Child and Maternal Health

National Health Week is the time to review what health standards have been and to plan for improvement. To mention one phase only, in 1926, Canada's infant mortality rate was 102 per 1,000 live births. In 1953 it was a little over 35 per 1,000 live births. Medical research and preventive medicine share the credit for this remarkable drop. However, since Canada ranks 13th among nations who have published mortality figures for 1953, it is obvious that much more still needs to be done. Although in that year Prince Edward Island, with an infant death rate of 28.1, ranked 2nd among the provinces it is still far behind the standard set by Sweden with a rate of 19 or New Zealand with a rate of 20 per 1,000 live births. Besides giving the actual number of deaths, mortality statistics also indicate the general health status of those who live. As the death rate decreases the health of all those surviving more nearly approaches the optimum. To improve on existing conditions Prince Edward Island began a new Division of Child and Maternal Health in the Department of Health and Welfare. Already hospital equipment for giving infants and children better care has been bought. Personnel responsible for the care of these patients are given the opportunity to increase their knowledge through post graduate studies. It has been shown that the health of the mother during pregnancy has a bearing, not only on the mother's health, after her baby is born, but also on the length and quality of labour and on the health of the infant particularly during the first year of life. Knowledge regarding how the expectant mother can improve her health has been accumulating in recent years. In Charlottetown this information is brought to young women through Maternal Health classes held at the Health Centre once a week and throughout the Province by the Public Health Nurses. It is hoped that every expectant mother, who possibly can, will take advantage of this opportunity for further knowledge. This is National Health Week.

Great-West Life Total Business In Force Passes $2.5 Billion

H. W. MANNING Vice-President and Managing Director of the Great-West Life Assurance Company, reported a year of continued progress and growth to the Company's Annual Meeting held at the Head Office, Winnipeg, February 1.

Total business in force of the Great-West Life Assurance Company reached $2,685,000,000 at the end of 1954—double the figure of six years ago. The company issued a record-breaking $383,000,000 of new business during the year, marking the fourteenth successive time in which new business exceeded the previous year's figure. Assets administered on behalf of 710,000 policyholders, passed the half-billion dollar mark and were $13,000,000 at year-end. The Company's annual meeting, presided over by Joseph Harris, President, was held February 1 at Winnipeg.

According to a summary of 1954 operations the company paid out more than $44,000,000—the largest sum ever recorded in one year—to policyholders and their beneficiaries. In addition, a further sum of $31,000,000 was added to policyholders' reserves. Accident and Health coverage reached its highest level for a single year with premium income of $14,700,000, almost $3,000,000 more than 1953.

In his address to the meeting, H. W. Manning, Vice-President and Managing Director, referred to the marked expansion in the field of voluntary health insurance and pointed out that the competitive system and the free enterprise way have worked well. For example he said, an estimated 110 million people in Canada and the United States now have hospital expense coverage. Mr. Manning predicted that 1955 would be another good year for the life insurance industry. The price level was remaining relatively steady and other economic factors pointed to a growing capacity to buy.

"Moreover, when life insurance is related to income, it is readily apparent that there are many people today who are not adequately insured," he said. "The general outlook is one of confidence and a firm belief in the long term prospects for the future development of our two countries." Despite a decline in the general interest rate, the company increased its net rate of interest to 3.35%. The comparable figure in 1953 was 2.76%. Net income from investments during the year was $18,000,000. Total income from all sources reached the record figure of $95,000,000 with premium income topping $77,000,000—an increase of almost $8,000,000 over the 1953 figure. As a result of the year's operations and earnings the company was able to increase its contingency reserve and surplus by $2,797,000. Together with capital, they now total $27,900,000.

During the year more than $60,000,000 were invested in mortgages. Mortgages and sales agreements now total $177,000,000 or 34.6% of the total assets. In addition, more than $5,800,000 were invested in income-producing real estate.

Mr. Manning reported that the death rate among the company's policyholders was slightly higher than in 1953 but it had remained below the average of the past five years. Dealing with the company's group operations, he said new group business of $163,000,000 showed a substantial gain on 1953 and group business in force had reached $675,000,000—one-third of the company's total business in force.

Street name signs were placed on all streets. Revenue for the past year exceeded expenditures by $500. It was announced that the Government had given assurance of its assistance in building sidewalks during the coming year to the extent of assuming one half the cost. An aerial survey to determine the possibilities for village and sewage in the Village will be made this summer.

Two successful cake sales and a bingo had augmented the finances of the Cubs and Scouts. The members had been responsible for holding parties in their homes and over one hundred dollars had been raised in this way.

The Sewing Committee had supplied the Cubs and Scouts with neckerchiefs and a beautiful hand made troop flag.

The Sick Committee purchased gifts and cards for three Scouts and Cubes during the year. The Telephone Committee was extremely efficient and conscientious. Members of the Auxiliary had attended Cub and Scout meetings and had assisted the Scoutmaster and Cubmaster in conducting the boys' tests.

