THE DAILY EXAMINER.

NOVEMBER 23, 1892.

Notes and Comments.

—Discussing the value of a tree as a schoolmaster, Garden and Forest presents as the first of its lessons that "it teaches man to reserve judgment by showing that the insignificance of a germ is no criterion of the magnitude of its product, that slowness of development is not an index of the scope of growth, and proves to him that the most far-reaching results can be attained by very simple means. A barrel of acorns may be the nucleus of a forest that shall cherish streams to fertilize a desert; a handful of cedar cones may avert an avalanche, while a bushel of pine seed may prevent the depopulation of a great section of country by mountain torrents."

—The increase of Canada's trade with Jamaica is set forth in the official reports of the island, which deal with the trade of that colony for the year ending March 31, 1892. The imports from Canada increased from 7 per cent. of the total imports in 1890 to 10.4 per cent. in 1891-2. The Collector-General of Jamaica says of our increasing commerce: "The trade with Canada exhibits some indications of embracing goods other than fish stuffs and unmanufactured wood, to which it has so long been practically confined. Canadian manufactured goods are now finding their way to this market, as the following will show: During the year imported to the value of £1,380 were carried from Canada; clothing, £1,543; furniture, £827; hardware, £678; cottons, £427; boots and shoes, £513; woollens, £272; musical instruments, £429; unenumerated goods, £284; ale, £5,358; whiskey, £273; flour, £1,264; foods, such as cheese, butter, hams, etc., £1,547

—Sir Edwin Arnold is said to have started in St. Louis that in Japan every child is taught to write with either or both hands, and "he hinted," says an exchange, "that it was not the only evidence of sound common sense he met with while in the kingdom of the Mikado." An English teacher says: "I learned to write with my left hand some years ago, in consequence of the impression created in my mind by reading the arguments of Charles Reade on the subject, and now I change my pen from hand to hand on the first impression of nervousness. The suggestion is a good one. The facility with which those who are so unfortunate as to lose the use of the right hand, from accident or other causes, learn to write with the left, shows that the art is easily acquired, and it would be a great relief to those whose business requires constant use of the pen to be able to shift it from hand to hand. Many might be thereby saved from "writer's cramp" and kindred troubles.

—The week says: "It is not the mere fact of Cleveland's election, which to many seemed fairly probable from the first, but the great revolution in American sentiment indicated by his immense majority, which gives this matter its chief significance. The mind naturally turns to consider the effect the change of Government and of fiscal policy is likely to have upon our commercial relations with our neighbors. Already the possibility of negotiating a reciprocity treaty is being discussed. That may any terms which would be granted even by the new administration would be acceptable to the majority of Canadians, especially to the present Government and its supporters. It may even be a question whether such a treaty will now be desirable; whether it may not be wiser and better to wait for the more or less rapid reduction of the hostile tariff which is sure to come. A reciprocity treaty is in itself an evil—though sometimes to be desired as the less of two evils. It is an evil because inconsistent with the highest freedom of commercial intercourse. If only, as there seems good reason to hope, the new Government and Congress shall prove able to rise so far above narrow national prejudices as to see the smallness and absurdity of the view which has so often led supporters of the Harrison regime to rejoice in any indications of a falling off in the trade with Great Britain and other nations, and to boast of them as triumphs of the McKinley Bill; if they can but reach the higher level at which they can see clearly that mutual prosperity is the only natural and Christian foundation of sound international trade, all the rest will follow in due course."

Cardigan Notes. During the past week the fine weather was favorable for shipping produce, and quite a quantity was hauled to Cardigan Bridge, where a number of large vessels are loading. The briggs, Caspian, Aquila and Sirius, and a large schooner called the Fred E. Cox were in port last week, besides a number of smaller sized vessels. It was expected at one time that the Caspian would take a load of potatoes to the United States; but we understand this intention has been abandoned. The schooner Carmen, Capt. Graham, arrived on Saturday evening, having made a trip to St. Pierre and back in 14 days. She will be again loaded by her owner, James E. MacDonald, Esq.

