A message from a Co-President of the UPEI Biology Club "BIO-BABBLE" reetings and welcome returning students and osh to a new and more expensive university ear. I wish to thank everyone who helped ake the Biology Club barbecue a great success. We gave away a total of 180 hotdogs, and ave not received one complaint. At present, e have 67 members in the club and there is ill room for more. Meetings will be held on Wednesdays at 12:45 in the biology club lounge.

In the election for Biology Club Presi-ent, there was wide spread election fraud and ote tampering, with both candidates claiming ctory. In an effort to maintain stability and revent a coup d'etat by the military, the andidates decided to form a co-presidency in rder to demonstrate that democracy definitely annot work. Along with the 2 presidents, we so have 9 vice presidents and 57 secretary/reasurers. Currently, there is a royal commis-ion investigating to see if this is constitutional.

The Biology Club lounge is located on e top floor of the Duffy science building, ght beside the chemical storage. Just follow e overpowering smell of formaldehyde mixed with some 70% ETOH. To be on the safe de, the air quality was analyzed and there was sick building syndrome. We were assured at the many contaminants in the lounge were ghtly lower than the recommended daily ake levels and no ill effects will occur from longed exposure.

The lounge also has an extensive refer-ce library with books covering a variety of pics in biology. Including -- 101 Uses for boratory Animals, Cloning--a do it yourself uide, and I recommend everyone read a tchhiker's Guide to Biology.

Most important, the Biology Club ange is an area for quick tempers, violent ndencies, split personalities, and the serely depressed to come and relax. Discus-n on any subject is not welcome and open logue will be discouraged. If anyone has any estions, comments, concerns, or doesn't un-stand anything you've read in the Bio-bble, I can be reached via E-mail martin@upe.ca). TOP 10 REASONS FOR NING THE BIOLOGY CLUB unlimited use of the Biology club phone prestige

lots of parties with free BEvERages and er give aways
peer pressure tastes great and less filling guaranteed pass in all biology courses (must e 50% to qualify) ooks great on a recipe, oops, I mean resume

3. be part of the surreal and fantasy-- like atmosphere at the Biology club lounge
2. regularly scheduled group therapy sessions

Home Economics

HOME ECONOMICS is the study of one's continuously changing environment, one's social being, and how they interrelate. Home Ec. entails studies in Biology, Chemistry, Mathematics, Psychology, Sociology, Management, Finance, Nutrition, as well as Design to name a few. As a matter of fact, only 3 food preparation and 0 clothing construction courses are required to achieve a (40 course) science degree in Home Economics. True, should one major in Clothing & Design, one is required to take Flat Pattern Design and Tailoring which do include clothing construction. We would also like you to recognize the fact that there are other areas/majors available.

NEW YORK * NEW YORK

Students of Home Economics will be participating in an educational tour of the "fashion capital" of the world in February of the upcoming year. This will enable further insights into the clothing industry and will gratly enhance their classroom education. Scheduled events include visiting textile and clothing sites of interest. Some of these are:
-- Metropolitan -- costume institute
-- Cooper-Howitt -- textile conservation lab
-- a design show room
-- garment manufacturer
-- a theatre costume department BUT, costs are very expensive. To offset part of the cost, the students have planned a number of fundraisers:
