Hell's rather out of date in these days of Communism.

REDS CHARGE ALLIES PLAN TO IMPRESS PRISONERS

Legion Endorses Stand For Selective Service

Community Planning Ass'n Annual Meeting

Mr. Claude Smith, East Royalty, last night was elected president of the P.E.I. Division of the Community Planning Association of Canada at the first annual meeting held in Prince of Wales College. He succeeds Mr. Orin Simons, Charlottetown.

Several projects for the Association were suggested and it was agreed that small ones should be attempted first to show the public that community planning could be a success before going on to long range projects. One of the smaller ones mentioned was the placing of wire baskets at various points in this city in which the public could deposit waste paper instead of having it litter the streets.

Mr. Walter Hyndman outlined the difference between the C.P.A. and a Town Planning Board. The former, he said, was formed of citizens and was purely voluntary. In the main it is designed to be more advisory and educational than authoritative. Once the general public had come to realize the usefulness of the projects undertaken then, he thought, a Town Planning Board with authority might come into effect. In the meantime the community planning group would serve as a "bridge-head." He thought it would remain educational for a long time to come.

Research, Action Education Needed Here In Planning

"The predominant rural characteristics of this Province make it different from any other in Canada", Dr. Frank MacKinnon, Principal of Prince of Wales College, said last night as he warned members of the P.E.I. Division of the Community Planning Association to take this fact into deep consideration when they considered any of the successful plans worked out in the other Provinces.

Dr. MacKinnon, guest speaker at the first annual meeting of the Association, outlined some of the peculiarities of municipal jurisdiction as he told of the system of Government in effect here now and in the past. He expressed the opinion that this Province had a large system of Government for a population of about 90,000 people — less than many cities in other parts of the country. However, he did not think we were over-governed.

Because Ministers of the Crown had all the work they could do they were not so inclined to meddle too much in local matters and community planners would have to take much on themselves. By the same token local administrations were not unwieldy because the communities were not too big and they were unable to undertake many of the services provided in larger cities. For this reason it was necessary for citizens to do much themselves and for that they needed close co-operation with the Provincial Government. This was possible, he stated, because there was obviously a closer association between members of the Government and the people here than elsewhere.

Community planning, Dr. MacKinnon said, required a co-operative development involving the Government and the people here.

Hottest Words Uttered About Immigration

By DOUGLAS HOW
MONTREAL, May 21 — (CP) — The Canadian Legion's national convention re-endorsed its 1950 stand for immediate conscription today but happily accepted a Quebec proposal that it should be called selective service instead.

A Quebec-Command spokesman said the only thing its delegates went against, conscription is the word itself because it has political connotations which are objectionable. The other delegates shouted approval of that position.

Once the country's No. 1 veterans' organization divorced itself from that one controversial word, the convention's major issue was finished.

One day after Defence Minister Claxton told them by implication that conscription is unnecessary, the hundreds of delegates unanimously reaffirmed their 1950 call for total preparedness now, for a general speeding of the military effort, for total mobilization of the nation's resources and for compulsory training—another synonym for conscription.

Demand Reopening Of Foot And Mouth Probe

OTTAWA, May 21 — (CP) — Opposition members have demanded an immediate reopening of the parliamentary investigation into foot-and-mouth disease outbreak in Western Canada, adjourned more than a week ago.

Both the Progressive Conservative and C.O.P. Parties sent letters to A.J. Bader (L—The Balfords), chairman of the common agricultural committee, charging him with using arbitrary action in closing off questioning of a witness after a two-hour session.

The witness was Dr. N.D. Christie, federal veterinarian at Regina, who was called on May 13, the committee's last session. Mr. Bader said then that Dr. Christie was required to fight the disease out west and adjourned the meeting without indicating when the next meeting would be called.

Is Reply To Tongue-Lashing By Admiral Joy

By SAM SUMMERLIN
"MUNSAN, Korea, May 22 — (Thursday) — (AP) — Communist truce negotiators Wednesday charged that the United Nations command planned to herd thousands of prisoners into the United States Eighth Army "to serve as your cannon fodder."

This was their reply to a tongue-lashing by Vice-Admiral C. Turner Joy, who accused the Reds of violating rules governing treatment of prisoners.

