

THE DAILY EXAMINER.

AUGUST 4, 1882.

War, Glory, Civilization.

For the benefit of bellicose Britons, and of all who delight to sing of "Arms and Warriors," it is worth while to take a sterner view of the horrible aspects of war. Here is a little summing up of the account:—

FOR ENGLAND.—Honour and Glory.....Fears and Distresses FOR EGYPT.—Civilization and Peace.....Famines and Massacres GENERAL TOTAL.....Death and Misery

These always follow when arms are brought in to inculcate a beneficent civilization. Here is another little civilizing account:— FROM ENGLAND, the three R's—Reading, 'Riding, and 'Rithmetic. Pestilence of Profits To Egypt, the civilizing three R's—Rum, Rife, and Religion.....19th Century Progress

The Halifax Regatta.

HALIFAX is determined to make its Regatta a success. The co-operation and the patronage of the Governor-General, and other great ones, have been invited. Halifax possesses the best facilities for such an undertaking, and will, doubtless, draw an immense concourse of strangers to visit the proceedings. At the meeting of the Executive Committee the following programme was decided upon:—

- Race for championship of Halifax harbor. Double scull race—best and best boats. Single scull race. Gigs of four oars lapstreak. Gigs of four oars—outriggers. Double scull wherries—amateurs. Fishing flats—2 pairs paddles. Fishing whalers—4 oars. Ships' jolly boats—4 oars. Man-of-war gigs. Man-of-war cutters. Man-of-war pinnaces. Gigs owned by soldiers of the Garrison. Canoes pulled by Indians. Canoes pulled by squaws. Rob Roy canoes. Consolation race for oarsmen not winning a prize in single sculls. Fishing sail boats. Sailing yacht race. And a yacht race.

It is to be hoped that our muscular young men will well represent Charlottetown, and that our Yachtmen will put in a creditable appearance.

THE Halifax Herald says:—The steamer "Carroll" which sailed for Boston on Saturday took seventy-seven passengers. That was the "exodus." The "Worcester," which arrived from Boston yesterday, brought over 200 passengers. That was the "influx." The Digby Courier says:—The steamer "Secret" arrived on time Tuesday last with 175 passengers, several of whom landed here. That was the "influx." But you will look in vain for any "influx" items in the grit press. It only chronicles and gloats over the "exodus." Here is the record for the week: Influx per "Secret" 175 Influx per "Worcester" 200 Exodus per "Carroll" 77 Influx over exodus 297

The cities of Boston and Baltimore have prohibited the sale of the toy pistol. Remembering the late fatality among children in Chicago from using these toy weapons, and guided by the action of these cities, our Canadian cities should bar out the explosive plaything. Fulminating mercury is the explosive substance used, and the hammer is of the ordinary kind. A minute fragment from the "spitting" of the mercury, if lodged in any part of the body, is likely to bring on lockjaw. Twenty children died from lockjaw following the use of this ill-omened toy in Chicago on the fourth of July. Careful provision should be made against this infernal machine entering our markets.—Globe.

A private letter from England says that at the review held recently at Chatham, England, Lieutenants McKay and Straubenzie, of the Royal Military College, Kingston, were highly complimented by General Sir Evelyn Wood on the admirable manner in which their companies had been drilled. They have carried off the highest honours in the recent competitive examinations at Chatham. McKay is a son of the ex-Assistant Warden of St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary, and was for two years a Montreal newspaper reporter.

One of the most amusing book sales of the season in London was the recent one of the library of the whole literature of tobacco, collected during many years by Mr Bragg, tobacco in all forms being treated in all styles in almost all languages.

The Conversazione and Floral Festival.

A FASHIONABLE GATHERING—SPEECHMAKING UNDER DIFFICULTIES—THE NUCLEUS OF A MUSEUM—AN INTERESTING COLLECTION.

