Annapolis Valley Looks For Smallest Apple Crop In Years

By HARRY CALNEK
Canadian Press Staff Writer
KENNIVILLE, N.S. (CP)—Annapolis Valley apple growers are tightening their belts in anticipation of the smallest apple crop in years.

While distributors expect last year's price of 66 cents a bushel to be maintained or even increased the crop is estimated at only 1,400,000 bushels. Last year Valley growers produced 2,918,000 bushels, one of the best harvests on record, and in 1955 4,000,000 bushels, twice the normal crop.

Arthur E. Calkin, general manager of Scotian Gold Co-operative here, said the price for apples in Nova Scotia will be up from last year. But competition on the export market will be tough.

LARGEST SINCE 1949
North American growers are expected to produce 141,000,000 bushels this year, the largest crop since 1949. Of this amount 126,000,000 will be from United States orchards.

Prospects for a sale to the United Kingdom this year are excellent, Mr. Calkin said. However, there seemed little likelihood of a good market developing on the European continent.

The European yield is expected to reach 270,000,000 bushels compared to 152,000,000 last year when the growers were hit by a crop failure.

Nova Scotia growers found an unexpected market for 500,000 bushels in Europe in 1957.

"The small crop will definitely be a hardship to some of the growers," said Mr. Calkin. "In some cases, though, the good growers will have between 75 and 80 per cent of last year's yield."

SPRAYING WAS KEY
"These are farmers who sprayed well. Those who didn't will have less than half. In the good growers' orchards the quality is as good and often better than 1957."

Harvesting of such early varieties as the Gravenstein has started. Picking is expected to be in full swing by the end of September with McIntosh and Delicious varieties giving the largest yields.

This week most of the growers were relaxing after their orchards were missed by Hurricane Daisy. Deputy Agriculture Minister F. Waldo Walsh said if the winds had struck the lightly laden trees it would have ruined the crop.

Nowlan Indicates Gov't May Revise Policy On TV

OTTAWA (CP) — Revenue Minister Nowlan indicated Tuesday government television policy of "one area, one station" may be changed.

He said the time is "rapidly approaching" when TV policy must be modified, a reference to the directive—adopted by the liberals and maintained by the Progressive Conservatives — under which only one TV station is permitted in any one centre. In the case of all major Canadian centres, the TV station is a CBC one.

Mr. Nowlan, who reports to Parliament for the publicly-owned CBC, was testifying before the Senate communications committee which is studying new legislation to create an independent board of governors replace the CBC as the regulator of all broadcasting.

MAY HEAR BIDS
He said he believes TV policy should be changed and indicated the transport department will be instructed to receive applications for second TV stations in some areas.

The new board of broadcast governors would hear the applications and make recommendations to the cabinet.

Mr. Nowlan said the board would hold hearings in Winnipeg, Montreal, Vancouver, Halifax and other places.

The committee was also informed, after Mr. Nowlan left for the Commons, that several broadcasting stations may lose their licences under the new broadcasting act which requires that a station must be at least 75-per-cent Canadian-owned.

S. M. Finlayson, president of Canadian Marconi Company which owns radio station CFCF, Montreal, said 50.6 per cent of its issued share capital is owned by English Electric Company of England.

CAN'T ENTER TV
D. S. Thorson of the justice department, who helped draft the new act, testified that CFCF would not qualify for renewal of its radio licence and could not apply for a TV licence.

Senator William R. Brunt (PC—Ontario) said the TV station at Kitchener, Ont., is owned by Famous Players Limited, a United States company, and CKLW, Windsor, Ont., is owned by U.S. interests.

He also said station CFRB, Toronto, is owned by Standard Radio Limited and has no control over the ownership of its stock, which could be purchased by anyone.

Mr. Finlayson pleaded that the committee amend the legislation so that Canadian Marconi can remain in the radio field and enter the TV field. CFCF, he said, has been in operation for 38 years and was the first radio station licensed in Canada.

TO RECALL NOWLAN
The committee decided to recall Mr. Nowlan today for further testimony and instructed the CBC to prepare full information on broadcasting stations which would be affected by the ownership clause.

Mr. Finlayson said Canadian Marconi considers itself a Canadian company which has a "sincere and lasting interest in Canada."

He said he does not believe it was the government's intention to deny the company the right to apply for and obtain a TV licence or its right to retain its present radio licence.

Even if the company possessed the required 75 per cent of its shares it could not guarantee that this situation would not change. Committee Chairman Senator A. K. Hugesen (L—Quebec) said he is a director of Canmar Investments Limited which controls Canadian Marconi and which in turn is owned by English Electric.

Russian Renews Appeal For Sharing Power Information

GENEVA (Reuters) — A leading Soviet scientist Tuesday renewed Russia's appeal for more international co-operation and sharing of ideas in the world's drive to tap hydrogen bomb power for peaceful purposes.

Thermionuclear researcher Z. A. Artzimovich told the United Nations atoms-for-peace conference that worldwide co-operation in this field would hasten the day when H power would become available for peaceful uses.

Scientists working on thermionuclear problems should "exchange continuously the results of their calculations, experiments and engineering developments," he said in a 54-page paper read to 5,000 scientists from 66 nations.

"The Russians seem to be asking for help, and they are offering to swap," a Western scientist commented.

The United States and Britain already have announced declassification of their entire thermionuclear atoms - for - peace programs. Russia told the conference Monday all Soviet research in this field "done so far" is in the secret list.

ALL IDEAS EQUAL
Artzimovich's paper said that so far not a single one of the ideas on controlled fusion reactions was decisively superior to any other. The chief work on this subject is going on in the United States, Britain and Russia.

Earlier American physicist Edward Teller discussed the possible use of H-bomb explosions in generating electricity, earth-moving and mining.

Teller said H-bomb blasts might be used in producing electricity

Frown On Buying Spectacles Over Store Counters

KITCHENER (CP) — An intensified program to inform the public of the dangers of buying spectacles over the counter without prescriptions will be carried out by the Canadian Council of the Blind.

G. J. Collin of Saint John, N.B., chairman of the prevention-of-blindness committee, said: "We feel there is a lot of damage done to the eyes of those who buy glasses over the counter. They're nothing but magnifying glasses."

In his report at the last session of the 14th annual conference of the council Friday, he told the 50 delegates the committee will augment its program of aiding the publicity program of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind.

He also cited dangers in purchasing tinted sun glasses.

"People should be careful when they buy these," he said. NEED MORE CLINICS
There was a need for more glaucoma clinics and sight-saving classes in the country. More elementary schools should provide books with larger type for children with low-percentage eyesight.

Approximately 2,000 Canadians became blind last year, said Mr. Collin. More than 100 of these were blinded by accidents that could have been prevented, he added.
