MARCH 15, 1886

Charlotte Parish.

What appearance Charlottetown presented in the year 1791 the oldest inhabitant fails to tell us; but we know that there were a few houses, some stores, and a hotel or coffee house, kept by Alex. Richardson, which, besides its ordinary use, served as a place for holding public meetings and for religious worship. The first Church, which afterwards stood on Queen Square, was not built until the year 1801. The rectory at this time was the Rev. Theophilus DesBrisay, who, though appointed by King George III, in the year 1774, 16, does not appear to have entered upon his duties until the year 1777. In the year 1781 "an Act appointing vestries" was passed by the Legislature, but confined in its operation to the Parish of Charlotte. This parish comprises Townships Nos. 24, 32, 33, 34 and Charlottetown and Royalty, and includes Rustico, Brackley Point and Covehead on the north, and from Cornwall to Suffolk Road Settlement on the south and the intermediate districts.

The first minutes of this vestry, now forthcoming, are dated May 23rd, 1791, and matters seem to have been conducted generally according to English law and custom. Just before this, in the year 1790, "an Act for quieting the minds of His Majesty's dissenting Protestant subjects in the Island of Saint John (P. E. I.) whereby all dissenters were exempted from the payment of any rates levied for the support of the Established Church of England, in this Island," was passed, but did not receive His Majesty George the Third's allowance until July 31st, 1793.

At this meeting of May 23, 1791, there were present: the Rev. Theoph. DesBrisay, Rector; Thomas Wright, Esq., C. W.; Daniel Grandin, C. W.; Alex. Richardson, Synodman.

As part of the business, it was "ordered that the Vestry Clerk do draft a letter to Capt. Lowden for the inspection of the Vestry on Sunday next, for the relieving the Parish of Robert Blair and daughter."

On the 5th of June the Vestry approved of the letter to Capt. Lowden, of Picou, but he apparently did not send a favorable answer, as Robert Blair and daughter appear on the minutes on several occasions after.

The Vestry also agreed to the Bishop's recommendation of fees to be taken by each clergyman or incumbent to wit:

For solemnizing matrimony.....100
For each funeral when service is read..... 75
For registering Baptisms, each..... 10

On 23d July, 1791, it was "ordered that the clerk do open three registers, one for births, one for marriages, and one for burials in this parish in future, and that the clerk do open one register of each for the whole Island."

At a vestry held 1st August, 1791, the approved list of inhabitants with the rents as agreed on was read. "Mr. Donald McFarlane in person proposed to provide fit and sufficient meat, drink, washing, mending, and lodging for Robt. Blair and John Burns, in consideration that Elizabeth, the daughter of said Robt. Blair, is by the Parish indentured to him as an apprentice, until she attains the age of eighteen years, at the rate of forty pounds per annum, the payment to be in good orders on the respective stores at Charlottetown (so written). The removal of the poor to be at the expense of the Parish."

Mr. Grandin, on motion, submitted to the Vestry "whether proprietors of uncultivated lands of the Townships within this Parish should be rated towards the maintenance of the poor and other necessary relief in and about the same, the same being ratable by the laws of England, the proprietors of said lands never having as yet been rated. Agreed to, nem con." The rate for the maintenance of the poor was amended, "that their names (to wit) the French settlers should be added to the rate and their rents considered." At this meeting there were present: the Rector, Mr. Thomas Wright and Mr. James Curtis, Churchwardens; Mr. Daniel Grandin and Mr. Alex. Rea, Vestrymen; also Mr. McMillan, Capt. James Campbell, Mr. John Webster, Jr., Mr. John McCallum, Mr. Donald McFarlane, Mr. John Webster, Sr., Mr. Higgins, Mr. Peter Gregor, Mr. Auld, Mr. L. Brown, Mr. Burke, Mr. Perry, Mr. D. Shaw, Mr. William Miller.

On the following day Governor Fanning, having recommended "the Parish officers to reconsider the resolve of sending Blair and Burns out of Charlottetown," a Vestry was held. Mr. McFarlane gave up his agreement, and Mr. John Chambers having offered to take Burns and Blair at £40 per annum, "payment to be made in merchantable grain orders on the stores in Charlottetown," it was agreed "that the said Burns and Blair do go to the said John Chambers immediately."

Apprenticed to Mr. Donald McFarlane, Elizabeth Blair until the age of eighteen.

Apprenticed to Mr. Alexander Rea, James Fisher until he is twenty-one years of age.

Adjourned sine die.

At the last meeting, along with others, there were present Mr. Jas. Robinson, Mr. Gardiner, Mr. Chambers, Mr. Douglas, Mr. John Clark.

