Jones - Cheverie Nuptials

St. Mary's Church, Souris, was the scene of a pretty wedding on August 23 when Joan Lois, daughter of the late Walter Cheverie and Mrs. Cheverie, became the bride of Ronald Jones, son of Ronald and Mrs. Jones of Edgett's Landing, N.B.

The bride wore a floor-length gown of white nylon net over tulle, with brocaded bodice and matching bolero. Her bridal veil was shoulder-length and held in place by a tiara of pearls. She carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses.

Miss Christine Cheverie, cousin of the bride, acted as maid of honor, and was gowned in ball-length of yellow net over tulle, with bolero and matching bolero and headdress. She carried a bouquet of mixed roses.

The bridesmaid, Miss Helen Marie McCormack, was gowned in ball-length of Ice Blue net over tulle with brocaded bodice and matching bolero and headdress. She also carried a bouquet of mixed roses.

The groom was supported by the bride's brother, Pilot Officer Wilbur Cheverie of Summerside. The bride's mother chose for her daughter's wedding, a dress of mauve silk crepe with matching hat, white accessories and corsage of orchid and lilies-of-the-valley.

The groom's mother wore navy blue crepe with white accessories and a corsage of sweet peas.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Mr. J. A. Murphy in the presence of relatives and friends.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the "Wheel of Fortune," where Mrs. Francis catered to a number of guests. The dining room was tastefully decorated with streamers and white wedding bells.

A two-tier cake topped with a miniature bride and groom centered the bride's table. The toast to the bride was proposed by the groomsmen and responded to by the groom.

In the evening the wedding party motored to the home of the bride's brother, Leo Cheverie, of Borden.

For travelling the bride chose a suit of silver grey with bronze accessories and a corsage of yellow roses. They left for various parts of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, where the groom is employed with Canadian Dock and Dredge.

DESCRIBES WORK AT HATCHERY & CARDIGAN TROUT REARING POND

Mr. H. B. Cann, Dominion Government Officer from the Cardigan Rearing Pond was guest speaker at the regular quarterly meeting of Queen's County branch of the P. E. Island Fish and Game Association, held at Prince of Wales College on Monday night.

Mr. Cann described how the young fish were taken from ponds, lakes and rivers in other Provinces and brought to the Southport Hatchery until further developed before being transferred to the rearing pond at Cardigan. On reaching a size designed in the routine handling of the fish, they were released in various ponds and rivers throughout the Island.

Releases made in this manner during the past year were: 95,000 speckled trout and 144,000 salmon in King's County, 60,000 trout in Queen's and 76,000 trout and 132,000 salmon in Prince. Mr. Cann said there was no river in Queen's County adapted to salmon release.

He told how Rainbow trout, when released, remained around the local rivers for considerable time before going out to sea. Later, on their return to the rivers, their structure and appearance was entirely changed along with greatly increased size. They then took on a new status and the name "Steelhead".

In describing the terrific toll taken on trout and young salmon by wild life, Mr. Cann said that a crane which had been observed feeding near Cardigan for approximately twenty minutes, was shot and on examination between 150 and 170 young salmon were accounted for. He also listed Blue Heron, Kingfisher and racoon as outstanding in their consumption of trout and salmon.

He said that leased ponds had a tendency to be overstocked and through the lack of adequate feed, there was never any large trout. A hearty vote of thanks was extended Mr. Cann for his highly interesting and informative talk.

Mr. Wilfred Saunders of Ellerslie Hatchery spoke briefly regarding the work there and reported that more than 3000 trout were caught in the hatchery pond during the past fishing season. He also made the interesting announcement that quite a few salmon had been caught and made special reference to at least one which he estimated might weigh up to twenty pounds and which had been hooked with light trout gear several times but always broke away.

Messrs F. A. S. Jones and Erskine MacNutt touched briefly on the Wild Life Meeting scheduled to be held in Amherst on Sept. 27, to which a cordial invitation was extended. Mr. Ralph Jenkins is in charge of transportation.

Three interesting sport films were showed and fully enjoyed. Tentative arrangements were made for a fox hunt later in the fall. President Tom Gillies presided over the meeting which was attended by over one hundred members.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Underhay and daughter Susan of Fortuyn were guests on September 12 of the Messrs Margaret and Jennie Lee Richards.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Turner and son Jackie of Charlottetown, were recent guests of relatives in Georgetown.

Miss Helen Martell left early in the week for Charlottetown where she will take Grade XI studies at Notre Dame Academy.

Montague N And S Assoc. Resumes Meetings

The first home and school meeting of the new school year was held Sept. 13 in the new high school. Judge J. S. DesRoches presided in the absence of president Ralph Beck.

The minutes of the annual meeting were read and approved. Regular business arising from the minutes was discussed and reports of various committees received.

Judge DesRoches then introduced Lt.-Col. Leo F. MacDonald, principal of Queen Square School, as guest speaker.

Lt.-Col. MacDonald delivered an inspiring and instructive address concerning the philosophy of education and the place of the local home and school association. In the course of his lecture he noted the marked changes of modern living and especially the changes in parental attitudes towards teachers. He feels that teachers should remember that we are a Christian people and all teaching should be done from the viewpoint of the basic Christian philosophy — that there is a God. If the fundamentals are forgotten foreign "isms" creep in and destroy our democratic way of life.

Then Lt.-Col. MacDonald spoke on the history of the Home and School Association of Queen Square School which provides helpful suggestions for projects, programs and membership.

Rev. Norris commented on the speaker's address, remarking that such inspirational and educational lectures were much needed in our modern world.

Judge DesRoches extended a hearty vote of thanks to Lt.-Col. MacDonald and adjourned the meeting.

Predicts Fight Between Federal, Que. Governments

TORONTO, (CP)—The Telegram said Tuesday an all-out fight appears to be shaping up between the Quebec and Ontario governments, with the St. Laurent administration bent on breaking the long-time hold Premier Duplessis and his Union Nationale party have had on Quebec.

Its Ottawa dispatch says a new breach between Ottawa and Quebec is believed the result of the Quebec provincial income tax imposed recently and its non-deductibility from federal taxes. Another sore point is federal negotiations with Quebec over the St. Lawrence seaway, it says. "The question is whether Quebec authorities want to include the power development scheme in the seaway. Ottawa hasn't received a positive answer and is reported to be irked by Quebec's indecision."

GRAND ADMIRAL Admiral Lord Rodney entered the British Navy at age 13 in 1732, and became a captain in 10 years.
