5 SIGNALS REGIMENT INSPECTED

Major W.W. Workman, Nova Scotia Signals Squadron, Halifax, here inspecting 5 Signals Regiment commanded by Lieut. Col. F.S. Jenkins, looks in on the switchboard (field and fortress) as Sgmn. R. B. McCabe mans it. Watching is 2nd Lieut. Tom Davies, instructor. Major Workman with a team representing Command Signals Officer, Lieut. Col. G. M. Billings, Halifax, was doing a preliminary inspection of the local unit in preparation for the competition for the Malloch Trophy now held by 5 Signals Regiment which won it in 1957. The purpose is to select the best signals unit in Eastern Command; at a later date an Army Headquarters team will inspect the five units from the five commands across Canada to determine the ultimate trophy winners. The trophy was first donated for competition in 1929 by Col. Malloch who commanded the School of Signals, Kingston, during the 2nd World war years, and is awarded to the most efficient signals unit in Canada based on the percentage of personnel the unit qualifies. On the team here with Maj. Workan are Lieut. F. J. McQuillen, WO2 Buckley and Sgt. Proudfoot. The inspecting officer expressed the opinion that 5 Signals Regiment "is a very fine unit".

House Pays Tribute To The Late Sidney Smith

Words of tribute to the memory of the late Sidney Smith were voiced in the Island Legislautre yesterday.

Premier Matheson said he had known Dr. Smith personally for a number of years before he was called to the important office of Secretary of State. He said the Minister was not only a Canadian of great prominence but was a native Maritimer, having been born in Cape Breton.

"It goes to show", said Premier Matheson, "that it is possible for boys and girls of this area to grow up to hold the highest positions in the land."

Opposition Leader Bell said the sudden death of Dr. Smith has caused very disturbing circumstances for Canada, coming as it did at this time of critical international negotiations.

"This great statesman has given his life in the service of hi country," Mr. Bell said. "Litt'e do we know of the strain whic is placed on men like Dr. Smit and Mr. Dulles in times like these."

Hon. Keir Clark said Dr Smith served education in a very distinguished manner. Mr. Clark ralled that as a student at Dalhousie University some 25 years ago, he had received instruction from the late minister.

Dr. L.G. Dewar said it was fitting that the External Affairs Minister had visited his native province just prior to his death. He said Dr. Smith would go down in history among such other outstandinng Maritimers as Lord Beaverbrook, Bonar Law, R.B. Bennett and others.

Playgrounds Report Given At Annual Meeting In City

The annual meeting of the Charlottetown Playgrounds Commission was held last evening with the chairman, J.R. St. John, presiding. Representatives of various organizations were present. After the reading of the minutes of the last regular meeting by the secretary, Mrs. Kathleen Cauty, the financial report was presented by the treasurer, E.E. Clawson.

The chief supervisor, Jack Ready, gave a complete report on the activities of the city playground. Among the interesting facts shown in this report was the fact that 30,000 children had used the facilities of the playgrounds during the months of July and August.

The commission chairman in his annual review of the work beign done, noted the increasing interest being shown by the citizens.

Two new playgrounds were readied for use last year—one in the East End of the city, the Lowe property between Kent and Grafton—and the new Kinsmen's Playground at DesBrisay Crescent. There is still some work to be done at both of these grounds including a new fence at the East End one.

He congratulated the Kinsmen for their fine playground and stated that it was something the City could well be proud of. He thanked Mayor Johnstone and the City Council for their co-operation and support. Councillor Boyles, the Council representative on the Commission, was, he said," an excellent choice".

Mr. St. John expressed his personal thanks to the executive and all others who had by donations or assistance helped to make the past year a successful one.

After regular business had been disposed of the annual tag day was discussed. Arrangements for the tag day are to be completed by Roy MacGillivary.

The following officers were appointed for the ensuing year:—Past Chairman, Harold MacLean; Chairman, J. Russell St. John; Vice-Chairman, Norman Stewart; Secretary, Mrs. Kathleen Cauty; Treasurer, E. E. Clawson; Rep. Abbie Club, Arthur Burns; Chairman Tag Day, Roy MacGillivray.
