Veteran Livestock Fieldman Honoured By Island Breeders

Warm tribute was paid veteran livestock fieldman L.W. Roper and Mrs. Roper at a dinner held yesterday by the Ayrshire Breeders' Association of Prince Edward Island. Mr. Roper in addition to receiving a beautiful wrist watch from the Ayrshire Club also received a substantial cheque from the P.E.I. Swine Breeders' Association. Mrs. Roper was also suitably remembered.

In making the presentation on behalf of the Ayrshire Association, Mr. R.C. Parent said the Club felt they could not let Mr. Roper leave without showing their appreciation for the 27 years of service he had given from one end of the Island to the other. "He has given helpful advice to farmers at public meetings, in their homes and in their stables," said Mr. Parent.

Col. Andrew on behalf of the P.E.I. Swine Breeders asked Mr. Roper to accept a cheque for $50 as a token of the contribution he had made on behalf of the Association Col. Andrew also made the presentation of Mrs. Roper's gift.

Major MacRae said when he first learned of Mr. Roper's departure from the Province, he felt it was nothing short of a catastrophe. However, he said there was a silver lining in the fact that he was going with the Ayrshire breeders of Ontario.

Mr. MacRae felt that Mr. Roper in his new position was the right man in the right place. He felt there was a tremendous promotional job to be done in Ontario and if the price of Ayrshires in Ontario were raised it would have a definite effect all over Canada. He also foresaw Mr. Roper as a splendid liaison officer between P.E.I. and Ontario breeders.

Mr. H.W. Clay, senior livestock fieldman for the Province said he and Mr. Roper had not only worked together for the past twenty seven years but had also lived as neighbours. "If there was ever a chance of two persons getting into a row, they certainly would be under these circumstanc but I can truthfully say that we never had an argument that we were not able to settle peaceably," said Mr. Clay.

Mr. Clay said it was unfortunate that when Island livestock needed promotion so badly," we are losing the man who was doing the most of the work. He is leaving a vacuum that cannot be filled," Mr. Clay said.

Dr. George Fisher, director of veterinary services said it had been an enriching experience to have known and worked with Mr. Roper. He wished him and Mrs. Roper the best for the future.

Mr. S.C. Wright, Deputy Minister of Agriculture spoke of the fine spirit of co-operation that existed between his Department and that of the Federal services.

"There have been a great many young people in this Province who have benefited from his work," said Mr. Wright, "and his popularity could not be better exemplified than the fact that he was first choice for judge at every one of our achievement days held last fall."

Mr. Roper in replying was visibly moved by the expressions of appreciation received from his co-workers in the livestock industry. He felt he might be of some value to the Ayrshire breeders of P.E.I. in spotting suitable animals for them or in giving advice to herd improvement.

He noted that his territory was large in his new job but asserted that he did not believe a man on retirement should spend the rest of his days on a park bench. He thought he would spend about five years as fieldman for the Ontario Breeders and then return to the Island for retirement.

Tributes In Parliament From PEI Representatives

OTTAWA (Special) —Tributes to the memory of Senator J.P. McIntyre of Mount Stewart whose death occurred on Monday night in Boston were voiced in Parliament on Tuesday by two of his former colleagues, Senator Elsie Inman of Montague and J. Watson MacNaught, MP for Prince and parliamentary assistant to Fisheries Minister Sinclair. In honor of the late Senator McIntyre's memory, the flag at the top of the Peace Tower was lowered to half mast In the Senate chamber, Mrs. Inman said:

"Senator McIntyre's death is a distinct loss to the Senate and especially to Prince Edward Island whose interests and welfare were so near to his heart. He was one of the "Island's" most outstanding citizens — well known throughout the length and breadth of the Province and indeed all over Canada. As a former Minister of Public Works in the Province, his opinions and judgments were sought and accepted as sound and reliable.

"The McIntyre homestead a few miles from Mount Stewart has always been the epitome of hospitality and Senator McIntyre and his wife extended a smile and the hand of friendship to all who came to their home.

"I have known the late Senator for many years and found him always a true and sincere friend. He could not be otherwise for he was fair, generous and big-hearted.

