MONTREAL (CP) — Canair Ltd., largest airplane manufacturer in Canada, is having a business boom but had to look beyond the home market to achieve it.

Hit hard when Canadian government orders began running out three years ago as the CF-104 program ended and orders for the CL-44 dwindled, the huge firm looked abroad for new markets.

By diversifying its products to appeal to foreign customers, Canair entered a new period of sales activity that is expected to increase its present work force of 6,000 to 10,000 by 1970 and set the firm on a solid long-term basis.

All in all it has been "a successful response to transition," says Canair President Frederick R. Kearns. "We're an export-minded company now."

He forecasts export sales, about 50 per cent of Canair's total this year, will rise to 60 per cent in 1967 and an eventual peak of about 70 per cent.

OWNED BY U.S. FIRM

A wholly-owned subsidiary of the giant U.S.-based General Dynamics Corp., Canair by agreement cannot duplicate research projects of the parent

Work Has Important Role Even In World Of Leisure

By DAVID DAVIDSON

TORONTO (CP) — Although the time available for leisure is steadily increasing "there still seems to be an important role for work in our society," says Dr. Gordon Strum, chancellor of Simon Fraser University at Burnaby, B.C.

"Men who reach the top in any sort of occupation must still have a passion for productive work," Dr. Strum said here at final sessions of a three-day conference on recreation sponsored by the Ontario education department.

"Their less industrious associates only delude themselves when they attribute success to an endowed brilliance denied ordinary individuals, to nepotism or other influences.

"Success is almost invariably the product of years of long, tedious hours and of grinding and often boring work."

Dr. Strum told some 450 delegates "it is regrettable that the substantial increase in leisure provided by technological improvements will not be available to all segments of the population."

WORK HARD AT TOP

He said executives and technical and professional workers do not share in the decrease in working time and "have little expectation of sharing it equally with labor in the future."

Dr. Strum called for an increase in the length of the school day and year not only to enable students to cope with greatly expanding knowledge but also to provide for more emphasis on recreational skills.

Such increases in hours spent at school are already a necessity, he said, and "will become more so in the future."

Dr. Strum said the problem of school drop-outs is of major concern to all who are interested in education and who realize the urgent need to carry as many of our young

Step-up Due In Steel Demand

CLEVELAND (AP) — Conditions now in the making indicate a stepup in steel demand perhaps as early as next month, says Steel magazine.

The weekly journal of metalworking says the commercial research department of one of the leading U.S. steel companies looks for a record 141,000,000 tons of steel for ingots and castings to be produced in the United States next year.

"The projection is particularly significant," the magazine says, "because it far surpasses the record (around 135,000,000 tons) that will be set this year."

Steel says another large producer expects a sharp upturn in steel buying next month and looks for users to order tonnage for January delivery to rebuild inventories to support high-level consumption.

However, the publication says steel demand now is moving slightly downward, with the upturn in buying by the automobile industry being insufficient to offset seasonal declines in other markets.

Steel production also is edging down slightly. The magazine estimates the output last week at 2,540,000 net tons, compared with 2,546,000 tons during the preceding week.

EVACUATE HOMES

ROMER, Mich. (AP) — A New York Central freight train leaped the track in this southern Michigan town Friday, sending three tank cars filled with potentially deadly gas crashing into the base of some gasoline and fuel oil storage tanks. There was no reports of any injuries, but nearly 1,000 of the town's 1,700 residents left their homes for safety beyond the town limits.

Notrump contracts often feature a race between the defender and the declarer for the establishment of tricks. That is why so frequently the opening leader starts with his long suit.

The defenders, having the opening lead, get the jump on declarer in the race to build up tricks. If they have sufficient high-card strength and a long enough suit, the tempo they gain on the opening lead may prove to be the decisive element.

The battle is sometimes spirited because of the timing factor. Not only that, but declarer may affect the result by

He said school programs including adequate opportunities and facilities for recreation would help hold some potential drop-outs "and thus reduce the number leaving school before they had reached their optimum level of education."
