CEASE-FIRE TRUCE SIGNED

New Shooting Reported In Dominican Republic

By DAN GOTTLEBER
SANTO DOMINGO (Reuters) — The peace mission of the Organization of American States announced Wednesday that a formal agreement on a cease-fire has been reached among warring factions in the Dominican Republic's civil war which broke out April 24.

The agreement was signed for the "constitutional government" — the rebel side — by Col. Francisco Caamaño Dengo and four other leaders and for the three-man military junta headed by Col. Pedro Bartolome Benoit.

The Associated Press reported a sharp renewal of gunfire here Wednesday night. There were unverified reports that four U.S. soldiers were seized by rebel forces.

The United States announced in the UN Security Council that both sides in the conflict had signed a "firm truce."

The U.S. ambassador to the UN, Adlai Stevenson, said the "firm truce" made the cease-fire formal.

The five-man OAS mission, which was recognized in the agreement as overseers confirming observance of the accord, also signed.

PROVIDES CEASEFIRE

The agreement provided for a cease-fire, respect for diplomatic missions, the right to evacuate all refugees and those who had sought asylum in embassies, and free access throughout the city for international relief workers distributing food to all factions.

The agreement was reached after a day of relative calm in the island republic, where U.S. troops were sent in to help restore peace.

News of the cease-fire came as a ministerial session of the OAS in Washington, called to discuss a Latin American peace force for the Dominican Republic, was postponed for a third time.

Diplomatic sources said the postponements were due to behind-the-scenes efforts to find a solution acceptable to a majority of the member states.

Mayor Yeo Named Head Of Municipal Organization

Mayor B.H. Yeo of Montague was elected president of the P.E.I. Federation of Mayors and Municipalities yesterday at the eighth annual meeting of the federation at Confederation Centre.

Other officers are first vice-president, Mayor W.E. Jenkins, Summerside; second vice-president, Mayor H.S. MacLean, Georgetown; executive members, Everett MacKenna, Bordier; Herb Schurman, Summerside; Mrs. Dorothy Corrigan, Charlottetown; Arthur Wright, Charlottetown; Andrew Meurant, Souris; and John Hughes, Montague.

A highlight of the one-day meeting, which was presided over by Mayor Roy Leard of Alberton, was the annual banquet last evening which was addressed by Hon. J. David Stewart, minister of municipal affairs.

SUMMARIZES ISSUES

Mr. Stewart summarized some of the issues confronting municipalities with regard to administrative functions. "Towns and villages command the respect and the confidence of their people only as local officials demonstrate a capacity to deal capably with finances, public services and future planning," he told delegates.

A major achievement of the municipalities, he said, has been progress made toward development of sound accounting systems. "Such accounting systems pay big dividends in increased local confidence, in eliminating the confusion that sometimes exists relative to municipal finance and in making the community readily entitled to the various types of financial support that are available."

The minister assured town representatives that "his department would arrange for any technical planning guidance needed if we mutually agree that it is desirable." He expressed the hope that the municipalities

EPA Probe Ends; Report Is Delayed

OTTAWA (CP) — The transport department is believed to have satisfied itself on the cause of a crash of an Eastern Provincial Airways plane in March but no details are being released yet.

A department official said Wednesday "we think we've got it wrapped up" but it would be a month or more before all the technical studies are incorporated into a complete report.

The EPA turbo-prop Dart Herald plunged into the woods near Upper Musquodoboit, N.S., March 17, killing all eight persons aboard. There were reports at the time that the aircraft, on a flight from Halifax to Sydney, N.S., exploded in the air before plunging to the ground.

Since then a five-man investigation team from the transport department has been piecing together evidence in an effort to establish the cause of the accident.

SDU Student Named To Teach In Borneo

Catherine Duffy, a senior arts student at St. Dunstan's University, was recently selected to serve overseas by the national committee of the Canadian University Service Overseas (CUSO). She will teach school in Sarawak, North Borneo for a period of two years.

Ms. Duffy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Duffy, Kinross, P.E.I., and will graduate from SDU on May 11 with a Bachelor of Arts degree.

CUSO was established in 1961 as a result of the initiative of Canadian universities. It is a national agency which develops plans to send Canadian volunteers to serve in developing countries.

