OCTOBER 31, 1891.

The P. E. Island Cases.

The Supreme Court has reserved its judgment on the P. E. Island cases. By the way, isn't it pitiful to see Mr. L. H. Davies and his three followers depending for their seats in Parliament upon the strength of a few technical objections?

The Premier and Mr Chapleau.

Some of the Oppositionists are surprised to learn that Mr. Abbott proposes to be leader of the Government de facto, and all are confident that his refusal of the demand that Hon. Mr. Chapleau shall be Minister of Railways is fraught with disaster to his Administration. But the majority by whom Mr. Abbott is supported, will, we venture to predict, commend him for the stand he has taken.

The Patriot prates madly about "The muddle at Ottawa" and "a pretty kettle of fish." There is no muddle and no kettle of fish. If the reports be true, Mr. Abbott has merely declined to listen favorably to a request that Mr. Chapleau shall be Minister of Railways under his Administration; and Mr. Chapleau will either remain in the office of Secretary of State or resign his portfolio.

The Ottawa Free Press on Monday published a libellous fabrication intimating that among Picaud's infamous disbursements was a large sum to purchase a diamond necklace for Madame Angers. The Ottawa Journal publishes Governor Angers' indignant denial, in which he characterizes the statement as "an infernal slander."

PHILHARMONIC SOCIETY.—A very successful practice of the Philharmonic Society was held on last Tuesday evening, when the beautiful choruses of Mendelssohn's Elijah was commenced. The society's first concert, just before Christmas, will be composed of operatic choruses from the great musical works; and at the second concert, early in the summer, the Elijah will be completely rendered.

In Monday's issue will appear the advertisement of auction sale of the furniture and stable outfit of the late Alex. Dixon. The sale will take place on Friday, Nov 6th, on Bayfield Street, and the residence will be sold by private sale.

Mercier is Responsible.

SO SAYS THE LEADING ORGAN OF THE ONTARIO LIBERALS.

The Toronto Globe, reviewing the Quebec situation, says: "Picaud's assertion that the members of the Government were ignorant of his corrupt bargain with Armsong, if true, does not relieve them of responsibility for his acts. They armed him, according to his own showing, with great powers at least equal to those of a minister of railways. He was practically their colleague, and something more than their colleague, for it seems to have been hard for anyone to obtain access to the ministers de jure without the friendly offices of the minister de facto. To hold them free from blame, therefore, would be to allow the plea of ministerial irresponsibility urged on behalf of Sir Hector Langevin and Mr. Chapleau. The whole system of government under British institutions is based on the diametrically opposite doctrine that ministers are to be held responsible for the conduct of the public business. There is no scarcity of men who are willing to become ministers of the Crown for the sake of emoluments and honors of office. No man has a right to expect to receive these benefits and to shift the care and responsibility of office whenever he pleases. The people under such an arrangement would have no guarantee for good government. What is perfectly clear to the people of Quebec is that $100,000 of their money has been stolen and that they have the right to hold some one to account for it. That person cannot be Picaud, who through-out the fraudulent transaction held no provincial office. He held a great deal of the reality of power, but he had no right to hold it, and the responsibility for his acts must rest upon those who wrongfully armed him with power.

It is estimated there are five thousand different kinds of pills on the market. Should one be able to test the entire lot for a perfect specific in sick headache, foul stomach, habitual constipation and liver complaint then only one would be found: McGeale's Butternut Pills. They cure where others only relieve. Price 25 cts. Sold in Charlottetown by Geo. E. Hughes.

FRANCE and England wouldn't be without it for the world. Canada is fast feeling that way, too. The great Lensitive Phenix, the marvellous washing solution. The common powder and the common ashes, which the housewives had to use, have now fallen into the contempt which is their proper portion. Lensitive Phenix is a synonym for beauty. Beauty of hands in the wash; beauty of clothes when washed; beauty of the skin when used in the bath. You use it for all kinds of washing; and then you use it for all kinds of cleaning and scouring. A boon to tired, worn women.

A CHRONIC Cough if not attended to is liable to end in consumption. For consumption, Scrofula and all wasting diseases you should take Estey's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil. It is pleasant as milk and is endorsed by physicians. dw 1m Tennyson.

Clear-thinking, evening star! We make no moan for thee Who's mightiest, 'yond the bar, Blest immortality.

Yet, at thy farewell tone, Thou glorious poet-king! The tears unbidden spring From peoples of each zone.

