

THE WESTERN GUARDIAN

PRINCE COUNTY OFFICE
3 Summer Street, Summerside, Phone 3631
News, Subscriptions, Advertising Representatives, J. ELMER MURPHY and GEORGE CLOW House Phones: 8933 and 8932 The Guardian may be bought at any of the following stores in Summerside: Bell Bookstore, Summer Street; Gourley's Drugstore, 31 Central Street; Kelly's News-stand, Water Street; Mark Gaudet, 67 Granville Street; Alyro Doucette's Grocery, Second Street; Island Motor Transport, Water Street; Alban's Grocery, 129 Russell Street.
K. L. Walte in Kensington WEST PRINCE OFFICE
Alberton: Frank Weeks, Representative.
Phone: 62-2 Office and 62-3 House.

DR. L. K. ZIELINSKI, Kinkora, General Practitioner, Office hours:
2-5 P. M. and 7-9 P. M. Phone: 9 by appointment.
WELLINGTON players, threeact play, Wellington Station hall, Thursday, April 24th, 8:15.

SEE TWO ONE-ACT PLAYS with Specialties in Sealestown Hall on Tuesday, April 24th, at 8:30 P. M.
FARMERS have your electric fence reconditioned for efficient operation and longer battery life.
Hunter Radio Service, Kensington.

ATTENTION FARMERS in Kensington and Vicinity, I am in a position to supply your needs in farm gasoline and motor oil. Ben Champion, Kensington.

PANTRY SALE AND BAZAAR at Keir Clark's Store, Kensington, Saturday evening, May 5th. Clinton W. I.

MEETING AT ALBERTON — Hudson Fridham, C.C.F. candidate for First Prince and Douglas Mac-Farlane were the principal speakers at a C.C.F. meeting held in the Alberton Court House last night.
J. P. Wallace was chairman. Mr. Fridham spoke of the unequal distribution of wealth as a cause for the spread of Communism. Both Mr. Fridham and Mr. MacFarlane spoke at some length on the C.C.F. platform and emphasized that the party is a thoroughly democratic one.
They condemned big business and criticized the kind of government given by the old parties. While they felt that a C.C.F. government cannot be put into power in this Province at the present time, the speakers felt that a valuable opposition could be provided by their elected candidates.

PERSONALS
Messrs. Frank Daley and Jack
Nesbit arrived home on Friday evening from Saint John, N. B., where they had been attending the annual conference of the Irving
Oil Company.—S.

THE BLACK ROSE AT
CAPITOL, SUMMERSIDE
Displays of grandeur and passion that dwarf anything of its kind the screen has recorded in the past, a lusty adventure story that takes a bowman and a scholar to far-off lands in the service of a conqueror, and the breathtaking
color and beauty of far-away places, these ingredients brew the essence of "The Black Rose", the magnificent Twentieth Century-
Fox picture at the Capitol Theatre.
The epic film is a form well known to moviegoers, and great screen spectacles have highlighted motion picture entertainment from the time the first flickers became fact. But what you may have seen before pales in the presence of "The Black Rose". Spanning three continents, "The Black Rose" takes Tyrone Power and
Jack Hawkins from a world of English castles across the world in pursuit of adventure. Through Africa and Asia, Power and Hawkins challenge and by their course impress the great General Bayan, played by Orson Welles, and serve the beautiful lady known as "The Black Rose", who crosses the path of their pursuits. The role is exciting and excitingly filled by lovely newcomer, Cecile Aubry.
There is a glamour to high adventure in distant lands that
couldn't be duplicated on the screen unless the events depicted were photographed in the actual locations where they are supposed to have taken place. It is the great virtue of "The Black Rose",
a virtue that sets it apart from all competition, that Twentieth Century-Fox traversed the world to film it.

PERSONALS
Messrs. Frank Daley and Jack
Nesbit arrived home on Friday
evening from Saint John, N. B.,
where they had been attending
the annual conference of the Irving
Oil Company.—S.

