your child

You note the difference in children. Some have nearly every ailment, even with the best of care. Others far more exposed pass through unharmed. Weak children will have continuous colds in winter, poor digestion in summer. They are without power to resist disease, they have no reserve strength. Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver oil, with hypophosphites, is cod-liver oil partly digested and adapted to the weaker digestions of children.

WHO'S THE WOMAN?

CHAPTER I.

"Of course you couldn't," said Brown grimly. "I suppose you expected her to be brave for you both and point out your duty to you? Well, is she in London now?"

"Yes."

"And you see her often?"

"Nearly every day."

"And her husband—what does he think of this?"

"I have never seen him. She won't even tell me who or what he is—and I don't care—it's all the better. It's a bad business, Brown, and I wish to God I was out of it."

"Then get out of it, Harry. It's in your own hands. Leave England at once. It is your only chance."

The young man bent his head on his hand and groaned.

"I can't—I can't—I love her. And she is so lonely and unhappy! It would be brutal to leave her all alone with that husband of hers."

"Is he unkind to her?"

"Oh, she never says that, but—but she implies a good deal, don't you know. She never loved him, you see, though she has tried hard to do her duty. He is slow and dull and uninteresting and all that sort of thing—a regular old buffer, I suppose. Poor girl! She says her life would be miserable without me. How can I leave her?"

"Then where will this end? Oh, my boy, where are you drifting to?"

"The divorce court, I suppose," said Harry recklessly. "Some day I imagine we shall make a bolt of it—and then"——

"And then you will realize what it is to ruin three lives. If you love this woman, you will give her up."

"I do love her, but I won't give her up!" burst out Harry.

"It's no use preaching, old man; I'm not good enough; I can't rise to the practice."

John Brown was silent a few moments, thinking. He pitied the young man. What could he do to save him? A sudden thought struck him—Harry had never had a happy home. During his wandering existence he could have seen but little of domestic life. What could he know of the sacredness of the tie between husband and wife—the tie that he was doing his best to break? Who could tell but that a glimpse into a happy home might arouse some of the latent good in him.

"Look here, Harry," said Brown abruptly, "I'm not going to preach—I see it's no use. Come home to dinner with me instead and see my wife. The very sight of a good woman and a happy wife is good for a man in your frame of mind. Come and talk to Alice. She is the best medicine I can recommend you."

Harry started.

"I didn't know you were married, Brown; 'pon my word I didn't. Happy man!"

John smiled—a smile of trust and happiness that lit up his rugged face into positive beauty.

"I am a happy man—thanks to Alice. When I think of my own good fortune in having such a wife, it makes me very pitiful to you poor bachelors."

He took out his watch—a large gold timepiece as absolutely reliable as himself.

"Half past 6—we dine at 7. Come, Hastings. It doesn't take more than 20 minutes to get to Curzon street. Aristocratic neighborhood, isn't it? I dare say you have often driven past our house—Bijou house, and a gem of a place it is! If there are two things I am proud of,

ALICE LOOKED UP AT HIM QUICKLY.

they are my wife and my house. You are not going to do any more writing, Harry? We shall only just be in time for dinner."

Harry Hastings was standing at his desk busily arranging papers, and it was quite a perceptible time before he answered without turning his head.

"Very sorry, but I really can't come tonight. I—I've an engagement. Some other time I shall be delighted to make—your wife's—acquaintance."

Brown was quite distraught that evening. His thoughts wandered to his old pupil with tiresome persistency. He hardly noticed that Alice wore a new and bewitching tea gown. He did not see that though her eyes were fixed on her book she never turned a page.

Alice, too, was distraught, but presently she yawned and looked up at her husband with a slightly unamiable expression on her calm, fair face.

"What on earth are you thinking of, John? Do you know that you are a very dull companion this evening?"

John started out of his reverie.

"Am I, dearest? I know I'm a dull old fellow. I was thinking of my old pupil, Harry Hastings. I've often talked to you about him, you know, and if you remember I met him last week in the city"——

"Yes, I remember," said Alice indifferently, picking up the book which had slipped from her hand. "Well, why 'poor' Harry Hastings? I thought he was a very rich young man."

