Presentation Of Rockers Today By Lieut. J. Richards

The toy rocking chairs which have been in the news for the past two months will be presented to Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Smith of St. Eleanor's this afternoon by Lieut. J. Richards of H. M. C. S. "Queen Charlotte".

One of the chairs was made by Mrs. Smith's father in England who had constructed it for his grandchildren, but then could not ship it. The story was heard by the Captain of H. M. C. S. "Magnificent" who offered to see that the gift was delivered. On the way to Canada the vessel stopped at Bermuda and was there presented with another rocking chair, the gift of newsmen, who said, "It is hoped that this little rocking chair will pave the way towards new Canadian friendships."

The two chairs were shipped to Summerside from Halifax through Naval Stores, and Lieut. Richards will make the formal presentation at three o'clock.

Ottawa Clubmen Favored With Good P. E. I. Oysters & Address

OTTAWA, Dec. 13 — (Special) — Treasure Island did well by the capital Monday night.

To the number one Knockers Club of Canada, Prince Edward Island sent a feed of famous Malpeque oysters—shades of the "best way to a man's heart."

Usually the pearl comes from the oyster. This time the procedure was a little reversed with the oysters coming from the nation's pearl.

At least that seemed to be the feeling of the 300 Ottawa businessmen, including Mayor-elect Grenville Goodwin, when they had tasted the treat.

Premier Walter Jones was to have been the guest of honor but pressure of Dominion-Provincial business during the past week had been heavy and he sent in his place public relations director, George V. Fraser.

Talking "Island" to a bunch of Upper Canadians, or Central Canadians as he later termed Ontario and Quebec residents, was, of course, right down George Fraser's alley.

He issued a general invitation to everybody to visit P. E. I. next summer. The Province, he said, had everything.

"The Garden of Canada" was ready and able to feed Newfoundland, the other Maritime Provinces and Northern Quebec.

It was closer to "The Seven Islands" by water than was Montreal or Quebec City. It was the natural food supply centre for this new development.

It was the opinion of the public relations officer that with those markets opened up, the Island's prosperity, to a great extent, was assured.

Transportation, he said, was P. E. I.'s big problem.

Here, Mr. Fraser said, was a surplus-producing Province stymied by the high cost of transporting the surplus to market.

Prince Edward Island just couldn't compete in the Canadian food markets with transportation costs what they were now.

The exceptional demand provided a good market for the Island's oysters, its potatoes, second to none, and its other garden produce did not fare so well. Nor did its fish.

As a tourist attraction and place to play P. E. I. would be to Canadians who had never seen or visited it like a new toy.

The salt water that washed its shores, he said, was the warmest salt water of any beach around the continent. The natural beauty of brick-red soil against Emerald-green vegetation was unparalleled anywhere.

Of further interest to would-be sightseers, said Mr. Fraser, Prince Edward Island, after all, was the cradle of Confederation.

It was in Charlottetown in 1864 that the Fathers of Confederation first sat down to talk about the new Canada.

Monday, incidentally, was the 20th anniversary of the signing of the statute of Westminster which cleared this country of its colonial status and put it on its own with the rest of the world's powers.

In his remarks, former Mayor of Ottawa, Stanley Lewis said for that reason alone it was only fitting that the Government of P. E. I. should be honored on the day and its representative address the Ottawa dinner.

The date, Mr. Lewis said, meant more to that Province which was the cradle of Confederation, than to any other of the ten.

Mr. Lewis is also a high-ranking national officer of the Knockers Club.

'Side Rotary Club Meets

At the regular meeting of the Summerside Rotary Club at the Olympia Restaurant on Monday a motion was passed making a donation to the Kinamen Christmas tree of $25.00, this money to be used to assist in purchasing food and clothing to be given to needy families at Christmas.

The meeting also decided to sponsor a school safety patrol for St. Mary's Academy similar to the one recently organized at the Summerside High School which is also sponsored by the club.

The president, Dr. A. A. Lockhart reported that he had received a Christmas greeting card from the Rotary Club at Blyth, England. Rotarian Clarence Nickerson of Moncton was a guest.—S.

Application In Bankruptcy Case

In the supreme court at Summerside yesterday with Chief Justice Thane A. Campbell presiding, an application in the matter of the bankruptcy of Carl C. Woodside to set aside a chattel mortgage in favor of Merchants Supply Co. of Orangeville, Ont., was dismissed. The case was then adjourned till January 2nd for a decision on the amount due on a bill of sale.

In rendering judgment, Chief Justice Campbell stated that in his opinion, there is considerable doubt as to the validity of section X3 (2) of the Provincial statute, the frauds on Creditors Act (P.E.I. 1939 — Cap. 10.)

Mr. R. S. Hinton, K. C. represented the plaintiff (the trustee in bankruptcy) and Mr. D. O. Stewart, K. C. represented the defendant (Merchants Supply Co.) — S.

Navigation Course Members Return

The Lancaster aircraft, Zenith and Polarix, landed at the Summerside airport about six o'clock last evening bringing back the members of No. 3 specialist navigation course who had been on a ten-day training flight to Ottawa and Toronto where they visited service and civilian establishments of interest to students of air navigation. This is the first of such trips which will be taken by this course during its six months of training. Others will take them to the United States, England and the Far North. S/L W. L. Gillespie of Summerside and Toronto was in charge of the operation.—S.

Air Raid Sirens For Vancouver

VANCOUVER, Dec. 12 —(CP)— Air raid warning sirens will be re-installed in at least 31 districts here, it was announced today by Air Vice-Marshal F. V. Heakes, civil defence co-ordinator.

The warning system, which will be ready for operation in January or February, will tie in with Canada's National Radar System.

At the same time the city's Second World War air raid precautions plan, which had 10,000 persons enrolled in 1946, will be re-established.

Train Derailed At Wellington

On Monday night train no. 53 proceeding west became derailed at Wellington at approximately seven o'clock. Cause of the accident was due to a switch which apparently opened after the engine had passed over. Three cars immediately following the engine, a reefer, a box car and the baggage car left the rails and turned over. The box car was the most badly damaged of all.

The wrecking train from Charlottetown immediately proceeded to the scene but it was not until 4:15 on Tuesday morning that the tracks were cleared and number 53 was able to proceed toward Tienish.

The baggage car was replaced on the rails but the other two were left at Wellington. No one was injured in any way as a result of the accident.

Engineer of the train was Frank Dalziel.—S.
