To the Editor of the Examiner.

Sir;

It is, I believe, generally admitted that there is not adequate provision made for the poor and needy in this community. Such unfortunately being the case, would it not be advisable to adopt means for the relief of the aged and infirm, the widow and fatherless, who reside in our midst, and who have a strong claim on our sympathy.

Let, therefore, a Society be formed forthwith, and let us endeavour to ameliorate the condition of our suffering poor, without regard to creed or country.

Hoping that the hint thus thrown out, may produce the desired effect, I am, Sir, yours.

CHARLES DESBRISAY.

News by the English Mail.

Distress of the Shipowners.—The General Meeting of Shipowners is announced for the 15th proximo, and they are to take into consideration "the present ruinous condition of the Shipping Interest." To make it perfectly clear, it is only necessary for the shipowners to inform the public how much of their property has been mortgaged, perhaps even beyond its present value, to enable them to acquire more ships—how much of the 818,250 tons of shipping built in the last three years was built on credit and remains to be paid for—and what is the depreciation in the value of shipping occasioned by the combined effects of such a large addition to the supply, and such a large falling off in the demand as ensued from the collapse of speculative trade in 1857. At a meeting held in Shields a few days ago, Mr. Liddel suggested to the shipowners that their distress was mainly caused by the eagerness with which every owner of one ship, in consequence of the increased demand for shipping, had hastened to build another. He believed that "mortgaged ships" and "hypothecated cargoes" showed on what unsound principles shipowners had acted. Like the landlords not long ago, they have grasped after so large a quantity of the instruments of gain that they have left themselves without floating capital, and are hampered with debts. They would be more effectually relieved accordingly by an Encumbered Shipping Act, than by imposing a tax on the consumer. This latter, however, as was intimated by another speaker at that meeting, is what the shipowners aim at.

PORTUGAL.

THE GREAT EARTHQUAKE—HOUSES THROWN DOWN, AND THEIR INHABITANTS BURIED IN THE RUINS.

Since the earthquake at Lisbon on the 11th inst despatches have been received from the principal provincial towns which give good ground for hope that the damage and loss of life have not been so great as was anticipated from the violence and duration of the shocks. The first, which some reports divide into two distinct shocks, lasted fully half a minute, and shook every house in Lisbon, apparently with an horizontal movement in the direction of north to south. There can be no doubt it was the most violent experienced here since the great earthquake of 1755, and very little more vibration could not have failed to produce most disastrous consequences, although the houses in this capital, as also at Oporto, being built with a framework of wood, which supports the roof independent of the stone and mortar, are rendered more elastic than they were in 1755; that mixed system of construction having then been adopted by the Marquis de Pombal as best calculated to resist future subterranean convulsions. Many chimneys were knocked down, walls cracked, and thrown down in Lisbon, but it appears that no building was destroyed, and that one death was alone caused by the falling of a half built wall at the Polytechnic School. At Villafranca another death took place, and a good deal of injury was done to the house at Cintra and Mafra; but of all the accounts hitherto received, these from St. Ubes, about eight leagues from Lisbon, on the south of the Tagus, are the most distrssing. A great number of houses were thrown down, and some of the inhabitants buried in the ruins, but no authentic account has yet been received of the number of deaths, though we understand five bodies have already been taken out. None of the English residents appear to be included among the sufferers, nor has any more serious result been experienced at Oporto, Figueira, and other ports where foreigners generally reside, than those at Lisbon already referred to. This earthquake was preceded by two days of almost incessant rain.

Purchase of Steamers for Russia.—The Odessa Steam Company are making inquiries in the northern ports for large vessels fit for their service, in navigating the Black Sea and Mediterranean. They have just purchased at Altona, at the cost of 600,000f., two fine steamers, called the Eastern and Western, that were destined for regular packet ships between that port and New York.

Holloway's Pills.—It is hard for persons who have been weakened and emaciated by years of sickness, to believe that they can be restored to strength and vigor by any medicine. They have, perhaps, tried twenty physicians and a hundred "specifics," without avail. Never mind; we ask them for their own sakes to try one more—Holloway's all-conquering remedy. The Pills as surely repair the ravages of disease, renovate the internal organs, brace and invigorate the dilapidated system, restore the appetite, and, as a consequence, give buoyancy to the animal spirits, as the dew and rain refreshes the withered herbs and flowers. The is the language not of eulogy but of experience.

FROM BURMAH.

Shwaghyeen, Burmah, March 6, 1856.

Mr. P. Davis—Dear Sir: Such is the great demand for the Pain Killer that I write you to send me as soon as possible, in addition to what I have hitherto ordered, 24 dozen boxes, (two dozen bottles in a box) and a bill for the same, that I may give you an order on the Treasurer of the Union to the amount of the same. N. Harris.

Henthada, Burmah, March 17, 1856.

Messrs. P. Davis & Son—Gents: * * * I am sorry to say the last box of Pain Killer sent me has not yet come to hand. The expense of getting the medicine is something "these hard times," but the want of it is of far more importance. * * * Send me as soon as possible another box of the same size, (viz. $50 worth.) I enclose an order on the Treasurer of the Missionary Union for the amount. Rev. B. E. Thomas.

Davis' Pain Killer.—It is a real pleasure to us to speak favorably of this article known almost universally to be a good and safe remedy for burns and other pains of the body. It is valuable not only for colds in the winter, but for various summer complaints, and should be in every family.—Ch. Advocate.