The Conversazione at the Drill Shed, last evening, was a very brilliant affair. The shed was prettily decorated and its barrenness was broken by the tasteful arrangement of tables containing curiosities and flowers. At intervals the strains from the band set the audience in motion, and then the scene was pretty enough. Feminine dresses of varied hues and shapes lent color and contrast to the stiffness of the male costume, and gave a lively appearance to the promenading. Across the field on the Governor's ground there was a booth supplying the audience with ice-cream, and brightening the gloaming with a varied display of Chinese lamps. The Hon. Colonel Gray took the chair soon after 8 o'clock, and after saying a few eloquent words on the need of a Reformatory, called upon the following gentlemen to address the assembly: The Rev. Dr. Murray, L. H. Davies, Esq., Rev. K. McLennan, Rev. Dr. Fitzgerald, R. R. Fitzgerald, Esq., Professor Burwash, Rev. Dr. O'Brien, and Charles Palmer, Esq. The speeches were short and to the point, but were not listened to with that degree of attention which the subject deserved. The majority in the audience had evidently come together for the purpose of enjoying a Conversazione, and not to listen to speeches. All the speakers noted the need of stricter care being taken in the bringing up of the town waifs and strays, but opinion was very much divided on the best method of accomplishing this purpose. The following infanticide committee was appointed to take further and more business-like steps in the matter:—

Hon. Col. Gray, Rev. Dr. O'Brien, Rev. Dr. Murray, Rev. Dr. Fitzgerald, Rev. K. McLennan, Rev. J. Burwash, Rev. J. M. McLeod, Rev. W. Harris, L. H. Davies, Esq., Charles Palmer, Esq., P. Blake, Esq., Hon. A. A. McDonald, Esq., W. E. Dawson, Esq., P. R. Bowers, Esq., Alex. McKinnon, Esq.

The collection of curiosities was quite an interesting one, and, speaking in a "public spirited" way, we felt strongly urged to move for a committee of the lenders, to take into consideration the formation of a Provincial museum. The following comprise, we believe, the principal objects in the collection:—

- An Indian Brave's Suit and Calumet or Pipe of Peace, shown by Hon. D. Laird. A Petrified Porter Bottle with coral foam on it, by B. W. Higgs, Esq. A Doom's Day Book, by H. J. Candall. A box made of stones and petrified wood of Colorado, by Malcolm McLeod. A Punch Ladle used in Queen Ann's reign, also a rare China, by Professor Caven. A Great Great Grandmother's Wedding Dress, by one of our Charlottetown Belles. A Brocade dress 200 years old, Mrs. Beaton. A rare Dresden China and Glass Goblet, more than 100 years old, used in American Revolution by Major Beers, &c.—Shown by Mr. John Quirk. A collection of Petrified Ferns from Malta, rare Coins, &c., by Rev. W. Tippet. Specimens of fine Carving, by M. Butcher. A China Tea Cozy, with Teapot inside, by Mrs. Edward Palmer. An old Punch Bowl, Tortoise Shell Watch, &c., by James Reddin. A rare China and antique Egg Cup in villor pattern, lustre Goblets, Indian Ware, &c., by Miss Mooris. A mammoth Turtle and rare Curiosities, by H. Mitch. A fine collection of East Indian curiosities in sandal wood China pearl, etc., also Madras water guggul, by Col. Gray. Four Chinese Idols, over 200 years, by Ambrose Brown. Indian Scimitar and other articles, by Henry Hall. Skeleton of a cat and a collection of Island butterfly flies and minque coral, by Mr. May. A number of Chinese spoons and tea-pot, by Mrs. Henderson. An Aquarium and case of hair work 30 years old, by W. Kennedy. A living Alligator, by Thos. Robin. Numerous coins of Edward I. reign, by Rev. Dr. Fitzgerald. A Cloisone Manual, 700 years old, Australian Boomerang and Waddy, by J. S. Carvell. A Chinese fan, China Inkstand over 100 years old, Ladies Ring of Elephant's hair, by B. DesBrisay, Esq. A vase, over 200 years old, petrifications, by Mrs. James D. Haszard. West India Snakes, and elephant's teeth, by Prof. S. N. Earle. Green opment, and a jewel made of gum from New Zealand soil. A bunch of olive leaves, taken from Mount Olive, near the scene of Christ's transfiguration; stone from Cape Breton, and a beautiful collection of rare stones. Old coin, etc., by Mrs. Geo. Beer. Large bean from Trinidad and growing plant, called "Wonder of the World," by Miss Mutch. Specimens of cotton in the pod-chain, 100 years old, by Mrs. C. Palmer. A selection of ancient books and newspapers, by H. A. Harvie. Card and wood picture frames, etc., Mrs. Cameron. A table painted by Mrs. Bayliss, also one by Miss Mason.