THE BLACK ROSE AT
CAPITOL, SUMMERSIDE
Displays of grandeur and pas-
sion that dwarf anything of its
kind the screen has recorded in the
past, a lusty adventure story that
takes a bowman and a scholar to
far-off lands in the service of a
conqueror, and the breathtaking
color and beauty of far-away places,
these ingredients brew the es-
sence of "The Black Rose", the
magnificent Twentieth Century-
Fox picture at the Capitol Theatre.
The epic film is a form well
known to moviegoers, and great
screen spectacles have highlighted
motion picture entertainment from
the time the first flickers became
fact. But what you may
have seen before pales in the
presence of "The Black Rose". Span-
ning three continents, "The Black
Rose" takes Tyrone Power and
Jack Hawkins from a world of
English castles across the world in
pursuit of adventure. Through
Africa and Asia, Power and Hawk-
ins challenge and by their course
impress the great General Bayan,
played by Orson Welles, and serve
the beautiful lady known as "The
Black Rose", who crosses the path
of their pursuits. The role is ex-
citing and excitingly filled by
lovely newcomer, Cecile Aubry.
There is a glamour to high ad-
venture in distant lands that
couldn't be duplicated on the
screen unless the events depicted
were photographed in the actual
locations where they are supposed
to have taken place. It is the
great virtue of "The Black Rose",
a virtue that sets it apart from all
competition, that Twentieth Century-Fox traversed the world to
film it.

PERSONALS
Messrs. Frank Daley and Jack
Nesbit arrived home on Friday
evening from Saint John, N. B.,
where they had been attending
the annual conference of the Irving
Oil Company.—S.

THE BLACK ROSE AT
CAPITOL, SUMMERSIDE
Displays of grandeur and pas-
sion that dwarf anything of its
kind the screen has recorded in the
past, a lusty adventure story that
takes a bowman and a scholar to
far-off lands in the service of a
conqueror, and the breathtaking
color and beauty of far-away places,
these ingredients brew the es-
sence of "The Black Rose", the
magnificent Twentieth Century-
Fox picture at the Capitol Theatre.
The epic film is a form well
known to moviegoers, and great
screen spectacles have highlighted
motion picture entertainment from
the time the first flickers became
fact. But what you may
have seen before pales in the
presence of "The Black Rose". Span-
ning three continents, "The Black
Rose" takes Tyrone Power and
Jack Hawkins from a world of
English castles across the world in
pursuit of adventure. Through
Africa and Asia, Power and Hawk-
ins challenge and by their course
impress the great General Bayan,
played by Orson Welles, and serve
the beautiful lady known as "The
Black Rose", who crosses the path
of their pursuits. The role is ex-
citing and excitingly filled by
lovely newcomer, Cecile Aubry.
There is a glamour to high ad-
venture in distant lands that
couldn't be duplicated on the
screen unless the events depicted
were photographed in the actual
locations where they are supposed
to have taken place. It is the
great virtue of "The Black Rose",
a virtue that sets it apart from all
competition, that Twentieth Century-Fox traversed the world to
film it.

PERSONALS
Messrs. Frank Daley and Jack
Nesbit arrived home on Friday
evening from Saint John, N. B.,
where they had been attending
the annual conference of the Irving
Oil Company.—S.

THE BLACK ROSE AT
CAPITOL, SUMMERSIDE
Displays of grandeur and pas-
sion that dwarf anything of its
kind the screen has recorded in the
past, a lusty adventure story that
takes a bowman and a scholar to
far-off lands in the service of a
conqueror, and the breathtaking
color and beauty of far-away places,
these ingredients brew the es-
sence of "The Black Rose", the
magnificent Twentieth Century-
Fox picture at the Capitol Theatre.
The epic film is a form well
known to moviegoers, and great
screen spectacles have highlighted
motion picture entertainment from
the time the first flickers became
fact. But what you may
have seen before pales in the
presence of "The Black Rose". Span-
ning three continents, "The Black
Rose" takes Tyrone Power and
Jack Hawkins from a world of
English castles across the world in
pursuit of adventure. Through
Africa and Asia, Power and Hawk-
ins challenge and by their course
impress the great General Bayan,
played by Orson Welles, and serve
the beautiful lady known as "The
Black Rose", who crosses the path
of their pursuits. The role is ex-
citing and excitingly filled by
lovely newcomer, Cecile Aubry.
There is a glamour to high ad-
venture in distant lands that
couldn't be duplicated on the
screen unless the events depicted
were photographed in the actual
locations where they are supposed
to have taken place. It is the
great virtue of "The Black Rose",
a virtue that sets it apart from all
competition, that Twentieth Century-Fox traversed the world to
film it.