Mr. Ely, agent for Henry Brisker & Co. of New York, is loading the Fred E. Cox with a superior cargo of Roses, Whites and Chenangoes—the early varieties being all hand-picked and put in sacks containing 170 pounds each. Mr. J. F. Norton is handling a large quantity of farmers produce, and has shipped a greater amount this fall than any of the traders at Cardigan Bridge. Capt. Malcolm McDonald, of Georgetown, loaded two large schooners at Cardigan lately, and is now filling the brig, Aquila with potatoes.

D. C. Morson & Co., and Jas. E. McDonald are also shipping large lots. It is said that the potato shipment at Cardigan

Bridge this year will be the largest yet made.

The pie social, under the management of the ladies' committee, in aid of the building fund for hall at Cardigan Bridge, took place on Monday, the 18th inst., in the schoolhouse. The programme was well carried out and the whole affair was very successful, considering the short time that was given for preparation. The following is the programme:—

Opening Address Mr Geo F Owen
Instrumental Music Miss Griffin
Chorus—"Comrades" Choir
Reading—"Mrs Cumiskey", Mr T McDonald
Solo—"Bride Belle" Miss McDonald
Duet (violin and organ) Miss McDonald and Mr H F Bissett
Recitation Miss Kennedy
Solo—"I Like It I Do" Miss Cameron
Chorus—"The Old Home Down on the Farm" Miss Cameron
Reading Miss Edgerton Norton
Solo—"There's a Dear Spot in Ireland" Miss A Stewart
Instrumental Music Miss Maggie Stewart
Solo—"The Englishman" Miss Cameron
Chorus—"Viva L'Amore" Choir
Recitation Miss McDonald
Solo—"Dream Faces" Miss Griffin
Chorus—"Uplide" Choir
God Save the Queen.

After the programme was completed, the pies provided by the ladies were auctioned by John G. Scrimgeour, Esq., and realized fair prices. Coffee was supplied and the ladies and lassies adjourned to the ante-rooms, where a most enjoyable time was spent until nearly eleven o'clock, when all departed for their homes, resolving to patronize the next social that took place at Cardigan. The amount realized was over $40 after paying all expenses. Another social and entertainment is to be given by the same management during the Christmas holidays, and will be well worth attending.

A lamentable accident took place at Martinvale on Thursday, the 17th inst., by which a young lad named Melnis is likely to lose the use of one of his arms, if not his life. Along with a lad named Nelson McDonald, young Melnis went shooting partridges, and in some accidental way received the contents of the gun in his shoulder. It is said that the gun hung fire, and afterwards went off when it happened to be in the hand of the wounded boy, and is doing all that is possible for him; but grave fears are entertained that inflammation will set in, as it has been impossible to remove the whole of the charge that lodged in the boy's body.

Young lads, and older people, too, are often very careless when handling firearms, and serious accidents are continually chronicled that might be averted if a little caution were used.

The roads in this neighborhood are something awful. Wherever the Grit machine was used the slough is unapproachable. It is reported that the Supervisor of District 8 dare not visit Montague for fear the people will mob him, on account of the disgraceful road they have to haul their produce through—not over. "Never saw such roads," is the common expression heard on every side.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR
The Post Office Case.

