new stock, thus created, was to be. Many old imposts, on the contrary, from which the country has been lately relieved by the Imperial Government, in its tentative, cautious, and gradual approaches towards the economical principle of Free-trade, will probably never be revived. In England, the continuance and duplication of the Income-tax, and certain new dues on foreign bills of exchange drawn abroad (dues to be levied in a superior method; which was suggested to the Chancellor of the Exchequer, we are informed, by a Mr. Pace, of the City) constitute the chief fiscal peculiarities of our great war budget.

THE SPARK OF TEMPER.

The fire was burning brightly on a farmer's hearth—not a quiet coal fire, in a tidy little black grate—no, this was an old-fashioned brick hearth, and great logs of wood were piled on it one upon another, crackling and blazing. Among them was one of those logs which, for some reason or other—it is hard to say why—are always spitting out sparks all around; a log not at all safe to leave; and, unhappily Susan, the farmer's wife, having been called out suddenly, had never given one look at the fire. Spit! spit! went the log, and out flies a great spark!—never mind, no harm will happen; it has fallen into a large basin of water. There is a moment's hissing, as if the clear, cold water did not understand such a fiery visitor, so all unlike itself; but the water has prevailed, the spark is quite extinguished. Spit! spit! goes the log—out flies another spark! Where will this light? It has fallen into a wisp of dry hay, with which Susan was going to pack a basket. The hay is so dry it catches like tinder. O, what a blaze! it is well it is a brick floor, and that nothing else is near, or the whole house might have been on fire. Susan must make haste home; but Susan does not come home, and now it is worse than ever, for the very next spark that flies out lights on the farmer's gunpowder flask, carelessly left open on the table. There is not much powder, but enough to do great mischief, for, of course, it explodes at once, and crash goes the window, part of the side of the house is blown out, and the rose, which climbed up it, torn down. It will take many days, and many pounds too, to repair the damage that spark has done, and years must pass before the traces of it are altogether gone.

You will be more than usually happy, my friends, if you never come across a crackling log, spitting its sparks of fire. I do not mean a log of wood on the hearth, but one of those fiery tempers whose angry words fly like sparks all around. Notice, the mischief done depended not only on the spark, but on the place where it fell. When an angry word falls on a gentle, loving heart, there will be a moment's pain—all the sharper because such words are so strange there, but it will not last: by one of those soft answers that turn away wrath—by some good-tempered merriment, turning aside ill-will—by some means or other, the loving heart will conquer—there will be no flame there! But if it falls on an irritable temper, ready, like the dry hay, to take fire at anything, what a blaze there will be! it will be well if such a one is alone at the moment, for if others are near, the flame will be in danger of running round rapidly. Do not boast of having too high a spirit to brook a word of reproach—it is dangerous to be dry hay when sparks are flying! But, above all, do not be a flask of gunpowder; do not join malice and revenge to a hasty temper; do not let every stray spark that falls on you lead to an explosion, or boast that none ever injured you without reaping consequences they rue, perhaps, for long years. The gunpowder is mighty, but it is fearful—Q, hateful power!—Rev. E. H. Bickersteth.

Fair Reasoning.—One evening, when the House of Commons were going to adjourn, John Wilkes begged permission to make a speech, "for," said he, "I have sent a copy to the Public Advertiser, and how ridiculous should I appear if it were published without having been delivered!"

Mock and Real.—"Ah! you don't know what muthical enththiathm ith!" said a music-mad miss to Tom Hood. "Excuse me, madam," replied the wit, "but I do: musical enthusiam is like turtle soup; for every quart of real, there are ninety nine gallons of mock, and calves' head in proportion."

The miseries of wedded life are the most delicate of all sorrows to deal with; a third party cannot interfere sncessfully with them; for if a man interferes he offends the husband, and if a woman interferes she offends the wife; and to appeal to the law is to send the bellman through the street and proclaim the whole story. If the two parties cannot settle the matter amicably themselves there is no hope; for living together as they do in the house, all depends on their mutual discretion and forbearance.

Van Amburgh drove a ten-in-hand through London, and his horses had only twenty-four feet among them. How was that?—They boast twenty fore feet.

How to Live upon Air.—Become an aronaut.

It was told Jekyl, that one of his friends, a brewer, had been drowned in his own vat. "Ah!" he exclaimed, "floating on his watery bier."

We Wonder.—When a lady draws herself up, where does she go to?

Can anybody be drowned as long as his head swims?

Was the man who fell into an error much injured in his descent.

The Great British Quarterlies, and Blackwood's Magazine!

LEONARD SCOTT & CO. New York, continue to Re-publish the following British Periodicals, viz.:

1. The London Quarterly Review (Conservative.)
2. The Edinburgh Review (Whig.)
3. The North British Review (Free Church.)
4. The Westminster Review (Liberal.)
5. Blackwood's Edinburgh Magazine (Tory.)