"He is a very unhappy man just now. He's got into an unfortunate entanglement with a married woman"——

"Really, did he tell you so?"

"Yes, he told me. It appears he met her years ago in India."

"And who is the woman?"

"He refused to tell me, and he was right. Whoever she may be, I pity her—and him."

He took his wife's pretty hand in his and looked at her fondly.

"Ah, Alice, if there were more women like you the world would be a very different place."

She drew her hand quickly away—a sudden flush of color on her pale cheeks.

"Don't be foolish, John. You run my rings into me. We are not on our honeymoon."

Brown felt a trifle chilled.

Perfection of Cynicism.

Oscar Wilde was introduced at a recent garden-party in London to Mrs. Osgood, of Knebworth House. In the course of a few minutes' talk it was divulged that the lady was on the eve of departing for America. "Going to America?" said Oscar; "deah me; what for, now?" "To see my husband," was the reply. Oscar stared sleepily at her in astonishment. Dropping languidly into a chair he said: "Going all the way to America to see your own" (with accent on the own) "husband? Deah me! What a lovely ideah!"

Remedy for Damp Walls.

The process consists in using two washes or solutions for covering the surface of the walls—one composed of castile soap and water, and one of alum and water. The proportions are three-quarters of a pound of soap to one gallon of water, and half a pound of alum to four gallons of water, both substances to be perfectly clean and dry, and the temperature of the air not above 25 degrees Fahrenheit when the compositions are applied.

The first, or soap wash, should be laid on when boiling hot with a flat brush, taking care to form a froth on the brickwork. This wash should remain twenty-four hours, so as to become dry and hard before the second or alum wash is applied, which should be done in the same manner as the first. The temperature of this wash when applied may be 60 or 70 degrees Fahrenheit, and this also should remain twenty-four hours before a second coat of soap wash is put on. These coats are to be applied alternately until the walls are made impervious to water. The alum and soap thus combined form an insoluble compound, filling the pores of the masonry and entirely preventing the water from entering the wall.—Architect and Builder.

A. C. P. R. CONDUCTOR.

After Two Years' Misery was Cured by Ten Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

PRESCOTT (Special) Aug. 24—For a long time much sympathy has been felt and expressed for Mr. Wm. Freeman, a very popular conductor of the C. P. R. who had been rendered unfit for duty during the past few years by a peculiar and distressing form of kidney disease. It now transpires, much to the delight of his friends, that he has been enabled to resume his regular trips. He claims, as the results of using only ten boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills, that he has entirely recovered, and that he never felt better in his life, and believes that these Pills have cured him to stay cured.

Rev. John H. Stewart, aged sixty, and for thirty-two years in the Methodist ministry, was struck by an engine while driving over a railway crossing near his home in Cataraqui, Ont., last Wednesday night and killed.

Chase's K. & L. Pills Cure Dyspepsia

For the last eight years I have been a sufferer from constipation and dyspepsia—I tried dozens of different medicines, but nothing gave me relief until I used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, which cured me.

JAMES HEARD,
Woodville, Ont.

A despatch to the Telegraph from Berlin says that the powers have all agreed upon the adoption of a policy which will compel Turkey to grant autonomy to Crete.

Commercial Travellers.

Wm. Golding, commercial traveller, 130 Esther St., Toronto, says: For fifteen years I suffered untold misery from Itching Piles, sometimes called pin worms. Many and many weeks have I had to lay off the road from this trouble. I tried eight other pile ointments and so called remedies with no permanent relief to the intense itching and stinging, which irritated by scratching would bleed and ulcerate. One box of Chase's Ointment cured me completely.

A telegram from Larissa, Greece, says that the Turkish troops have massacred 80 old men, women and children in the villages of Trambuno and Komini, Macedonia.

A Prominent Londoner.

LONDON, Ont.

Chase's Ointment is an invaluable remedy for Itching Piles, and in my own case I would pay $50 per box for it if it could not be had otherwise.

100,000 Free Samples Given Away in Eight Months.

Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are the only kidney pills known with sufficient merit to guarantee the proprietors in giving away hundreds of thousands of sample packages free. Ask your druggist for a sample if your kidneys or liver is deranged.

