A Great Weekend

IT was a honey of a weekend and sportsminded folks surely made the most of it.

It was a familiar figure heading the field in the Green Gables Open. Once again it was Art MacKenzie romping home an easy victory in the holiday special. It was the redhead's second big triumph within a week and added another award to his already large collection.

Charlottetown Midgets won themselves the Island baseball championship with triumphs Friday and Saturday over Summerside lads. The first was a squeaker but the capital city boys won handsdown in the second contest.

However, Summerside juniors are heading Abegweit juniors two games to one in a best-of-five provincial baseball final. Summerside took the first two games but Abbies managed to stave off elimination by capturing the third. We saw the second game at Memorial Field and weren't too impressed. There was some weird base running and we thought some mental lapses that shouldn't have occurred.

However, it's much easier to play the game in the stands or in the dugout than it is on the baseball diamond. But after watching the midgets perform we were surprised that the juniors didn't show as much class.

Fashionmen Shine

MACKENZIE'S House of Fashion took a big step to retain their Senior 'B' softball crown when they belted Canadian Tire Pistons all over the diamond Saturday afternoon at Summerside.

It was the first game of a best-of-three final series and the Fashionmen triumphed 14-2. The fact MacKenzie's won the game was no great surprise but the way they humiliated the Tiremen was surely something we hadn't expected.

However, last September MacKenzie's lost the first game and bounced back to win the softball crown. Pistons undoubtedly are well aware of this and are determined to show new life when the teams clash here this coming Saturday afternoon. If a third game is necessary, it will be played immediately following the second tilt.

And The Karts

OUT Covehead way, the kart drivers and their hundreds of fans are happy over the successful weekend they enjoyed.

Programs on Saturday night and on Monday morning and afternoon proved tremendously popular and Covehead's Don Allan brought honor to the province by emerging as Maritime kart driving champion.

The karts are growing in popularity and the performers are keeping faith with their fans by giving them highly exciting shows. Halifax drivers extended an invitation to local drivers to attend a Thanksgiving program on their track.

Yes, the kart operators are smiling from ear to ear.

And The Horses

HARNESS racing enjoyed another successful weekend at Charlottetown Driving Park.

Interesting programs were run off Saturday and Monday nights and some great finishes were witnessed by the good crowds attending. Outsiders continued to make things rough for the favorites and as a result some really worthwhile pays were passed out by the mutuel cashiers. Monday night's betting was the best since the final Saturday of Old Home Week.

It is hoped that the weather keeps behaving and that the harness racing programs are well patronized until the final date October 13. Races at this time of the season are usually the best of the year and from here to the final curtain you can expect many bitter battles.

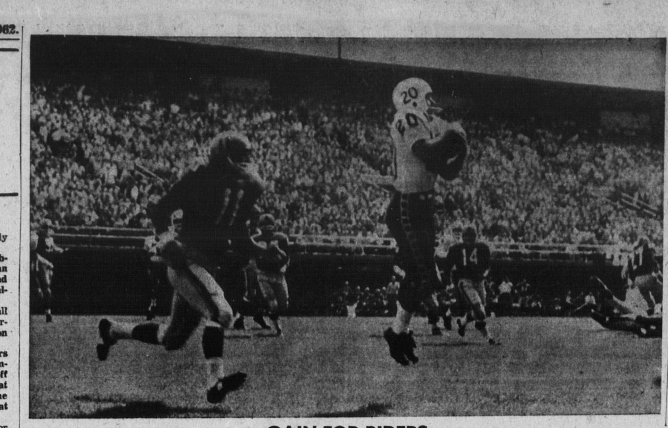
Big Race Thursday

AND speaking of racing, the Prince Edward Island Trotting and pacing championship goes tomorrow (Thursday) night at the CDF.

This classic certainly should attract a large number of spectators. All six starters are Island-owned and this will surely give a bit more flavor to this two-dash attraction.

