

THE DAILY EXAMINER.

JULY 8, 1890.

Notes and Comments.

—What about the fountain on Queen Square? Is it to be put in working order this summer? If it is it certainly is time some move was made in that direction.

—The resolution on temperance, passed by the Synod of Nova Scotia is as follows: "That the Synod of the diocese of Nova Scotia deplore the great evils produced by the excessive use of intoxicants, and recognize the great need there is of the use of any and every means of suppressing those evils by education, moral suasion and legislation."

The resolution telegraphed THE EXAMINER on the 2nd inst. was that of the committee, and was not adopted.

—The sermons of Rev. C. H. Spurgeon, of London, will, in the future, carry with them no less conviction on account of the fact that the eminent divine combines precept with practice. Mr. Spurgeon is by no means a wealthy man, yet he recently renounced all claim to a bequest of $15,000 which he had inherited from a dying man upon whom one of the preacher's sermons had made a deep impression. The noble reasons assigned for this course by Mr. Spurgeon were that the terms of the will did injustice to a number of indigent relatives.

—St. Petersburg advices state that the Russian Government, in order to counteract the plans of China to make Manchuria an outpost against Russia by building railways and fortresses in that territory and by an extensive colonization scheme, has decided to hasten the construction of the Siberian railway and to strengthen the garrisons in the Amur and Ussuri provinces. The Government will also establish colonies throughout those provinces, and no Chinese will be permitted to settle in the territory. A Russian commission, with headquarters at Vladivostok, will watch the execution of the measures.

—M. B. Daly, Esquire, of Halifax, has been appointed Lieutenant-Governor of Nova Scotia, rendered vacant by the death of the late Lieut.-Governor McLellan. The new incumbent is a son of Sir Dominick Daly, at one time Lieutenant-Governor of this Island, and who for years resided in Charlotte-town with his father. Mr. Daly represented the City of Halifax in the House of Commons, and was Deputy Speaker for several years, a position to which he was unanimously appointed by the House. He is a son-in-law of Sir Edward Kenny, and a brother-in-law of Thomas Kenny, one of the members for the city of Halifax.

—The editor of the Pioneer, in the last issue of that delectable sheet, cries out piteously that he "finds it difficult to trace evidences of progress and prosperity under the union." As if just aroused from some extraordinary hallucination, he exclaims, "We are not united yet to Canada either in sentiment or sympathy or common interests." The Pioneer writer must certainly think we are still out in the cold! Where has he been sojourning for the past seven years? "Our loyalty to Canada has not despaired," he goes on to say,—but he does not attempt to put forth one single argument in proof of any of his groundless assertions.

—In the course of an article dealing with the celebrating of national holidays the St. John Sun says:—

"The old custom of celebrating the Fourth of July may be imitated in Canada in respect to the birthday of our Dominion. It will be a good thing if the people of each village and country district, as well as the people in the cities shall meet on Dominion Day, not to celebrate the occasion with voice and fireworks, but to be instructed somewhat in the nature of the work which the fathers of Confederation did, and to hear men of thought and eloquence tell how good is this land of ours, and how great may be its future if its people do their duty. If there are poets when this custom comes they shall celebrate in 1475 verses the land of their birth or adoption, and all who can shall join in singing the coming Canadian ode which is to hold a place in patriotic song second only to the national anthem."

An Islander Distinguishes Himself.

We note with pleasure that Mr. Charles H. Thomas, inventor of "The Thomas Universal Spring Nut Lock," is on a visit to his friends on the Island, accompanied by his wife and their youngest son. He is the guest, whilst in Sumner-ville, of Charles Murphy, Esq., of the Customs Department. During the course of a conversation with Mr. Thomas regarding his invention, an EXAMINER representative was informed that some time ago a company was organized in Moncton under the leadership of R. A. Borden, attorney-at-law, assisted by Matthew Lodge, Esq., of the Moncton Sugar Refinery, and George P. Thomas, Esq., attorney and barrister, and brother of the inventor. The object for which this company was formed is to carry on the manufacture and sale of the Nut Lock above referred to. This company has recently been amalgamated with another in the United States, formed for a similar purpose, and known as "The American Nut Lock Co."

The Thomas Universal Spring Nut Lock, (patented) has been used for some time by the officers of the I. C. Railway on cars, engines, bridges, rails, etc., and has proved an unqualified success. It is the only Nut Lock ever used upon a perpendicular bolt, and is giving entire satisfaction on several of the leading railways in the United States where it has been adopted.

The inventive genius of Mr. Thomas has supplied a want long felt in railway circles, and this being so it is scarcely necessary to add that viewing his achievement from a pecuniary point of view it will prove a financial success. THE EXAMINER congratulates Mr. Thomas, not as an Islander who has distinguished himself abroad, but, looking at our great country as a whole, we congratulate him as an Islander who has distinguished himself at home.

Personal.

Mr. T. C. James, Superintendent of the Anglo-American Telegraph Co., was among the passengers to St. John's, Nfld., this afternoon.

An Apologetic correspondent of the St. John Sun says: Charles S. McDonald and his sister, Mrs. John Heffer, left this place last Monday morning en route for Sumner-ville, where they intend visiting their somewhat aged parents.

The Shooting of Little Eva Gay.

GEORGE HENDERSON ARRAIGNED.

