

The Prince Imperial.

Lord Desart has been the first to record in verse England's sorrow at the death of the young Prince Imperial. He sings—

On Longwood's shore the exile stands,
Despair upon his haughty face;
Behind him clasped his useless hands
That fain would rule the human race.
Victor of many hostile lands,
He falls in peace—to him disgrace.

The iron girdle round Sedan
Grows narrower yet; no man can fly;
He fights for death, that broken man,
Capitulates, and does not die.
Not then—while the eagle floats
Above a cause worth fighting for—
But, cast out by his people's votes,
He fades, like his great ancestor.

At Chislehurst an Empress weeps:
Half-mast the flags of England wave;
While far away our soldier sleeps
Securely in a soldier's grave.
Whatever the name he might have won,
No grander than his victory's breath—
He of his race achieved alone,
The glorious end—a hero's death."

Meat Exports.

The export of dressed meat from the United States to the English market, which reached large proportions two years ago, but was temporarily suspended in consequence of the increasing shipments of live cattle, is about to be revived on an extended scale. The action recently taken by the British Government to check the exportation of cattle from that country, has produced its natural effect. Large dealers in cattle and beef have given up exporting live cattle, and again turned their attention to the export trade in dressed beef, and a new system of refrigerating is being put into action, whereby the necessity of using ice on board the steamships will be done away with. It has been found, through numerous trials in exporting meats, that they must not be frozen, but only kept at a temperature which will delay decomposition. The new system is said to be perfect. The cooling process is produced by means of compressed air, which can, if necessary, be reduced in temperature even below zero. It is expected the fresh meat trade to Great Britain can be revived to its former magnitude, and even exceed it.

General News.

This is the obituary a Texas fellow gets: He died a natural death; the pistol with which he was shot was a 32 calibre.

The Prince of Wales has been swindled by one of his financial employes. He simply bounced him and refused to prosecute.

There are three handsome lady physicians in Aurora, Ill., and it is quite common to hear citizens say: "I don't feel very well; I guess I'll step over and see the doctor."

A sergeant of the marine corps is about to lead to the altar the daughter of an Indian chief, Sitka Jack. The bride having paddled alongside the "Alaska" with her light canoe loaded with fish, the gallant sergeant was immediately smitten and fascinated.

A Mrs. Fuller, wife of the manager of A. T. Stewart & Co's Chicago house, and daughter of Mr. Beckman, a well-known real estate agent in New York, was chloroformed and robbed in one of the principal streets in Mont Clair, N. J., Sunday evening.

A St. Louis despatch of the 9th inst. says, 'the weather was intensely hot, the mercury ranging 96 to 99 degrees in the shade. The city ambulances were called the first time this season. There were several cases of sunstroke, twelve cases being reported. None were fatal.'

John Cox, a brother of Mrs. Hull's murderer, is to be a candidate for the legislature in Chesterfield county, Va., in the autumn, having been defeated by only fifteen votes last year; and it is added that he is supervisor of schools and a worthy man.

The Socialists of Chicago boast that they cast 12,000 votes, and that they can seize the city and hold it captive at any moment. They hold frequent and uproarious meetings, drill ostentatiously, parade in public, and talk loudly of the brand and the bullet.

Mr. Darwin, who is seventy-six, is reported as saying: 'It is my wish to leave the world while there are still many more things to be done. As I advance in the study of nature I discover vast horizons, and I feel that I shall not have time to reach them.'

WESLEYAN TRUST PROPERTY.—The English nonconformist bodies are rapidly accumulating funds in the form of endowments. At a meeting of Wesleyans, held in Park street Chapel, Bolton, in May last, it was said that the value of trust property belonging to that body in the district exceeded the sum of $6,000,000, and it is estimated that the total value of the trust funds of the Wesleyans in England amount to nearly $50,000,000.

CATARRH.

Constitutional Catarrh Remedy

CURES CATARRH.

Hear what a Reverend Gentleman says of the Constitutional Remedy.

T. J. B. HARDING, Esq., Brockville, Ont.:

"DEAR SIR—It is now two years since your "Constitutional Catarrh Remedy" was introduced to me. I have waited this long to see if the cure would remain permanent before doing this, my duty, to you, as at first the happy effects seemed to me to be "too good to be true."

I was afflicted in my head for years before I suspected it to be Catarrh. In reading in your Circular I saw my case described in many particulars. The inward "drop" from the head had become very disagreeable, and a choking sensation often preventing me from lying long. I would feel like smothering and be compelled to sit up in the bed. My health and spirits were seriously affected. When your agent came to Walkertown in August, 1876, I secured three bottles. Before I had used a quarter of the contents of one bottle I found decided relief, and when I had used two bottles and a third, I quit taking it, feeling quite cured of that ailment, and have not used any since until of late I have taken some for a cold in my head.

A sense of duty to sufferers from that loathsome disease, Catarrh, prompts me to send you this Certificate, unsolicited, with leave to make what use of it you may see proper.

Yours truly,
W. TINDALL, Methodist Minister.