So long, from loftier sphere, Thy pure and lustrous rays Have lit earth's sombre ways;— No sky may own thy peer.

Oh, never-dying song! Oh, princely legacy! Till life shall living be Thou'll thrill, the years along.

Mist wreath, or ocean foam; The beacon shineth clear, The joy-bells sound afar, Beyond this bar is—HOMES!

Clear-shining, evening star! We make no moan for thee Who's mightiest, 'yond the bar, Blest immortality.

Japanese Views.

(Daily Telegraph, St. John, N. B., Sept. 29)

Centenary school room was filled to overflowing last night by an audience which for nearly two hours was delighted and interested by the exhibition of dissolving views presented by Rev. Mr. Cocking, a Methodist missionary to Japan. The pictures, the work of native artists, were exceedingly beautiful, and the coloring admirable. The explanations by Mr. Cocking were very interesting, and one obtained much information by attending this really enjoyable entertainment. The scenery of the country, its mountains and rivers, pleasant fields and farms, its rice and tea plantations, as well as its beautiful cities and temples, were all depicted; the habits and customs of the people, their religion, traditions and domestic life were referred to; the utensils with which they do their work, and the manner in which it is done was explained, and many things, the products of the natives, were exhibited. At the close of the lecture a number of persons took advantage of the offer made by Mr. Cocking to inspect his curios.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

Letter From Mr. T. L. Chappelle.

SIR,—It appears that Messrs. Hazard & Moore are laboring under a delusion. The statement that I am sole agent for the Christmas number of the Dominion Illustrated is strictly correct, as my contract with the publishers proves. Dealers in other provinces are not allowed to supply quantities to any person outside their own territory. The publishers will issue a declaration to this effect in a few days—which will satisfy even the most skeptical that this is no "bluff." Yours truly, THEO. L. CHAPPELLE. Oct. 31, 1891.

Letter From Mount Stewart.

SIR,—How much longer are the temperance party of this place going to stand by in apathy while the vile compounds poured forth from five dens are causing so much suffering and misery—not so much to the brutes who drink it as to their almost helpless wives and children? The spectacle of one of the most notorious rum-sellers in noon-day—driving to the door of one of his victims and taking the few shillings of his wages—ought to stir the oldest of the former workers to action. But alas! it seems that political feelings overcome all other notions of the mind. Even some of our clergymen—very prominent workers before the change of government—are now keeping very quiet on the temperance question. Let the recipient of last winter's purse—and some of the donors—rise in their might and make another effort, as besides being a help to their souls—there might be money in it. FARRER. Mount Stewart, Oct. 30, 1891.

Personal.

John McLean, M. P., Souris, is in the city. He is at the Hotel Davies. Mr. E. M. Estey, of Moncton, the proprietor of Estey's Emulsion and other standard preparations, is in the city. Mr. Estey, it will be remembered, was formerly manager of the Medical Hall. His many friends here are glad to see him. The Hon. McKenzie Bowell and Mr. Schreiber went to Tigrish yesterday and stayed at Summerside last night. This forenoon they visited Cape Traverse, and this afternoon inspected the offices and workshops in this city. They will leave for Pictou on Monday morning. Prof. Victor Coffin, of Prince Edward Island, is vice-president of Cornell University Club. The club has over thirty members, and has for its object (1) to enable Canadians to get better acquainted with one another; (2) for the discussion of Canadian affairs; (3) to make Cornell better known in Canada.

IN OLDEN TIMES

IT WAS A COMMON REMARK that the Ladies of P. E. Island had the opportunity of buying the Latest Novelties. For years it has been our aim to change all that, and we now claim that no city in Canada is more thoroughly in touch with the fashions than our own. We buy in Paris, London, Berlin and New York—the Centres of Fashion—and no Firm in Canada can undersell us.

TO-DAY

TWO YEARS AGO

we gave up all kinds of Men's Furnishings, and since then our business has rapidly increased. Our MANTLE DEPARTMENT is second to none, and we are giving Astonishing Bargains in JACKETS, LONG CLOAKS, etc. Indeed, we think we are justified in saying that never before were such High-Class Goods shown here, and never before were such marvellously low prices given.

The Reason of the Change is simply that we now give our whole time and attention to LADIES' GOODS. As a result, we buy to better advantage, we sell at lower prices, we secure the latest novelties, and we invite everyone to call and secure some of our FINEST ATTRACTIONS in
