He was in his usual health up until two and a half months prior to his death when he contracted a pain in his head.

The family of the late Michael Francis Griffin wish to express their sincere thanks to the nurses, doctors, Sisters and clergy of the Charlottetown Hospital.

IN MEMORIAM

MRS. ADAM BROWN

On Sept. 26, 1951, Mrs. Adam Brown passed away at her home in New Glasgow in her 96th year.

Although for the past four years she had been confined to her room, she was mentally alert and never complained of the tedium of the sick bed but rejoiced in the measure of health granted her in her declining years.

Three weeks before her death she became seriously ill and despite tender care she died peacefully to a long, happy and useful life.

She was born in North Wiltshire, the daughter of William and Flora MacLeod Henderson and came to New Glasgow seventy-three years ago.

Together they worked hard and provided for a family of ten children but the ruling principles of life were perseverance, good cheer and strict adherence to the right way of life.

The funeral, which was largely attended, was conducted by Rev. Geo. Tilley in the absence of her beloved pastor, Rev. George Cough, Mr. Tilley, in a sympathetic, kindly manner referred to his former pastor here and his acquaintance with the deceased at the time of the death of the beloved husband and father.

There are left to mourn the following sons and daughters: Edgar M. and Earle C. of Vancouver, Rev. Stirling H. of Oakville, Manitoba, Sidney W. at home, who cared for his mother so devotedly.

Flower bearers were Messrs. Cecil Laird, Stanford Glover, Harry Brown, Alexander Henderson, George Brown and John L. Proctor.

Flower bearers were Messrs. Fred Smith and Elmer MacDonald.

She was laid to rest in the New Glasgow cemetery on a bright sunny afternoon which seemed to emphasize the fact that all is brightness "beyond the veil" and that there is more joy than sorrow when our loved ones pass on peacefully and gladly to the realms beyond.

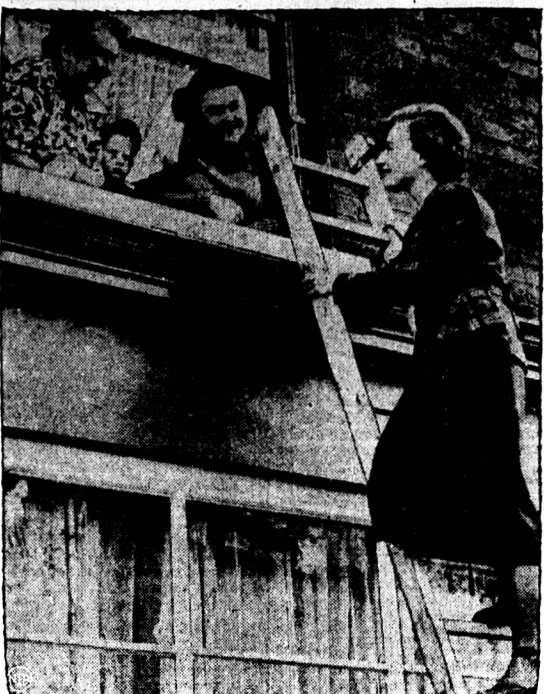

In loving memory of my Mother, Mrs. Elvina MacNeill, who passed away October 23rd, 1949.
