

MR. MACALDUFF, President of the Charlottetown and District Labor Council, presents a shield trophy to Mr. Reginald Gay representing the Electrical Workers Union, Local No. 1432 for the highest percentage of donors in the Fall competition with other Labor Unions.

Red Cross Activities In Province Are Outlined

The report of F. A. S. Jones, chairman for the Blood Donor Clinics, indicated that a record year was enjoyed in that division. Approximately five percent of the population turned up as donors. This compares, Mr. Jones explained, with some four percent in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick.

Junior Red Cross again enjoyed an active year with 632 active branches and 16,216 members. High School branch projects included assistance at blood donor clinics, visits to elderly folk, assembling school and health kits for overseas relief, sewing, apple sales, albums and tape recordings for International broadcasts.

A shipment of school and health kits, toys and afghans, with sewing done by various branches made a shipment of 2,565 articles worth $426.29 which was sent to refugee children in Viet Nam.

This was a part of the many and varied activities of the group, reported by Clarence Mercer of Summerside for K. A. Parker, who is absent from the province on business.

Reported for voluntary services Mrs. H. L. Palmer said it is "amazing and also frightening" to realize the amount of detail that has to go into the planning of the Disaster Services Committee. The campaign committee, she said, is working at top speed.

Hundreds of volunteers are associated with the Nursing, Junior Red Cross, first aid, water safety and blood donor committees and all of them, share in making these services possible and successful.

CRIPPLED CHILDREN
The report for crippled and handicapped children, tabled by Roy MacGillivray, showed that 163 children were helped during the year. The program comprises orthopaedic clinics, medical and surgical treatment, physiotherapy, provision of appliances, travel and home visits.

108 children reported at the four clinics, held in Charlottetown and Summerside during the year. 34 children were hospitalized and 17 of them sent to various children's hospitals in Montreal, Toronto, Boston and Halifax for special treatment.

In the physiotherapy clinic 42 children were fitted with glasses, 2 with braces, 2 with artificial legs, 4 with wheelchairs, 3 with walkers, 10 with crutches, 11 with shoes with special adjustments and one with a hearing aid. Transportation was provided for 17 children and escorts who were sent out of the province for specialized treatment.

6,500 articles 500 of them pillow cases and sheets—were prepared for shipment for Hungarian relief by the women's work committee, it was indicated in the report tabled by Mrs. E. E. Clawson. Of the 6,500 articles, 6,114 were shipped overseas. They went to Austria, the League of Red Cross Societies, France, Switzerland and Turkey. 15,000 wipes and swabs were made for the use of the blood transfusion service.

Reporting for Nursing Services Mrs. Lois MacDonald noted that nine home nursing courses were given during the year with an enrolment of 108 women. To promote home nursing instruction in rural areas a two-day home nursing course was offered in late September to nurses who would be willing to instruct a class in a community. Congratulations were extended to Miss Helen MacArthur who received the Florence Nightingale medal during the year, the highest international nursing award. It is awarded for outstanding contributions towards the development and prestige of the nursing profession.

Loans of sickroom equipment during the year included 1,510 articles with a total value of $25,714. They included a wide variety of articles useful in a sick room from hospital beds—there were 129 of them—to canes and bed trays.

DISASTER SERVICES
The story of the disaster services was for the most part one of assistance to people who were fire victims during the year. Assistance was given to 28 families involving 118 persons with a total expenditure of $639.

Reporting for the committee Robert Younker for chairman Gordon MacDonald said that this did not represent nearly all of the help because many gifts of used clothing and bedding were received and turned over to fire victims.

Special mention was made of the addition of the Kensington unit during the year and appreciation voiced for their helpful co-operation.

The report of the water safety division was a long and comprehensive one indicating the great deal of work done throughout the entire province during the past season.

It showed total enrolment of more than 5,000 in swimming and water safety classes with 2,620 pupils tested, 1,487 passed. There were 683 beginners, 367 juniors, 188 intermediates and 80 seniors.

The report was tabled by Rev. M. D. Dunbar.

Mrs. Benjamin Rogers reported for the Red Cross Corps. It told of work done in filling blood donor cards, a job which has been expanded in proportion to the clinics, and asked for volunteers from any interested women to help in this worthwhile work.

Some of the other work done included providing coffee at fires, staffing donor clinics at Charlottetown and furnishing workers for disaster services committees.

A very active year was reported for First Aid Services by Dr. Ross Stewart, the committee chairman, who paid tribute to the great amount of work done by the director, Mrs. Evelyn Cudmore, during the year. Some forty classes were held during the year.

