on the surgical exploits of the Cayuga surgeon. When doubt was cast on his authenticity the story was yanked.

No Reference To Other Name

The navy made no reference to its statement to the possibility Demara may previously have used another pseudonym.

When Demara was suspected late last month as the Cayuga's surgeon-lieutenant ,the authentic Dr. Cyr said he believed the fictitious navy doctor was an acquaintance whom Dr. Cyr knew as Dr. Cecil B. Hamann.

Dr. Cyr said the man he remembered would "have nerve enough" to perform operations under difficult circumstances.

nese advanced in waves of fifteen shoulder-to-shoulder. When Bauer's weapon ceased firing he grabbed a Burp gun and continued. Even at close-quarters fighting when the Chinese threatened to over-run his position he remained until ordered to withdraw.

During the assault on the way back Maclean killed one Chinese by wresting the enemy soldier's own rifle from his grip, and killing him with it.

Pte. W. B. Arney of Cobalt, Ont., killed another Chinese the same way.

Pte. R. W. Drier of Perth, N.B., killed 20 by holding his fire until the enemy were within 40 yards range. "We spotted them coming as they tackled the first fence," he said. "They swarmed over the booby-trapped area, and as they were about to cross the second fence we let them have it."

All Hopped Up

Cpl. Jack Sargent of Owen Sound, Ont., who with Lieut. Ed Mastronardi of Toronto "sparked" the platoon through its action, said:

"They just keep on coming. You kill 'em and more just walk over the guys you kill. I think they're all hopped up."

Sargent said opium seeds were found in the pockets of some of the dead next morning.

Two Canadians were wounded defending a gap in the wire that had been blown by enemy shrapnel the preceding afternoon. Ptes. Jean Belanger and Allan Murray, both from Montreal, held the position against all comers throughout the action, though wounded.

Sargent's section accounted for 25 Chinese in the first wave alone.

Pte. W. A. O'Connell of Montreal killed the crew of one Chinese machine-gun with grenades.

Drier, who used to grumble with the rest of them on wire-stringing assignments, summed it up:

"I never believed much in wiring—but I sure do now."

ate and unmistakable reply."

He did not elaborate on what the reply might be, but left no doubt he meant it would be flatly rejected. The U. N. command all along has refused to stop hostilities until an armistice is fully agreed, and has refused to consider at this time the withdrawal of all foreign troops but deferred that question to a higher level later.

Hints At Conference

Red China's Foreign Minister, Chou En-Lai, issued a statement in Peiping earlier hinting strongly that final settlement of the Korean war could be made only by a five-power peace pact among China, Russia, the U. S., Britain and France.

It left the door open for an earlier cease-fire, however, when he said in part:

The Reds promised to bring their "over-all reply" to the Allied proposal to the next meeting at 11 a. m. Wednesday (9 p.m. Tuesday EST).

He called Canada the "vital link in the English-speaking world which joins across the Atlantic Ocean the vast American democracy to the cities of our famous old island."

Princess Elizabeth and Prince Philip drove to the Guild Hall in a state carriage with a prancing troop of household guards in plumes and gleaming breastplates.

The Princess said Canadians had given her and the Duke "a welcome, a generosity and a hospitality which we shall remember all our lives."

She found in Canada--a nation "on its way to being one of the greatest in the world"--a deep and abiding loyalty to the crown.

The Princess said that on her way to Washington for a three-day stay "we passed across what is surely one of the miracles of the world today, that vast 4,000-mile frontier without a single gun pointed in fear on either side."

O'Leary and Vicinity

Mr. Hugh MacPhee of Brae is on the sick list. His many friends wish him a speedy restoration to health.

Mrs. R. F. McAusland and Mrs. A W. Craswell of Bloomfield attended the Women's Missionary Society Executive in Charlottetown on Saturday, Nov. 17th.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Phillips and little son will shortly be leaving O'Leary to reside in Alberton. Mr. Phillips is the agent of the Maritime Electric Co. of Charlottetown and will represent the Company at Alberton and also O'Leary. He is a son of Hon. Forrest Phillips, M.P., and Speaker of the local House. They will be missed in O'Leary where Mr. and Mrs. Phillips have been active in the work of the O'Leary United Church and in community activities. It is also expected that Mr. Phillips' assistant, Mr. George Matheson of O'Leary and his family will be moving to Alberton. They will also be missed in O'Leary as they have been members of the local United Church and have assisted other community organizations.

