IN MEMORIAM In loving memory of my Mother, Mrs. George Anstie, who passed away March 24th, 1950.

Often a lonely heartache, Many a silent tear, But always a beautiful memory, Of a Mother I loved so dear.

Loving memories never die, As hearts go on and days go by, In my heart Mother is living yet, I loved her too dearly to ever forget.

Always Remembered by Daughter Annie.

Easter Monday Play Promises Success

Easter Monday afternoon and evening the St. Charles Auxiliary Society presents at the Prince Edward Theatre "The Charming Intruder." This play, Charles George's latest comedy, has proven very popular because of its high standards and human appeal. It is being produced and staged here under the direction of J. Austin Trainor, C. D. A.

The seat sale at R. T. Holman Ltd., re-opens this morning after the holiday, Good Friday. All those planning to attend the performance should obtain their tickets early and avoid disappointment.

Included in the program are a number of good specialty numbers and music will be furnished by the well known Downtowners Orchestra.

The performance is in aid of the Charlottetown Hospital. Those planning to attend are assured of an entertaining evening and at the same time assisting in a worthy cause.

Farm Prices & Market Report From the weekly report by Mr. W. R. Shaw, Deputy Minister of Agriculture:

The latest reports from the Bureau of Statistics indicate a sharp up-swing in wholesale prices. The biggest advances were for wool, yarns, and cloth; and also on meats, leathers, oils and fats, lumber, wood pulp, and wrapping paper. The price of building materials advanced to a peak level. The biggest monthly jump in cost of living index for the last three years took place in January. These figures indicate that the inflationary swing is still on and the end is not yet.

Feeds Grains in bulk carloads have eased off a bit this week. No. 1 feed barley is $3.33 per hundred, bulk, wholesale. No. 1 feed oats is $3.07, and No. 5 wheat $3.08 1/2. American oilcake is over $50.00 per ton; bran and shorts $35.50 per ton. Soybean meal $103.60 per ton. Prices are keeping on a pretty strong level, and, I think, they will be strong for some time.

There is no change in the price of hay which is $18.00 to $20.00 per ton, and seed grains and other seeds are approximately on last week's levels.

Dairying Although butter prices were very irregular throughout the whole Dominion during the past week, the price in the Maritimes remained steady.

On the Nova Scotia markets there was no change in prices quoted and the factory price remains the same at 68c f.o.b. Halifax, with local jobbing at 70c.

Production in New Brunswick is not increasing very rapidly and all imported butter reaching that province is in the hands of the trade. The opinion of most dairy producers there is that prices paid for butter-fat during the past winter were not high enough to meet the cost of production and that butter should be higher, even, at the present, to meet those costs. However, they believe that it would be a bad thing for the industry for prices to go high at the present time. The result is that there were no requests for a change in New Brunswick butter quotations and they remain the same as last week, with creameries to wholesalers, one and two pound flats, 68 1/2c; wholesale to retail stores, one and two pound flats, 70c.

In Montreal the price of No. 1 solids fresh delivered on March 19th, was quoted at 70c. Today, March 22nd, the price of No. 1 solids on that market is quoted at 85c which represents an advance of 15c a pound within the space of three days.

Due to the decreased production at the present time in Prince Edward Island, and in view of the fact that prices are advancing very rapidly on the Montreal and Toronto markets, it may be difficult to hold the present price level here. However, during the past week there was no change and none will be forthcoming until an adjustment is first made in the other Maritime Provinces.

Today, butter is quoted on the Charlottetown market at 68 1/2c wholesale, delivered, with local jobbing at 70c.

The production of butter in this Province for the week ending March 10th was 31,652 pounds compared with 38,980 pounds the same week last year; a decrease of 19.2%.

Government butter has been sold and that there will be no more available after delivery of confirmed sales. How about a little better care to the old cow? She can turn the tide of production with your help.

Eggs and Poultry The quotations given below are intended as a guide for the purchase and sale of eggs.

Operators of grading stations are quoting producers for the ungraded product Grade A Large 44c, A Medium 42, A Pullet & B 38c, C 26c. Wholesalers are quoting for the graded pack, delivered, Grade AL 48, AM 47, AP 46, B 43, C 31, and offering same pack to retailers at Grade AL 53, AM 51, AP 47, B 47. Eggs are retailing to consumers at Grade AL 57-62, AM 55-60, AP 50, B 49-53.

Poultry production is good but bad road conditions are interfering with deliveries. Demand continues strong. Egg prices to producers have dropped off since last week, but the price in the wholesale and retail trade is the same. Get adjusted. Mr. Wholesaler and Retailer.

Attention Patrons Milton's Old Spain Restaurant will be closed all day Easter Sunday.

Services At Saint Peter's Good Friday services at St. Peter's Cathedral began with morning prayer and litany taken by Rev. W. G. Hogg. At eleven o'clock the Repraches were sung and the table prayers were said with the proper collects, epistle and gospel of the day. The sermon was preached by Canon E. M. Malone of the sixth saying of our Lord from the Cross "It is finished." At three o'clock in All Souls Chapel there was a short service of devotion and at five o'clock a children's service. The service for the day closed with evensong at 7 p. m.

Local Study Club Honors Founder At Luncheon Meeting A most enjoyable and probably unique event was celebrated on Thursday, March 22 when the members of a study group, at their annual luncheon meeting in the Charlottetown Hotel, paid particular honour to Mrs. C. J. Stewart as founder, and president for the past twenty-five years.

This club, instituted by Mrs. Stewart in 1926, first included a group of five women. The number gradually increased and today the membership is fifteen.

The subjects studied in the early years were purely literary - Byron, Tennyson, Browning, Shakespeare, Chaucer having been treated with thorough and leisurely devotion.

In recent years the subjects have been more varied - a whole period, for instance 18th century England and France, having been handled with more rapid and intensified detail. Different continents too have been glimpsed, and many have been the topics touched on.

In 1949 the club's interests received a further impetus by an affiliation with the Canadian Home Reading Union composed of groups of women deeply interested in good reading.

Branches of the Union had already been established in two provinces - Ontario and Quebec and one in the Netherlands, when the "Margaret Stewart Branch" made Prince Edward Island the third Canadian Province to have such an organization.

Mrs. Stewart is to
