Rothesay Collegiate School

Founded 1897

AN OLD NEW BRUNSWICK INDEPENDENT SCHOOL

FOR BOYS AGED 10 TO 16

Why do many parents send their sons to Rothesay? For many reasons, but chiefly because they want—

- The advantage of small classes taught by able and experienced men.
- The decent Christian influence and training which exist there.
- The great advantages of the school's fine Physical and Athletic program.
- The influence and guidance of men of outstanding character and personality.
- The training in responsibility and leadership which the school gives.

Some Packing Pointers For a European Trip

By ELEANOR ROSS

According to travel agencies and transportation companies, this will be the biggest year for European travel for Americans. And from all accounts there are plenty of first-timers in the pacific European invasion, too! So here are some tips to make traveling easier.

Extra Clothing

If you're flying, remember that it isn't so much the weight of the luggage itself, but the extra clothing you pack in it which takes you over the baggage allowances. Choose garments for their adaptability. Concentrate on separates and correlate everything so that you keep to one color and one theme.

Go in for good luggage. It commands respect and attention. The lightweight airplane pieces are sturdily constructed and extremely attractive.

By Ship

If you are going by ship, remember that you can take more clothing and still not be concerned about touring the continent with extra luggage. Trunks, etc., may be left "in bond" while you gad about with accessory luggage to the various points on your itinerary.

A passport case is not a fob. It is a highly necessary accessory for a successful trip, since passport, papers, documents and money must be instantly at hand.

Travel Iron

A small travel iron is another "must" as are those travel packets of soap powder that stow away easily in suitcases. Tiny cakes of soap should be taken too, as many hotels do not supply them.

Make sure that the iron is set for AC-DC current and is provided with a converter plug for European use. Of course, if you can work out your entire wardrobe in clothes that drip-dry and require no ironing, you won't have to tote that iron.

If you are taking jewelry, carry it in a small travel case, or in those soft leather roll-ups that take so little room.

A Good Choice

If you have selected a cruise instead of a visit to Europe, you have more luggage leeway. If your ship is your hotel, a trunk is a good choice. Traveling garment bags are good to keep wrinkles out of fussy party dresses.

If you're planning stop-over visits, as most of us do on a cruise, a big pullman case, a hatbox and a duffel bag should be adequate.

One-Stop Cruise

A one-stop cruise calls for a different luggage wardrobe. The trunk is still a good idea, with a piece or two of hand luggage or a duffel bag.

Here again, a passport case will prove itself most useful, whether or not you need special permits for traveling since its extra space will hold many little things.

Have proper luggage tags and fasten them securely. What a headache lost luggage can be!

NEW HAVEN W. I.

The June meeting of New Haven W. I. was held at the home of Mrs. Michael Murphy with a good attendance of 23 members and three visitors.

The meeting opened with the Institute Ode and repeating the Creed in unison. Roll call was responded to with a grab bag amounting to $2.00. Reading of minutes then followed and were approved as read.

Unfinished business followed. It was decided to pack woollens in school on Monday, June 6th. The secretary reported the amount taken in from Pantry Sale was $32.53.

Reports of Committees were then heard. Sick committee reported one treated sent. School committee reported a door knob needed for door of the school; also $1.00 to be paid for fixing of rocking chair which was broke at the Christmas concert.

New committees were appointed. Program, Mrs. Gus Theray and Mrs. Earl Moore. The correspondence was then read and discussed. A Government cheque of $159.65 was received as our portion of installation of furnace in school. A letter was read concerning a Mobile X-Ray Unit which would be held at the different schools.

Some of the members gave a report of the District Convention for the benefit of those who were not present. New business followed.

Delegates to the annual convention were appointed as follows: Mrs. Michael Murphy and Mrs. Lloyd McKinnon. It was moved and seconded to take the children to Brackley Beach this year for their picnic, which will be held June 23rd. It was decided to treat the children with ice cream.

Next place of meeting is at the home of Mrs. Lloyd McKinnon. Roll call will be, "Sing, Sing, Read or Play." $1.40.

Collection for evening was $1.40. Meeting was then adjourned with the singing of the Queen.

A nice baby shower for one of the members was then conducted; the recipient receiving many lovely gifts. A dainty lunch was then served by the hostess, assisted by the committee in charge.

Blueberry Velvet Cream Pie
Hot or Iced Coffee or Tea Milk
Recipes Proportioned to Serve 4 to 6

Zucchini Mix: Wash 1 lb. zucchini and slice ¼" thick. Heat 2 tbs. butter, or 1 tbs. each olive oil and butter, in a frying pan.

Add the zucchini, 1 thin-sliced peeled onion and 1 sliced seeded green pepper. Saute until the color begins to turn.

