LADIES' HOME JOURNAL.

The Ladies' Home Journal for July—an artistically attractive and interesting issue—opens with a sumptuously illustrated article on Joan of Arc and her home, by Emma Asbrand Hopkins, who entertainingly writes of the childhood and religious life of the Maid. Apropos of the approaching centenary of Burns, Arthur Warren presents "The Other Side of Robert Burns," revealing the better side of the poet. Hezekiah Butterworth tells, in his engaging way, a Brook Farm story, "The Wife of Ben Bow," and Alice Wellington Rollins humorously romances of "A Town Bicycle." A trio of poems of the field, framed in a drawing by W. Hamilton Gibson, and a musical composition—"The Lyndon Polka"—by Mrs. Frances J. Moore, are page features. Edward W. Bok writes editorially of the girl between sikteenand'twenty, and enters a plea for peopl who go to the country in the summer time to live as near to Nature as possible. Ex-President Harrison discusses the Department of State, bringing into review, also, our diplomatic and consular service, and the Great Seal of the United States. In "Feeding a City Like New York" John Gilmer Speed makes some astonishing statements, presen s surpr sing figures, and asserts that New Yorkers could live comfortably for four months in case of a seige cutting off all their food supplies. Dr. Parkhurst speaks forcibly to young men in his paper, "A Young Man's Religious Life," and Mrs. A. D. T. Whitney, with equal vigor and directness, writes to girls concerning beauty. William Martin Johnson's "Souvenirs of Summer Days" is an artistic, practical article—timely also, being directed to those who will enjoy part of the summer amid new scenes. "People Who Live in the Moon," "A $3,500 House," articles on seasonable dresses, upon millinery, needlework and various topics of general and household interest, and the usual departments are also included in the July Journal—which is unusually complete. No feature of it will appeal to lovers of the beautiful more strongly than the cover—by Maxwell Parrish—printed in rich tones of brown and green, on buff paper. By the Curtis Publishing Company, Philadelphia; one dollar per year, ten cents per copy.

Could not get Insured.

Rejected by Straight Line and Mutual Companies.

But now insured in both.

"Should I die while I am in a position to pay my insurance premiums, my family will owe their support to Scott's Sarsaparilla. Two years ago I applied to two companies for insurance, $1000 in each. My face was a mass of pimply blotches and my urine did not stand the test. One doctor in examining me said I could not pass, but that my trouble was curable. He advised an alterative medicine, and I commenced taking Scott's Sarsaparilla. Both companies rejected me, but four months later, after I had taken five bottles of your remedy I am thankful to say both accepted me as a risk—one being a stock company, the other a mutual. The examiner who previously examined me, remarked "I never saw such a change in any man." This is indorsed by Mr. J. Todd, the popular druggist, corner Queen and Crawford Streets, Toronto.

Scott's Sarsaparilla builds up debilitated constitutions, imparts strength, vigor and vitality, clears and purifies the blood. It cures skin diseases, rheumatism, gout, indigestion and all complaints arising from poor or poisoned blood. Of all druggists, $1 per bottle.

A GIRL'S FAMILIAR FRIEND.

In all the World There's Nothing so Fine as the Friendship of Women.

Ruth Ashmore, in summarizing her paper on "A Girl's Familiar Friend"—girl friends—in July Ladies' Home Journal, offers this wise counsel: "Have a friend, but guard your friendship and your friend as you would a crystal vase." Once the crystal vase is broken, all the careful mending in the world can never make it as it was, and once there has come in your friendship the words that jarred, the actions that were unkind, and the looks that seem to cut like a knife, the friendship, like the beautiful vase, can never be as it was. And what is a girl without a girl friend? She stands alone. Men think that she must differ from other women, and that there must be something about her less sweet and less feminine than that which pervades her sisters. I am a believer in the girl friend. Any girl can, with very little trouble, gain the admiration of a man, but it takes something finer, something better and more charming to attract a woman, and make and keep her a friend. In all the history of the world there is nothing so fine as the friendship of women; whether it be given to men, or whether it be given to women, it stands out magnificent, unselfish, sympathetic and Christlike—when it is the right kind of friendship. You will remember that to Him who was without season, the joy, the beauty and the sympathy of friendship was known, and that it was a woman who was a friend, who stood by Mary watching, until the tragedy of the cross had ended, and waiting until the glory of the resurrection had begun."

WHAT TRUE FRIENDSHIP MEANS.

Between friends there must be close sympathy, and one must be able to give to the other what she lacks, but even between those friends who are nearest and dearest it is not necessary to lay bare one's heart. Such confidence is too apt to be greeted with a curious satisfaction, and even from a friend this gratification makes one feel as if one's bruises had been touched with vitriol. A real friend asks no questions. She takes the best that comes, the best that is in you, the best that you care to offer her, and demands nothing more. She has long ago learned, being wise, that to all of us there comes a time when nothing should be said; it is true there is a time when something should be said, but there is never a time when everything should be said. There is very often a silence between two women friends that means rest, and she is unwise who breaks that silence. —Ruth Ashmore in July Ladies' Home Journal.

For Dyspepsia and Bad Blood Humors Manley's Celery-Nerve Compound is unexcelled.

Mr. Geo. Reid, G.T.R. Operator, New Hamburg, Ont., under date of March 3rd, 1896, writes as follows: "I was troubled for two years with Boils and Dyspepsia of the worst kind. Tried several medicines, but none gave much relief. Until I tried Manley's Celery-Nerve Compound my blood was in a dreadful state, but I am happy to say your medicine cured me."