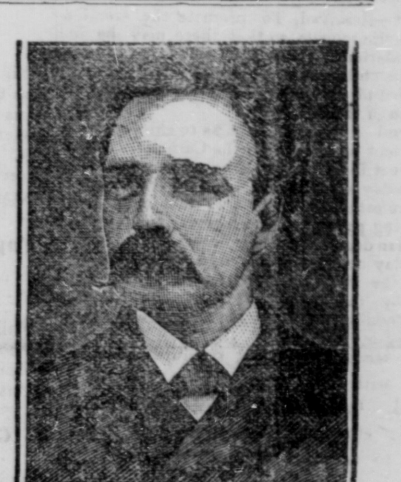

Sir.—From THE WEEKLY EXAMINER of the 14th inst. I copy the following extract from an editorial under the heading "The Post Office Theft":—"But the easy treatment accorded to Mitchell, who has gone off with the money he obtained by his theft, is really an incitement to others thievishly inclined to fall into temptation." What does this mean? It means that an official in the government employ has committed robbery. Now the hard-working people of this country, out of the proceeds of their labor, pay for the administration of justice, and I believe they receive as much justice here as is meted out in any other country. It appears that the young man Mitchell, who was employed in the postal department in Charlottetown, stole money, to what amount no person knows, from letters that passed through his hands; and after the fraud was detected, confessed to his guilt and was discharged, and so the matter has ended. About a year and a half ago a country postmaster, on the munificent salary of $16 a year, was detected in using two previously used postage stamps, amounting in the aggregate to the sum of six cents' worth of the people's money, and after being hunted down by the Charlottetown police as if he had committed murder in the first degree, was dragged up for trial before the court and sentenced to three months' imprisonment in a felon's cell. Mitchell robbed from the poor and rich. For aught we know many an orphan or widow suffered through his dishonesty, and the man who used the two previously used stamps took just as much worth from the general revenue. It is fair to assume that Mitchell stole from private individuals to the amount at least $1,000, and receives no punishment for his offence, while the poor country postmaster who appropriated to his own use 6 cents worth of the money paid by him in the public revenue receives as a punishment three months' imprisonment; this is called in our country even-handed justice administered without fear or favor. Were it necessary, many instances of this same kind of justice could be cited. Verily, the more one ponders over law and justice and the cost of its administration, the more clearly does it become manifest that there is but one law necessary to guide human beings in their intercourse with each other—"That law written by the finger of God in the heart of man."

TRUTH-SEEKER.

It is stated that the loan which Germany proposes to raise on account of the army, navy and imperial railways amounts to 149,000,000 marks.

The steamer Ethel Mold has just sailed from Jacksonville, Fla., with 10,000 boxes and the cost of its administration, the more clearly does it become manifest that there is but one law necessary to guide human beings in their intercourse with each other—"That law written by the finger of God in the heart of man."

Rev. W. L. BROWN.

THE CONQUEROR HAS COME! Heart Trouble, Dyspepsia, DIZZINESS, AND Muscular Rheumatism CURED!

REV. W. L. BROWN, FOR YEARS A MEMBER OF THE M. E. CHURCH, BUT FOR THE LAST TEN YEARS AN EVANGELIST IN THE CHURCH OF GOD. HE IS WELL KNOWN BY THOUSANDS WHO WILL VOUGH FOR THE TRUTH OF THE FOLLOWING:

GENTS—I write to inform you that the TWO COURSES OF SKODA'S DISCOVERY AND LITTLE TABLETS have done BETTER for me than I had ever realized. I have been cured of the Chronic Diarrhoea in the Army, and since 1881 I have been a constant sufferer. In addition to this, I was troubled as follows: 1st, a lame Back and Kidney troubles, 2d, Dyspepsia, 3d, Faintness and an all-gone feeling; 4th, Headache and Dizziness; 5th, Muscular Rheumatism in Chest and I had to lie in bed for weeks at a time; 6th, Nervousness; 7th, a severe Cough that would cause my pulse to run at 98 for days at a time. I was treated by very eminent Physicians, but would be compelled to leave my labor and return to my home weeks at a time. In fact I have had 18 fits of sickness in the last 20 years, and several times have been given up to die.

I feel that I am completely cured of all my bodily ills except the Diarrhoea, which is not cured, but greatly benefited. I have had a course which I think will cure me entirely. Yours with gratitude, REV. W. L. BROWN, Atkinson, Me.