PERSONALS
Messrs. Frank Daley and Jack
Nesbit arrived home on Friday
evening from Saint John, N. B.,
where they had been attending
the annual conference of the Irving
Oil Company.—S.

THE BLACK ROSE AT
CAPITOL, SUMMERSIDE
Displays of grandeur and pas-
sion that dwarf anything of its
kind the screen has recorded in the
past, a lusty adventure story that
takes a bowman and a scholar to
far-off lands in the service of a
conqueror, and the breathtaking
color and beauty of far-away places,
these ingredients brew the es-
sence of "The Black Rose", the
magnificent Twentieth Century-
Fox picture at the Capitol Theatre.
The epic film is a form well
known to moviegoers, and great
screen spectacles have highlighted
motion picture entertainment from
the time the first flickers became
fact. But what you may
have seen before pales in the
presence of "The Black Rose". Span-
ning three continents, "The Black
Rose" takes Tyrone Power and
Jack Hawkins from a world of
English castles across the world in
pursuit of adventure. Through
Africa and Asia, Power and Hawk-
ins challenge and by their course
impress the great General Bayan,
played by Orson Welles, and serve
the beautiful lady known as "The
Black Rose", who crosses the path
of their pursuits. The role is ex-
citing and excitingly filled by
lovely newcomer, Cecile Aubry.
There is a glamour to high ad-
venture in distant lands that
couldn't be duplicated on the
screen unless the events depicted
were photographed in the actual
locations where they are supposed
to have taken place. It is the
great virtue of "The Black Rose",
a virtue that sets it apart from all
competition, that Twentieth Century-Fox traversed the world to
film it.

PERSONALS
Messrs. Frank Daley and Jack
Nesbit arrived home on Friday
evening from Saint John, N. B.,
where they had been attending
the annual conference of the Irving
Oil Company.—S.

THE BLACK ROSE AT
CAPITOL, SUMMERSIDE
Displays of grandeur and pas-
sion that dwarf anything of its
kind the screen has recorded in the
past, a lusty adventure story that
takes a bowman and a scholar to
far-off lands in the service of a
conqueror, and the breathtaking
color and beauty of far-away places,
these ingredients brew the es-
sence of "The Black Rose", the
magnificent Twentieth Century-
Fox picture at the Capitol Theatre.
The epic film is a form well
known to moviegoers, and great
screen spectacles have highlighted
motion picture entertainment from
the time the first flickers became
fact. But what you may
have seen before pales in the
presence of "The Black Rose". Span-
ning three continents, "The Black
Rose" takes Tyrone Power and
Jack Hawkins from a world of
English castles across the world in
pursuit of adventure. Through
Africa and Asia, Power and Hawk-
ins challenge and by their course
impress the great General Bayan,
played by Orson Welles, and serve
the beautiful lady known as "The
Black Rose", who crosses the path
of their pursuits. The role is ex-
citing and excitingly filled by
lovely newcomer, Cecile Aubry.
There is a glamour to high ad-
venture in distant lands that
couldn't be duplicated on the
screen unless the events depicted
were photographed in the actual
locations where they are supposed
to have taken place. It is the
great virtue of "The Black Rose",
a virtue that sets it apart from all
competition, that Twentieth Century-Fox traversed the world to
film it.

PERSONALS
Messrs. Frank Daley and Jack
Nesbit arrived home on Friday
evening from Saint John, N. B.,
where they had been attending
the annual conference of the Irving
Oil Company.—S.

THE BLACK ROSE AT
CAPITOL, SUMMERSIDE
Displays of grandeur and pas-
sion that dwarf anything of its
kind the screen has recorded in the
past, a lusty adventure story that
takes a bowman and a scholar to
far-off lands in the service of a
conqueror, and the breathtaking
color and beauty of far-away places,
these ingredients brew the es-
sence of "The Black Rose", the
magnificent Twentieth Century-
Fox picture at the Capitol Theatre.
The epic film is a form well
known to moviegoers, and great
screen spectacles have highlighted
motion picture entertainment from
the time the first flickers became
fact. But what you may
have seen before pales in the
presence of "The Black Rose". Span-
ning three continents, "The Black
Rose" takes Tyrone Power and
Jack Hawkins from a world of
English castles across the world in
pursuit of adventure. Through
Africa and Asia, Power and Hawk-
ins challenge and by their course
impress the great General Bayan,
played by Orson Welles, and serve
the beautiful lady known as "The
Black Rose", who crosses the path
of their pursuits. The role is ex-
citing and excitingly filled by
lovely newcomer, Cecile Aubry.
There is a glamour to high ad-
venture in distant lands that
couldn't be duplicated on the
screen unless the events depicted
were photographed in the actual
locations where they are supposed
to have taken place. It is the
great virtue of "The Black Rose",
a virtue that sets it apart from all
competition, that Twentieth Century-Fox traversed the world to
film it.