H. J. C.

A Galveston school teacher had a great deal of trouble making a boy learn his lesson. Finally, however, he succeeded, and drawing a long breath remarked: "If it wasn't for me you would be the biggest donkey on Galveston Island!"

He—What, another new dress! That is a great waste. Great waist, indeed! It's only eighteen. And she wouldn't believe he didn't mean it.

THE NEWS OF THE DAY.

Carefully Collected by "The Examiner's" Reporters.

A Fairburn, Ga., a lady, 70 years old, has never eaten a mouthful of meat of any kind.

Listed to your wife, says a medical advertisement. What terrible remedies they do get nowadays.

Six hundred coal miners in Huntingdon district, Pa., have struck for ten cents per ton advance in wages.

Oddfellows in Chicago are about forming a company for the erection of a temple in that city at a cost of $500,000.

An earthquake at Cosenza, Southern Italy, killed one person and injured several others, besides throwing down many houses.

The Brunswick cotton mill at Worsley, Eng., has been destroyed by fire. Loss, £60,000, and 300 hands thrown out of employment.

In Texas there is a man named Damrich, but the commercial bulletins indicate that he is not so financially sound as his name would indicate.

Harvard College now has $4,922,363 of which $2,993,772 is in real estate, $1,770, 854 in railroad bonds, and $840,987 in notes and mortgages.

Sam Jones says: Live so your children may put their feet in your tracks and be honorable. That is, don't walk all over the road on the way home at nights.

They catch wild geese in Oregon by soaking corn in whiskey and scattering it broadcast in the fields where the birds feed. It is only geese that are ensnared by whiskey.

A Tennessee court has closed a term in which six murderers escaped conviction, by sending a hungry woman to prison for two years for stealing a quart of butter-milk.

The Mormons are still picking up proselytes among the poor whites of the South. Elder Morgan has just taken 30 pretty tough-looking converts from Tennessee and Alabama.

Gallot, the insane anarchist, who attempted to blow up the Paris Bourse, says that he had long intended to do so, but regrets that he failed to mix the explosives properly.

The estimate that all the people living in this world, about 1,400,000,000, could be comfortably seated in a field twenty miles square, suggests fascinating possibilities of big audiences.

In his speech denouncing the hereditary principle, Mr. Labouchere said: "I should no more think of refusing a thistle to a hungry donkey than of refusing a baronetcy to anybody who wanted it."

Near Port Townsend, W. T., two men recently attacked an inoffensive Chinaman. After fearfully maltreating him they tore his queue out by the roots, and left him for dead. The citizens are greatly incensed.

You may hide your thoughts, conceal your mind and disguise your actions, but the smell of a raw onion will rise in its might and inform a sneering world how you have gathered it to your inner man.

An order for a farm in Washington county Indiana, was received by a local real estate agent there from an Ohio man, who wanted also, if possible, "a wife between the ages of 20 and 45 years," to go with the farm.

A Maine man kept an average of 85 fowls for a year. He got 1049 dozen of eggs, of which he sold 929 dozen for $174.01, and $54.08 worth of poultry. He says it cost him 25 cents a day to feed the flock.

The fire losses of February, as estimated by the New York Daily Commercial Bulletin, were $6,400,000 in the United States and Canada. This is about the average February loss for the past eleven or twelve years.

M. Pasteur has at present thirty patients under his care. He has treated up to date 290 dog-bitten patients and, with the exception of one particular case, undertaken too late, all have been preserved from hydrophobia.

A grandfather, coming to read his paper found that he had mislaid his spectacles, and thereupon declared: "I have lost my glasses somewhere, and can't read my paper." A little three-and-a-half year old girl, desiring to assist him, answered: "O'pa'pa, you go outside and look froo ze window, and I'll hold ze paper up so you can read it."

Jumbo has been successfully skinned, and his hide tanned. The skin weighed 1,545 pounds when first taken off. It was scraped and cleaned to an uniform thickness of half an inch, and soaked in arsenic for two months; the bones have been bleached and all the flesh removed, and the skeleton will be set up scientifically, so that Jumbo will start on his new career in good style.

Boston girl (boasting)—"Oh! I should say so. Why, we can trace our ancestry back 250 years, to the time when a Coverly was hanged for witchcraft." Denver girl—"Our family goes back a good many years, too. My great-grandfather was lynched for horse-stealing fifty years ago. Isn't it terrible how they used to persecute people in olden times!"

A lengthy article in a journal specially devoted to the youth of the land, is entitled "Learn to Let Go." In some cases this art is not difficult to learn. It sort of comes to a person by instinct. One of these times is when a man takes hold of the wrong end of a poker with which he has been coaxing a clinker out of the fire. He lets go without waiting for instructions.