Those going are The Sheik, Tammany Hall, Stalag Hanover, Hi Jay, Armond's Buddy and Santiago. All six horses have several big wins to their credit this season and of course their owners and drivers would like nothing better than to head the field in this big feature.

See you Thursday night at Charlottetown Driving Park.



GAIN FOR RIDERS

Ottawa Rough Rider halfback Len Chandler (20) hits the air to nab a pass from Rider quarterback Russ Jackson as Toronto Argonaut's Ron Harris (11) runs in to bring him down. The play gained the Riders five yards and led to a single for a 1-0 Ottawa lead early in the first quarter of the Eastern Conference game in the capital. (CP PHOTO)

Angels' Late Rally Gives Them Verdict Over Yanks

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The amazing Los Angeles Angeles, whose late-inning heroics have tightened the American League pennant race, did it again Tuesday. They defeated New York Yankees 7-6 in Yankee Stadium on the wings of a six-run seventh inning rally and Bob Rodgers' run - producing single in the ninth.

The setback reduced the Yanks' first-place margin over idle Minnesota to 2½ games and over third-place Angels to 3½ games. The Twins were rained out of their game with Washington.

Los Angeles broke loose for its big inning after veteran Whitey Ford had pitched three-hit ball over the first six innings. Trailing 4-0, they put together four hits, including Lee Thomas' 22nd homer, and two walks plus an error by shortstop Tonny Kubek for the six runs. Kubek's error with the bases jammed enabled the Angels to move in front 5-4 and the sixth run scored on a grounder by Rodgers.

The Yanks battled back to tie the score on Cletis Boyer's two-run homer in the eighth.

With southpaw Bud Daley on the mound, Joe Koppe opened the ninth with a single, moved to second on a walk and scored when Rodgers' lined a single to centre.

Julio Navarro, a right hander brought up from the Pacific Coast League last week, held the Yanks in check in their half and picked up his first major league victory.

The Yankees played without slugging outfielder Mickey Mantle, who suffered a rib injury in batting practice before the game.

One other American League game was postponed by rain, Detroit's scheduled tilt at Baltimore will be played as part of a two-night doubleheader today.

Canadian Fighter Is Shelved Again

By PAUL RIMSTEAD

TORONTO (CP)—Jim King has been Canada's amateur heavyweight boxing champion for two years — but he can't prove himself.

Last year the native of Glace Bay, now stationed at Kingston, Ont., with the Canadian Army, won his title at Drayton Valley, Ala., without throwing a punch.

He didn' have an opponent.

At the Canadian National Exhibition Monday night, King had an opponent in Phil Loomer of Sackville, N.B., and scored the most decisive win of the 10-bout card.

On the strength of their showing in the championships, six boxers were named to Canada's British Empire Games team. King wasn't among them.

They are: Mickey McMillan, Vancouver, lightweight; Harold Mann, Prince George, B.C., light - middleweight; Tonnie Jones, Montreal, middleweight; Marcel Bellefuielle, Montreal, featherweight; Harvey Reti, Taber, Alta., light - welterweight, and Lorne Fredricks, Edmonton, light-heavyweight.

FOE INEXPERIENCED

The selection committee ruled that Loomer, a 20-year-old high school mathematics teacher who has had only 11 bouts, did not provide enough competition.

"He clobbered me," said Loomer after being battered to the floor twice before the bout was stopped in the first round.

Amateur records are not kept officially, but King claims he has won 51 of 56 fights, 46 of them by knockouts in the first round.

King wasn't the only disappointed boxer.

Winnie Schelt of Vancouver, defending light - welterweight champ, lost by a decision to Reti, and now heads back to the games in Perth, Australia, Nov. 22 to Dec. 1.

In 1960 Schelt was the first choice for Canada's Olympic team but couldn't make the trip because his German-born parents hadn't become Canadian citizens and he wasn't eligible.

This year he was eligible but was eliminated by a man who was the defending welterweight champ. Reti dropped to 139 from 147 pounds and vacated the welterweight class.