PERSONALS
Messrs. Frank Daley and Jack
Nesbit arrived home on Friday
evening from Saint John, N. B.,
where they had been attending
the annual conference of the Irving
Oil Company.—S.

THE BLACK ROSE AT
CAPITOL, SUMMERSIDE
Displays of grandeur and pas-
sion that dwarf anything of its
kind the screen has recorded in the
past, a lusty adventure story that
takes a bowman and a scholar to
far-off lands in the service of a
conqueror, and the breathtaking
color and beauty of far-away places,
these ingredients brew the es-
sence of "The Black Rose", the
magnificent Twentieth Century-
Fox picture at the Capitol Theatre.
The epic film is a form well
known to moviegoers, and great
screen spectacles have highlighted
motion picture entertainment from
the time the first flickers became
fact. But what you may
have seen before pales in the
presence of "The Black Rose". Span-
ning three continents, "The Black
Rose" takes Tyrone Power and
Jack Hawkins from a world of
English castles across the world in
pursuit of adventure. Through
Africa and Asia, Power and Hawk-
ins challenge and by their course
impress the great General Bayan,
played by Orson Welles, and serve
the beautiful lady known as "The
Black Rose", who crosses the path
of their pursuits. The role is ex-
citing and excitingly filled by
lovely newcomer, Cecile Aubry.
There is a glamour to high ad-
venture in distant lands that
couldn't be duplicated on the
screen unless the events depicted
were photographed in the actual
locations where they are supposed
to have taken place. It is the
great virtue of "The Black Rose",
a virtue that sets it apart from all
competition, that Twentieth Century-Fox traversed the world to
film it.

PERSONALS
Messrs. Frank Daley and Jack
Nesbit arrived home on Friday
evening from Saint John, N. B.,
where they had been attending
the annual conference of the Irving
Oil Company.—S.

THE BLACK ROSE AT
CAPITOL, SUMMERSIDE
Displays of grandeur and pas-
sion that dwarf anything of its
kind the screen has recorded in the
past, a lusty adventure story that
takes a bowman and a scholar to
far-off lands in the service of a
conqueror, and the breathtaking
color and beauty of far-away places,
these ingredients brew the es-
sence of "The Black Rose", the
magnificent Twentieth Century-
Fox picture at the Capitol Theatre.
The epic film is a form well
known to moviegoers, and great
screen spectacles have highlighted
motion picture entertainment from
the time the first flickers became
fact. But what you may
have seen before pales in the
presence of "The Black Rose". Span-
ning three continents, "The Black
Rose" takes Tyrone Power and
Jack Hawkins from a world of
English castles across the world in
pursuit of adventure. Through
Africa and Asia, Power and Hawk-
ins challenge and by their course
impress the great General Bayan,
played by Orson Welles, and serve
the beautiful lady known as "The
Black Rose", who crosses the path
of their pursuits. The role is ex-
citing and excitingly filled by
lovely newcomer, Cecile Aubry.
There is a glamour to high ad-
venture in distant lands that
couldn't be duplicated on the
screen unless the events depicted
were photographed in the actual
locations where they are supposed
to have taken place. It is the
great virtue of "The Black Rose",
a virtue that sets it apart from all
competition, that Twentieth Century-Fox traversed the world to
film it.

PERSONALS
Messrs. Frank Daley and Jack
Nesbit arrived home on Friday
evening from Saint John, N. B.,
where they had been attending
the annual conference of the Irving
Oil Company.—S.

