size with a friendly atmosphere and there really is a good selection of courses for the size. Why go away when you can go to a good University right here on P.E.I.? University is so expensive and one is wise to stay here and save a lot of money." Stephanie stressed the importance of becoming involved other than academically. "There are a whole range of people here and by joining organizations one can become more open to a larger group of people."

Stephanie has but words of praise for the U.P.E.I. French Department. "The Immersion Program is unique in the Maritimes and it is a super program." She finds the French professors fascinating; one is exposed to five different cultures Quebec, Italian, Scottish, Vietnamese, and French.

Stephanie's diligence has paid off. She is presently a French monitor at Eliot River School in the Grade 1 and 2 French Immersion Program - and in the meantime attends U.P.E.I. fulltime! While Stephanie's future plans are uncertain it is clear that she will continue in French. She has hopes of travelling abroad and teaching (She also speaks Spanish and a little German). One thing is certain in whatever area Stephanie pursues, she will excel.

Bonne Chance, Stephanie!

I began to say to others; "Hi, how are you", and one thing lead to another. You do have to stick with it or you'll always wonder...what if...?"

When Stephanie Borden left C.R.H.S. as a graduate of of the class of '75, her intentions were to pursue a nursing career. She attended U.P.E.I. for one year and enrolled in general Arts Courses. She departed for St F.X. and remained there for two years in pursuit of her nursing degree. However, she changed her plans and became very interested in U.P.E.I.'s French Immersion Program which is reported to be the best in the Atlantic Region. This is a one semester program with "emphasis on speaking the language."

"I had originally planned on staying just the one semester", but it seems Stephanie just couldn't get enough and she has stayed on for an extra year and a half in order to complete her B.A. with a French major. Stephanie enjoys the French professors and their methods of teaching the language. "They emphasize speaking in French and they encourage you to speak."

Stephanie enjoys the small campus. "It is a good

"I JUST SLID RIGHT INTO IT!"

This is one smooth Senior who doesn't jump into things! "I didn't notice any adjustment," exclaims Valerie Moore as she describes her move from Grade 11 at CRHS into Freshman Year at UPEI in 1976.

"The overwhelming plus is now I'm in my 4th year! But you ask, what about the final grade 12 year in high school?" Valerie answers, " Obviously I didn't need it if I can get along without it!!!"

Her full tuition scholarship (4 - year) certainly lessened the luggage load. Valerie knows that it isn't wise to travel without plans and once happily landed on Campus she quickly unpacked hers and put them to good use.

Valerie is now a Graduating Psychology Major bound for Dalhousie Law School. All the best Valerie, as you ease on down that road!
