Islanders Slash Prices To Major Series Games Here

In keeping with the Christmas spirit there will be a drastic reduction in the price of hockey tickets for next two Islanders games at the Forum, it was announced here last night by Smith MacFarlane, President of the Islanders Hockey Club.

It is possible that these prices may be extended beyond the next two games but that matter rests entirely with the fans. If the team receives enough support at the lower price rate the new prices will be maintained.

The new price structure will see the red seats selling for $1.15 instead of the $1.60 usually charged. The blues will sell for 85 cents instead of $1.10 while the balcony seats which formerly sold for $1.10 will now go on sale at 60 cents. Standing room sells for 50 cents.

The decision to lower the prices was arrived at yesterday afternoon during a meeting of the executive of the Islanders Hockey Club, Boosters Club and Forum officials.

Club officials hope that the new price rates will mean sell out crowds and they urge all seat holders in the City to pick up their tickets or phone the Forum office before six o'clock on the night of a game.

As usual all rural seat holders will have until game time to pick up their tickets. Only when the seat plan has been sold out will the rush tickets be sold at half a dollar.

Arrest Four In Gavilan Case

HAVANA, (AP) — Cuban police Tuesday night arrested four men charged with attempting to extort money from Kid Gavilan, world welterweight boxing champion.

Police said all four were arrested in a passageway of the Radio Centro (Theatre) where Gavilan made his debut Tuesday night as a mambo dancer.

All four claimed they were not guilty. Three of them said they only wished to arrange homage to Gavilan for his fame as a boxer. The fourth said he was a taxicab driver who knew nohing of any extortion plot.

Gavilan's father told police four men came to Gavilan's country home recently and said they needed $3,000 to "get passage out of Cuba for one of our friends."

Prominent Montreal Sports Figure Dies

MONTREAL, (CP) — George Harry Davies, long-time manager of the Kanawaki Golf Club and widely known in sports circles in this area, died at his home Monday. He retired from his position about 10 months ago because of poor health.

Builder Of N. Y. Yankees Baseball Empire Dies

PORT CHESTER, N. Y., (AP)— Edward G. Barrow, 85, who as general manager built the New York Yankees baseball empire, died Tuesday night.

In retirement since 1947, he had entered United Hospital July 7 suffering from a malignancy. He had been in a coma in November, rallied slightly and became worse during the week-end.

A huge figure of a man who once boxed an exhibition with John L. Sullivan and made Babe Ruth back down from a fight, Barrow had watched his body waste away in recent years because of illness.

Yet his mind remained sharp and his baseball enthusiasm keen to the end.

He continued to attend games at Yankee Stadium until last summer when he had to content himself with watching them on television from his Port Chester home.

Barrow served as business manager, general manager and president of the Yankees for 26 years, taking over the presidency upon the death of Col. Jake Ruppert.

During that period the Yankees won 14 American League pennants and 10 world championships.

He changed the late home run king, Babe Ruth, from a pitcher to an outfielder and discovered Hans Wagner, whom to the end he contended was the greatest baseball player who ever lived.

Buchanan dropped into second place and Gravelle tumbled to third.

Ottawa held a three-point, first-place lead in league standing. With 33 points they were three ahead of Quebec and Sherbrooke. Chicoutimi has 29 points and Montreal, Valleyfield and Springfield each has 26 points.

Hayes And Hockey School Have Busy Time; Rules And Plays Fully Covered

Big George Hayes, the National Hockey League linesman from Ingersoll, Ontario, who can deal out instructions as clearly as most college professors, kept the students at the Department of Physical Fitness Hockey School on their toes yesterday with a complete interpretation and discussion of the C.A.H.A. rules.

The yarn-spinning linesman was forced to rush his instructions this year as he must return to Montreal this morning. The time factor, however, did not detract from the thoroughness of the big fellow's instructions as he worked throughout the day until midnight last night.

