St. Dunstan's Credit Union Reports Progress At Annual Meeting

That St. Dunstan's Credit Union had added 115 new members during the past year and its assets now totalled $117,669 were the highlights of information brought out at the annual meeting held last night in Holy Name Hall. The meeting was presided over by the president, Dr. J. C. Murphy.

In the report presented by him for the Board of Directors, Dr. Murphy said they had held 11 meetings in the past year and he commented on the importance of the move of the headquarters to the new office on Great George Street. However, he noted that it meant increased expense.

He said he felt that there was a great need for an educational program and related how an effort had been made in this direction through contacts with new members. Of the increase in membership during the past year he said it was the greatest in recent years. Replying to a question from the floor he stated that since the move, assets had increased and later Lieut. Col. L. F. MacDonald, treasurer, said the increase had amounted to $20,000 since last May.

Dr. Murphy also stated that he was not discouraged by an apparent failure in educational program attempts and still firmly believed in the need for it.

TREASURER'S REPORT

The treasurer's report, submitted by Col. MacDonald, showed total assets of $117,669 and the number of shares at 102,528. He said the total business done, in and out, amounted to $114,000. The credit committee, whose report was read by Mr. W. W. Mullins, showed the Union had $50,000 in personal loans, and $19,410 in mortgage loans. There are at present 289 loans out. He stated that the committee held 52 weekly meetings last year and the president commented that this was commendable.

Dr. Murphy also noted that the breakdown of the loans, which showed the greatest number being for relatively small amounts, very definitely indicated that the credit union was serving the class of people who are in need of small loans.

Miss Anna MacInnis, reporting for the Supervisory Committee, stated the amount of work done and told the meeting that the books of the Union had been audited 11 times last year.

Dr. Murphy introduced two recommendations of the Board of Directors. The first called for the paring of the customary two percent dividend on shares. There was some discussion on the matter, but little discussion. Speakers heard included Mr. L. J. Cocoran, secretary for the meeting, Msgr. P. McMahon, Mr. Frank MacMillan and Dr. Murphy. The recommendations passed unanimously.

The second suggestion was that present dues paid to the Credit Union League of 50 cents per member be hereafter charged to the members' accounts rather than made a charge against the Credit Union itself. Msgr. McMahon spoke briefly on this and moved its adoption. This recommendation also passed unanimously.

The report of the Nominating Committee suggested that the three retiring members of the Board of Directors be re-elected. There being no further nominations the chairman then declared that Jack Dillon, A. J. McKearney and J. C. Murphy be re-elected. Mr. Vernon MacEachern retiring member of the Credit Committee was also re-elected as was Miss Anna MacInnis, the retiring member of the Supervisory Committee. Of Miss MacInnis the president reminded the meeting that the Union would find it difficult to get along without her.

There were five members named as a committee to meet with the Charlottetown Chapter of Credit Unions. They are R. Dolron, A. R. MacInnis Jr., John Richard, A. J. McKearney and T. B. Creighan. Mr. Brendan O'Grady was nominated from the floor, but asked that his name be withdrawn.

Discussion By Members At the conclusion of the business session there was considerable discussion with many members taking part. Regarding some changes mentioned at the Credit Union Day dinner Dr. Murphy expressed the feeling of the Directors that no Credit Union should be allowed to become just another bank.

Mr. O'Grady asked regarding rumors of the formation of new credit unions in this city. Msgr. McMahon said he had heard them.

Sales of Poppy Wreaths Ahead of Last Year

Mrs. J. T. Davies, president of the Canadian Legion Auxiliary, reports good progress in the sale of poppy wreaths since the campaign opened on October 19th. Sales are ahead of what they were for the same period of time last year and should they continue as well for the remaining time before Remembrance Day, this year's activities will have been most successful.

Mrs. Davies stated: "The advance in price of the wreaths this year has not been a deterrent to sales. The Auxiliary of the Legion would like to point out that last year some of the wreaths were sold at a lower price than that being charged in other centres, but this year a uniform charge is being made throughout the Provincial Command. It is felt that when the citizens in general realize the purpose for which the funds are being used, little exception will be taken to a circumstance over which the local branch has no control."

Aviation Editor Raps Censorship In Canada, U. S.

OTTAWA, (CP) — Wayne W. Parrish of Washington, editor of American Aviation Publications, Tuesday described as "the biggest barrier of all" to good aviation writing the pointless and unnecessary censorship by military and government officials.

He said "censorship by the military and the government" attempted to classify details of every development "even when such information has become fairly general knowledge and when, in any event, it does not affect the national security."

The Western world seemed to be overly obsessed with this form of censorship under the weird belief that the news was leaking to Russia.

Mr. Parrish spoke to a meeting of the Air Industries and Transport Association of which awards for the association's 1953 aviation writing contest were presented.

Kindred Spirit He continued: "I have found a kindred spirit in the editor of the Calgary Herald who was reported in Monday's Financial Post as having said that instead of the Department of National Defence establishing a rational system of declaring what is and what is not top secret, Canada has 'a chaotic and utterly stupid system in operation under which practically anything is secret if some billious major or minor official in the immediate vicinity decides it is secret, and this type of officer makes such decisions all too often on the basis that any news at all might reflect unfavorably on his own tiny domain.'"

"These same words can equally apply to the United States and quite often to Britain."

Mr. Parrish, one of the continent's most prominent aviation writers, added: "Actual security violations, that is—the really top secret stuff—is very rare in my opinion. In fact I know of nothing printed in the Western world in the past five years that certainly hasn't been available to the Russians one way or another, and probably in many instances they had it first or could have figured it all out very easily."

Misdirected Energies He suggested that governments "devote a lot more energy to routing out actual spy rings and espionage and Soviet agents and less to trying to clamp censorship on matters which the public ought to be told about."

"Any time 100 copies of anything are made and distributed, the subject matter is no longer secret. A detailed plan smuggled out of Russia is much more serious than a generalized news story."

"Failure to give out the news when it's news usually results in misinformation and inaccuracies."

Stressing the importance of aviation writing, he paid tribute to AITA for encouraging better interpretation of aviation through the writing awards. The public was entitled to better information about the industry because, "like it or not... the taxpayer must foot a very sizeable portion of the total bill for aviation."

The Sanderson and Borden Hereford herd of twenty-two top ranking animals are entraining for Amherst this morning to place in competition at the Maritime Winter Fair. Fulton Sanderson and Robert Borden, both of North River, owners of the herd are optimistic about their entries which keen observers rate as possibly the strongest Hereford entry ever to leave the Island.

Some of the best known bloodlines in America are in the herd, many of which have been consistent show "stoppers" on Maritime circuits, having won all major awards for several years past.

The herd is headed by Count Lionheart Love 64D, twice Grand Champion bull and Elationette's Ruling Star, three times Junior champion bull.

John Sanderson, son of Mr. Fulton Sanderson and Urban Gauthier, herdman for Mr. Borden who accompany the herd to Amherst are well pleased with the fit and finish of the animals since competing in the Provincial Exhibition this summer and reflect the confidence of the owners.
