

The Daily Examiner

OCTOBER 12, 1885.

Lighting the Streets.

"WHAT about street lighting?" a correspondent asks. The question will be discussed at the meeting of the City Council, to be held this evening. We shall soon see whether our City Fathers "will move or not."

the scheme. The idea is not to lay the tube on piers, but in the mud and sand on the bottom of the Strait.

Mr. Mealyard has however, we think, touched upon the main question in connection with the proposed undertaking: "Will the tube resist the current occasioned by wind and tide; and even though partially buried in sand, can it be made to withstand the heavy ice by which it will be attacked near either shore."

Acknowledging their Folly.

MANY of the more enlightened among the Grits already see that opposition to the Policy inaugurated by the present patriotic and prescient Liberal Conservative Government must be abandoned before they can expect to gain the public confidence.

"Like all Liberals, Mr. Mills is beginning to look ahead to the elections of 1887. Two bitter defeats have taught him, although they have made no impression on some of his thicker skinned comrades, that a majority of the Canadians are, and propose to remain, protectionists."

The Patriot infers that because Mr. Ferguson posed as an authority on dairy matters in the Dairyman's Association, the products of his dairy became a fair subject for political attack.

One of the most prominent Conservatives in the County, writing to the Editor of THE EXAMINER, says:

Go in for having Barristers instead of County Court Judges, appointed under the Franchise Act. You are right and the "Herald" is astray. It mistakes entirely the Conservative sentiment on the question.

Deserted by his Fellow Citizens. (From the Detroit Free Press.) If he realized how few Americans care whether he is hung, drowned, shot or run into the woods he wouldn't lay quite so much stress on the fact that he was once an American citizen.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE EXAMINER.]

What Serbia Wants.

LONDON, Oct. 11. A Serbian writes to the Daily Telegraph that Serbia desires the whole or a portion of old Serbia, but to avoid war she would content herself with the corner of Bulgaria abutting off on Sotta. Unless the Powers, he says, grant at least the latter compensation for the union of Bulgaria and Eastern Roumelia, Serbia will fight from spite for her right, Serbia will be content only if status quo be restored.

Mr Parnell expects Success.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

Lighting the Streets.

Sir.—What about street lighting? The gas contract will expire in a little over a fortnight, and if a better light can be got for the same or less money, the interests of the taxpayers should be considered. Will our city fathers move or not?

TAXPAYER. Oct. 10, 1885.

Exhibition Notes.

Messrs. J. F. Willis & Co., who are sole agents for the Wanzel Sewing Machine Co., made a very creditable display. They are certainly very beautifully finished, and the work shown is superior to any we have seen. They possess great power and run very easily. We predict a great success for them. The Wanzel Co. have been established thirty-five years, and do a very large trade in the Upper Provinces. They are also sole agents for P. E. Island for the Uxbridge Organ, which good judges pronounce to be first-class in every respect.