Hayes received capable assistance from two former Charlottetown hockey players, Johnny Squarebriggs and Hickey Nicholson. Squarebriggs started the ball rolling in the morning with a discussion on the fundamental skills of playing hockey, while Nicholson gave a talk on coaching and training last night.

More than twenty students from the Island and New Brunswick were on hand to drink in the knowledge imparted by the three man staff. The hockey school, which is held here annually, is made available through the efforts of the Physical Fitness Department.

Hayes, who has conducted similar schools throughout the Dominion during the past decade, yesterday rated the school at Charlottetown and the one at Medicine Hat, Alberta as the best that he has presided over. George was out in Medicine Hat earlier this season.

The big, squared shoulder linesman, who would pass for a Hamilton Tiger-Cat football player, can quote the rule book almost as easily as most people can recite the alphabet. His interpretations,

Summerside Airmen Play Halifax Navy Tonight

The Summerside Air Force hockey team will meet the Halifax Navy, last year's Maritime Intermediate champions in an exhibition game at the Charlottetown Forum tonight.

The Air Force Flyers, under the direction of coach Jerry Allard have been holding regular practises at the Forum and will have a smart intermediate squad ready for the Tars.

The Airmen have played one of two exhibition games but in those contests were without the services of their best men. They were minus their first string forward line as well as their regular goaltender.

Allard, who played with the Centralia Flyers in an Ontario Intermediate League last season figures he has contenders for Maritime honors in the Summerside camp. Tonight's game will serve as a testing ground on the Sailors.

Last year the sailors from the Halifax base had a smart club. They whipped the Campbellton Tigers in the finals after first eliminating the Sydney Scots. One of their players was Joe Mahar, former S. D. U. star, but it is not thought that Mahar will be playing tonight.

The game will commence at eight o'clock and after the contest there will be a skate. The admission is 50 cents.

Frontenacs Announce Transfers

QUEBEC, (CP)—Quebec Frontenacs of the Quebec Junior Hockey League Tuesday night announced transfers of some players from the roster of Frontenacs and the newly-acquired Quebec Citadelles to other teams in the QJHL and Junior Ontario Hockey Association circuit.

General Shuffle Of Players Reported In Quebec Junior League

MONTREAL, (CP)— Purchase of Quebec Citadelles by Quebec Frontenacs has brought about a general shuffle of players in the Quebec Junior Hockey League, it was learned Tuesday. Main purpose of the changes is believed to be an all-round strengthening move.

One change, it was understood, will shift goalie Claude Pronovost of Montreal Royals to Kitchener Greenshirts of the Ontario Hockey Association Junior "A" division. Greenshirts were recently bought by Montreal Canadiens of the National Hockey League.

Other changes reliably reported: Royals will bring up their subgoalie, Ed Johnston, from Junior B ranks.

Frontenacs will retain Guy Rousseau, Fernand Turcotte, Jacques Gagne, and goalie Jacques Marcotte, about whom there was a big fuss between Frontenacs and Citadelles as to ownership.

Frontenacs will get from Citadelles Albert Langlis, Bob Chevalier, Leo Amodio, Moe Mantha, Mike Ratchford, Gilles Thibeault, Pat Presley, Ray Cyr, Richard Beauchard, Stan Parker, George Faulkner, George Denomme and Gaston Pelletier.

Del Toppal of Frontenacs will be returned to Montreal NHL Canadiens for further placement.

Royals will get from Citadelles Carl Wandowich, Stan Maxwell Gilles Laperriere and Gilles Matteau. Matteau may possibly go to Trois-Rivieres Reds.

Jonquiere Marquis will get Clermont Doyon from Citadelles. From Frontenacs and Marquis will get Mike Desilets(Roger Landry Claude St. Jean, Claude Chabot and Don Fortin.

Pending resumption of the QJHL-OHA interlocking schedule, as last season, Marquis was expected to play at Royals Tuesday night and with the return game at Jonquiere tonight, as in the QJHL schedule.