—On Saturday night, Nov. 17th, the O'Leary Church of the Nazarene was almost completely filled. People were present from Elmsdale, Cascumpec, Mount Pleasant, Summerside, besides O'Leary and other places. The Minister Mr. Owen Underwood prseided. Prayer was offered by Rev. Mr. Morrison of the Summerside Nazarene Church. A number of solos and choruses were sung by Mr. Paul Mullen, a gifted and talented song-evangelist. A trio composed of Rev. W.C. Wilcox of Elmsdale, Mr. Paul Mullen and the special evangelist, Rev. Harvey Amos of Halifax, were heard in a special number. The special message was brought by Evangelist Amos on "The Rich Man and Lazarus" He made a moving appeal for complete dedication to Christ. He has been conducting special revival services at the Elmsdale Nazarene Church. Testimonies were given by a number of the congregation and this inspiring service concluded by the Benediction.

New Cement Plant Opens In Nfld.

CORNER BROOK, Nfld., Nov. 19—(CP)—Premier Joseph Smallwood today officiated at the opening of a new $3,000,000 cement plant near this west coast Newfoundland town, the first of a number of projects fostered by the Island Government.

The plant is part of the government's industrial development program, to support which Mr. Smallwood has called for a people's mandate in a general election Nov. 26.

It will be operated by the North Star Cement Company, in which government ministers, Alfred Valdmanis, Newfoundland economic advisor, and Ernest Leja, construction supervisor, are directors.

The machinery was provided by Miag, a German firm engaged in machine making for cement manufacture in a number of countries, with its headquarters in Brunswick.

New Series Of A-Bomb Tests In Nevada Desert

LAS VEGAS, Nev., Nov. 19—(AP)—A junior size atomic explosion today set off a new series of tests in the development of nuclear warfare.

It was a little more grownup than the baby A-bomb of a month ago but not as awesomely adult as the later mountain-shakers.

Sending up a flaming tower like a great skyrocket, it apparently was detonated at the ground surface. Subsequently an army statement said that preliminary "very effective results are indicated."

Troops participated, also technical experts and 250 military observers representing the armed forces.

The manner in which troops took part wasn't disclosed except that they were "involved in layout of field fortifications, material and equipment for test purposes."

Gen. Burdette M. Fitch, commanding the Desert Rock Camp for troops involved, also said in a statement that "every operation of the nature represents important progress in the application of nuclear science to military science."

The detonation was in the "what-is-it" category because the Atomic Energy Commission declined to disclose "the method of delivery."

Joe McClain, telegraph editor of the Las Vegas Review-Journal, who has seen all the atomic blasts in this area, said that from his vantage point on Mt. Charleston, 50 miles from the Yucca Flat test site, he concluded that this one was set off from a tower or platform set on the ground. One of the earlier blasts this fall was from a steel tower which disintegrated in the test.

There was a flash today, then a ball of fire and a column of reddish flame shooting skyward. Only a small cloud appeared, white at the top, dirty brown at the base, but nothing like the usual great mushrooming atomic cloud that in other tests soared to 30,000 or 40,000 feet.

Forty-five minutes after today's blast the cloud was only a lazy zig-zag trail across the sky.

The flash was seen in Las Vegas, 75 miles from the test site. Residents at Indian Springs, 30 miles from the site, said they just barely saw it. There was no sound or concussion felt at Indian Springs, on Mt. Charleston or in Las Vegas.

Kensington Canadian Legion Hold Banquet

Mr. Frank MacEwen acted as master of ceremonies at the banquet sponsored by the Canadian Legion, Kensington Branch, held in the Masonic Hall on Monday evening, November 12th.

There was a large attendance of returned men and their wives, as well as His Worship Mayor Darrach and Mrs. Darrach, and the resident clergymen of Kensington.

A very delicious supper was served by the ladies of Kelvin Grove W.I.

The program was opened by the chairman with a few words of welcome, and The Vacant Chair was respectfully referred to.

The Grace, by the Rev. L. M. Murray was followed by a toast to the King, and in turn by the two minutes silence, "in remembrance of our fallen comrades."

His Worship Mayor Darrach responded to a request to speak, by first extending a welcome in his capacity of Mayor of Kensington, to all those present from outside the town, and secondly by paying tribute to the well-known culinary talents of the Kelvin Grove ladies. He then went on to recall to his hearers the days of World Wars 1 and 2 remembering the heartache experienced by those dear to the young men who gave their lives far from their homeland; remembering too, those who did return from the horrors of war. In the event of a third world war, he said he looked to the living with faith that they will acquit themselves as nobly as did those for whom we have tears.

