THE DAILY EXAMINER.

JULY 14, 1897.

THE NOMINATIONS.

PRACTICALLY there are on the Government side the same old guard who supported the autocratic rule of the Hon. Frederick Peters throughout the past six years. We quote two or three new names; but they don't amount to anything,—just men to fill in. On the Opposition side, however, there are highly gratifying accessions. In the far East there is John McLean, a man of proved ability and wide experience in politics. In the far West we have Edward Hackett, ditto. These men, on either hand, will greatly strengthen the cause of the people as against increased deficit and taxation under Mr. Peters. Between them there is a phalanx which any political leader might be proud to marshal—John Kickham, W. A. O. Morson, James McIsaac, James E. McDonald, Cyrus Shaw, Albert P. Prowse, A. J. McDonald, James E. Birch, William Dennis, James Yeo, J. A. McDonald, J. F. Arsenaull, William Campbell, Malcolm Ross, Gilbert DesRoches, A. A. Lefurgey, D. B. McLeod, Samuel Beaton, Alexander Horne, R. McMillan, P. McCourt, T. A. McLean, Henry Wood, A. A. McLean, James Paton and Patrick Blake—these are the men, called by the people, who have taken the field, under Gordon, against our Napoleon of politics, freed from Ottawa, and now marching at the head of "the old guard" to his Waterloo. Speaking generally it may be truly said that these men are representatives of the people of Prince Edward Island. The intelligence, the practical ability and character of the people are, upon the whole, well set forth in them. Most of them have made their mark as farmers, or men of business, or in the professions, and have shown in their lives and conduct the best proofs in the world that they will, when given the opportunity, deal carefully and honorably and practically with the interests of the People of the Province.

A PRETTY SITUATION.

ALL over the Province the fight is between One-Man-Power—fortified by mortgages, judgments and Acts of Parliament made to give him unfair advantages, together with the great influence of two Governments—and the independent taxpayers of the Province who have been deceived, imposed upon and humbugged. The battle is particularly hot in this city and the Fort Augustus District. These electorates are within easy reach of Mr. Peters and his myrmidons. The people's candidates are, however, combatting in a manly way, the arts and efforts resorted to by Messrs. McCourt and McLean have, we learn, created a favorable impression wherever they have addressed the people, and their canvass has so far been highly satisfactory. Messrs. Paton and Blake are gaining ground and strength from day to day. The struggle between Peters and the People is a pretty one. We shall see who will win.

—Mr. Laurier has appropriated another grand idea of the Late Sir John A. McDonald—the idea of an auxiliary nation. In the course of his First July speech, in London, he says: "Were we severed from England we could not have more power and more freedom than we have at the present time (cheers), and all thinking men with us have come to the conclusion that there is as much freedom, more power, more wealth, and more happiness in union than in separation (Cheers). We are giving thus a fresh example, to our sister colonies, and if the example we have given is followed elsewhere, if a federation takes place in Australia, if another confederation takes place in South Africa by-and-by, in a few years the earth will have been settled by a series of independent nations,—which, however, will recognize the suzerainty of England; and it seems to me that in this fact alone there will be security for the peace of the world at large. (Cheers.)"

WITHOUT FOUNDATION.

The Peters Government have committed this Province to the erection of two costly structures—a wing to the P. E. Hospital for Insane and a new building for the Prince of Wales College. Both were to have been constructed this summer. But the work is not proceeding. If Mr. Chappell states that which is true in the letter which we publish to-day—and we are bound to assume that he does—why have Mr. Peters and his Commissioner of Public Works not let the contract and meet the expectations of Dr. Anderson and the Professors and the students who want the building? There must be something wrong somewhere. Mr. Chappell is silent concerning the foundation though he must know that the strongest timbers in the world are useless if a foundation upon which they may be raised has not been provided. We note that Mr. Walter Lowe declares in his letter that a foundation has not been provided for the new wing to the Asylum. Is it possible the College building is also without foundation? Perhaps the architect's mistakes are as shadows of a coming event. We shall presently hear that there is no bottom to the Peters Government.

ESTEEMED EXCHANGES

Montreal Gazette: The statement of the net debt of Canada on 30th of June according to returns furnished to the Finance department, shows it to have been $254,581,509. This is an increase of $4,155,000 during the twelve months the Laurier government has been in power. The economists are coming high.

Montreal Star: The national debt continues to grow. It jumped from $318,000,000 to 330,000,000 in the last year. Have the people of this country any limit to their minds beyond which they will not permit their property to be mortgaged? St John Sun: Mr. Laurier developed his humbug "British policy," went to England, made some speeches, got his title, and will come back again. In due season there will be a return to the Canadian policy of the conservative party, which is real preferential trade, beneficial to both Canada and the mother country, and in the best interests of the empire. The sudden and spectacular royalty of the grit leaders deceives nobody on this side of the water.