Parkdale Seeks To Pull Out Of School Unit No. 1

Mr. Henry Douglas reporting for the street committee, said that Gower Street, part of Allen and part of Kensington Road had been paved during the year by the Department of Public Works. He stated that the Government had given assurance of the continuance of a paving program, this coming year.

The Department had answered 11 calls, nine of which were outside the village.

The finance report submitted by Mr. Maurice McAleer, showed that revenue for the year was $4,300, while expenditures amounted to $4,897. The budget for the coming year is for $4,200.

Two new commissioners elected for the next three years were Messrs. Alex MacLean and Roland Hill. They replace the retiring commissioners Messrs. McAleer and Cook.

Heroic Mother Saves 4 Children

GRAND FALLS, Nfld. (CP)—A heroic mother braved leaping flames Tuesday to save four of her children but a fifth died as the family home was levelled in the early morning blaze.

Three-week-old Kathleen Bishop was dead from suffocation when Lar McCarthy, a neighbor, reached her through a cut in the side of the bungalow. Mrs. Arthur Bishop had come outside the building to collect firewood and when she returned found the kitchen ablaze.

She carried two children outside, then returned to carry out two others. But she burned her hands and was unable to reach Kathleen. Clothing drying behind the stove was believed to have become ignited and caused the fire.

Mr. Bishop was at work at the time.

Oil-Fed Fire Takes 12 Lives

AMSTERDAM, N. Y. (AP)—An oil-fed fire early Tuesday killed 11 children and a father and destroyed the tenement where they lived.

The children, members of six families, ranged between three months and 14 years old. Five other persons were injured, none seriously, including parents of the dead children.

Five occupants of the two-story brick building escaped without injury into the stormy night and 14 died in the bungalow. The fire broke out in the kitchen of a tenement building and spread rapidly through the wooden interior and set off an oil drum in the cellar.

Among the dead were Juan Rivera, a 40-year-old glove liner, and his five children. The mother, Maria Rivera, 36, is a patient in hospital, where she was admitted Monday for treatment of stomach ulcers.

St. Lawrence Icebreaker Sinks After Collision

QUEBEC (CP)—The icebreaker Lady Grey, faithful servant of the St. Lawrence river for 49 years, went to the bottom Tuesday, sunk by a ferry she was trying to rescue from grinding floes.

There was no loss of life or serious injury when the 824-ton vessel and the ferry Cite de Levis collided in heavy frost-fog at dawn of one of the coldest mornings of the year.

The Lady Grey—once the proudest of St. Lawrence ships—went down quickly in 20 feet of water while her 35 crew members scrambled along rope ladders to the safety of the larger ferry.

SLIGHT DAMAGE The 1,251-ton ferry suffered negligible damage and sailed out of the ice field in the channel that had been opened by the Lady Grey on her last rescue mission. The ferry carried 11 passengers and a crew of 11 when the accident occurred.

Paul Cote of Quebec, a Lady Grey crew member, said he was asleep when the crash came and his cabin "just seemed to veer in."

"I rushed out to see the port side of our ship completely crushed," said Cote. "Everyone yelled 'we're sinking' and before I knew what was happening we were climbing into the ferry by ladders which were lowered to us."

Capt. Henri Pouliot of the Cite de Levis said he was making a regular early morning Quebec-Levis run when his vessel became trapped in ice and drifted five miles below Quebec.

Intense frost—the temperature was about 20 degrees below zero—caused clouds of thick fog to rise from open parts of the broad river.

China Has Week To Decide Whether To Join Talks

By FRANCIS W. CARPENTER UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) Security Council delegates agreed unofficially Tuesday to give Red China a week to decide whether to take part in crucial debates here on a cease-fire in Formosa Strait.

Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld Monday night sent to Peiping an invitation from the council to the Communist Chinese Premier Chou En-lai. The council set no deadline for a reply. But one delegate said the council will have to decide what to do if no response is received early next week. This delegate said Red China likely will study the transcript of the council meeting, weigh the conditions and consequences of accepting the bid, and then advise the council.

Hammarskjöld conferred with Chou last month in an attempt to obtain the release of 11 American Marines and other UN personnel held in Red Chinese jails. URGES CAUTION In endorsing a New Zealand proposal to invite Red China to come here for the talks, Henri Hoppenot of France urged fellow delegates to be cautious. He urged the council to take only one step at a time. He reminded the delegates that the council has had experience in arranging cease-fires in Palestine and Kashmir. Hoppenot recalled that Ham-marckjöld had talked with Chou and indicated that this personal contact might prove helpful in regard to the invitation. No one here would say whether Hammarskjöld coupled with his message of invitation a recommendation that Chou accept.

The consensus appeared to be that Chou would send a representative to the invitation. No one here said what Chou had to gain by such action. If the Reds ignore the invitation, it was said, the council then will have to go ahead and approve a resolution for a cease-fire without their participation in the debate. But it would be difficult to work out a cease-fire without the help of both parties.
