ART TRAINING SAID NEGLECTED

Prince Co. Employment Picture Is Unchanged

SUMMERSIDE — The number of unemployed registered at the Summerside national employment service office at the end of October is much similar to last year's figures with a slight increase in the number of male persons seeking work.

Manager of the local office Earl G. Cannon said Friday 477 people are registered as unemployed, comprising 151 females and 326 males.

However, Mr. Cannon pointed out the significant fact that only 275 of this total are applicants for unemployment insurance benefits, meaning that 202 of these people are registered as unemployed but are not drawing benefits.

The increase in the number of male applicants seeking work is due to layoffs in construction that has been completed or is nearing completion, layoffs in road construction and trucking and fishermen looking for fall winter employment.

There were also a few casual laborers laid off at RCAF station Summerside during the month, Mr. Cannon added.

He said the outlook for fall and winter work is quite good with five schools being constructed in the county as well as extensions to schools at St. Eleanors, O'Leary, Alberton and Tignish.

The five schools under construction are located at Summerside, where there are two being built, Kinkora, Kensington and Miscouche.

project initiated by Canada last year, asks the World Meteorological Organization to put into operation as soon as possible, if feasible, its plan for collection of radioactive data on a global basis.

The WMO has been studying the enterprise in conjunction with the UN scientific committee and the resolution says it is "encouraged to believe that a feasible scheme . . . can be implemented in the near future."

The radiation discussion is separate from a parallel debate in the assembly's main political committee where Canada and other countries are trying to find a formula for an end of nuclear tests acceptable to the nuclear powers.

Co - sponsoring the radiation resolution are countries from around the world including Argentina, Austria, Cameroon, Denmark, Ghana, Ireland, Japan, Philippines, Sweden, United Arab Republic, Uruguay, Nigeria and New Zealand.

West Germany Said In Missile, Nuclear Business

LONDON (AP)—An opposition Labor party leader has charged that West Germany is in the "nuclear and missile business" in Egypt and France.

Harold Wilson, the party's shadow foreign minister, also asserted that West Germany is supplying aircraft to Katanga, dissident Congo state, and arms to Portugal for suppression of native uprisings in Angola.

Wilson made his attack in the Commons during a debate on the speech from the throne.

"Make no mistake," Wilson declared, "whatever the treaties may say, Germany is in the nuclear and missile business already on an agency basis in Egypt and France."

The treaties he referred to ban such manufacture in West Germany. West Germany, however, is a member of Euratom —the Common Market atomic energy organization—which has its headquarters in France. West German technicians have been reported working in Cairo on tactical rockets for the Egyptian armed forces.

NDPs To Contest Seats In Nfld.

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP) — Ed Finn Jr., leader of the New Democratic Party, said he will contest Humber West in the Nov. 19 general election, and his party will offer candidates in another four to seven ridings.

Mr. Finn said most of these districts would be in western and central Newfoundland. A lack of funds prevented the NDP from contesting more of the 42 seats at stake, he said.

He said in a statement that the NDP, "unlike the Liberals and PCs, does not obtain its financial support from wealthy businessmen. Our funds must be accumulated gradually over a period of months, from the small contributions of working people." Although the NDP preferred it this way, it was difficult to contest two elections in the space of five months. NDP contested four of the seven seats at stake in Newfoundland in the June 18 federal election.

He criticized Premier Smallwood for calling the provincial election at this time of year. "And weather may prevent many people from participating or even from voting, he said.

Mr. Smallwood's "so - called fishery development plan" was an effort to "justify a November election." His party "has not only ignored the fisheries for the past 13 years, but has done all it could to wreck them."

Presbyterian WMS Holds Special Service At Alberton

ALBERTON— J. Donald Ross, guest speaker, brought an inspiring message on Christian giving to the congregation assembled in Alberton Presbyterian Church Sunday evening on the occasion of the annual WMS thankoffering service.

U.S. Assured Canada Aided Cuban Policy

WASHINGTON (CP) — Canadian Ambassador Charles Ritchie has assured Americans that Canada had responded quickly to the Soveit missile menace in Cuba.

"Seven hours before the United States put into effect its search of vessels Canada started searching planes bound for Cuba to make certain no munitions of any kind were carried through Canada to Cuba," the ambassador said in a brief local television appearance taped in advance.

Ritchie then read a portion of Prime Minister Diefenbaker's statement of last Thursday when Diefenbaker accused Russia of challenging peace in the Western Hemisphere by planting missiles in Cuba. At that time the prime minister told Parliament Canada "intends to support the U.S. and our Allies in this situation."

The Prime Minister's statement followed announcement by President Kennedy that Soviet ballistic missiles had been discovered in Cuba and that a naval blockade against all offensive weapons would go into operation in the Caribbean.

Former president Harry Truman sharply criticized Canada in a press conference at Independence, Mo., last week.

He said Diefenbaker had refused to associate himself with other western hemisphere countries in the arms ban against Cuba.

"We have supported them (the Canadians) in former times and crisis." Truman said. "They should stand behind us today."