Reference was made to the accident prevention drive which has taken on new impetus with the addition of the farm and home safety program.

The forty-two first aid posts throughout the province continued to render valuable assistance during the year, the report indicated. Three new posts were established in areas relatively far from medical aid.

—until his superiors checked his record. They decided he was unfit to administer federal law.

That was in October, 1956. Since then Egan has not held a job. Employers don't like to hire workers who have been in mental institutions even though their records may be clear.

AWARDED BACK PAY
Egan didn't quit fighting. His lawyer took the case to court, and after an involved legal process, the claims court ruled that Egan was due a captain's back pay for the five years he had been declared insane.

The court also termed Egan's mistaken identity an "astounding piece of misinformation and carelessness" on the government's part.

Egan is calm about it all. "I'm not bitter against any individual in the government, except a couple of people," he says. "All the others are victims of circumstances like myself."

How has he stood his 15-year ordeal?
"I think it's just basic constitution. The fact that I went through it and didn't break down shows there's possibly more fibre there than in the average person."

How has his wife taken it?
"She demonstrated a tremendous sense of loyalty. She says: 'I know what you are. I don't care what they think.'"

ARMY RESCUES GIRLS
WASHINGTON (AP)—An army helicopter Sunday evacuated 18 Girl Scouts from a snowbound camp along the Potomac River in Virginia. The scouts viewed the affair as a lark. The girls had gone to camp Friday and had taken only enough food to last through Sunday.

CHINESE PM RESIGNS
TAIPEI, Formosa (Reuters)—Chinese Nationalist Prime Minister O. K. Yui, who was impeached in December, resigned Saturday after 3½ years in office. President Chiang Kai-shek formerly reprimanded Yui Friday after the control Yuan, the highest supervisory body on the island, had voted to impeach him.

TOKYO FEELS QUAKE
TOKYO (AP)—An earthquake of slight intensity hit Tokyo Sunday. No damage was reported.

Angry Young Man Is Angry At Being Named

By WILLIAM GLOVER
NEW YORK (AP) — Appearances are deceiving with John Osborne, Broadway's new dramatic sensation.

External calm conceals an inner volcano.

And, conversation with the artist discloses, sudden success is not taming the rebel mood.

"Boring, tedious and meaningless," is Osborne's retort to those who label him England's "angry young man."

The words are something of an Osborne slogan in other directions too. He rarely says the expected.

TWO HIT SHOWS
Osborne, who is 27, has provided two sizzling hits this season on Broadway.

He has just followed up Look Back in Anger, a drama that has been packing them in since October, with The Entertainer, a frank portrayal of some seedy souls that has enticed Sir Laurence Olivier back to Broadway for one of his rare appearances.

The Entertainer set box office records during a two-week stop in Boston and arrived this week at the Royale amid a record ticket scramble. Olivier has promised to stay only eight weeks, but sponsors are hoping that Sir Laurence's noted caution about long engagements will be overwhelmed by the public demand.

The twin success has had certain effects on Osborne, a man with long curly sideburns, calm blue eyes and a liking for rugged sports jackets.

"The whole pace of my life has changed enormously since I came here," he concedes. "But some-

SAT IN MODEL PARLIAMENT

Partisan considerations were not allowed to mar the harmony prevailing at the meeting of members of the Canadian Parliament which took place during the McGill University Model Parliament held prior to the dissolution of the Parliament of Canada.

Mr. Richardson and Mr. Macquarrie were university professors before entering the political field and both served on the faculty of McGill University. Mr. Richardson was widely mooted as the successor to Commons Speaker Beaudoin had the Liberal party been returned to power in last June's election. Mr. Macquarrie is third vice president of the Progressive Conservative Party of Canada and went to the McGill sessions at the request of national party headquarters.

Mr. Richardson was Speaker of the Model Parliament while Mr. Macquarrie sat on the Conservative benches with the McGill students and spoke on the bill which was put forward by the government party in the university parliament.

McGill University is situated in Mr. Richardson's riding and he is shown above welcoming Mr. Macquarrie. ## Radio Stations Pay Higher Fees

OTTAWA (CP) — The copyright appeal board has approved higher fees for 1958 for privately owned radio stations using the works of the Composers, Authors and Publishers Association of Canada.

It was learned Monday the board approved CAPAC's application to boost the fee to two per cent of a station's gross revenues. At hearings here last month, the Canadian Association of Radio and Television Broadcasters, which represents most privately owned stations, opposed a change from the 1½ per cent charged during 1957.

CAPAC sought a similar fee for private stations broadcasting its work on television but at the hearings the associations reached agreement with the board's approval on a blanket fee of $165,000 for CARTB members who last year paid $141,000 under a similar arrangement.