THE BLACK ROSE AT
CAPITOL, SUMMERSIDE
Displays of grandeur and pas-
sion that dwarf anything of its
kind the screen has recorded in the
past, a lusty adventure story that
takes a bowman and a scholar to
far-off lands in the service of a
conqueror, and the breathtaking
color and beauty of far-away places,
these ingredients brew the es-
sence of "The Black Rose", the
magnificent Twentieth Century-
Fox picture at the Capitol Theatre.
The epic film is a form well
known to moviegoers, and great
screen spectacles have highlighted
motion picture entertainment from
the time the first flickers became
fact. But what you may
have seen before pales in the
presence of "The Black Rose". Span-
ning three continents, "The Black
Rose" takes Tyrone Power and
Jack Hawkins from a world of
English castles across the world in
pursuit of adventure. Through
Africa and Asia, Power and Hawk-
ins challenge and by their course
impress the great General Bayan,
played by Orson Welles, and serve
the beautiful lady known as "The
Black Rose", who crosses the path
of their pursuits. The role is ex-
citing and excitingly filled by
lovely newcomer, Cecile Aubry.
There is a glamour to high ad-
venture in distant lands that
couldn't be duplicated on the
screen unless the events depicted
were photographed in the actual
locations where they are supposed
to have taken place. It is the
great virtue of "The Black Rose",
a virtue that sets it apart from all
competition, that Twentieth Century-Fox traversed the world to
film it.

PERSONALS
Messrs. Frank Daley and Jack
Nesbit arrived home on Friday
evening from Saint John, N. B.,
where they had been attending
the annual conference of the Irving
Oil Company.—S.

THE BLACK ROSE AT
CAPITOL, SUMMERSIDE
Displays of grandeur and pas-
sion that dwarf anything of its
kind the screen has recorded in the
past, a lusty adventure story that
takes a bowman and a scholar to
far-off lands in the service of a
conqueror, and the breathtaking
color and beauty of far-away places,
these ingredients brew the es-
sence of "The Black Rose", the
magnificent Twentieth Century-
Fox picture at the Capitol Theatre.
The epic film is a form well
known to moviegoers, and great
screen spectacles have highlighted
motion picture entertainment from
the time the first flickers became
fact. But what you may
have seen before pales in the
presence of "The Black Rose". Span-
ning three continents, "The Black
Rose" takes Tyrone Power and
Jack Hawkins from a world of
English castles across the world in
pursuit of adventure. Through
Africa and Asia, Power and Hawk-
ins challenge and by their course
impress the great General Bayan,
played by Orson Welles, and serve
the beautiful lady known as "The
Black Rose", who crosses the path
of their pursuits. The role is ex-
citing and excitingly filled by
lovely newcomer, Cecile Aubry.
There is a glamour to high ad-
venture in distant lands that
couldn't be duplicated on the
screen unless the events depicted
were photographed in the actual
locations where they are supposed
to have taken place. It is the
great virtue of "The Black Rose",
a virtue that sets it apart from all
competition, that Twentieth Century-Fox traversed the world to
film it.

PERSONALS
Messrs. Frank Daley and Jack
Nesbit arrived home on Friday
evening from Saint John, N. B.,
where they had been attending
the annual conference of the Irving
Oil Company.—S.

THE BLACK ROSE AT
CAPITOL, SUMMERSIDE
Displays of grandeur and pas-
sion that dwarf anything of its
kind the screen has recorded in the
past, a lusty adventure story that
takes a bowman and a scholar to
far-off lands in the service of a
conqueror, and the breathtaking
color and beauty of far-away places,
these ingredients brew the es-
sence of "The Black Rose", the
magnificent Twentieth Century-
Fox picture at the Capitol Theatre.
The epic film is a form well
known to moviegoers, and great
screen spectacles have highlighted
motion picture entertainment from
the time the first flickers became
fact. But what you may
have seen before pales in the
presence of "The Black Rose". Span-
ning three continents, "The Black
Rose" takes Tyrone Power and
Jack Hawkins from a world of
English castles across the world in
pursuit of adventure. Through
Africa and Asia, Power and Hawk-
ins challenge and by their course
impress the great General Bayan,
played by Orson Welles, and serve
the beautiful lady known as "The
Black Rose", who crosses the path
of their pursuits. The role is ex-
citing and excitingly filled by
lovely newcomer, Cecile Aubry.
There is a glamour to high ad-
venture in distant lands that
couldn't be duplicated on the
screen unless the events depicted
were photographed in the actual
locations where they are supposed
to have taken place. It is the
great virtue of "The Black Rose",
a virtue that sets it apart from all
competition, that Twentieth Century-Fox traversed the world to
film it.

