YA-HONK.—Up north, out on a bay, The rocking flock of wild geese lay. The gander, swimming round them all, His voice—"Ya-honk! Ya-honk!"—let fall.

He looked above and saw the snow Come rifling to the earth below. He felt his wings were better far, Where warm winds and waters are.

"Ya-honk! Ya-honk!"—his eye is red, His bill is yellow and his head is white. The grey upon his back is light; His neck is wondrous straight and long.

"Ya-honk! Ya-honk!"—tis in the night He takes his will and wondrous flight. He leads his wild wings thro' the sky With wondrous and unerring eye.

"Ya-honk! Ya-honk!"—he's gone! The listening hither cries, "Yo ho!" He, scornful, drops his voice below—"Ya-honk!"

"Ya-honk!"—he leads them with that cry; They, faithful, follow him or die, "Ya-honk! Ya-honk!"—he calls; None faithless from his rank falls.

"Ya-honk! Ya-honk!"—to-night afar They rest their wings where waters are. They rock and nest some still lake. Which they for months will not forsake.

HEALTH MORE THAN SUCCESS.

No One Has a Greater Share of Both Than Beautiful Marie Tempest.

PAIN'S CELERY COMPOUND GIVES THE HEALTH THAT INSURES SUCCESS.

Marie Tempest. That stage fright is a malady which afflicts the most experienced and capable actors as well as beginners...

per realization of the part, the apprehension that the audience may be criticizing his every movement, and the constant study of new roles, undermines the health and often cuts short the career of the conscientious and ambitious actor.

Miss Marie Tempest, whose many successes upon the English and American stages have placed her in the front rank of operatic stars, admitted frankly upon a recent occasion that she is frequently attacked by stage fright.

It is interesting to note that the great prima donna strongly advocates the use of Paine's Celery Compound for nervous excitability, which always results from a too close application of its pursuit.

"The sensation is one of utter collapse; it is truly an awful feeling and is necessary to sea sickness than anything else I know of. Players with a highly nervous organization are sure to be attacked by it when approaching the climax of an important part, or when appearing for the first time in a new play.

"In one respect a highly developed nervous organization is indispensable to success, as without it a proper conception and feeling of the part to be acted are impossible. You know an actress must not only understand her part, but be so absorbed in it that she forgets her own personality, and for the time being lives in her assumed character."

"Then great nervous excitability is a decided advantage to an actress?" "In the way I have described yes. In a general proposition, no. The mental strain, the intense application necessary to a proper realization of the part, the apprehension that the audience may be criticizing his every movement, and the constant study of new roles, undermines the health and often cuts short the career of the conscientious and ambitious actor.

THOUGHT IT WAS A FAKE.

A Letter from a Prominent Kingston Man.—A Story of Deep Interest to Everybody.—Told in His Own Words.—Dodd's Kidney Pills Again.

"I would consider it a favor if you would allow me to add my testimonial to the many hundreds you doubt have in praise of the wonderful cures effected by your Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"I have been a great sufferer from kidney trouble and sciatica for the last 15 years, and have paid out hundreds of dollars for treatment, but to no effect. Seeing your pills advertised I thought it was a fake to which the poor unfortunate victim of the testimonial of Dr. Rose, a well-known physician of good standing and whose reputation I am well acquainted with, I inquired of my druggist if there were any in our vicinity who had been cured by them.

He named over several remarkable cures in Kingston and amongst others a lady whom I knew. I consulted her husband and he verified the statement. I at once procured six boxes which I found gave me relief I had not felt in years. I took six more boxes and I am now able to kick the last of a man's head with the leg I could hardly drag along, and my back feels as strong as a board.
