MR. THEO. L. CHAPPELLE has issued from the Diamond Bookstore a "Revised Customs Tariff for 1882," with tables "converting sterling exchange into currency." This is a timely publication; and a valuable one for all who are engaged in business.

A PUBLIC MEETING of members and adherents of the Presbyterian Church in this city, or in any part of the Province, is requested for Wednesday evening next, in Zion Church, at the hour of 7.30 o'clock, for the purpose of consulting about the interests of the Presbyterian Theological Hall, Halifax. A full attendance of all for whom this notice is intended, is respectfully and urgently requested.

MESSRS DANIEL DAVIES AND CHARLES COLES, late of the Accountant's Office, Railway Department, left today to make new homes in the Far West. Previous to their departure, they were waited on by the officials of the Railway, who presented them with an address, accompanied by silver mounted rifle. Messrs. Davies and Coles were two of the most popular and efficient officers of our Railway, and their departure is very much regretted by their fellow employees and a host of friends. We wish them every success.

A CIRCUMSTANCE with a very happy outcome was lately referred to by the Brooklyn Eagle. It was told by Mr. W. A. Davenport, connected with the house of Messrs. Butler, Pitken & Co., 476 Broadway, New York, and concerned the marvellous cure of Mr. Ezra D. Clarkson, near Newark, N. J., of a terrible case of rheumatism, which other remedies had failed even to alleviate. He was on his way to a hospital when Mr. Davenport met him and induced him to try St. Jacobs Oil, with the result named.—Cleveland (O.) Practical Farmer.

A SERIES of disastrous accidents occurred on the 26th ult., on the Fort Wayne road, near Chicago. A stock train consisting of thirty cars of hogs was run into at the 43rd street crossing, by a Grand Trunk passenger train. Fully half the hogs were killed at this point, though not much damage resulted to other property. After the wreck was cleared the balance of the stock proceeded south until it reached 55th street, where it was run into by a Fort Wayne passenger train. Engineer Milbert, of the passenger train, was killed. Several cars were thrown from the track, and what hogs escaped the first accident were finished up in the second. Twenty thousand dollars worth were killed altogether.

MARY O'BRIEN, a tramp, about forty years of age, was locked up in the Fifth Precinct Station house, Brooklyn, Thursday night, for intoxication. Later in the evening Edward O'Brien, about the same age as the woman, and also a tramp, was accommodated at the same station house, but was put in a cell for assaulting a fellow-lodger. In Justice Nasher's court, yesterday, the O'Briens recognized each other as man and wife. It was the first time they had met since fifteen years ago. O'Brien, then a hearty young man, kissed his young wife, good-bye on the quay at Cork, and started to make a happy home for her in America. Degraded as were the victims of rum and idleness, the meeting between them was affecting. Justice Nasher inflicted light penalties on both. So says the New York Times.

THE case of Dr. Lamson, from its international character, is likely to attract a large amount of attention both in England and America. Dr. Lamson is accused and in fact condemned of having poisoned a relative of his with aconite, a poison which has been very imperfectly defined by the experts and which leaves some indications which are not common to other poisons. In Dr. Lamson's case there was some very strong presumptive evidence against him, it being shown that he had made large purchases of the poison of which the victim was supposed to have died. A very strong movement has since been started in favor of the accused doctor, mainly on the ground of his alleged insanity, and some very influential signed memorials have been forwarded from the United States to the Home Government asking for Dr. Lamson's pardon on that ground. It is doubtful if these views will prevail; unless he can be proved to be wholly irresponsible, which does not seem to be possible from any evidence presented.

IRISH NATIONAL LAND LEAGUE. The regular meeting of the Land League was held last evening, at eight o'clock, in St. Patrick's Hall. M. P. Hogan, Esq., President, in the chair. A number of new members became enrolled, and handed in their subscriptions. The sum of $25.00 was received from the Treasurer of the "Fanny Parnell Branch," Avondale. A unanimous vote of thanks was passed to the above Branch for its timely contribution. Mr. O'Neill, Esq., President of the same Branch, was called upon. He instanced some of his own early experience in Ireland, and held in his hand a Repeal Association ticket, signed by Thos. Math. Ray, dated September, 1843, showing the early interest he had manifested in Ireland's cause. He also gave some fine renditions of appropriate selections of poetry; and replied, in suitable terms, to the vote of thanks passed to himself, and to the League of Avondale.

MR. C. D. COLLINS briefly reviewed the present situation in Ireland, and touched on the agitation now going on for "Home Rule." Mr. B. Doherty referred to the proposition made by some humane persons—so-called—for the Irish people to rise up and leave the land. He thought that parties who spoke thus were no friends of Ireland. The President congratulated Mr. O'Neill on the success which has attended the "Fanny Parnell Branch"; and closed with the announcement that the League would hold a very interesting meeting in St. Patrick's Hall, on Easter Monday night, to which the public is cordially invited. Meeting adjourned. RICHARD WALSH, Secretary. April 4, 1882.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

Special Despatch to the Examiner.

NEWCASTLE-ON-TYNE, April 3.

The starting boats were moored opposite the Mansion House, about one hundred yards above the High Level Bridge, and thirty yards apart. The men appeared at the starting point within a few minutes of each other; Hanlan using his Phylps & Peter's boat, Boyd the Swaddle & Winship, Boyd dashed away with the start, and was half a length in front in a few strokes. Hanlan however, sculling in grand form, caught him, and in half minute he was clear of him. Time to the High Bridge three minutes 23 seconds. By this time Hanlan was two lengths in front, and the race was over.

The Canadian played tricks all the way home, stopping dead for several seconds. He stopped, held up his hand, blew his nose, and disported himself generally. A BOSTON despatch says the Zuni Indians, on the 29th ult., performed the long-contemplated rites at the sea shore. The chiefs walked into the water and sprinkled the sea with "sacred meal." Returning, they squatted in a semi-circle, the wash of the waves wetting their limbs, and smoked consecrated cigarettes, after which they chanted invocations to the "Father and Mother of waters," "God under the waters," "God above the waters," "God underneath," and "God above the earth." They take to New Mexico a number of large vessels filled with water. It will be consecrated and used in religious ceremonies.
