NEWS BY TELEGRAPH.

OTTAWA, Oct. 26.

Sir John and Lady McDonald left for Toronto to-night, and will return the middle of next week.

Hon. Mr. Masson has left for Montreal. A Montreal lottery firm is in communication with the City Council to secure exemption from taxation on removing their business to Ottawa.

Hon. Senator Wilmot is on his way here to be sworn in.

MONTREAL, Oct. 27.

There are more damaging developments in the Jacques Cartier election case.

At a convention of the association of Protestant teachers of the Province of Quebec, Dr. Miles of Quebec was elected President for the ensuing year.

The Clan Campbell are rallying throughout Ontario and Quebec for a grand reception to the Marquis of Lorne.

It is rumored that Lady Dufferin will return to spend the winter with the Princess Louise.

Preparations are being made to erect a mammoth sewing machine factory in this city.

The Lacrosse match between Canawaha Indians and Shamrocks team for the championship of Canada was won by the latter. The Shamrocks won the first game, which was the roughest ever played in Montreal, in three-quarters of an hour. The Indians won the second game, and the Shamrocks the two next.

HAVRE, Oct. 26.
A violent tempest prevails here. The French steamer "Pereire" and the German steamer "Pommerani," which were to have sailed hence to-day for New York will, on account of the storm, defer their departure until to-morrow.

BUCHAREST, Oct. 27.

The Russian Governor of Tulchea has proclaimed the transfer of Dobutscha to Roumania and has summoned the natives who are desirous of giving a fitting reception to the Roumanians to consult the commercial authorities in relation thereto.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 27.

The Council of Ministers has again discussed the Greek question and a majority are in favor of peaceable arrangements.

ROME, Oct. 27.

La Fanfulla reports that England has taken the initiative in proposing a protest against Russia's delay in executing the treaty of Berlin; that France is perfectly in accord with England, and that probably Italy and Austria, between whom relations were very cordial, will join in the protest.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.

A London despatch says it is understood that the action of Russia in buying and building ships of war, and contracting for supplies of munitions of war in the United States, has formed the subject of recent correspondence between Lord Salisbury and the American Secretary of State, in which the former takes a very high tone and insists that the United States will be held to a very strict accountability on the principles laid down on the question of neutrality by Everts' predecessors, and which received formal sanction in three rules adopted by the Joint Commission at Geneva.

LONDON, Oct. 27.

A Simla despatch says it is estimated that the Peshawer column has 1,600 men and 66 guns; Kooram column, 6,000 men and 24 guns; Quetlah column 1,200 men and 60 guns, besides a strong siege train. One-third of the troops are European. The decision of the Home Cabinet is expected on the 27th.

BOMBAY, Oct. 27.

The "Times" of India says the fortress of Ali Musjid has been reconnoitred. Fifteen guns were seen in position, but the entrenchments are poor.

The Afghan factories are reported actively at work converting muzzle loading rifles into breech loaders.

It is reported that thirty of the Ameer's troops are dying daily at Jellabad, and a forcible levy has been ordered.

EDINBURGH, Oct. 26.

The Bankruptcy is announced of John Innes Wright & Co., of Glasgow. Wright is one of the imprisoned directors of the Glasgow Bank. He and his partner, William Scott, are heavily indebted to the Bank on acceptances.

It is believed the call for $2500 per share, of which the Glasgow Bank gave notice yesterday, will exhaust the means of smaller shareholders and throw the burden of assessment upon a few wealthy ones. This assessment will be further increased by the fact that the Bank itself held a large amount of its own shares—such an amount that about four and a half millions of the present call would have been assessed thereon, and which must consequently be made good by shareholders. The first instalment of the present call is made payable the 22nd of December, and the second the 24th February.

LONDON, Oct. 26.

The Echo states as a result of the representations by the Secretary and Managing Director of the Colonial Trusts Corporation before the Mayor, summons will issue against the Directors for the publication of misstatements regarding the Company's position.

German free traders are alarmed at the recent declaration of two hundred and four members of Reichstag in favor of protection, and they well may be if these remain united when the time for legislation arrives, for the two hundred and four represent a majority of six in the Reichstag.

The City of Glasgow Bank.

