of corruption they vigorously and justly make will have weight with the people. But to my mind it will take stronger reasons and more substantial arguments than any of these to cause the electors to vote for a party whose record in both federal and local politics has been so full of promise and void of performance as has been that of the so-called Liberals.

Whatever branch of the great subject of the political government of Canada we consider, the history of the past shows clearly that the men who are best fitted to carry on the great work of Canada's future are not the political clique who for nearly twenty years have been decrying the country and coquetting with the American republic in order to obtain party advantage at the expense of their native country.

The lowering of the people's taxes are making a great ado about the deficit for last year and what they prophesy will occur during the present one. They loudly cry out against the Government for the people changing their political allegiance. But surely they remember that year after the great cry against the Government was because the people were too highly taxed and too much money was—they said—wrong from the now that the placing on the free list of the necessities of living being called to order by the President; our popular young Liberal friend, Mr. Robert M. Young, was appointed Chairman, an appointment which, in view of the strong feelings almost every one had against the Government, was a compliment to Mr. Young's intelligence and impartiality.

The policy of the Conservatives was expounded and defended by Messrs Edward Fraser, Seymour Young and D. McNeill, who showed up in a clear and convincing way the benefits P. E. Island had derived under the Conservative regime and the financial maelfstrom in which we are now placed by our wonderful "Grit" Peters' "Have Women a Right to the Franchise" speech. After the subject was pretty thoroughly discussed, the closing speech was given by Mr. Mutch, after which the chairman he thought brought up the strongest arguments—therefore, that the policy of the Conservatives was more beneficial to the Island than that of the Liberals. A vote of thanks of the meeting was then tendered Mr. Young for his impartial decision.

The subject for next evening's discussion, "Have Women a Right to the Franchise," will be discussed by Messrs F. Aitken and H. J. Aitken. The case was adjourned till next Friday evening when the judge will charge the jury and they will render a verdict according to the evidence given.

THE GUARDIAN CORRECTED.

Sir,—I notice by a paragraph in this morning's issue that the name of G. O'Neill has been given to a Scot Act. Whether this was written intentionally or by mistake I know not; but let the public may think I am the person mentioned above, I beg to tell the Guardian man, and through him the public at large, that I have not gone to jail, but am still found at the old "Halfway House" and intend to attend to the wants of my party built the Scotia and Tignish branches—and now it is shouting "bravery" because a meeting is held to promote it, and the people are going to attend to it. That is too much like "the dog in the manger" for me. They will not build it themselves and they snarl and bite if others attempt to do it. What has my friend, Mr. L. H. Davies, been doing for his Belfast constituents for the last four years? I understand he attended a railway meeting somewhere in Belfast in the year 1891, just before the election, and promised that he would move heaven and earth to give Belfast a railway. It is now said he never opened his mouth about it for the last four years. What was the reason? Whatever it be, a lively man like Davies, when I was young—I think the tactics they pursue to-day, will not help them to retain their name long. Their actions are neither honest nor just, a calm long-continued course they pursue. I must differ from party this time. They cannot blame me. I go for a railroad and will support men who will work for it. As Mr. L. H. Davies and his party changed their platform so often during the last ten or twelve years for their own good, they need not be so much astonished if I change now for the good of Belfast and Murray Harbor. OLD LIBERAL.

WILL CHANGE PLATFORM TOO

Sir,—I have been reading the Patriot for some years and especially since the Eldon meeting. I have also been reading the Guardian, which professes to be independent and to say that which is an advance of my party for the manner in which they discuss public questions. Here is Belfast and Murray Harbor which should have had a branch railway when my own party built the Scotia and Tignish branches—and now it is shouting "bravery" because a meeting is held to promote it, and the people are going to attend to it. That is too much like "the dog in the manger" for me. They will not build it themselves and they snarl and bite if others attempt to do it. What has my friend, Mr. L. H. YOUNG MEN'S DEBATING SOCIETY.

Sir,—The last meeting of this Society took place on Monday, the 14th inst., at the room of the Commercial Hotel, and was a most interesting one. A large number of gentlemen from Gullas Point, Cherry Valley and Seal River, met in the schoolroom to hear the address of a very interesting and interesting discussion on local politics. Several ladies also graced the meeting with their presence.

The meeting being called to order by the President; our popular young Liberal friend, Mr. Robert M. Young, was appointed Chairman, an appointment which, in view of the strong feelings almost every one had against the Government, was a compliment to Mr. Young's intelligence and impartiality.

The policy of the Conservatives was expounded and defended by Messrs Edward Fraser, Seymour Young and D. McNeill, who showed up in a clear and convincing way the benefits P. E. A vote of thanks of the meeting was then tendered Mr. Young for his impartial decision.

OBITUARY.

It is with deep regret and sorrow that we chronicle the death of Louis F. Bryson, son of Lawrence Bryson, Esq., of Bryson's Road, at the early age of nineteen years. He was a young man highly esteemed and well beloved by all who knew him, and by his gentlemanly disposition and modesty he made hosts of friends. He was a student at St. Dunstan's College for three years, to the term ending in June '94. From that institution he held a diploma which entitled him to enter McGill University for the study of medicine. His diploma was also accepted and certified by the Charlottetown Medical Board.

During the first of the College term, 1894, he suffered intensely with his eyes, and was obliged to abandon work for some time. When he resumed his studies he worked too hard, obtaining an extension of time for studying. After the night studies were ended he worked too late a hour, and had often to be forced from his books to take exercise during recreation hours. He graduated well, carrying off more than one first prize. His prizes and taking his diploma. But hard work soon began to tell on his slight frame—consumption set in, and in less than a year of sickness he was called to the gates of eternity. The largest course of people ever seen in that part for some time followed him remains to St. Joseph's Cemetery, where, as his sister, Miss Hattie, was very pleased to be present, he was laid to rest. Dr. J. F. Covey delivered the opening speech in which he showed that the benefits derived in the present have been largely due to the untiring efforts of our forefathers. His speech was a masterpiece of English and was nicely flowered by latin words and phrases. The instrumental music rendered by Frank Moore and his sister, Miss Hattie, was greatly applauded. The Quartette the old oaken bucket given by Mr. and Mrs. J. Lea together with Walter Lea and Miss Morris with Miss Jessie Macgregor, all sang with great applause. At the close, the Principal, with O. B. Waldman as chairman, who throughout was the hero of the evening, made a few remarks, in which he stated that if the benefits derived in the present were due to the past, it remained for us to do our best in the present so that those who came after us could say we have done well. Judging from the way he spoke, he did not seem to care about straining the present for the sake of praising the past. Much praise is due the above parties for their kind and generous assistance. The program is crowded out.

After Taking Hood's Sarsaparilla

Cured of a Serious Disease.

"I was suffering from what is known as Bright's disease for five years, and for days at a time I was unable to straighten myself up. I was in bed for three weeks; during that time I had been applied and derived no benefit. Seeing Hood's Sarsaparilla advertised in the papers I decided to try a bottle. I found relief before I had finished taking half a bottle. I got so much help from taking the first bottle that I decided to try another, and since taking the second bottle I feel as well as ever I did in my life. GEO. MERRITT, Toronto, Ont.
