A Raft Had Proved to Be a Poor Conveyance for an Expedition. "I rode up to a cabin in Knox county, Ky., said John Williams, a traveling man, to a Star reporter, "and as I approached the man of the house inquired: "Stranger, did you see a red-headed fellow with a yellow sun-bonnet coming from town?"

Burns in Edinburgh, 1787.

Those who think that imported soap must be the finest do not know that the material of which Royal Oak Soap is made are the best to be found anywhere. Send 35 Royal Oak wrappers to the Ch'town Soap Works, and receive free the beautiful picture, "Burns in Edinburgh, 1787."

It Pleases Us

To have people critically examine our furniture. It stands critical examination. It stands the wear. It's made to wear, not merely to sell. We won't sell anything that people won't satisfied with after they get it home and live with it. There is no profit in such selling. A dissatisfied customer will spoil lots of business. We won't allow a customer to feel dissatisfied either with what he gets or what he pays for it. Many people buy all their furniture here-DO YOU?

Advertisers!

The home circulation is the most valuable for advertisers. THE EXAMINER reaches the homes of our citizens every evening. That accounts for our large advertising patronage.

Trade with the Star Tailor if you have our own interest at stake.

Quality, Not Price

Is the true test of cheapness. Some custom made clothing is not cheap at any price.

A SUIT that don't fit is not cheap at $5.00, even if it cost $20.00

OUR MAKE isall first class. We have no way of making cheap clothing, but put as good work on $15.00 suits as on our $25.00. We keep no cheap work for cheap suits. No Apprentices in our workshop; only keep the best.

ENGLISH GOODS, imported direct. See our overcoatings, see our suitings.

ALL OUR Canadian Tweeds are bought from the manufacturers. Not one yard in our store bought from a wholesale house.

OUR $16.00 Tweed Suit, made to order, beats anything on P. E. I.

IF YOU DOUBT our ability to turn out the best suits and overcoats on P. E. I., just give us a trial; we won't ask you to take a garment from us if it is not as above stated.

You will find our prices right if you take quality into consideration.

ABSOLUTELY PURE

It has recently been discovered that sparrows have a particular dislike to certain colors, such as purple and blue. A naturalist states that some caged sparrows he had would not touch their food if he put strips of blue paper upon it; that they manifested a disconcerting dislike to ladies who came into the room wearing blue dresses, and that several of them were cured of the vice of pecking at a certain part of a wall they had access to by pasting a piece of blue paper over it. As sparrows are grain-consuming birds, here is a suggestion for farmers.

SCHOOLS FOR THIEVES.

London's Police Have Discovered Several in the East end of London there are still in existence several training houses for thieves. Although the police keep a strict and severe watch upon them, these houses sometimes do a flourishing business, and the proprietors are so cautious, move about so cautiously, and take such elaborate precautions, that it is only with the greatest difficulty that any reliable evidence can be obtained against them. Not only that, but at the best of times, with the most conclusive evidence, a detective often attacks them only at the risk of his life.

The Chief Organ of the Body.

When Rebellious and Out of Order Paine's Celery Compound is Your Only Hope.

It Brings Comfort, Happiness and Health.

Too few recognize the fact that the stomach is the chief organ of the body. When this great and guiding organ is out of order, every other organ depending on it for nourishment is affected by sympathy. So long as digestion is properly performed, and healthy fluids secreted from the food, the body is nourished.

When the stomach is inactive the system is impoverished, and disease rapidly develops. If your stomach is rebellious and out of gear, be assured your whole system will soon give evidences of trouble, and your life will be a miserable one.

When you suffer the tortures of indigestion and dyspepsia, just remember that Paine's Celery Compound has brought ease, comfort, happiness and health to thousands in the past.

This marvelous and wonder-working medicine when used for a short time restores perfect digestion, and gives to every organ new life and activity.

Thousands of the strongest testimonials are on file from our best Canadian people testifying to the efficacy of Paine's Celery Compound in cases of stomach troubles, that could not be cured by any other medicine. These letters of testimony can be inspected at any time.