The organization undertakes to consider any Canadian qualified in his or her field who is willing to spend two years "serving and learning" as a volunteer in a developing country. In many ways the objectives of CUSO are similar to those of the United States Peace Corps except that CUSO finances itself through its annual national campaign and private sources whereas the Peace Corps is financed entirely by the United States government.

At present, CUSO has programs underway in 23 developing countries in Asia, South-East Asia, East and West Africa, the Caribbean area and South America. During the coming year it hopes to extend its program in East Africa and to expand its placements in one or two countries in South America.

MISS DUFFY

In most cases CUSO has volunteers in countries where there is an office of the Canadian High Commission or the Canadian Embassy.

Miss Duffy is the first student from SDU to be selected by the CUSO national committee. She will attend an orientation program, probably at the University of British Columbia, in August which will provide her with basic information about the language, history, economy and culture of Sarawak.

She expects to arrive in Sarawak in September where she will receive further indoctrination from the 10 CUSO volunteers already there.

Budget Gets Approval As Debate Winds Up

THE PRINCE Edward Island Division of the Canadian Mental Health Association held their annual meeting at the Charlottetown Hotel last night. Seen prior to discussion of the budget are: G. R. MacNutt, president of the P.E.I. Division of the Association; J. H. Maloney, past president also of Charlottetown; and B. Henry Moyses of Summerside, vice-president of the Prince County branch and Dr. J. H. Maloney, past president also of Charlottetown.

OFFICERS ARE ELECTED

Mental Health Problems Discussed At Meeting

"We have passed out of the 17th and 18th centuries and the belief that mental illness was due to demonic possession or a result of evil acts," said Dr. J.H. Maloney, past president of the P.E.I. branch of the Canadian Mental Health Association last night.

More and more the character of our times is the recognition that, at times, there are "boundary situations" in which all men find themselves when sanity overlaps with madness. In short, he continued, "the mark of our times is that we have begun to recognize that when we talk of mental illness, we are talking about ourselves."

Dr. Maloney said that the aim of a mental health organization was to improve the care of the mentally ill, and to educate the public to the recognition and acceptance of mental illness.

SEVICE TO PATIENTS

The services-to-patients program was covered in the report of the executive director, Urban McQuaid, who gave a somewhat detailed report of the library service, the apparel shop, bowling alleys and all other activities carried out by volunteer workers during the year.

In the field of public education, this division, in association with the Institute of Pastoral Training, again sponsored a workshop for Prince Edward Island clergymen, the emphasis this year being on "pastoral counselling." A number of teachers' workshops were also arranged and the response by the clergy was said to be most encouraging.

In May 1964, Mrs. Laura Kitchen represented the P.E.I. Division at the CMHA national annual meeting in Toronto.

The 1965 annual meeting will be held in Charlottetown June 27 to 30 and most of programme sessions will be held at the Royal Canadian Legion Home.

During 1964, the Prince Edward Island branch of the Association received $9,100 which was 90 per cent of the budget accepted by the fund for CMHA.

The Provincial government gave the P.E.I. Division a grant of $1,000 in support of work in this province.

Dr. Maloney said, "finally, as I retire from this office, I would like to thank personally the directors and staff of this organization for all they have done during my term of office."

Dr. M. N. Beck, on retirement from the scientific planning committee said, "during the past year I have committed myself to participating in an intense study of the needs of children with emotional and learning disorders which is jointly sponsored by five national voluntary organizations of which the Canadian Mental Health Association is one. The time which I have devoted to this national study would interfere rather drastically with the attention I could devote to being chairman of our local scientific planning committee."

He said "I am confident that there will be no difficulty presented in our previously constituted sub-committee finishing its present task and reporting its findings to the newly constituted Scientific Planning Committee."

Uranium Sale To France Near Reality

OTTAWA (CP) — Negotiations between France and Canada for the sale of 100,000 pounds of Canadian uranium oxide are reported to be drawing closer to agreement.

An official said the sale negotiated by Denison Uranium Mines to the European Atomic Energy pool mainly for France is all but completed, pending approval by the Canadian government.