PERSONALS
Messrs. Frank Daley and Jack
Nesbit arrived home on Friday
evening from Saint John, N. B.,
where they had been attending
the annual conference of the Irving
Oil Company.—S.

THE BLACK ROSE AT
CAPITOL, SUMMERSIDE
Displays of grandeur and pas-
sion that dwarf anything of its
kind the screen has recorded in the
past, a lusty adventure story that
takes a bowman and a scholar to
far-off lands in the service of a
conqueror, and the breathtaking
color and beauty of far-away places,
these ingredients brew the es-
sence of "The Black Rose", the
magnificent Twentieth Century-
Fox picture at the Capitol Theatre.
The epic film is a form well
known to moviegoers, and great
screen spectacles have highlighted
motion picture entertainment from
the time the first flickers became
fact. But what you may
have seen before pales in the
presence of "The Black Rose". Span-
ning three continents, "The Black
Rose" takes Tyrone Power and
Jack Hawkins from a world of
English castles across the world in
pursuit of adventure. Through
Africa and Asia, Power and Hawk-
ins challenge and by their course
impress the great General Bayan,
played by Orson Welles, and serve
the beautiful lady known as "The
Black Rose", who crosses the path
of their pursuits. The role is ex-
citing and excitingly filled by
lovely newcomer, Cecile Aubry.
There is a glamour to high ad-
venture in distant lands that
couldn't be duplicated on the
screen unless the events depicted
were photographed in the actual
locations where they are supposed
to have taken place. It is the
great virtue of "The Black Rose",
a virtue that sets it apart from all
competition, that Twentieth Century-Fox traversed the world to
film it.

PERSONALS
Messrs. Frank Daley and Jack
Nesbit arrived home on Friday
evening from Saint John, N. B.,
where they had been attending
the annual conference of the Irving
Oil Company.—S.

THE BLACK ROSE AT
CAPITOL, SUMMERSIDE
Displays of grandeur and pas-
sion that dwarf anything of its
kind the screen has recorded in the
past, a lusty adventure story that
takes a bowman and a scholar to
far-off lands in the service of a
conqueror, and the breathtaking
color and beauty of far-away places,
these ingredients brew the es-
sence of "The Black Rose", the
magnificent Twentieth Century-
Fox picture at the Capitol Theatre.
The epic film is a form well
known to moviegoers, and great
screen spectacles have highlighted
motion picture entertainment from
the time the first flickers became
fact. But what you may
have seen before pales in the
presence of "The Black Rose". Span-
ning three continents, "The Black
Rose" takes Tyrone Power and
Jack Hawkins from a world of
English castles across the world in
pursuit of adventure. Through
Africa and Asia, Power and Hawk-
ins challenge and by their course
impress the great General Bayan,
played by Orson Welles, and serve
the beautiful lady known as "The
Black Rose", who crosses the path
of their pursuits. The role is ex-
citing and excitingly filled by
lovely newcomer, Cecile Aubry.
There is a glamour to high ad-
venture in distant lands that
couldn't be duplicated on the
screen unless the events depicted
were photographed in the actual
locations where they are supposed
to have taken place. It is the
great virtue of "The Black Rose",
a virtue that sets it apart from all
competition, that Twentieth Century-Fox traversed the world to
film it.

PERSONALS
Messrs. Frank Daley and Jack
Nesbit arrived home on Friday
evening from Saint John, N. B.,
where they had been attending
the annual conference of the Irving
Oil Company.—S.

THE BLACK ROSE AT
CAPITOL, SUMMERSIDE
Displays of grandeur and pas-
sion that dwarf anything of its
kind the screen has recorded in the
past, a lusty adventure story that
takes a bowman and a scholar to
far-off lands in the service of a
conqueror, and the breathtaking
color and beauty of far-away places,
these ingredients brew the es-
sence of "The Black Rose", the
magnificent Twentieth Century-
Fox picture at the Capitol Theatre.
The epic film is a form well
known to moviegoers, and great
screen spectacles have highlighted
motion picture entertainment from
the time the first flickers became
fact. But what you may
have seen before pales in the
presence of "The Black Rose". Span-
ning three continents, "The Black
Rose" takes Tyrone Power and
Jack Hawkins from a world of
English castles across the world in
pursuit of adventure. Through
Africa and Asia, Power and Hawk-
ins challenge and by their course
impress the great General Bayan,
played by Orson Welles, and serve
the beautiful lady known as "The
Black Rose", who crosses the path
of their pursuits. The role is ex-
citing and excitingly filled by
lovely newcomer, Cecile Aubry.
There is a glamour to high ad-
venture in distant lands that
couldn't be duplicated on the
screen unless the events depicted
were photographed in the actual
locations where they are supposed
to have taken place. It is the
great virtue of "The Black Rose",
a virtue that sets it apart from all
competition, that Twentieth Century-Fox traversed the world to
film it.