FOUR DEFEND TITLES

There were five defending champions and only Schelt failed to repeat. Reti, Jones, Bellefuielle and Mann regained their crowns.

One upset was the win by Fredericks over Robert Piau of Windsor Mills, Que. Piau was a member of the 1958 Empire Games team and won a bronze medal in Cardiff, Wales.

George Cherry of Montreal whipped spunky Bob Langille of Wallace, N.S., in the flyweight class and Bellefeuille gained a decision over Doug Jeffries of Halifax in the featherweight final.

Also on the CNE sports program this weekend were the Canadian amateur fencing championships and a four-man fencing team was chosen to represent Canada in the games.

Heading the list is Carl Schwende of Montreal, who will act as a fencing master to make it actually a five-man team.

John Andru of Toronto, Ben Simo of Montreal, Peter Baknonyi of Vancouver and Bob Foxcroft of London, Ont., are other team members. Herb Obal of Montreal was named an alternate.

Abbies Host Airmen Here

Charlottetown Abbies and RCAF battle tonight at Memorial Field in the third game of a best-of-five series for the provincial intermediate baseball crown.

The Abbies captured the first two games in the series and could clinch the crown with a verdict tonight.

Game time is set for 8 o'clock.

Nats' Chuck Hinton Rates As Unsung Batting Great

NEW YORK (AP) — Chuck Hinton, a 28-year-old sophomore whose hobby is jazz music, has been one of the real unsung batting heroes in the American League this season.

Playing for last-place Washington Senators, Hinton's clutch hitting has provided the winning runs in 10 games while putting his average over the .300 mark.

Hinton has hit safely in his last 11 games and lifted his average to .308, good for fifth place in the junior circuit competition.

Hinton has a long way to go to catch batting leader Pete Runnels of Boston. However, he is only five points behind Floyd Robinson of Chicago White Sox, the runner - up, and only two points behind Rich Rollins of Minnesota and Norm Siebern of Kansas City, who are deadlocked for third place.

Runnels, seeking his second batting crown, dropped six points to .332 in last week's games with only five hits in 23 at bats.

Robinson and Rollins each gained ground. Robinson picked up one point to .313 with a 10-for - 31 showing while Rollins climbed five points with 12 hits in 30 trips and tied Siebern at .310.

In the National League, Tommy Davis of Los Angeles Dodgers regained the lead from Cincinnati's Frank Robinson. Davis, who also paces the circuit in runs batted in with 128, climbed two points to .342 with 12 hits in 31 times at bat last week.

Robinson tumbled into a second place tie with veteran Stan Musial of St. Louis. Each is batting .335. Robinson last seven points with seven safeties in 31 attempts while Musial dropped one point with an 8-for-25 performance.

Willie Mays of San Francisco walloped four homers to lift his leading total to 42. Harmon Killebrew of Minnesota connected twice, enabling him to take over undisputed possession of the lead with 36 homers. The Athletic's Siebern leads in runs batted in with 104. The figures include Monday's games.

Race Card Going At S'side Tonight

Summerside Raceway goes with another attractive harness racing program tonight.

This time it's a nine dash card that looks mighty interesting and one in which it appears really difficult to select possible winners.

The affair is a well-balanced menu and pays at the mutuel windows should be worth collecting. The two last night at Summerside pays were a real joy to those lucky ticket holders and chances are that tonight's winners will pay even bigger returns.

Three single dashes are on the card in addition to three doubles. Smallest field of the night finds seven horses getting the word. In four of the races eight horses will face the starter.

It shapes up like another great night of harness racing and promoters are hoping for a good turnout of spectators. The quality of the product deserves a large following and Summerside Raceway is entitled to a bumper crowd tonight.

Win, place and show betting goes on every dash and two doubles, a quinella and an exacter will be available to the eage mutuel bettors.

First dash goes promptly at 8 o'clock.