THE MEETING OF SHAREHOLDERS—THE REV. MR. ROBERTSON'S PLAN.

On Oct. 22, the shareholders of the City of Glasgow Bank met in the City Hall to consider the question of liquidation. Mr. Robert Craig, who holds over £20,000 in stock, occupied the chair, and among those present were six ladies. Mr. Young, of Glasgow, in seconding the motion to read the report of the examiners, said that the report reveals that in June, 1873, there was a deficit of £973,000, which had been ever since covered up by fictitious entries, while dividends of ten and twelve per cent. had been declared and new stock issued. He alluded to other losses since that time, which made the total of the deficits £5,190,000 ($25,119,000).

Rev. Mr. Robertson proposed a motion that, as it was proved the bank cannot by reason of its liabilities continue business, it was advisable to wind up.

"We meet," the Rev. gentleman mournfully said, "under adverse circumstances. We are called upon to face a crushing calamity, and must acquit ourselves like brave, courageous and honorable men. Respecting the directors, I scarcely dare to speak. I must endeavor to restrain my just indignation and speak calmly as a minister of religion. Sir, these gentlemen have been faithful to high office, disloyal to truth and the first principles of morality.

"What, with respect to some of them, deepens the discredit is that they trod the streets of the city arrayed in the garments of righteousness, making long prayers while desolating widows' houses, erecting churches while wrecking homes. Their honor is tarnished, their reputation stained; but the day of reckoning has already dawned. The majesty of the law is now vindicating its claim. (Cheers.) For my part I wish them no sorrier, heavier punishment than that they be haunted night and day with the ghastly visions of the hundred of happy lives they have wrecked and blighted till the feeling of remorse is kindled within their hearts, and they are driven to their Maker's presence to seek His forgiveness, and that they may leave His presence determined to spend the utmost energies of their remaining years in some poor measure to undo the evil they have done. (Applause.)

"The report is a sorrowful document, but it gives a few gleams of light. The assets of the bank, miscellaneous as they are, have great value; further, the investigators have not credited the dividends which may be drawn and the bankrupt estimates, which may be very large. We entertain the expectation that one estimate alone will yield something exceeding £500,000 ($2,420,000). We, it seems, although ignorant of it before, are possessed of an American railway, in which these gentlemen or their predecessors were good enough to sink a million sterling and called it banking. We possess some forty thousand acres of land in New Zealand which the directors last year purchased, which they have stocked and taken to the task of farming instead of the task of banking. Still that ground is valuable. Then there are insurance policies for £600,000 ($2,904,000). They are of value; even wicked men sometimes die. (Cheers.)

"Here is my proposal:—Organize a company, called 'The City of Glasgow Bank Assets Company,' with a capital of £2,000,000 ($9,680,000) £1,000,000 of it consisting of ordinary capital, the other £1,000,000 consisting of debentures. Let the company purchase from the liquidators whatever assets they are prepared to throw into the market at full market value, or rather above market value. If this scheme should be carried through, you would, within a year, be able to hand over to the liquidators £2,000,000.

"Many may speak harshly of the position I have chosen to-day to occupy. They may say I am mingling too much in secular affairs. I reply that in my opinion well-doing is religiousness. (Loud applause.) If the directors believed that religion consisted less in solemn phrasings than in right doings, serving God in their day and generation, we should not to-day be placed in these calamitous circumstances. For my part I am not disheartened. If my services be of any value in promoting the scheme I shall, saving my sacred office, devote my time and attention to forwarding its success, believing that doing my humble little to lessen the appalling pressure of the calamity on many suffering hearts I am serving my Maker and Master, as well as when preaching His blessed Gospel. In God's name and by God's blessing let us bravely and faithfully struggle through and emerge with honor untouched and reputation unshaken." (Cheers.)

VOLUNTARY LIQUIDATION.

Mr. John Wilsol, Treasurer of the City of Edinburgh, then moved that the bank's affairs be wound up in voluntary liquidation. This was carried with only one dissentient voice. The following liquidators were then nominated: William Anderson, Glasgow; George Auldjo Jamieson, Edinburgh; John Cameron, Clydesdale Bank, and Mr. Haldane, a partner of Mr. Jamieson. The usual vote of thanks then concluded the meeting.