C.C.F. Candidate
For Fourth Prince

J. H. MacFarlane

J. Harrison MacFarlane, C.C.F. candidate for Assemblyman in Fourth Prince is widely known throughout the Province. He is a farmer at Bedeque and is the father of Douglas MacFarlane, Provincial president of the C.C.F.
Mr. MacFarlane has been extremely active in community and church work. For many years he was the provincial president of the Temperance Federation. Some years ago he represented the P. E. I.
Presbytery of the United Church at the General Council of that body in Belleville. Last summer he was a lay representative at the World Council of Churches held in Toronto. He is superintendent of the Bedeque United Sunday School and popular teacher of the Bible class there.
The site of the Prince County camp for Boy Scouts and Girl Guides is on Mr. MacFarlane's farm and hundreds of boys and girls know him as a genial and kindly host.

Howlan and Vicinity

Mrs. Frank Peters went to Duvar on Wednesday.

Mr. Lorraine Gallant was in Charlottetown on Wednesday.

Mr. Leo Arsenault motored to Charlottetown on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Arsenault and Mrs. Frank Richard motored to Alberton on Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Blanche-nard of Alberton motored to Howlan on Wednesday evening.

Mr. Angus Blanchard has been quite ill of pneumonia at his home in Duvar.

Mrs. Sylvang Arsenault of Howlan, R.R., has been a patient in Western Hospital suffering from double pneumonia.

Master Lorne Arsenault of Howlan on April 3rd had his 6th birthday. May you have many more Lorne.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd MacIntyre of St. Eleanors on Sunday attended the wake of the late Miss Josie Arsenault in Woodstock.

Mrs. Paul Dawson of Duvar has been visiting with her parents in Woodstock.

On Saturday Mrs. J. B. Arsen-ault had a visit from her niece, Mrs. Joey Gallant of Piusville.

Vincent Perry who has been employed in Summerside during the past winter is now at his home in Howlan.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Webb and Mr. and Mrs. Keith Webb, of Howlan, motored to Summerside on Saturday.

Mrs. Henry MacAusland and Mrs. Heber Bryan were in O'Leary on Monday.

Mrs. Catherine Gallant of Woodstock has now returned from Western Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Carruthers and sons Clayton, Calvin and George motored to Cape Wolfe on Monday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Benoit Des-Roches of Miscouche spent the week-end in Woodstock, where they attended the wake and funeral of Mrs. DesRoches' aunt, the late Miss Josie Arsenault, whose death occurred on Friday.

There was a very large attendance in O'Leary Hall on Tuesday night, April 3rd, when the Oliver Farm Machinery Co. put on their free show. Dealer for this company is A. H. Palmer.

Quite a few men from How-lan attended the auction sale at the residence of the late Nelson Gallant in Duvar which was held on Wednesday afternoon, April 4th where farm and all farming implements were sold.

Mrs. Wm. Shields of Howlan went to Duvar on Wednesday where she visited at the home of her brother Mr. and Mrs. Albert Martin.

Mr. Bruce Carruthers left on Thursday morning on a trip to Western Canada. He will travel by way of U.S.A. where he plans to visit his sister.

Mr. Raymond Martin returned to his home in Emerald Saturday after spending a week or more in Howlan at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. Arsenault.

Miss Leone Arsenault is spending some time in Charlottetown at the home of her aunt, Mrs.
Henry Perry and Mr. Perry, Mrs.
Perry having just had a slight operation.

Mr. Henry Gallant motored over from Halifax, N.S., to attend the public auction on Wednesday at the home of his late brother Nelson Gallant at Du-var which in spite of very bad roads was largely attended.

Sympathy from relatives and friends in Howlan are now going out to Mr. and Mrs. Jackie Gallant of Piusville on the death of their infant child in Alberton Hospital on Saturday. Burial took place on Sunday morning at St. Anthony's Church and ceremony, Rev. M. J. Rooney, pastor, officiating.