"He loved people and was loved by people, a popular and highly esteemed personality of whom his Province was justly proud. To Mrs. McIntyre and their family, I wish to express deepest sympathy in this great bereavement."

MR. MACNAUGHT

Recalling his long association with Senator McIntyre in Ottawa, Mr. MacNaught said:

"In the passing of Senator J.P. McIntyre the Island has lost one of its distinguished sons. His death closes a career in business and politics extending over a period of almost half a century.

"The late Senator McIntyre had a faculty of forming warm and lasting friendships. His friendly smile and cheerful disposition made him a welcome guest at all gatherings.

"I recall his kindness and friendship to me when I first came to Ottawa. On every occasion when I sought his advice on matters pertaining to the welfare of Prince Edward Island I always received the benefit of his mature judgment and long political experience. I shall long miss his genial presence around the corridors of the Houses of Parliament.

"My wife joins me in expressing my deepest sympathy to his widow and children."

Says Future

cause of considerable discussion was the number of breeders who have dropped out of R.O.P. Andrew MacRae suggested that a part time field man be engaged by the Association to interview these breeders to see if they could be interested in keeping records of production.

Jim Nicholson reminded the breeders that this was part of the duties of the directors of the club.

Mr. Parent said another important feature in the promotion of the breed was to encourage larger production. He quoted statistics to show that it was just as profitable to keep 18 cows producing 12,000 lbs. of milk each as it was to have 134 cows producing 5,000 lbs. each. "Surely no one would want to keep 134 cows when he could make just as much money with less work by keeping 18," he said.

THREE POINT PROGRAM

The Association as a result of these discussions adopted a three-point program for the future: 1. Calfhood vaccination for all pure-bred animals of the breed in the Province; 2. Increase the number of R.O.P. breeders; 3. Try in every way to increase production.

In reporting on the annual meeting of the National Association, Col. Andrew as immediate past president said it was a most enthusiastic gathering from which the delegates left with a definite feeling of optimism. He noted the increase in sales to South America during the past year. He said the animals sold were not the top quality but rather good average stock. The price paid is between $175 and $200. The South American buyers have a preference for the animals having a lot of red rather than white.

Col. Andrew said the stock in Ontario and Quebec for this market has been fairly well cleared up and it was his opinion that the buyers would be looking for additional shipments in the Maritimes. In this respect he noted the importance of calfhood vaccination.

VISITS AYRSHIRE FARMS

Gavin Reid of Montague said he was tremendously impressed with his visits to some of the Ayrshire herds of Upper Canada, particularly in Glengarry County in Ontario. He said it was a pleasure to meet some of the breeders whom he had met 22 years before. "It was a wonderful means of widening ones outlook," Mr. Reid said.

Major MacRae said the national meeting was significant to him in view of the fact that it was the first time in history that an Islander had the honour of being president.

Mr. MacRae felt that one of the best ways to promote the breed was to have an active market. He informed the meeting that buyers are willing to come to the Island at any time there are sufficient animals to make up a carload or two. "When you have no market, the people lose interest," Mr. MacRae said.

Edward Boswell, Victoria, the fourth delegate to the national convention reported that he had purchased a new herd sire which he hoped would be a great addition to his herd. Mr. Boswell felt that the best way for any breed to hold its own was to breed better animals.

Mr. Parent said that plans are being formulated to hold the next field day in Prince County. The actual location will be announced in the near future.

GOVERNMENT GRANTS

Mr. S.C. Wright, Deputy Minister of Agriculture announced that the Department had made a change in the system of paying grants to breed associations. Instead of the usual $1,000 grant to each breed, the Department will now pay a basic grant of $300, plus $3.00 for each calf registered the previous year. Mr. Wright felt that this form of grant would be a means of stimulating greater activity in some breeds.

He noted that some associations had not made much effort to promote their breed and the Department felt they were not justified in paying them the $1,000. On the other hand, he said, some of the breeds were doing a real good job and under this system they would be encouraged to do even better.

Mr. Parent said this plan was one of the best that the Department had instituted in a long time. He felt it would give the necessary incentive for breeders to increase their numbers of pure-bred animals. He felt it was a very fair way of distributing the grants.