Oscar Wilde when he returns to London will find a rival, one Mr. Gatch, who is drawing crowds to his aesthetic lectures. He pronounces the present male attire idiotic, condemns hat, coat, vest, and trousers, advocates knickerbockers and stockings, no coat tails and no pockets.

Supposed Infanticide at North Lake.

A HORRIBLE STORY.

An inquest was held at North Lake on the 2nd inst., before Dr. Muttart, one of the Coroners for Kings County, in view of the body of a child found under the North Lake Bridge the evening previous. When first discovered the body was floating near the surface of the water, with a rope tied round the waist, to which was attached a large stone. It had evidently been thrown under from the side of the Bridge, and was prevented from sinking by some brushwood in which the rope had become entangled. The head and arms were uncovered, and the body was carefully wrapped up in the Weekly Patriot of the 29th June last. Appearances showed that the child had been in the water only a very few days. A verdict was returned in accordance with the facts.

The Arrears Bill in the House of Lords.

In the House of Lords, last Monday, the Marquis of Salisbury moved an amendment to the Arrears of Rent bill, the effect of which will be that landlords could refuse consent to tenants applying for relief under the bill in cases where he disbelieved the tenants' inability to pay. Lord Carlingford opposed the amendment, saying it would utterly stultify the Government's land legislation. The amendment was adopted by 169 against 98. The Marquis of Salisbury moved an amendment that if the tenants who had taken advantage of the bill subsequently sold his farm, a landlord should be able to recover out of the sum his tenant received the amount he had been deprived of by the action of the bill. Lord Carlingford opposed the amendment declaring it would revive debts many years old. The amendment was carried by 120 to 35, and the remaining clauses adopted.

The Daily News, of last Wednesday, understands that arrangements have been made for postponement by the House of Commons of consideration of amendments to the Arrears Bill adopted by the Lords, the object being to afford the Lords an opportunity for reviewing the situation. This is more necessary since the Government has determined in event of the Lords persisting at once to prorogue Parliament and summon a new House without delay. It is quite possible that a compromise without touching the principle of the bill will be effected on the second amendment.

Sheep Raising in Shelburne.

TEN THOUSAND ACRES OF LAND BEING SURVEYED.

(From the Liverpool Times).

The Shelburne "Sheep Raising Co.," which was lately formed in Shelburne County, with a subscription stock of $50,000, divided into shares of $100, with a paid-up capital of 25 per cent., are having 10,000 acres of grazing land surveyed, which is located as follows:—4,000 acre ranch on the Eastern county line; 4,000 acre ranch on the Shelburne River, at a place known as Ball Mountain; and 1,000 acres on the West Branch of the Jordan River, the latter for the purpose of winter herding. The company have already some 40 acres of turnips planted, and propose to import 500 head of sheep as soon as possible. Arrangements have also been made to have a shepherd and two dogs imported from Scotland. From conversation with parties who have examined the land, we understand that the prospect for successful stock raising is all that is desirable. The enterprise of Shelburne people in this respect might well be imitated by the people of Queen's. This County possesses facilities second to no other county in the Province for sheep raising, and we hope the effort put forth by Mr. Charles Firth, of Coffin's Island, and Mr. Kinney, of Catherine's River, in this direction, will induce others to devote more attention to the matter.

Irish Emigration to the United States.

The decline in Irish emigration to the United States is very clearly shown by statistics just issued. The height was reached in 1851, when the emigrants numbered 221,253. Last year they were only one-third—70,000, in the greatest of all emigration years. In 1851 the immigration to the United States from Ireland was more than 250 times as great as that from England; but in 1881 the English immigration was more than 5,000 larger than the Irish. In forty years English immigration has increased from only 147 in a year to 76,547. Irish immigration to the States thirty years ago surpassed that from all other countries combined; and last year it had fallen to less than one-tenth of the total, being smaller than that from Norway and Sweden.—Mail.
