

SUPREME COURT, PRINCE COUNTY.

The October Term of the Supreme Court of Judicature, opened at Saint Eleanor's, on Tuesday the third instant.

No criminal cases were tried; the Grand Jury having ignored the Bill of Indictment against several parties charged with having assisted the prisoner De Roche in breaking the Jail, and escaping from imprisonment. A Bill was afterwards found against several parties for obstructing the High Sheriff in the execution of his duty, and a Bench Warrant issued for their apprehension.

Mary Borthwick, Administratrix, vs. Charles Binns, Esquire. Mr. Charles Palmer for the plaintiff, stated this case, as brought for money had and received by the Defendant, being the proceeds of land sold, belonging to the Estate of John Borthwick, deceased, and which, it appeared, had come to the hands of Defendant, in his capacity of Executor of Robert McCaul, deceased; the Defendant pleaded the general issue. Verdict for Plaintiff for £100. Mr. Lawson for Defendant, obtained a Rule nisi for a new trial, to be argued at Charlottetown next Term.

Lemuel Cambridge, vs. John Mann.—Mr. C. Palmer, for Plaintiff, stated the action to be for £70 11s. 6d., for goods sold, and an account stated and settled, subject to some items of set-off. The question turned chiefly upon a settlement had between the parties in 1846—Verdict for Plaintiff for £49 odd.

A summary Cause and several Appeals were after disposed of, and the Court arose on Friday evening.

THE SMALL POX AT PICTOU.—The following is an extract from a Letter from the Rev. J. Waddell, one of the Passengers in the Brig Lulan, arrived in Pictou from Glasgow, the Steerage passengers of which are sick with the Small Pox:

"It should be particularly mentioned, that there was no appearance of disease among the cabin and after steerage passengers (the miners,) and that these were all landed and separated from the poor people who were suffering so severely.

"Our party and the miners, are showing no indications of having caught the infection, and if they on the other side of the water are enjoying the Quarantine as we are doing here, the detention will be the principal thing of which they will have to complain.

"There is much in the history of the expatriation of those poor Highlanders, which calls for severe reprehension, and indeed, the Scotch papers animadverted very severely upon the treatment they met with after they left their homes, and before they embarked with us. A penalty was recovered from the shipping agent who disappointed them, and placed in part, in the hands of Capt. McKenzie for their benefit. They contracted for a passage directly from their own homes to this country, and were thrown ashore at Glasgow, where beyond doubt they caught the disease that is raging amongst them; and they have now to find their way, as they best can, to Cape Breton and P. E. Island. They were in a very unfit condition to undertake such a voyage; the wonder is, that they did not suffer more.—Their circumstances excited sympathy in Glasgow and Greenock. Religious tracts and Bibles for such of them as could read, were entrusted to passengers to be distributed amongst them, and from a Benevolent Society, a considerable quantity of Oatmeal was furnished to Captain McKenzie, to aid them on their way, after being landed on our shores. Nevertheless they have much to complain of, and I hope the question is now being seriously entertained, whether sufficient provision has been made for their safety and comfort in the temporary sheds where they are now lodged. If the weather becomes wet and cold while they are there, they must still suffer much.

"Yours truly

"JAMES WADDELL.

"At Quarantine, Pictou, Sept. 20."

It is supposed that the disease will likely extend through the whole of the Highlanders, upwards of 90 of whom are now afflicted with it. The following are the names of the cabin passengers: Rev. Mr. Waddell, Rev. Mr. Honeyman and lady, James Carmichael, Esq., Mrs. Grant, Miss J. Dawson, Miss J. Carmichael, Messrs. J. A. Dawson, and D. Faichney.

PICTOU, Oct. 5.—The Bark Lulan has been released from Quarantine. No symptoms of infection appearing among the cabin passengers or Miners, they have been released from their irksome detention at the Beaches. The Highlanders, however, are detained, many of them being still labouring under small-pox. Several deaths have occurred among them, during the last week.