Aims And Objects of R.C.A.F. Ass'n Are Outlined At Dinner

The aims and objects of the R.C.A.F. Association were outlined to a large gathering attending the seventh annual dinner of 201 Confederation Wing by Air Vice Marshal Frank G. Walt, national president of the Association.

In a brief address the Air Vice Marshal told the dinner group of the origin and some of the past history and outlined some of the plans for the future. he then presented honorary membership in the Association to Dr. Jack Jenkins for his assistance to aviation here in past years and followed this by pinning wings on Air Cadet Cpl. P. Weir.

Among those at the head table were His Honor-Lieutenant Governor T.W.L. Prowse and Mrs. Prowse, Hon. B. Earle MacDonald, Acting Premier, His Worship Mayor J.D. Stewart and Ms. Stewart, W.D. Young, president of 200 Wing, Summerside, Flt. Lt. E. Ferguson, liaison officer between the R.C.A.F. and the association, Dr. Jack Jenkins, Jack Larabee, new president of 201 Wing, James Currie, President, George Barter, president of Main Brace, and Mrs. Barter, Stanley McInnis, past president of Maritime Group, and Mrs. McInnis, Spurgeon Leard, president of the local branch Canadian Legion, and Mrs. Leard.

The toast to the R.C.A.F. was proposed by W.S. MacLeod and responded to by Flt. Lt. Ferguson; to the Association by Jack Larabee and responded to by Stanley McInnis; to the Ladies by J.A. Carruthers and responded to by Mrs. James Currie, president of the Association's Ladies' Auxiliary.

Suspect Slips Handcuffs And Jumps From Taxi To Escape

TORONTO (CP) — A tough wiry armed robbery suspect slipped his handcuffs while being driven to a York County court hearing Tuesday and jumped from a slow-moving taxi to elude police in the crowds of downtown Toronto.

John Meagher, 25, was charged as one of the three men who forced entry to the home of Scarborough realtor John Cragg last November and robbed Cragg and his mother of $500 in cash and $6,000 in furs.

Meagher was handcuffed to Edwin McDonald, once one of the country's most wanted men, who currently is on trial for narcotics violations. In addition, the cab contained a third suspect, Real Desnoyers, two sheriff's officers—one of them armed—and the cabbie. Desnoyers was held for complicity in the Scarborough robbery.

Meagher made his bid as the taxi began pulling across an intersection when a traffic light turned green. He hit the street on his knees, bounded to his feet and was gone.

RAN LIKE A DEER

Eric Britton, the driver, said "he ran like a deer. It was hopeless to chase him."

Police swarmed into the area in response to an alarm but a thorough search of restaurants, office buildings, theatres and stores turned up nothing.

Neither McDonald nor Desnoyers made a move in the confusion.

McDonald was quoted as saying to one of his guards: "Man. How did he do it I didn't even notice him."

Sheriff J. . Conover said police wanted Meagher "very badly."

One possible explanation of the ease with which Meagher got loose from the handcuffs came from Don jail governor Hartley Patterson who said Meagher had "small hands—just like a woman's."

Survey of

CONDUCTED BY PROVINCE

"As I indicated in the House of Commons at that time, as a result of discussions among federal and provincial technical and financial officials, it appeared that the present development of the two units at Beechwood could be carried out by the province of New Brunswick without jeopardizing its credit.

"Since you exclude for the time being further development at Beechwood and on the Tobique because of lack of firm storage on the Tobique or elsewhere, there does not appear to be any specific item of the New Brunswick hydro program which would require federal financial assistance at this time."

Mr. Lesage said in the Commons that the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission had already prepared to place a contract for the turbo-generator and other major equipment for a proposed 50,000-kilowatt steam plant at Saint John.

New Brunswick had urged that the plant be brought under the federal proposal. As a result the plant would be taken over by Northern Canada Power Commission, federal agency designated to build and operate federally-built power plants and transmission lines in the two provinces.

ACCEPT OFFER

Mr. Lesage said Premiers Flemming and Stanfield have accepted the federal offer to provide the capital and operate plants and transmission lines, subject to discussion of details. Both premiers had urged immediate federal action.

The minister said the survey, which will be paid for by Ottawa, will determine the best location for the initial plant in the light of future interconnecting lines. It might be advisable that in order covering the two provinces the plant should be in Cumberland county instead of Saint John.

