...THE LATE MRS. CHARLES E. BROWN—DIED FEBRUARY 2, 1922

There occurred at the Ainslie hospital, Triro, February 2nd, at 6 p. m., the death of Mrs. Charles E. Brown, Camden, Col., N. S. The deceased, who was 60 years of age, had been ailing since a short time before Christmas and her health continued to fail she entered the hospital for treatment, her condition did not improve and she passed to her eternal rest on the date mentioned.

Mrs. Brown was the daughter of the late William McKay of Clinton, P. E. Island and leaves to mourn her loss, Alexander McKay, of Hinton and three sisters, Mrs. John Ross of Quincey, Mass., Mrs. J. Trowsdale, Quincey, Mass., and Mrs. J. W. Keeler, Boston. She possessed a genial and amiable disposition and enjoyed the respect and love of all who were privileged to make her acquaintance; moreover she was a loving wife and devoted mother, possessing in a marked degree the gift of being a true home-maker.

"ENDURANCE" is not merely a trade name—it is a description of the character of the paint that bears it. For GLIDDEN ENDURANCE PAINT endures.

The eating, corroding effect of rain and wind, the heat of summer, the frosts of winter or the acid laden smoke of the cities has little effect upon it. It spreads easily and evenly, filling cracks and crevices with an all-protecting coat. It is more than just a paint—it is an insurance against depreciation.

Buildings painted regularly with ENDURANCE PAINT are proof against rot and rust. They retain their fresh appearance and the passage of time does not lessen their value. Upkeep, the bugbear of property owners, is reduced to a minimum through the regular use of this sturdy, weather-resisting paint.