External Affairs Minister Martin, now in Europe, is expected to touch on the subject when he confers with the French foreign ministry. An official here closely connected with the situation said "the matter now is in the hands of the diplomats."

New Brush Fires Reported In N.S.

HALIFAX (CP) — Two houses and a shed were damaged by separate brush fires in eastern Halifax County Wednesday.

The lands and forests department said the fires were among 16 that erupted in dry woodlands in Halifax and Hants Counties.

A house was burned at West Quoddy and a house and shed were damaged at Sober Island. Both communities are near Sheet Harbor.

The biggest fire was reported near Windsor, N.S., where 100 acres of softwood was burned.

Mrs. Pearson Inaugurates Retarded Children's Week

By BRENDA LARGE

OTTAWA (CP) — Mrs. Lester B. Pearson planted a packet of zinnia seeds in her sunshine-flooded garden Wednesday to inaugurate Canadian Retarded Children's week, May 9 to 16.

The seeds were symbolic of the first national "flowers of hope" campaign of the Canadian Association for Retarded Children. Mrs. Pearson's packet was the first of 2,000,000 being mailed to Canadians from coast to coast to raise money for the association's work.

Mrs. Pearson displayed a fine gardener's touch as she neatly slipped the zinnia seeds into a small plot on the side lawn of the prime minister's residence at 24 Sussex Drive. Then she carefully covered them with a hoe.

Two little girls from the Brighthope School represented Canada's 500,000 retarded children.

Danielle, 9, and Patricia, 7, wearing pastel-colored dresses, presented Mrs. Pearson with a bouquet of carnations.

The prime minister's wife, who has eight grandchildren, said: "On behalf of all the mothers of Canada and particularly in honor of Mother's Day, I want to thank these two charming little girls, Danielle, who is French-speaking, and Patricia, who is English-speaking, and who are representing all the retarded children of Canada, for the beautiful flowers they have given me."

"I am grateful for the opportunity to announce Canadian Retarded Children's Week, and to plant these flower seeds here at the prime minister's house to commemorate the first national 'flowers of hope' 'Fleurs d'Espoir' campaign for Canada's more than half-million retarded children."

She said the flower seed financial campaign would be used to maintain the local associations' educational programs, and for research and service program development.

"Money, however, is not the only need these associations require. They need the understanding, acceptance and moral support of every citizen. When this community acceptance of the mentally retarded becomes a reality a great portion of the battle against this great affliction will be won."

Forced Roll-Call Declared Poor Show

OTTAWA (CP) — Finance Minister Gordon, seeking a vote of confidence in his third budget, Wednesday forced and won a formal roll-call vote as the six-day budget debate came to an end.

"We'll see who votes against it," the finance minister joked after taking the unusual step of precipitating the vote on the main motion.

The vote was 132 to 86, with 14 New Democrats, seven Social Crediters and independent Remi Paul joining with 110 Liberals. Seventy-five conservatives and 11 Créditistes opposed the motion.

Recent budget debates often have concluded without a formal vote. The six-day budget debate provides an opportunity for two motions of non-confidence. The government was sustained on these votes Monday and last Thursday.

None of the opposition groups indicated any intention of forcing a vote when Speaker Alan Macnaughton stopped the debate and put forward the motion for approval.

SHOUTS 'POOR SHOW'

When the finance minister and several Liberal MPs stood to force the roll-call, Marcel Lambert (PC—Edmonton West) shouted "poor show."

Earlier this week Mr. Gordon told the Commons a vote against his budget would be a vote against tax cuts, expansion of the economy and increased employment measures.

The budget, read to the House April 26, contained proposals for a 10-per-cent reduction in the basic income tax and a Canada Development Corporation to encourage individual Canadians to invest in the country's economic development.

The conclusion of the debate and the vote represented approval in principle for the budget. Resolutions to provide authority for the specific measures must come before the Commons at a later date.

Five MPs—all Conservatives—were paired with absent members and did not vote. They were: Paul Martineau (Ontario—Terrenceville), Hugh John Flemming (Victoria—Carleton Place), Heber Smith (Simcoe—North), R. G. L. Fairweather (Royal) and Gerard Ouellet (Rimouski).

The government was sustained 106 to 90 on a New Democrat non-confidence motion last Thursday and 111 to 100 on the main Conservative non-confidence motion Monday.