Mrs. Andrew Arsenault of Summerside is spending some time at the home of her daughter made to hold a Mother's Day service. Sick committee reported: one plant and one box of fruit sent to sick. There were fifteen home and three hospital calls reported. Next meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. Harry Weeks.

Mrs. Heber Weeks was appointed leader. Mrs. John Bertram to have prayer for Missionary. Roll Call to be answered by a verse beginning with "O". The last two verses of "Jesus Calls Us" was sung. Mrs.
Eldred weeks led in prayer and the meeting closed by repeating the Mizpah benediction in unison.

B. W. Taylor
President of S'ide Rotary

It was announced at the regular meeting of the Summerside Rotary Club held yesterday at Coyle's Restaurant that Mr. B.
W. Taylor has been chosen president of the club for the new year which commences on July 1st.
Other officers are: Vice president, Alan Holman; secretary, Earle Cannon; treasurer, T. Earle Hickey; directors, Wm. Hayward, R. E. Ellis, Dr. A. A. Lockhart; sergeant-at-arms, E. P. Foley.
Rotarian Lowell Hancock reported on plans for boys and girls week which is to be sponsored by the club. The guest speaker was Mr. Charles Yeo of Lot 16, president of the P. E. I.
Federation of Agriculture who gave a very interested address on the part that the Federation plays in the life of the community and the nation.
Guests were Mr. J. Watson MacNaught, M.P., and Mr. H. K.
Stright.—S.

Planes Leave
S'ide Tomorrow
For Far North

Tomorrow morning three Lancaster aircraft will take off from R.C.A.F. Station Summerside for two weeks of navigational exercises in the Far North. This will be the third annual exercise of this nature to be carried out and is part of the training of the specialist navigation course. One of these courses is held each year lasting six months.
The base for this northern operation will be Churchill, Manitoba with Resolute Bay on Con-wallis Island in the North-West Territories as an advanced base.
The members of this course are all experienced navigators and they are making the most advanced course of its kind in the world.
The purpose of this operation is to give them experience in polar techniques and to test out two pieces of equipment that have been developed by the R.C.A.F., an automatic sun compass and an automatic position indicator. They will be in the north about two weeks.
The course members are all R.C.
A.F. officers and one U.S. Air Force officer. Maintenance crews will be taken along from Summerside to keep the big planes in good flying condition while in the north. The operation will be under the command of Squadron Leader W. L. Gillespie, of Summerside and Toronto, who is officer in charge of specialist courses here.—S.

Borden

Mrs. David MacLeod and little daughter Jo Anne returned to Borden on Thursday after spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Revell Dickieson at New Glasgow.

Mrs. W. P. MacNeill and Mr. P.
J. McInnis of Borden were visitors to Charlottetown on Thursday.

Mrs. Arvile Leard and daughter, Mrs. Moses Peters of Borden, visited their daughter Joan and son Gerald in Charlottetown on Friday.

Mrs. Vernon Clough and son David of Halifax spent a few days last week visiting Mr. and Mrs.
Everett McKenna at Borden.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Robertson of Charlottetown were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Smallwood at Borden, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur MacMichen at Carleton.

Mr. and Mrs. Trueman Pate and children Jackie and Lex, of Burden, were visitors to O'Leary last week, guests of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Pate.

Mrs. Harold Coggins of Borden visited Halifax last week to be with her mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Martin and family of Duvar. On Wednesday Mrs. Arsenault visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Firmin Perry in Howlan.

Mrs. Jerry Arsenault spent Easter with her mother in Du-var, returning to her home here on Monday.

Many Applications
For Construction
Job In Labrador

Apparently there are a lot of men in Summerside and vicinity with a desire to spend the summer in Labrador. Ever since the announcement was made last week that the National Employment Officers in the Maritimes would recruit men for a big American construction job in Labrador. The Summerside office has been crowded with applicants. Up to yesterday evening 112 applications for various types of work had been filled out and it is estimated that at least 50 more have been turned away and will return today or tomorrow to get their names in.
The office will be open this evening from 7:30 to nine o'clock to accommodate people who are unable to come in the daytime because they are holding jobs. It is not by any means only the unemployed who are interested in the Labrador prospects. The Employ-