Dixon vs. Gorman. Action on promissory note. The hearing of an application for new trial in this case began yesterday afternoon and is not yet concluded.

Peters, J. C., and C. Macdonald for the plaintiff; D. C. McLeod and J. J.
Johnson for the defendant.

Mr. J. A. Matheson, attorney, was yesterday admitted a barrister of the court.

William H. Manson, appellant, and John Douglas, respondent. Appeal from a judgment of the County Court of Queen's County wherein Judge Alley nonsuited the plaintiff. This case was heard yesterday afternoon and judgment reserved until today when the appeal was dismissed with costs and the judgment of the County Court sustained. The court unanimously decided that what is commonly known as a lien note was not a negotiable promissory note, but more in the nature of an agreement, and therefore as the plaintiff found his action as an indorsee of one of those lien notes, the non-suit was right.

Morsion, C. C., and McQuarrie, for the appellant; Stewart, J. C., for the respondent.

significant, as it seemed to imply that the Government's mind was made upon the point at issue. Then the attitude of the Government in an unpromising one.

SUICIDE OF GEORGE MCCULLY.

A dispatch from Moncton to the St.
John Sun gives particulars of the suicide of George McCully, to which reference was made in The Examiner yesterday.
The dispatch says: "A deliberate case of suicide occurred here about 9.30 o'clock on Monday forenoon. George McCully, a man about 65 years of age, walked down to Winter's wharf, which is located farthest up the river from the town, in a somewhat isolated place, and taking off his coat, climbed down on the timbers, and gently let himself into the water. He sank once, then floated up on the surface of the water, face downward. A boy named Woodworth was fishing off the wharf at the time, and when he noticed that the man had got into the water he ran to the electric light station, two or three hundred yards distant, and gave the alarm. No boat could be easily got; finally Captain Wright, who was going down river, was hauled and the body was picked up, having floated about 100 yards down stream.
He was taken to the hospital, but died 12 or 15 minutes. Life was quite quiet, but Dr. Ross and Myers worked for some time with, hoping to restore respiration.
Deceased was a native of Ireland and was a well known figure and was well liked about the hotels of Charlottetown and Moncton. He was good natured, courteous and a man of more than ordinary intelligence for the position that he occupied. He came to Moncton last summer from Charlottetown and worked in the Royal hotel, but did not keep his position, and was not able to get other employment.
He was a very despondent all winter and appeared to feel his position keenly, and regretted leaving the island. He wrote to friends in Charlottetown on Friday for him to look back, but did not appear to have waited for the answer. Deceased was a native of Ireland and unmarried.

An inquest was held in view of the body, and a verdict was rendered to the effect that "the deceased, George McCully, came to his death by premeditated and voluntary drowning in the Petitcodiac river."

JAPAN GIVES IN.
The Journal De St. Petersburg says that Japan, in conformity with the advice of its cabinet, France and Germany, renounces the claim to Fong-Tien.

The Japanese minister at Paris has informed the minister of foreign affairs, M.
Hanotaux, that, referring to the friendly relations of France, Russia and Germany, Japan has renounced its claim to the permanent possession of the Liao Toung peninsula, including Port Arthur.

A dispatch to the London Times from Paris says that Japan has surpassed the hopes of the friends of peace and even the conditions arranged by Russia, France and Germany. Like every power which knows its own mind, Japan is prompt in her solutions, and does not seem to desire to prolong the controversy by the adoption of tail measures.

A dispatch from St. Petersburg states that the Journal De St. Petersburg discusses at length in a semi-official article the reasons for the joint protest of the three powers in Tokio. Part of the article is: "It is not the intention of the three powers to deprive Japan of the fruits of her victories. There is no doubt, however, that Japan's progress in civilization will be retarded in any way by the adoption of a policy which rests the concert of the civilized nations.

"Every State, while not sacrificing its legitimate interests, has to submit to them in a fair measure to the general interests in which lies the guarantee of universal peace. Of this fact Russia has given the memorable proofs which procured for her the sovereignty of the globe and the Prize of Peace. She is firmly resolved to continue this course.

"She regards herself as all the more justified in requiring others to submit to her, inasmuch as she herself first set the example, Germany and France agree with Russia, and fully share her views in this respect. Russia does not aim to prejudice in any way the interests of Japan, with whom she wishes to cultivate friendly and neighborly relations.

"As soon as the first joy of victory shall subside she believes that Japan, whose energies displayed so much wisdom and moderation in his last proclamation, will not hesitate to admit that the powers who diverted her in time from the path in which she risked her strength and her future prospects, rendered her an especially friendly and valuable service."