NEWS NOTES.

Stanley Defoe, 14 years of age, shot and killed himself at Plattsburg, N. Y., on Monday. He was playing with a pistol which was supposed to be empty when it was discharged, the bullet passing through his brain, killing him instantly.

The Pope at a secret consistory held on Monday created four cardinals and twelve Italian bishops. The prelates elevated to the cardinalate were Mgrs. Ferrata, Cretoni, Jacobini and Agliardi, respectively Papal Nuncios at Paris, Madrid, Lisbon and Vienna.

The Miners' Bank at Crede, Cal., was robbed at noon on Monday of $1,000 by an unknown man, who slipped in by a private entrance, and after covering the cashier with a revolver, seized all the money in the drawer. Then backing out he slipped through an alley and escaped.

Roumanian bicyclers must have their names and addresses not only on a plate fastened to their machines, but also on the glass of their lamps, so that they may be read at night. Cyclists on the streets of Bucharest must ride in single file.

A curious effect of the China-Japanese war has been the increase in the number of letters that daily reach the Mikado. The Emperor is now overwhelmed with his correspondence, and several new secretaries have been appointed to assist in the work of opening and replying to these communications.

A touching account is given by the friends of Sir John Millais of the distinguished painter's state. He cannot speak, and can only communicate with those around him by writing. But, in spite of all that he is suffering, he keeps his good spirits wonderfully, never loses his patience and is at all times full of thought for those around him.

At a special meeting of prominent Roman Catholics, held in St. Michael's palace, at Toronto, on Sunday to discuss the question of being represented at the Irish National convention to be held in Dublin next September, Archbishop Walsh announced that he would act as delegate.

Do one thing well; "be a whole man," as Chancellor Thurlow said, "to one thing at one time." Make clean work, and leave no tags. Allow no delays when you are at a thing: do it and be done with it. Avoid miscellaneous reading. Read nothing that you do not care to remember; and remember nothing that you do not mean to use.

The Imperial Government, with an immense majority at its back, and receiving the additional support of the Irish party, has yielded to a weak and disorganized Opposition, and withdrawn the Education Bill. The Times says Mr. Balfour, the Government Leader, is entirely responsible for a virtual defeat, and very nearly a cabinet crisis.

The international fire brigade tournament was successfully opened in London on Friday afternoon. Canada and the United States are both represented. The Canadian team drove around the arena and were heartily cheered. Mr. Benoit, of Canada, expressed himself as greatly pleased with the reception accorded the visiting delegation. He said he considered the British department steamer and manual work excellent, but did not think their ladder work compared favorably with that of Canada.

TO PREVENT HORSES FEEDING TOO RAPIDLY.

Horses that eat their grain very rapidly get far less good of it than a slower feeder that takes time to masticate more thoroughly. Among the many plans advocated as a preventive to this both harmful and wasteful habit, one of the best is to add a few handfuls of dry shorts to the grain ration. This applies more particularly to road horses, which crushed grain is apt to render too loose when being driven. Some feeders resort to the plan of keeping the bottom of the manger covered with stones two or three inches in diameter, among which the oats are thrown. This plan has the desired effect, but it must be hard on the animals' teeth. For farm horses there is no better way than to feed crushed or whole grain mixed with chopped hay. Mastication will then of necessity be accomplished, which will prevent colic and fit the grain for being thoroughly digested and assimilated.

FATAL COLLAPSE OF A RESTURANT.

San Francisco, June 23.—By the collapse of a three story frame building at the corner of Fifth street and Mint ave. yesterday afternoon three people were killed outright, eleven others more or less seriously injured. At least two more victims are known to be in the ruins. The building was occupied as a resturant on the lower floor, the second and third stories were utilized as a lodging house. Samuel O. Keefe, owner of the premises, was recently informed that the foundation was defective and on the advice of the architect the ground had been entirely dug away from beneath the building in order that new underpinning might be set in. Owing to the mismanagement of the contractors, the structure was left insufficienly supported and a collapse resulted. The ruins took fire directly after the accident occurred.

The flames were soon subdued. An unknown lady passing at the time of the collapse, was struck by falling timbers, and killed. The mangled remains of an old man, not yet identified, were removed from the top of the wreckage with the body of an unknown man, the occupant of a lodging house. The guests of the resturant, eleven in number, have all been rescued. Two, or possibly more, people are still buried in the debris. The work of rescue is being carried on.

Sour

Stomach, sometimes called waterbrash, and burning pain, distress, nausea, dyspepsia, are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. This it accomplishes because with its wonderful power as a blood purifier, Hood's Sarsaparilla gently tones and strengthens the stomach and digestive organs, invigorates the liver, creates an appetite, gives refreshing sleep, and raises the health tone. In cases of dyspepsia and indigestion it seems to have "a magic touch."

"For over 12 years I suffered from sour with severe pains across my shoulders, and great distress. I had violent nausea which would leave me very weak and faint, difficult to get my breath. These spells came oftener and more severe. I did not receive any lasting benefit from physicians, but found such happy effects from a trial of Hood's Sarsaparilla, that I took several bottles and mean to always keep it in the house. I am now able to do all my own work, which for six years I have been unable to do. My husband and son have also been greatly benefited by Hood's Sarsaparilla—for pains in the back, and after the grip. I gladly recommend this grand blood medicine."