Many a Young Man.

When from over-work, possibly assisted by an inherited weakness, the health fails and rest or medical treatment must be resorted to, then no medicine can be employed with the same beneficial results as Scott's Emulsion.

It is stated that the will of Ex-Empress Eugene, drawn recently favors her namesake Eugene, the daughter of the late Prince Henry of Battenberg and Princess Beatrice.

Build Up.

When the system is run down a person becomes an easy prey to Consumption or Scrofula. Many valuable lives are saved by using Scott's Emulsion as soon as a decline in health is observed.

HAD INDIGESTION!

For a Matter of Some Forty Years or More.

Joseph Gardner, stove dealer, of Bath, Ontario, is a great believer in Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills for indigestion, constipation, dyspepsia, Bright's disease, rheumatism, and kidney, liver and stomach troubles generally.

"I was troubled for over forty years with indigestion and constipation," he writes. "At intervals I suffered from severe headache. I spent dollars and dollars without result until Mr. Hall, our druggist, advised me to try Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I did so, and must say that they are the only remedy that gave me relief. I would not be without them for anything."

Many people suffer from rheumatism. Bad blood and diseased kidneys bring it on. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills will remedy all this and cure rheumatism, sciatica and all kindred complaints. Here is a sample case:

"My boy was all crippled up and suffered awfully with rheumatism," writes Mrs. H. Wills, of Chesley, Ont. "He also had a touch of diabetes. The doctors could do him no good, but Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills completely cured him."

Sold by all dealers and Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. 25c.

When all other remedies fail Dr. Chase's Linseed and Turpentine will cure the worst chronic cold. 25 cents.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

MOTHERS, Do You Know that Paregoric, Bateman's Drops, Godfrey's Cordial, many so-called Soothing Syrups, and most remedies for children are composed of opium or morphine?

Do You Know that opium and morphine are stupefying narcotic poisons?

Do You Know that in most countries druggists are not permitted to sell narcotics without labeling them poisons?

Do You Know that you should not permit any medicine to be given your child unless you or your physician know of what it is composed?

Do You Know that Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation, and that a list of its ingredients is published with every bottle?

Do You Know that Castoria is the prescription of the famous Dr. Samuel Pitcher. That it has been in use for nearly thirty years, and that more Castoria is now sold than of all other remedies for children combined?

Do You Know that the Patent Office Department of the United States, and of other countries, have issued exclusive right to Dr. Pitcher and his assigns to use the word "Castoria" and its formula, and that to imitate them is a state prison offense?

Do You Know that one of the reasons for granting this government protection was because Castoria had been proven to be absolutely harmless?

Do You Know that 35 average doses of Castoria are furnished for 35 cents, or one cent a dose?

Do You Know that when possessed of this perfect preparation, your children may be kept well, and that you may have unbroken rest?

Well, these things are worth knowing. They are facts.

The fac-simile signature of Chas. H. Fletcher is on every wrapper.

Saved by a Drink.

A child of six years had developed a bad habit of rising in the night to drink from the water bottle, and had been forbidden in vain. On the night of a recent storm his parents being away, his aunt tucked him safely in bed.

"Now, Dickey," she said, "remember I can tell if you go to the water bottle." "Oh no, auntie," he smiled slyly, "how can you?"

"I can tell," she said with conviction.

"But how?" said Dick, skeptically.

"I can," she repeated; "and since you won't promise, you naughty boy, I shall empty the bottle." And she did, to the young reprobate's consternation.

In the middle of the night the gable of the house was blown down, and crashed like thunder through the ceiling of master Dick's room. As his aunt and the servant rushed in a terrible sight met their gaze. The bed was almost hidden by masses of masonry, two iron feet at the head being driven completely through the floor. With a shriek his aunt fell on her knees. "O, Dickey! poor Dickey!" she cried. "He's been killed."

The words had hardly left her lips when there came a light, faltering step from the bath room and as they turned there stood Dickey, his teeth chattering with cold, a candle in one hand a full water bottle in the other. For a full moment he surveyed the bed with its ton or two of debris, and then shook his head with sorrowful admission.

"Yeth aunty," he declared; "you said you could tell if I did."—Boston Globe.