The Empire, (London): SIR DONALD SMITH will sit in the House of Lords as Lord Glenoch. Lord Lorne said he did not know how to address Sir Donald, who, for the moment, was a Peer without a title; but, as he aptly put it, the best way out of the difficulty would be to call him the Lord High Commissioner. Sir Donald was nearly congratulated by everyone present on his elevation to the House of Lords, and he—dear, kindly man—looked so happy. Some people who are created members of the House of Lords never look like Peers are expected to look, but Sir Donald Smith is exactly one's idea of how a noble Lord should look—eyebrows, beard, and all.

BROOKFIELD MEETING

Strong Feeling Against the Government—Opposition Candidates Cheered. A joint political meeting was held at the Brookfield Hall last evening. The hall was filled to the doors. Angus McLeod was appointed chairman. The four candidates were allowed half an hour each.

James McLean, West River (tax-gatherer) addressed the meeting for about ten minutes, imploring the electors to vote for the government candidates so he could hold his office for four years longer. John Balderston made a short address on the new tax act. He was replied to by Mr. Horne.

Mr. Farquharson has a horde of Government officials following him to every meeting to give him cheers such as tax gatherers, road supervisors, Soot Act prosecutors, Registry Office officials and others.

The Conservative candidates had the best of the meeting. Three hearty cheers were given for Messrs. Horne and McMillan, but the Government candidates could not get a cheer. This looks well for the Conservative candidates. Around Brookfield there seems to be a strong feeling against the Government.

Fine - - - Baby Days.

These June days your doctor will tell you that it's wrong to keep the little folks indoors this kind of weather. The spring air will make baby plump and healthy. See that yours gets it. No need to worry about how to do it. We have the Carriages, and as the season is getting late, we will make the prices interesting on the few remaining in stock.

COLLEGIATE SCHOOL, WINDSOR, N. S.

A CABLE message received from the Bishop of Nova Scotia announces that, after a personal interview with four selected candidates, he has chosen Mr. F. T. Handsombody, B. A., of Trinity College, Dublin, to fill the position of head master of this school. In making the appointment regard has been had not so much to Academic distinction as to personal character and successful experience in teaching and general school management. That is the reason why candidates who have obtained high mathematical honors in the University of Cambridge have been passed over in favor of the gentlemen selected. Mr. Handsombody has been for more than ten years assistant master in Sir W. Borlace's endowed school, Great Marlow, England, and for the last seven years he has had joint management of one of the school houses. The head master of this school in writing of Mr. Handsombody says that "he fully understands the management of a boarding school, and he has always had the greatest confidence in assigning boys to his care;" that "the school examiners have frequently complimented Mr. Handsombody on the work of his pupils;" that he is an excellent disciplinarian and maintains perfect order without harshness;" and, what is of the greatest importance, he speaks in the highest terms of his moral character, and of the good influence he exercises upon the boys with whom he is brought in contact. The second master, endorsing what is said by the head master, adds that Mr. Handsombody is a strong-minded man, universally respected by the boys, and may be depended upon to do his best in whatever he undertakes.

The boys of the Collegiate school will be glad to know that Mr. Handsombody is an unusually good all-round athlete. In reference to this the head master writes: "He is a first-rate cricket and football player, and has rendered excellent service in coaching the XI's and taking an interest in the pursuits of the boys out of school." Several others who have had facilities for forming an opinion of Mr. Handsombody's character and capabilities speak of him in the same high terms. Indeed he seems to have borne the same character from his youth up. In leaving the school where he was educated, at the age of eighteen, he is spoken of as having had an excellent influence upon the younger boys. We feel that the Collegiate School is to be congratulated upon having obtained the services of its new head master, and predict for it a future of ever-increasing usefulness and prosperity.

Our Summer Song

Her thistle waves upon the fields
Where Wallace wore his blade,
That gave her foeman's dearest blood
To dye her auld grey plaid,
And looking to the left my lads,
He sang this doughty glee,
Straw Hats and Silk Coats for me,

Gae bring my guid auld harp ance mair
Gae bring it free and fast,
For I maun sing anither song
Ere a' my glee is past,
And trow ye as I sing my lads,
The burden o't shall be,
Straw Hats and Silk Coats for me.

It shall not be brave Wallace cried.
Unless you buy your Straw Hats at
Paton's,
They come, they come, was the gallant
cry,
For Straw Hats and Lustré Coats to Paton's.
And stretching far beneath the view.
There are,
Hundreds of Straw Hats, Silk Coats
And Lustré Garments for you.