The opposition parties will have opportunities for further confidence tests when a two-day supply debate opens Monday.

WRANGLE AN HOUR

Earlier, MPs spent almost an hour wrangling and then voting over the government's refusal to release secret working papers involved in the negotiation of the recent Canada - United States auto trade agreement.

The Commons voted 130 to 83 to uphold Speaker Macnaughton's ruling that a motion by Alfred D. Hales (PC—Wellington South) to have the papers produced should be debated at a later date during a private members' hour. This means that after a total of 2½ hours of discussion there would be a vote on whether the government should disclose the papers.

Industry Minister Drury, who led the Canadian negotiating team, said the papers contained "interim negotiating positions" of the two governments and were therefore privileged.

Mr. Macnaughton's ruling was supported by 111 Liberals, 13 New Democrats, five Social Credit members and independent Remi Paul. Seventy Conservatives and 12 Créditistes opposed it.

Insults Anger Nfld. Senator

OTTAWA (CP) — Senator Malcolm Hollett (PC — Newfoundland) said Wednesday he resents what he called "recent insults and nasty descriptions" of senators.

The senator, speaking in the throne speech debate, said: "In recent days you (the senators) have been subjected to all sorts of insults and nasty descriptions by some of our parliamentary colleagues in the other place. You have been described as party hacks and bagmen."

"Some of us have even been described as party fund-raisers. What a crime for us to have taken part in such activities in the past."

He said he did not even want to meet "that mousetrapped trout" who said such things about the Senate.

Last week, Douglas Fisher of the New Democratic Party said in the Commons the main use of the Senate is to take care of "bagmen"—party fund raisers—and ministers and MPs the prime minister wanted to "boot upstairs."

His statements, and those of other Senate critics, have caused a rash of protests in the upper chamber.

Dr. Sheppard To Fight Back To Prison Order

CINCINNATI (AP) — A federal court ordered Dr. Sam Sheppard back to prison Wednesday for his wife's slaying, but his lawyer vowed to keep him permanently free.

The 41-year-old osteopath, convicted and sentenced to a life term after a trial in 1954, was guaranteed 20 more days of freedom from the German divorcee he married soon after a federal judge ordered him released from prison last July 13.

His lawyer, F. Lee Bailey, said in Boston an appeal would be carried to the U.S. Supreme Court, if necessary. "We are satisfied still that the end result will be that Dr. Sheppard's freedom will become permanent," Bailey said.

Sheppard and his new wife, the former Ariane Tebbenjohanns, got the news at the suburban Cleveland home where they have lived quietly since U.S. District Judge Carl Weisman ruled sheppard had not received a fair trial because of publicity. The state had appealed the ruling.

Even if Sheppard goes back to prison, he will be eligible to apply for parole immediately. He served 10 years.

Sheppard refused to say anything about Wednesday's ruling.

The 6th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, in a 2-1 decision, agreed with Judge Weisman that publicity about the Sheppard trial "was not of a nature calculated to inspire confidence in the objectivity and good taste of the public news media."

But the ruling held Sheppard's rights to a fair trial had not been violated. The publicity it said, was not "of a nature calculated to create lasting opinions as to Dr. Sheppard's guilt."

The opinion was signed by Judges Clifford O'Sullivan and Harry Phillips.

Judge George Edwards dissented, contending errors by the trial judge in communications to the jury should give Sheppard a new hearing.

"Sheppard has maintained his innocence since he was arrested 16 days after his pregnant wife, Marilyn, was found bludgeoned to death July 4, 1954, in their suburban Cleveland home."

He steadfastly maintained a "bushy-haired" intruder killed her. He contended he was asleep at the time.

Surrender Is Marked

DEVENTER (Reuters) — Large crowds in this Dutch town watched Canadian troops Wednesday as they marched past Gen. Charles Foulkes who accepted the surrender of the German forces in Holland 20 years ago.

The troops were from Canada's NATO force in West Germany.

Earlier the Canadian army, including Brig. T. Graeme Gibson, wartime commander of the 7th Canadian Infantry Brigade, attended a remembrance service at the Canadian military cemetery at Holten, eastern Holland.