CBC Postpones Decision To Control Broadcast Quizzes

OTTAWA (CP) — The CBC board of governors has postponed a decision on whether to regulate broadcast contests, quizzes and give-aways.

It announced Monday the deferment to study representations submitted last Friday by the Canadian Association of Radio and Television Broadcasters and individual program producers.

The CARTB recommended that the CBC test public opinion on what it described as a "discriminatory" regulation.

The CBC proposed a prohibition on such programs except where participants are in the studio at broadcast time. If entries were accepted by mail, the winners and size of the awards would be judged on merit.

The regulation would, in effect, embody "minimum standards" proposed by the CBC board last autumn initially with support from CARTB which later withdrew its backing.

NEW TV STATION
The board also recommended to the government Monday the licensing of a new television station in New Carlisle, Que., on Gaspe Peninsula's south shore, to broadcast 65 per cent of the time in French and the rest in English. The station, on channel 5 with

Churchill Dines In Italian Town

VENTIMIGLIA, Italy (Reuters) — Sir Winston Churchill made a brief trip across the French-Italian border Monday to lunch at a restaurant in this Italian Riviera town.

The 83-year-old statesman was presented with a huge bouquet of poppies by the restaurant owner as he stepped out of his car.

Churchill, vacationing on the French Riviera, was accompanied by his daughter Sarah and Aristotle Onassis, millionaire Greek shipowner.

Representatives Of Blood Committees Hold Meeting

More than fifty representatives of the seventeen Red Cross Blood Donor Clinics throughout the Province met at the Red Cross Headquarters on Prince Street on Monday afternoon for the first general meeting of the clinic representatives ever held.

Mr. R. C. Baetz, assistant National Commissioner of Blood Donor Clinics in speaking to the group stated that the blood donor clinics were now in operation in all provinces except Newfoundland and that he hoped that one would be in operation there in the near future. He also stated that it was their responsibility of seeing that enough blood was collected on the Island and that he held the utmost confidence in the Islanders.

Mr. Baetz also said that the recent development of the heart and lung machine would not be worth ten cents if it was not for the blood donors.

The chairman Mr. F. A. S. Jones in giving the annual report stated that in the face of reports which show an increase of less than one percent in the national total, Prince Edward Island supported the Red Cross by increasing the number of donations by 12 percent, and providing the greatest supply of blood since the inauguration of the Clinics ten years ago. Mr. Jones stated that the total number of blood donations received in 1957 was the magnificent sum of 4,947.

Mr. Jones said that the satisfactory result of the 1957 Clinic also means that our obligation to obtain the 3,162 bottles of blood that were needed in Prince Edward Island during the year was met and will provide for the immediate future until further clinics can be held.

In his report Mr. Jones said that many terrific increases were obtained where no Clinics had been held since 1953. Tyne Valley, under Mrs. Horace Lindsay, jumped from 30 in 1953 to 112. Tignish Canadian Legion under Mr. Arthur DesRoches heading the drive, turned a figure of 39 in 1953 to a wonderful 176. Eldon Legion, under Mr. Lester MacRae, had 156 against 57 in 1953. Alberton Canadian Legion under Mr. G. G. Bennett, more than doubled its 1953 total of 71.

In Charlottetown and Summerside results have been excellent. The Spring Clinic in Charlottetown was below its objective but still the largest ever held. The fall Clinic, under Premier Archer, exceeded its objective by ten percent. Summerside Canadian Legion, under Walter Duggan, turned in almost 500 donors in one Clinic, against 262 in two clinics in 1953.

Three trophies were presented for different competitions among blood donors. These trophies were won by Saint Dunstons University, Electrical Workers Union, Local No. 1432 and Cardigan.

Returns From Conferences

Dr. L. W. Shaw, Deputy Minister and Director of Education, returned Friday night from attending conferences in Toronto and Ottawa during the past two weeks.

At Toronto, Dr. Shaw attended meetings of the National Advisory Council on School Broadcasting at which all provinces were represented.

The first conference at Ottawa, a meeting of the Advisory Council on Vocational Education, was scheduled for two days sittings, after which the initial meeting of the Canadian National Commission of UNESCO was held, also sitting for two days.

Dr. Shaw will represent the Canadian Educational Association on both the National Commission itself and on the Executive.

The first meeting was addressed by the Right Honourable John Diefenbaker, Honourable Sidney Smith, External Affairs Minister; Mr. Brooke Claxton, Chairman of Canada Council, and Dr. A. W. Trueman, Director of the Canada Council.
