RACES AND SPORTS

At Georgetown To-day—Fine Weather.

The Horses Entered in the Different Classes.

(SPECIAL BY TELEPHONE.)

A very fine day at Georgetown and a large crowd in attendance to see the athletic sports and trotting races. Many prominent men from Charlottetown, St. Peter's, Murray Harbor and Belfast are present. The steamer Acadia is in port and is daily decorated with bunting. The Exhibition grounds and many prominent places have holiday decorations, and everything promises a fine afternoon's sport. The trotting races have the following entries, all of which are ready to start:

3-MINUTE CLASS.

D. J. Abdallah, b. s., by Abdallah Messenger, and owned by Geo. Simms, Johnston's River.

Pat, s. s., sired by Almont, M., and owned by S. S. Peterson, Murray Harbor.

Messenger Boy, b. c., sired by Bush Messenger, and owned by James McLean, Orwell Cove.

Wad M., sired by Sir William Wallace, owned by E. W. Martin, Elnor.

Boundless, b. g., sired by Barney B., owned by W. S. McKie, Ch'town.

2.40 CLASS.

Lady Hilda, sired by All Right, 4817, owned by Geo. Thorne, Ch'town.

Clemmie B., b. m., sired by Abdallah Messenger, and owned by John Murphy, Ch'town.

Almont M. L. S., sired by Hernando, owned by W. W. Jenkins, Georgetown.

The athletic sports are in progress and great interest is taken in them, especially in the tug-of-war between men from S. S. Acadia and the P. E. Islanders. The men from the Acadia in their new uniform add greatly to the success of the occasion. Captain Spain and his officers are deserving of great credit for the interest they have taken in the event.

The managers of the trotting races are: A. J. Macdonald, Georgetown; and L. B. Miller and J. J. Davies, Charlottetown.

MARRIAGE BELLS.

The following we clip from the North Bay, Ont., Despatch of the 29th ult.: "On Wednesday of last week, at the 'Maple Cottage,' the pretty residence of Mr. and Mrs. John Robertson was the scene of one of those events around which so much interest and happiness centres, when their eldest daughter Jessie was united in marriage to J. H. Hughes, C. P. R. conductor. The Rev. Mr. Roudeau, of Sudbury, performed the ceremony in the presence of a few of the most intimate friends of the contracting parties. Miss Mena Robertson, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid, and Conductor Eley supported the groom. An elaborate spread was enjoyed after the ceremony. The bride was wearing a gown of a large number of useful and costly presents, as she was held in high esteem by all who knew her. The couple left on the evening train for points east, when a large number of friends assembled to bid them a fond adieu, and if we may judge from the quantity of rice scattered upon the platform—and down the groom's back—we are sure Mr. and Mrs. Hughes carried with them a pretty full supply of well wishes. After visiting Montreal and Quebec Mr. and Mrs. Hughes returned to North Bay yesterday." Mr. Hughes is a son of Mr. George Hughes, of Charlottetown, and has a sister here who will join with THE EXAMINER in wishing himself and partner the fullest measure of success through life.

We take the following from the Vacaville, Cal., Reporter of the 17th ult.: On last Sunday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, in St. Mary's Cathedral, San Francisco, J. A. Malone, of this place, and Miss Mary E. Macaulay, of St. Peter's Bay, Prince Edward Island, Canada, were united in marriage. The impressive ceremony was performed by the Rev. Father Doran in the presence of many friends and a few relatives of the bride. Mr. Ralph McIntyre, of San Francisco, acted as best man, with Miss Christina McGillivray, of the same city, as bridesmaid. At the close of the elegant dinner was tendered the bridal party by Mrs. Theresa McDonald, of Oakland, a cousin of the bride. Mr. Malone is one of the most highly esteemed citizens of Vacaville and worthy of the charming prize he has won.

Mr. D. G. Purves, of Pictou, and Miss Ellen, daughter of the late Dr. Wilson, of Dorchester, were united in marriage at the residence of Dr. Church, Dorchester, on the 4th July. After the ceremony the happy couple left on a wedding trip to P. E. Island.

INTERCEPTED LETTER.

Rido Risk, Ottawa, June, 1893. Mr. Donald Sixtyworth.

Dear Friend,—I rote in a hurrie last time and hope you got my letter. I was not able to tell you all the news then but will give you some more this time. The convention was a very large meeting, but the work done was not what we looked for. The leaders talked big, but it was like the story of the Devil Shearin the pigs, much cry and little wool, for we all expected that Sir John Tompson's government would be nocked into everlasting smash, but the party seemed afraid to touch any important question or to lay down a new platform, as you know all the old planks in our platform the people kicked to blazes and will have none of them. A man called Mr. Suspence tried to get a vote on the Temperance question, but another man named Hangwin got up and said, shut up your prohibition gab, how can we carry on our party elections without the usual supply of whiskey and good ale which have helped us so well in the past, and you know my dear friend that he was right, for only for the good supply we had at Cardigan and some of the poles last election you would have been further behind in the race than you are now. However Hangwin had his way and we let the plebeisite question alone. It was a difficult matter to manage affairs so that we could get a quiet hint that his presence would lead to trouble and letter keep away, and another very able man Watson of Manitoba was kindly told to keep out of the way of the delegates, or the liberal party in Manitoba would get insulted for their free school policy, for you know one half our party is for free schools and the other half for separate schools, and we never can make up to agree on this. Then on the trade question and the tariff the people have been deceived so often that we can't persuade them that their tea and sugar and cottons and other things are so dear on account of the high tax which, you know, was in force when our government, under Gartrie and McKenzie held power. But this the really Conservative government took off, and the people won't listen to our lamentations on the tariff. For my own part I don't care so much about the tariff, but I would like to have a seat along side of you in the building here called the parliament house, but I will tell you a secret, it will be a cold day when you catch me here again to shout hurra! hurra! and clap hands for Lawry and Cartrie and Choker and Davis and the rest of them, when all I get for my trouble is, thanks for your song and very well sung; come, Mr. Leavelle, give us another. I couldn't say no, but as I was thinking gratefully of the seer law who got me appointed delegate, I complied and sang the following:

Oh, little did my mother think
The day she cradled me,
What company I should travel in,
That proved so cold to me.
My mother was a good and able wife,
Who never gossiped astray;
And if she had seen what I have come to,
Her heart it had been woe.

At the end angle side, her hand on the wheel,
The wee liddle at her knee,
That he'er should roving go with tinkler
Lous.

The thought would ha'e blinded her e'e, &c., &c.

Your friend truly,
J. LEAVELLE.

P. S. Liked to me and let me know how you liked our preceding song, if you run for the next election. Will you have a supply of the greenbacks in time for the election? J. L.

The Telephone Company

P. E. ISLAND.

Parties using the telephone would find taking much more satisfactory if they would observe the following rules:—

1st. Speak with the mouth about four inches from the transmitter.

2nd. Speak in a moderate tone of voice, not too loud, and distinctly.

3rd. Place the telephone so as to cover the ear. Do not press too hard on the ear.

It is possible to talk and be heard when standing back two or three feet from the transmitter. If you shout loud enough, but it is not a pleasant mode of conversation, is entirely unnecessary, and is a useless waste of wind and lungs, besides being very annoying to all within range of your voice.