Joy ruled out today as the top U.N. negotiator after 10 exasperating months. He is the only remaining member of the original five-man truce team which opened the talks last July 10.

He will make his farewell appearance at 11 A.M. at Panmunjom (10 P.M. E.D.T. Wednesday). Then he will prepare to leave to become superintendent of the U.S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md. Maj.-Gen. William Harrison Jr. takes over as the senior delegate Friday.

Joy traded sharp words with North Korean Gen. Nam Il for an hour Wednesday.

Nam said a riot at Pusan prison camp Tuesday was new proof that the Allies "murder" their captives. (U.S. guards killed one prisoner and wounded 85 in quelling a Red rebellion).

Nam accused the Allies of violating the U.N. charter, saying they had used violence against North Korean and Chinese prisoners.

Joy said Nam's charges were designed to "generate enmity" and "to block an armistice."

"Never before in modern history," he said, "has a belligerent

Ridgway Says Soviet Russia Has Made Big Build-Up In Far East

Joins M.C.A. Staff As Public Relations Mgr.

Mr. W. Farrell Gaudet (above) of Charlottetown, has recently been appointed public relations manager of Maritime Central Airways.

Mr. Gaudet, a son of Mrs. Gilbert Gaudet, of Charlottetown, graduated this spring from the University of Western Ontario, School of Business Administration.

He obtained his primary education at Queen Square School here followed by a year in St. Mary's High School, Halifax and a year in High School at St. F. X., Antigonish.

In 1942 he enlisted in the Royal Canadian Air Force and, following his discharge at the end of the war resumed studies at Prince of Wales College. At P.W.C. he played a major role in athletic circles.

Mr. Gaudet, his wife, the former Bernice Murray of this city and young son will reside in Charlottetown.

WASHINGTON, May 21 — (AP) — Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway said today Soviet Russia is carrying on a big and "significant" military buildup in the Far East, while the Communists in Korea command a bigger offensive punch than ever before.

But the General said that if the Reds should strike now with an all-out attack in Korea, they would be thrown back with "tremendous losses on their side."

Discussing the critical Far East situation with senators on Capitol Hill and with newspaper men, Ridgway made these other points:

1. The outlook for an immediate cease-fire agreement in Korea is not bright, but efforts to reach a settlement should continue.
2. He would not advocate any order in re-orientation Allied troops on camps in Korea. Fanatical Reds have committed numerous atrocities, including murder, and conducted a reign of terror against other prisoners who showed little enthusiasm for Communism.
3. In broad terms, Ridgway sketched that picture of the Asiatic situation while en route to relieve Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower at the supreme Allied command in Europe. He will address a joint meeting of congress tomorrow at 12:30 p. m. EDT.

Various Gov't Bills Considered By Commons

OTTAWA, May 21 — (CP) — The Commons, ratifying a United Nations convention outlawing genocide, heard hopes today that it will help eliminate this mass murder.

But External Affairs Minister Pearson said that genocide is still being practised, "especially in those countries behind the Iron Curtain."

Mr. Pearson said the convention—signed by Canada in 1948—is perhaps the most important new source of international law to develop since the Second World War.

By approving it, Canada was taking a step to protect minorities. She was proclaiming that genocide is a "monstrous crime." And she was making it more difficult to commit.

The Commons gave unanimous approval to the pact, though some speakers said its provisions should be stricter.

Pale and trembling after coming out of a faint, Bertrand stood in the prisoner's box while Mr. Justice Francis Caron passed sentence. After the judge concluded with the customary words "May God have mercy on your soul," the bells of a nearby Roman Catholic Church tolled the evening angelus and the sound drifted into the hushed courtroom.

The conviction—the 12-man jury deliberated for 25 minutes before announcing the verdict—marked the end of one of Hull's most spectacular murder cases.

Bertrand, slim, dapper and apparently confident until the end, stood two trials on the same charge. His first trial ended suddenly in February when the presiding judge—Mr. Justice Valmore Bienvenue of Quebec—suffered a heart seizure and died while delivering his charge to the jury.

Defence Counsel Joseph Ste-Marie of Hull said after the verdict he could not say whether an appeal will be launched.