A toast to the Canadian Legion B.E.S.L., was responded to by Mr. Lloyd Millar. A toast to His Majesty's Forces was honored, and a toast to the ladies was proposed by Mr. Lloyd Howard and responded to by Mrs. P. J. Kennedy.

Other speakers were Rev. Father Callaghan, Rev. L. M. Murray and Rev. R. W. Coupland.

A vote of thanks to the Kelvin Grove Women's Institute was moved by Major Robert Howard, seconded by Lt. Col. E. W. Johnstone and presented by the chairman, Mrs. Harold Laird responded on behalf of the ladies.

Several interesting films were shown by Mr. Arthur Ready, and the program concluded with the National Anthem.

Long River and Vicinity

—Mrs. Linus Fitzsimmons is spending a month's vacation visiting relatives at Saint John, N.B., Boston, Mass., and other points of interest.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Johnstone, Long River, are away on a three weeks' trip to Montreal, on a visit with their brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Leigh Johnstone, and sister, Miss Jennie Johnstone.

Mrs. Mamie Adams was hostess at her home at Spring Valley on Tuesday evening to the members of St. Stephen's Women's Auxiliary. A full slate of officers was nominated to be presented at the joint annual meeting of St. Mark's and St. Stephen's later in the month. Mrs. E. Profitt invited the members for the December meeting. A delicious lunch was served by the hostess, who was assisted by her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Ivan Adams.

Mrs. Alec Barclay left on Monday morning, Nov. 12th, to return to her home at Aulac, N.B., after spending the weekend at Long River where she was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Profitt. Mrs. Barclay with her host and hostess also visited Mr. and Mrs. Pridham Johnston, Summerside. She is a native of Scotland, having come to Canada 22 years ago, and was pleased to meet Mrs. A. G. MacKay of Long River, also a native of Scotland. The party, including Mrs. MacKay, visited Green Gables on Sunday.

Costello-McIsaac Wedding

—The Immaculate Conception Church of the Brae was the scene of a beautiful autumn wedding October the 24th when Mary Eleanor McIsaac, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John McIsaac of Coleman, was united in holy bonds of matrimony to Ephraim Reginald Costello, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oswald Costello of Coleman, P.E.I. The Nuptial Mass was celebrated by Rev. Father Dooley of that parish.

The bride looked winsome in a suit of skipper blue wool gabardine with white blouse, black suede shoes, gloves and hat. She carried a white prayer book with long white streamers, and wore a corsage of yellow roses and Baby Breath.

Miss Martina Gallant of Summerside was the bride's attendant, attired in a grey gabardine suit with red accessories and a corsage of pink roses and Baby Breath.

The groom was capably supported by his brother, George Costello.

The dining room was beautifully decorated with pink and white streamers and wedding bells, while the table was centered with a beautiful three-tier wedding cake, lighted with pink and white candles which made a handsome setting for the occasion. The wedding cake, baked by Mrs. Roy Oulton, was nicely decorated with pink rosebuds with a miniature bride and groom on top.

A goose supper was served at the home of the groom to a large number of friends and relatives. The toast to the bride was proposed by Rev. Fr. Dooley, the parish priest. After all had partaken of a sumptuous supper, everyone proceeded to the parish hall where they enjoyed themselves to the wee hours of the morning, with music furnished by Messrs. Warren Leard, Melvin McPhee, and Emmett Greenan.

The happy young couple left on a honeymoon, touring the Maritimes. They are residing with the groom's parents where he is engaged in farming.

The bride and groom received many beautiful and valuable gifts. The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl rosary; the bride's gift to the groom a handsome billfold; the bride's gift to the bridesmaid a crystal rosary, and the groom's gift to the best man a ball-point pen and pencil set.

The O-S-U Method

The new report cards in Ontario will grade pupils according to the new O-S-U method. Those are the three letters which will be used to show the standing and progress of Ontario pupils. O stands for "outstanding", S for "satisfactory" and U for "unsatisfactory". This in itself is not new. What is revolutionary in the system is the fact that they will not stand for constant percentages, but will take into account the capacity of each pupil for the subject studied. For example, a brilliant mathematician may get a U for 70% in algebra, while a less gifted student may rate an O for the same mark. This is assuredly a step in the right direction. Too long now we have been heaping honors and praise on clever boys and girls who do little work, and giving no encouragement to mediocre pupils who work hard fot what they get. The talents we are born with are gifts from our ancestral Christmas tree. It is what we do with our talents that counts.