The present critical state of European affairs renders these publications unusually interesting. They occupy a middle ground between the hastily written news items, crude speculations and flying rumours of the daily Journal, and the ponderous Tome of the future historian, written after the living interest and excitement of the great political events of the time shall have passed away. It is to these Periodicals that readers must look for the only reliable history of current events, and as such, in addition to their well-established literary, scientific, and theological character, we urge them upon the consideration of the reading public.

Arrangements are made for the receipt of early sheets from the British Publishers, by which we are able to place all our Re-prints in the hands of subscribers, about as soon as they can be furnished with the foreign copies. Although this involves a very large outlay on our part, we shall continue to furnish the Periodicals at the same low rates as heretofore, viz:—

| | Per an. |
|---|---|
| For any one of the four Reviews | $3 00 |
| For any two of the four Reviews, | 5 00 |
| For any three of the four Reviews, | 7 00 |
| For all four of the Reviews, | 8 00 |
| For Blackwood's Magazine, | 3 00 |
| For Blackwood and three Reviews, | 9 00 |
| For Blackwood and the four Reviews, | 10 00 |

Payments to be made in all cases in advance.

They can be received by Mail at a very small additional postage.

Elkington & Co's. Patent Electroplate.

HAS now been before the public since 1841, and after the most severe test of wear, in the vessels of the Royal Mail Steam Packet Company, the Peninsular and Oriental Company, the General Screw Steam Ship Company, the Pacific Steam Navigation Company, and numerous Club Houses, Hotels, and Private Houses, in every part of the world, continues to give the most unqualified satisfaction, supplying as it does all the advantages of silver in utility and beauty of effect; and it will be found that the interest of money upon the cost of silver Goods for a period of seven years, is alone sufficient to purchase Electro Plate, and this, with the now established fact of its extreme durability, makes it a matter of great importance to all purchasers of such articles. It must be evident that the wear of all articles depends on the thickness of the deposit, and the Patentees refer with great satisfaction to the award made by the Royal Commission of the Great Exhibition, 1851, of the First Class or Council Medal for these productions.

A large assortment of the above Goods has just arrived per Cicely, direct from the manufacturers, and is now ready for sale.

PERRY'S HUNGARIAN BALM.

For Restoring Preserving and Beautifying the Hair.

THIS elegant preparation is an effectual remedy for Baldness, or falling off of the Hair It prevents and completely eradicates Scurf and Dandruff, strengthens the Roots of the hair; causes it to grow luxuriantly; gives it a rich, dark, soft and glossy appearance, and prevents it turning gray. The Hungarian Balm is a purely Vegetable compound, scientifically and chemically combined, and is warranted to contain none of those deleterious ingredients which prove so injurious to the hair. It acts directly upon the skin, cleansing and purifying it from all unhealthy secretions, thereby removing and preventing the accumulation of scurf, dandruff and other impurities, which so frequently cause premature decay and loss of the hair.

The Hungarian Balm is especially adapted to ladies' use; and those who have tried the varions oleaginous mixtures, with no benefit, will at once discover the agreeable and beneficial effects produced by this pure and delicate preparation. Instead of matting and tangling the hair, (which is more of less pulled out in the process of combing,) it leaves it free and clean; promotes a natural moisture, and imparts a beautiful dark and glossy appearance. Try it at once and you will be convinced of its superiority over all other compounds for the hair.

Much more might be said in favor of this inestimable compound, but it is deemed unecessary. The proprietor feels confident that ONE TRIAL will convince the most incrdulous of its rare and manifold virtues. Therefore,

If you have lost your hair and wish to restore it,
If you are losing your hair and wish to preserve it,
If you are troubled with Dandruff and wish to remove it,
If you have any humour of the Scalp and wish to cure it,
If you are troubled with Nervous Headache and wish to cure it,
If you have hair eaters at the roots of the hair and wish to destroy them,
If you have harsh dry and wiry hair, and wish if to become soft, pliable and beautiful as silk; and it you wish to preserve rich, gracefull and luxuriant tresses to the latest period of life, use PERRY'S HUNGARIAN BALM.

Price 25 and 50 cents, in large bottles.

PROCLAMATION

TO THE

Good People of P. E I.

PROBABLY there is not a family in your Province but what some members of it are more or less afflicted by Humours or Chronic Affections. As a remedy for these various complaints, there are numerous preparations brought into the market, but all of them of little or no good. But there is a discovery which has recently been made in chemical analysis that is wonderful in its operation. It has been long enough tried and we have proof sufficient to satisfy—all from men holding the highest offices the people of the United States can give—that the medicine will do just what it is recommended. It is Doctor Hampton's Vegetable Tincture. The medicine is compounded from the Vegetable Kingdom and may be used by any person without injurious consequences. By a wise choice and combination of some of the best of each class of co-operative, simple remedies, it fully reaches all the essential organs of the human system and there it has proved itself so effectually curative of the whole round of chronic affections.