Then add 1 c. canned tomatoes, ½ tsp. salt, ¼ tsp. monosodium glutamate and ¼ tsp. oregano. Simmer 15 min., or until the vegetables are fork-tender.

Add 1 can (1 lb.) can drained Blue Lake beans and heat.

TRICK OF THE CHEF
Toss ¼ lb. cooked broad noodles with 1 tsp. caraway seeds lightly fried in 2 tbs. butter.

Whipped Cream Trim
To serve, decorate with whipped cream or whole blueberries; add a few sprigs of blueberry leaves, if you have blueberry bushes in your garden.

To make a smart decorated edge to the piecrust shell, stamp out penny-sized rounds of pie-crust with an hors d'oeuvre cutter. Dampen one side with water; then overlap the little rounds on the edge of the unbaked piecrust shell, pressing on lightly. Bake as usual, in a hot oven, 425 degrees F.

"Congratulations, Chef! This pie is not only delicious, it is unique.

Some Simple Uses
"However, cultivated blueberries are coming on the market so plentifully we can use them in many simple ways. For a lunch on a warm day, nothing equals a bowl of milk, crisp crackers and cultivated blueberries. For breakfast enjoy them with toasted buttered shredded wheat and milk. And for dinner, in a fresh fruit cocktail."

MONDAY DINNER
Green Bean Saladettes
Baked Veal Chops
Neapolitan Sauce
Buttered Noodles Zucchini Mix

JUNE BUGS
1 egg white
1 cup white sugar
1 cup dates
¼ cup nuts
Whisk with coconut. Drop from spoon on wax paper and cook in slow oven.

Artists and Critics

A Children's Centennial Art Exhibition opens Tuesday morning, June 28th, at the new Civic Centre in the Market Bldg. According to Mrs. Willard McKay, art supervisor, the choice of topics covers the history of the Island from Indian scenes and the Voyage of Cartier in 1534 to the time of the Confederation. The paintings, about 140 in number, are the combined efforts of the 5th and 6th grades of Charlottetown's four elementary schools. The exhibition is open to the public mornings and afternoons, June 27th to 30th, inclusive. (Barter's Film Lab)

ELLEN'S DIARY

by an Island Farmer's Wife

According to Mack, little lad at Alderlea, this has been "one of the best of all Saturdays!" We too shall remember it kindly. Through its sunshine-spread hours there were the happy voices of the Grandchildren, four in all, engaged at interests and pastimes about. Quite busy it was, as the work was tidied for Sunday.

In the bit of old orchard, and in the young apple trees at the far side of the House across on the Lane the petals drifted down on a gentle breath of wind. Lilacs, mauve, and white scattered their membered fragrance—And to the children's amusement a pair of swallows claimed the lantern which lights the front verandah for their house-side, and attending busily to items of building.

In a red field an end of mangels was sown, a piece of turnips, too; and after a short session of set-cutting the potatoes planted we grow for our tables. At home, lawns must be mowed for the Sabbath, and Jamie repaired with a willing heart and a good hand the rose trellis which had suffered extensive damage in one of last year's gales. Then with James, who because of opening many a straight furrow, owns a true eye, sighting for us, we restored it to its former place. Children and grown-ups gathered to meals at an old table, not to loiter there but to be off again to the demands of the hours.

So, fast and happily the day sped, as has the week it now closes. It was one that with the marking of the beef cattle from the stables gave the farmers a summer schedule of choring to follow, the lightest for them of the year. Only the milking continues, the pail-feeding of odd ones of the calves and of course the work in the piggeries, lightened considerably now with most of the matrons on pasture in the paddock.

"There'll be nothing to do now!" James offered the first evening the stables were empty. "Tomorrow will seem like a Sunday!"

Now at Alderlea most of the seed is in the ground. The grain-fields including those last seeded are clothed in a winsome new green. We see James stop sometimes and regard the neat pieces from the yard, wondering we fancy what the summer will bring. Will it be a hot dry season? Or maybe over-damp? Or will it be blessed with the sun and showers necessary to sustain good growth in the fields, to give the farmer hire for having been faithful to the task of the sowing?

This we would ask, as a season fades and another, Granddaughter found today in a cluster of daisies in the haylands, appears:

"Lord of the summer with warmth at heart,
The days are long,
Sustain the labourer's will and may his faith
Be ever strong.
That with the master's measure,
shall the yield
Reward the honest tillage of the field."

FAMILY REUNION
LONDON (AP) — Sir Winston Churchill dropped in at 10 Downing street Wednesday, his former official residence, and had lunch with the new tenants—Prime Minister and Lady Eden. It was sort of a family party. Eden's wife is Churchill's niece. Also present was Miss Sally Churchill, niece of Lady Eden and a great niece of Sir Winston.