Mr. Lesage said the cost of the survey will be "quite substantial". However, the funds required would be appropriated by Parliament to lessen the financial burden on the two provinces.

The survey would not be completed until about Aug. 1, but to avoid any delay in bringing a new plant into operation, Northern Canada Power Commission would enter into the contract which the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission had planned to place.

USE MARITIME COAL

It was the government's desire that Maritime coal be used to the greatest extent possible by plants to be built. There was reason to think that the recent increase in the price of oil would not be of a temporary nature.

"In the circumstances, the economic advantage of the use of Maritime coal shows every likelihood of continuing," he said.

If the first plant was in Cumberland county it would be because of the prospects of obtaining maximum economies through the use of coal there. If it was in Saint John, the object would be to enter into arrangements with Maritime coal producers so that coal might be used on a basis that would produce power at as low a cost as if oil were used.

"I have every confidence that such arrangements can be made," Mr. Lesage said.

Financing of plants and transmission lines would be at the federal borrowing rate. Amortization would be over a 30-year period in the case of plant sand over 40 years for the steel tower high voltage interconnection lines. There would have to be agreement with the two provinces with regard to the proposal generally and on specific projects.

Plants would be operated by Northern Canada Power Commission with power sold at cost to the agency designated by the province. The same cost basis would apply to rental of transmission lines.

Mr. Lesage said provincial power commissions, or in some cases private utilities, will be in a position to buy from Northern Canada power commission at a favorable rate. They would be "expected to see—and I have no doubt they will be anxious to see—that the full benefit goes to the industrial or domestic users."

Zion Y. P. S. Meeting Held

The regular weekly meeting of the Zion Young Peoples' Society was held at the Church on April 9. The president, Arlene Larter, presided over a fairly short business period.

The games period led by Arlene Larter was a great deal of fun. The meeting closed with singing of "Blest Be The Tie That Binds."

The Prince Edward Island Association for Retarded Children met at West Kent School on Monday evening April 8th with Mr. St. John presiding. The meeting was opened with prayer.

Mrs. Charles Smith canvassor for the Bring and Buy sale held on March 37th reported that the sale had proved very successful. Much of the success of the sale was due to the excellant auctioneering ability of Gerry Re-Arith.

LETTER TO W.I.

The secretary read a copy of the circular letter prepared by the Charlottetown Kinsmen. The Kinsmen have sent a letter to all Womens Institutes on the Island soliciting their interest with regard to assisting the mentally retarded.

The meeting expressed sincere appreciation for this encouraging effort on the part of the Charlottetown Kinsmen. The actions of such groups are greatly appreciated by the Assocation.

Correspondence from Senator Elsie Inman, The Canadian Association for Retarded children and the Canadian Westinghouse Company was read and discussed.

The following donations were gratefully acknowledged. 2.00 from Mt. Herbert W.I. $1.00 from Central Royalty W.I. $8.00 from the Holy Redeemer C.W.L. to provide milk for the month of April for the Day Training Class $5.00 for membership for Holy Redeemer C.W.L.

Mrs. Stewart Pierce and Mr. Leo Berrigan were appointed, to endeavour to interest other parents of retarded children to become members of the Assocation in unity there is strength. So by combining the ideas and talent of all parents along with other interested persons much can be done to improve conditions for the mentally retarded.

Mrs. Gordon Humphrey was appointed to act as Librarian and take charge of all literature and pamphlets dealing with mental retardation that the Assocation is able to obtain.

SURVEY COMMITTEE

A survey committee was set up with W.J. Brawders as chairman Leo Berrigan and Mr. St. John will also act on this committee Mrs. Wendell Cudmore, Mrs. Waye Mrs. MacCarville and Mrs Humphrey volunteered to address letters to be sent out to all school principals.

The Assocation was very pleased to have K. Parker superintendent of City Schools and Walter Baker director of Protestant Welfare Bureau in attendance. Their constructive advice was much appreciated.

The meeting was adjourned and coffee was served.

Tells St. Paul's Laymen Of The Retarded Child

Mrs. A.M. Johnston R.N., Secretary of the P.E.I. Retarded Children's Association was guest speaker at the monthly supper meeting of St. Paul's Laymen's Association, held in the Parish Hall Tuesday night, with the president Tom D. DeBlois presiding.