In This Corner

Winston Churchill, the old champ, is back once more in the international ring. Will he take up his spectacular career where he left it at the end of World War II, or will he find the present international conflict as difficult as Joe Louis has found the present pugilistic set-up, and, like Louis, add proof to the old adage, "They never come back.

If Winter Comes

High temperature records are being broken again! Doesn't that news have a familiar ring? Through the greater portion of last winter, at fairly regular periods, new highs in temperature were recorded. Another such mild winter would convince just about everybody that our climate had really taken a turn for the better—or worse, if you happen to be a lover of skating and skiing, the sports that have been casualties to this new stream-lined winter season.

Carleton W.I. Annual Meeting

The twenty-first annual meeting of Carleton Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Erle Thomson on Tuesday, Nov. 13th. The president presided and opened the meeting with the "Ode" and "Creed".

Eleven members responded to roll call by contributing a gift towards a parcel for England. Mrs. Ralph MacCaull and Mrs. Nathan Bell were appointed to pack the parcel, and the minutes of the last annual and regular monthly meeting were read and approved.

The president gave a good report of the year's activities and Mrs. Boyd Lowther, Red Cross convener, reported 25 articles sent to Red Cross.

Committees then gave their reports and new ones were appointed as follows: School, Mrs. Arthur MacMicken and Mrs. Avalah MacCallum. Sick, Mrs. Frank Quigley and Mrs. Boyd Lowther. Lunch, Mrs. Arthur MacMicken, Mrs. Wendall MacWilliams and Mrs. Harold Muttart.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President, Mrs. Elmer Francis; vice-president, Mrs. Erle Thomson; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Avalah MacCallum; Red Cross convener, Mrs. Boyd Lowther.

Directors are Mrs. Elmer Stordy, Mrs. Nathan Bell and Mrs. Arthur MacMicken. Auditors, Mrs. Heber Myers and Mrs. Ralph MacCaull.

Correspondence and thank you cards received were then read.

Mrs. Frank Quigley kindly invited the members to her home for the next meeting with roll call to be answered with exchange of Christmas gifts. Next meeting to be held the first Tuesday of the month.

Collection was then taken and amounted to 70 cents. Meeting closed with "The King".

A delicious lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by the committee in charge.

Answers Questions Re Gov't Bonds

OTTAWA, Nov. 19—(CP)—James Sinclair, parliamentary assistant to Finance Minister Abbott, told the Commons today that it is not the policy of the government or the Bank of Canada to cause a rise or fall in the market price of government bonds.

Mr. Sinclair made a statement on the question of bond market practices in reply to E. D. Fulton (PC - Kamloops), who had referred to a press report of a decline in the market prices of long-term government bonds.

Mr. Fulton stated the press report suggested that the decline had been caused by interference by the government or the Bank of Canada. He asked assurance that this was not the case.

"I am glad to give the assurance," said Mr. Sinclair, "namely, that it is not the policy of the government, or of the Bank of Canada, to cause a fall—or for that matter, a rise—in the market price of government bonds.

"That price, in the interval between the time of issue of the bonds and the date on which they fall due for payment, is a reflection of varying conditions which affect the desire of bond-holders to sell and of persons to buy."

For example, the market value of some long-term bonds rose after the Second World War as high as 105 (a $100 bond would sell for $105) and remained above 100 for more than five years.

"Since last March, however, the prices of the longer-dated bonds have been several points below 100, though the shorter-dated issues have remained at or close to par".

Retail Stores' Profits Down

OTTAWA, Nov. 19 -(CP)- A sample survey conducted among 10,000 independent retail stores shows that net profits for most of the stores were smaller last year than in 1948, the Bureau of Statistics reported today.

It found net profits had declined, but gross profits and expenses increased. Detailed reports on these studies, said the bureau, now are being prepared for the public.

It also was understood that copies of the survey have been forwarded to the parliamentary committee on retail price-fixing, at the committee's request.

Former Airman Now Parks Superintendent

OTTAWA, Nov. 19—(CP)—Air Vice Marshal A. L. Morfee, of Granville Ferry, N.S., who retired from the R.C.A.F. in 1948, has been appointed honorary superintendent of Fort Anne and Port Royal National Historic Parks near Annapolis Royal, N.S., the Resources Department announced today.

A native of London, Air Vice Marshal Morfee is president of the Historical Association of Annapolis Royal, he will have general supervision over the two parks.

TORONTO—(CP)—Police said that the leader of a four-member house-looting gang on Toronto Island was nine years old. The gang's operations ended yesterday. Police found them hiding under a bed in a house on Lake Shore Road. Six housebreaking charges have been laid.
