BAND at the Hillsborough Rink to-night.

SUPREME COURT.—The case of Cole vs Biggar is still going on.

LATE PAPERS.—Our thanks are due Mr. A. Beor for copies of late California papers.

TO-NIGHT.—Remember the Concert at Marshfield this evening. The roads are excellent and the weather looks favorable.

MORE LIGHT.—A new electric light has been placed at the corner of Grafton and Pownall streets.

POLICE COURT.—Patrick Hughes, drunk, $30 or 30 days; Mrs McKay, disorderly about the streets, remanded for eight days.

FIREMEN.—The annual meeting of the Rello Fire Engine Co. will be held this evening at 8 o'clock. A full attendance is requested.

NEW STEAMER.—The Ottawa Free Press says that the new steamer the Steam Navigation Company propose putting on next year, will cost in the neighborhood of $150,000.

OUR CITY.—A further supply of the Dominion Illustrated, containing views of Charlottetown, received at the Diamond Bookstore. This is the last chance to procure this excellent issue.

RUBBING IT INTO HAY.—A special to the New York Mail and Express, dated January 8, says: "The indemnity asked for by the owners of the Haytian Republic has been settled. The amount is $120,000, of which $50,000 was paid to-day in cash; $30,000 is due March first, and $40,000 June first. The steamer will leave January 20th for New York.

ECLIPSE OF THE MOON.—There was a partial eclipse of the moon shortly after midnight last night. There is a difference of opinion as to how long it lasted. Some persons say that it only lasted about half an hour, while a merry party returning home from a social, say it was visible until about two o'clock. It is reported that some of the latter party say there were two eclipses.

MAN INJURED.—Henry Williams, a laborer in the employ of the Waterworks contractors, was seriously injured yesterday afternoon. It appears that he was one of a number of men at work digging a trench leading from the main pipe into the dwelling of a resident of Lower Spring Park Road. In the centre of the road a passage way had been left for horses and along this a team laden with hay and a horse hitched behind, was being driven. When about the centre of the passage way referred to, the last mentioned animal took fright from some cause or another, and shied to one side, falling into the excavation where Williams was at work. The horse in falling came in contact with Williams, injuring him severely in the right side. The injured man was removed to his home on Great George street, where he now is. It will probably be some days before he is able to resume work.

Personal.

Mr. Hazen has been re-elected Mayor of Fredericton by acclamation.

Mr Colin McDougall, of Halifax, died suddenly at that place last week. He was well known in this city.

Queen Victoria will shortly confer the decoration of the order of the Garter upon Prince Henry of Prussia.

W. F. Cutten, Stipendiary Magistrate of Amherst, died on Saturday afternoon, after a painful illness of some weeks.

Little Devereux Blake insists that the word "obey" shall be omitted from the marriage. But perhaps—perhaps she would allow the bridegroom to use it.

Charles Minto, representing Gault Bros., of Montreal, crossed over in the Stanley from Pictou yesterday. He reports that the thickest ice met was about eighteen inches, and that the steamer passed through it without any trouble.

Joseph Cook says he does not wish to underrate the Roman empire; but he would rather be an American to-day than a Roman under Caesar. So would almost anybody; the Romans under Caesar are all dead.

An Ottawa despatch of the 15th says:—Senator Carvell of P. E. Island, arrived here last night for the session. For some time past the senator has been falling, and his physician advised a change of air, Mr. Carvell following the advice by coming to the capital a little earlier than he otherwise would have done.

Ellis Chamberlain, the whistling soloist, was prevented from appearing at a concert at the theatre at Worcester, Mass., Sunday night, with the Boston Ideal Banjo, Mandolin and Guitar Club, and a local band. One of the local ministers objected, and the Mayor refused to allow the whistler to whistle anything but sacred music. Consequently the whistler did not appear.

The following story is told of a distinguished Edinburgh professor: "Desiring to go to church one wet Sunday, he hired a cab. On reaching the church door he tendered a shilling—the legal fare—to the cabby, and was somewhat surprised to hear the cabman say, 'Twa shillins, sir.' The professor, fixing his eye upon the extortioner, demanded why he charged two shillings, upon which the cabman dryly answered, "We wish to discourage travelling on the Sawbath as much as possible, sir."

Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe continues to improve in health and spirits, and is physically and mentally quite as well as before her serious illness of last summer.

Queen Ranavalona III. of Madagascar and President Carnot have been exchanging keepsakes in a most delightful manner. First the Queen sent her photograph to M. Carnot, then the President sent his own and that of Mme. Carnot, and added to them a diamond pin. The "Souveraine pain Pepee," as she is wickledly called in France, was so charmed with the glittering stone that she told the French Resident at Tananarivo she would henceforth wear it on her bosom, where otherwise the cross of the Legion of Honor has its place.

Notes and Clippings.

"Nothing venture, nothing have," is just as true a maxim in advertising as in any other line of business; neither more nor less true. It is impossible that all advertising should succeed, however well devised; it is impossible that all should fail, if it be well conducted. The concurrence of good fortune with good management lies at the root of success in every enterprise. He that waits for fortune never finds it! The risk of good or bad success must be taken.

Canadians do not sigh for such a state of affairs as is described by a New York paper in the matter of divorces. It says: "It is a disgrace to our civilization that fifty diverse systems of marriage and divorce are tolerated in this country. That in one State a man may be a lawful husband and in another a bigamist. That in one woman may be a wife, and in another a mistress. That in one children may be legitimate, and in another illegitimate. That in one natural heirs may inherit, and in another be disinherited. That in a community where polygamy and polyandry are declared to be crimes, a man may be the husband of more than one woman, and a woman the wife of more than one husband."

That Eagle.

Sir,—“Heraldry,” I see, writes to tell you that it was not the golden eagle that was chosen by the founders of the American Republic as their national emblem. Nobody said it was—so “Heraldry” might have saved his wind to cool his porridge. His slur as to the alleged fish-stealing propensities of the nation to the south of us is in very bad taste. “American seiners,” we know, attempt to steal and do steal occasionally, fish within the three mile limit. But who are these American seiners? Ninety per cent, at least, are not American citizens at all. Perhaps “Heraldry,” who fancies he knows all about the eagles, will tell us who they are.