A Saxaphone Quintette composed of members of the Reece Band entertained most acceptably with two numbers and in the absence of the regular pianist for the singsong, the job was taken over by Al Blanchard whose co-operation was greatly appreciated. Quintette members were; R. Ivo Cudmore, Charles MacGregor, Louis MacFadyen, Leo Doiron and Elmer Gallant.

Mrs. Geo. Wood, convenor and her associate Mrs. F.W. Jelks accepted the thanks of the Association on behalf of the Ladies of the Guild for the splendidly arranged supper. Regret was expressed at the illness of two members, P.E. Palmer and James T. Robison, both of whom are patients in the P.E.Island Hospital.

COMMUNITY PROBLEM

Mrs. Johnston in the course of her address said that mental retardation is a community problem and therefore a public responsibility. "While it is true that the brunt of the burden is borne by parents, particularly the mother, the problem extends beyond the boundaries of home". Mrs. Johnston commended the community for the remarkable job in giving aid to those stricken with polio T.B. and the mentally ill and asked that something constructive be done for mentally retarded children.

"Mentally retarded children have normal feelings such as happiness, love, hope, hate and jealousy, just as other children. It is important to utilize to the fullest extent, their capacities for happiness, and their limited capacities for achievement Mrs. Johnston said. "This is not too often accomplished due to the mixed feelings of parents regarding their child and the lack of adequate facilities for their training". Mental retardation is not a disease but a condition of impaired or incomplete development from birth or an early age.

It is believed that much will be accomplished through research in the field of mental retardation in the next ten years, Mrs. Johnston said as she described some of the seventy known or suspected causes and classified the three main groups of MR children.

CLASSIFICATION

1 st- Educable retarded who require auxiliary classes. 2nd- Trainable retarded who need special day training classes. 3rd. nontrainable, most of whom require institutional care.

"The educable retarded make up seventy-five per cent of the MR and have the intellectual capacity to acquire an education up to primary level", Mrs. Johnston said. "This group if allowed to learn and develop at their own rate and pattern will become useful, productive citizens".

"About twenty per cent of the retarded fall within the trainable group. These children require and benefit from training in social adjustment,manual dexterity, habit formation and the achievement of simple tasks." This training is best provided by day training classes such as the one now functioning in West Kent School, which is sponsored by the Canadian Legion and receives financial assistance from the Department of Education. It has also been greatly assisted by the Kinette club and other groups, "Mrs. Johnston said. "With an IQ below 30 about five per cent fall into the non-trainable group and often require institutional care. They must have continual supervision whether at home or in a specially designed centre." "The need for an institution for this group in Prince Edward Island is indeed urgent", Mrs. Johnstone said," and not until an aroused public says we must have a special home for these children, will it be a reality"

"We who have normal healthy children must consider the parents of a retarded child. It is important that they obtain guidance and help." she said. "It is a challenge to us all to help these children function to the limit of their possibilities and encourage parents to accept what is offered towards their betterment", Mrs. Johnston concluded.

The speaker was introduced by the chairman and thanked for her interesting and informative talk on this important subject by J. Eric Shephard.

A cheque for $25.00 from an unnamed donor was presented Mrs. Johnston to be used in the interest of retarded children by the Society she represents.

The meeting opened with Grace by Rev. Canon J.T. Ibbott who also pronounced the benediction.

P.E.I. Art Society Honors Memory Of Dr. Creelman

The P.E.I. Art Society met for the regular monthly meeting Tuesday evening, April 9, with Mr. J.S. Taylor in the chair. Mr. Taylor called for a moment of silence in memory of a beloved late member, Dr. P.A. Creelman.

The minutes of the last regular meeting and the executive meeting were read out of which evolved discussion of the plans for the Maritime Art Association convention to be held here in May.

Mrs. Doris MacKay exhibited two of her paintings after the manner of Braque. A lively discussion ensued with many questions thrown in which Mrs. MacKay answered, giving much light to the enigma, to most people, of abstract painting. "Do one", urged Mrs. MacKay "and experience a tremendous thrill". Each member is urged to try one in color and bring it to the next meeting.