It is folly, dear reader, to continue in suffering from dangerous stomach troubles. One bottle of Paine's Celery Compound will suffice to give you freedom from pain and misery; one single bottle has often banished the dread of many a sufferer, and your neighbors and friends have been cured by Paine's Celery Compound. Do not delay its use in your own case.

Now is the time to get supplied with glass and crockeryware as we will sell off cheaper than ever before.

SAT ON THE RIGHT SIDE.

Custom of Women in Street Cars.

"I said a very day,

the best street two more women got in and took seats alongside of the first.

After a time there were seven women in the car, all sitting in a row, leaving me to enjoy the comforts of the left-hand seats. Then three men jumped aboard, and sat down on my side.

Finally another woman joined us, and instead of taking a vacant seat near the door on the "ladies' side," she walked the entire length of the car and sat down alongside of me. This eccentricity on her part impelled me to watch her more closely than usual manners possibly warranted, but I solved the mystery to my satisfaction.

She paid the conductor with her left hand. She was left-handed, and all the women on the other side were right-handed, of course. Fact!"

HUMAN COAL.

Two Thousand People Under Favorable Conditions Produce a Hundred Weight in an Hour.

An English authority informs us that an audience of 2,000 people, listening for two hours to a concert, are not only cultivating and indulging their musical taste, but are engaged in the somewhat prosaic occupation of producing no less than one hundred weight of coal and seven-and-a-half gallons of water from the impurities and moisture of their own breath, and that if they were all performing themselves, instead of listening, this quantity would be nearly doubled.

It is far more wholesome to drink the undiluted water of the Thames at Blackwell than to breathe the air of a crowded and unventilated room, and how cleanly people can be content to do so is only explicable on the principle that what the eye does not see the heart does not grieve over.

As a Beverage.

The antiquity of tea as a beverage is a favorite subject of discussion by confirmed tea drinkers. China claims the origin of the use of tea as a drink, says the New York Mercury.

Of course there are various stories connected with it, among which, perhaps, the following is quite as interesting and believable as any. As the tale runs, one of the daughters of a reigning sovereign was hopelessly enamored of a young nobleman whose caste did not permit him to aspire to her hand; but they exchanged glances and occasionally he gathered a few blossoms and took means to have them conveyed to her.

One day the princess met her admirer in the grounds of the palace, and as the attention of her attendants was attracted in another direction the young man tried to put a few flowers into her hand, but all that she could grasp was a little twig with green leaves.

She treasured, and when she reached her apartments she placed the twig in a glass of water, there to remain for some hours, the object of her tenderest care. Toward evening she was seized with a sentimental attack, during which she drank the water in which the twig had been kept. It had a most agreeable taste, and then she ate the leaves of her water, there to remain for some hours, the object of her tenderest care. Toward evening she was seized with a sentimental attack, during which she drank the water in which the twig had been kept. It had a most agreeable taste, and then she ate the leaves of her water, there to remain for some hours, the object of her tenderest care.

The ladies of the court observed her, and were moved to try it themselves, and did so with such pleasing results that the practice spread throughout the kingdom, and one of the great industries of China was thus established.

It is claimed that the date of the sentimental origin of the tea drinking was nearly 3,000 years before Christ.

Photographic Screen.

A clever woman who has been using her camera so industriously for several seasons that she has on her hands a large collection of small and large photographs, lately made use of them in a way that promises to keep them in her mind, for she has covered a screen for her own room with them, grouping them artistically, and throwing out their good qualities by using a border of pale olive and gold paper. If there are not enough photographs to cover an entire screen, one panel could be arranged in that way; or the upper half might be so covered and the lower half filled in with panels of shirred silk.

Her Orphanage.

"There was a girl behind me at the theater last night," she said indignantly, "who must be a dreadfully selfish, disagreeable creature."

"What makes you think so?" asks her mother.

"She had on a hat that was simply a monster in size."

"Well, your own hat was not small. You insisted on wearing your new one, you know."

"Yes, but nobody who sat behind that girl got a chance to see it."