The examination into the charges preferred against the young lad Henderson, was resumed before J. T. Mellish, Esq., J. P., to-day. There were no new developments. The most important of the evidence given appears below:—

INGLES WOOD, (sworn)—I live at Lot 48 I was working in a jug of wood, and came out of my own gate about one o'clock. The boys were just behind me, coming from the westward along the road. The two boys shortly after I left my gate, came to my gate, and went up to the house, and asked for a drink of water. I saw them come down the road towards me. I went into the bush on Alexander McDonald's farm. This would be six or seven chains from where the girl was found. As I passed by the vacant field, I saw the deceased girl picking berries in the field. I was just in when I heard the shots, some four or five I think I did not hear the shots very plain. The last shot fired sounded louder than the others. There might have been three or four minutes when I heard another one to the eastward of me, that is to the east of the creek. It sounded pretty loud, too.

CHARLES RANKIN (sworn)—I was working in Smith's Common on Dominion Day, in the same field with Thomas Ings. I saw two boys coming from the westward along the road. Just as I saw them I heard a shot. I then worked on and after a while I heard another shot. I heard in all three or four shots. I saw the boys afterwards pass where I was working and went up where Ings and Mitchell were working. I heard some one there fire a shot. In a minute or two the boys went down again, the way they came. Shortly afterwards I saw a wagon pass to the westward with Mr. and Mrs. McDonald in it. When they got past the school house I saw them stop and get out. She beckoned to me. The child was not dead when I got there. I then went to the nearest house and gave the alarm. When I saw the boys firing they were in front of Mr. Jones' gate.

At four o'clock this afternoon, further hearing of the case was adjourned until Friday. In the meantime the body of the little girl will be exhumed in order that the bullet may be extracted and produced.

Engineers Inspection.

The Charlottetown Engineers were inspected yesterday by Major Davison, R. E. The corps met at the Drill Shed at nine o'clock, and shortly afterwards marched to Ravenwood, where the inspection in engineering was to be held. The work this year was a redoubt, built half size, but owing to the limited strength of the Company a portion only was finished. Though not so heavy as the work done last year it is much more difficult, being more scientific. After the task, which occupied a little over four hours, was completed, the men were ordered to "cease work," which, taking into consideration the broiling sun and sore hands, was a most agreeable order. The Inspector then addressed the men on the work they had just finished. He said that the work they had done this year, when in full size, was one of the most undesirable pieces of engineering known. The full size work, he said, took about sixteen times as much labor as when in half size; but then there would be a very large number of men, and also a greater length of time in which to complete it.

In the evening the corps again met at the Drill Shed, whence they were marched to Rochford Square, where they were inspected by the same officer, who was accompanied by Major Irving and Lieut.-Colonel Worsley. They met the Major at the "general salute." After the salute, they were put through the manual exercise by Captain Weeks. They were then put through the "formations" by Lieut. Moore, after which Lieut. Leigh put them through some other exercises. They were then extended for the attack at three paces interval. This movement was varied by changing front to the right, firing by sections, advancing by sections and half company, etc.

After these manoeuvres the men were marched back to the Shed, where Major Davison complimented them on the work of the day, both in infantry and engineering. The Major concluded by saying that it afforded him much pleasure in knowing that the Charlottetown Engineers were continuing to improve, and not "falling off" as might be. He said that in a week or so he would leave Canada for the "Old Country," probably forever, but he assured them that, wherever he went, he would not forget either his men or officers; so he would now wish them "good bye."

Lieutenant-Colonel Worsley then said a few words of advice to the men as to how they should stand when in the ranks, and to keep their "chins out of their collars," and above all not to get into a slovenly habit of walking. Capt. Weeks then proposed three cheers for Major Davison, who is leaving the Dominion forever. It is needless to say that this proposal was carried out to the full, with a hearty encore thrown in. Major Davison then thanked the men for their regard, and retired.

The roll was then called and the men dismissed.

Supreme Court.

JULY 8. Johanna Carroll vs. John Kelly.—Action on a promissory note. In this case the plaintiff alleges that the defendant made a note together with one Landrigan & Strong in her favor for the sum of $200. The defendant denies that he ever made such a note. The evidence consists chiefly of expert testimony on the handwriting of the defendant. The case is still before the Court. Davies and Merson for plaintiff; McLean and McDonald for defendant.

Andrew Doyle, jr., and wife vs. the Island Guardian Publishing Co.—The master of the certificate against costs was argued this morning before Mr. Justice Hensley at Chambers. Judgment will be given to-morrow.

In the matter of the application of George A. Baynes to be placed on the registered list of medical practitioners, the Court decided that as Dr. Johnson signified his willingness to investigate the matter of Dr. Baynes' complaint, the application be dismissed without costs. H. C. McDonald for applicant; D. C. McLeod, contra.

K. D. C. for the Stomach.

Unscrupulous Competition!
False Representations!
Unbusinesslike Methods!

We have not in the past, do not now, nor do we for the future intend to conduct our business upon these lines, but we find we have a few competitors (fortunately for the credit of our town a very few) who are quite willing and anxious to force business by the above means. We have therefore determined to place an honest, outspoken competition of PRICE AGAINST UNDERHANDED, UNSCRUPULOUS MISREPRESENTATION of our Carpet Department.
