

Owing to the late arrival of the Mails, we were unable to fill our whole sheet, and in time to be served by our country subscribers, we issue one half at an early hour to-day, intending to furnish the other as soon as possible.

THE BRITISH MAILS.—The Mail did not arrive yesterday, until four o'clock. The news from Europe, as was expected, is of a startling character—A victory in the Baltic, and in the Crimea. By next week we hope to chronicle even greater victories. We give below the very latest news, and on our first page, the news of the week ending 18th August.

YARNA, 1 p.m., Aug. 16.
The Russian stationer in position on the Tchernaya this morning at daybreak in great force.

The action lasted about three hours, but was further repeatedly by the French and Sardinians.

Further particulars will be sent.

WAR DEPARTMENT, AUG. 17.

The following telegraphic message has been received by Lord Palmerston:—

YARNA, 1 p.m.—The Russian attack of the morning was under the command of General Liprandi, with 20,000 to 30,000 men.

Their losses are estimated at 4000 and 5000.

4500 prisoners have been taken.

The loss on the part of the allies is very small.

YARNA, August 16, 1 30 p.m.

Instead of 400 prisoners, read 4000.

RE-COMMENCEMENT OF THE BOMBARDMENT OF SEBASTOPOL.

WAR DEPARTMENT, AUG. 17.—Lord Palmerston has received the following intelligence from General Simpson, dated Crimea, 16th Aug.—

"General Palmerston and I have decided on opening fire from the English and French batteries at dawn to-morrow morning.

For the remainder of latest News see last Page.

Died.

At St. Croix, Daniel W. de la Roche, on the 2nd Aug last, of Fever, Malta, the beloved wife of Adam Stevenson, Esq., aged 32 years. Mr. Stevenson was buried in London only a few days since, and so was placed with the Inhabitants and the Country, that he is once decided to make his future residence in London, and he has decided on having every thing prepared for her comfortable recreation, and two days after, received the melancholy intelligence from her brother, of her demise.
