

SIGN NOMINATION PAPERS

Hon. Angus MacLean and Heath Macquarrie were nominated to represent the Progressive Conservative party in the dual riding of Queens County in the Nov. 8 election. This could and likely will mark the final Conservative nomination in the dual riding and is expected to be the last nomination in Queens County before the new redistribution act is made effective. A minimum of 25 electors must nominate the respective candidates and in the MacLean-Macquarrie case there were 60 names with Premier W. R. Shaw's name heading the list. The two PC candidates (Macquarrie left) are shown here with A. Walther Gaudet, Queens County returning officer, as they signed their names yesterday afternoon. Arthur MacInnis, city, witnessed the signatures.

look for prices as really promising. Mr. Irving said he will have a sizable part of his investment back on this year's operation—he had not completed that part of his accounting and will, of course, have the equipment for future use. Mr. Willis observed that this type of equipment lasts a long time. Both men are sold on the value of irrigation. They will use it in future, regardless of the type of weather. Both men agree that the irrigation should be started earlier in another year, three weeks to one month earlier. This year the water wasn't turned on by either of the two men—there are several others who used irrigation this year—until mid-July. Mr. Irving suggests one and one-half inches of water per week is the amount of moisture required for best results. Mr. Willis suggests "between one inch and one and one-half". Mr. Willis suggests that to get the best results from irrigation the potato rows, or drills, should be side dressed with fertilizer several times through the season. There are machines that will do this—distribute a small amount of fertilizer on the row efficiently. They side dress as often as five times in California and Florida, for example, he said. Many agriculturists said this year they have seen a lot of fertilizer that has not been dissolved into plant food, because of the lack of moisture. Mr. Irving told The-Guardian he has seen that condition even in the irrigated portion of his land. The Murray Harbor man suggests that the irrigation will cause faster growth and make early harvesting possible, in addition to the benefit from extra production. By last night harvesting in the Willis potato acreage was 90 per cent complete. It is 70 to 80 per cent completed in the province in general, he estimates. There are four combines in operation on the Willis spuds. They cleaned up 40 acres on Thursday, though their production is roughly 35 acres a day on the average.

Council Approves Pool As Centennial Project

SUMMERSIDE — A resolution that a swimming pool be the 1967 Centennial project in the town of Summerside was given unanimous approval at a special Town Council meeting here last evening.

Both the federal and provincial governments are most desirous that all cities, towns and villages in Canada enter into the spirit of 1967 Centennial celebrations by instituting permanent projects within respective areas. A centennial committee under the chairmanship of Coun. Frances Perry was named some time ago to select a project and the choice was made following the presentation of a brief to the committee by the local Kinsmen Club recommending a swimming pool in the vocational high school.

Approval of the project was made on the provision that the Kinsmen Club can meet the following conditions—that it can make all necessary legal arrangements required with respect to the location; that it agrees to raise the balance of money required after applying

Officers Named By School Body

Mrs. James Lapley, president of the Spring Park Home and School Association presided over the first meeting for the 1965-66 school year. The new staff members were introduced to the parents by the principal, Mrs. M. Dover. A report on the provincial home and school meeting was given by Mrs. Grace MacKinnon. She commented on the importance of communication beginning at an early age and its role in the development and progress of a child. Correspondence was read by the secretary, Mrs. Nelson Henry, including a letter of thanks from Mrs. H.W. Pleich for donation to the library. The following officers were in-

Canadian Water Study Seen As Important Job

CAPITAL BUREAU OF THE GUARDIAN
OTTAWA — Robert H. Clark faces one of the most important jobs in Canada. As chief hydraulic engineer for the Department of Northern Affairs and National Resources, he heads a staff of 25 people who are embarking on major studies of the nation's most precious resource—water.

Simply stated, Mr. Clark's job is to decide how Canada's water can best be used and at what cost. At the moment his efforts are focused on two newly announced projects. One is a federal-Ontario assessment of the water potential of Northern Ontario. The other is a study of the tidal power possibilities of the Bay of Fundy.

But almost certain to be added to the Clark briefcase is a study of the 300,000 square mile drainage region of the Saskatchewan-Nelson river system on the prairies.

The growing need of a long range plan for Canadian water is emphasized by the development of the continental concept of water usage. The North America Water and Power Alliance has been getting increasing attention in the United States. While the plan is still in the infant stage, it involves a multi-billion dollar water diversion which would affect a network of Canadian rivers.

NO BARTERING
National Resources Minister Arthur Laing has made it clear Canada will not barter away its water until its future needs are secured and protected. It is the job of Mr. Clark's branch to determine these future needs.

The study of Ontario water diversions was sparked by Sudbury engineer-Thomas-Kierans who spoke to both Federal and provincial governments about the feasibility of reversing the flow of rivers which now empty into James' Bay. He would divert this water into the hungry Great Lakes' system and produce electrical power at the same time.

In the west, prairie resource ministers have proposed a three-year, $5,000,000 investigation of water available to the Saskatchewan and Nelson rivers, including possible diversions of the Peace and Athabaska rivers.

The Bay of Fundy tidal power project would be the second of its kind in the world. Mr. Clark has made two visits to France to study the first such project of its kind on the Rance river.

FEWER WORK LAND
About 10 per cent of Canada's labor force is in agriculture today, compared with 46 per cent in 1900.

Also at last evening's meeting the finance committee recommended that Town-Manager J. A. Brophy attend the Municipal Finance Officers Association school which will be held in Halifax from Oct. 27 to 30. Mr. Brophy has been attending these schools every year for the past 20 years and was the initial president of the Maritime branch of the association in 1946.

Coun. Perry pointed out that it was through Mr. Brophy's participation in these annual schools that the town got on the American bond market. This benefited the town financially, she said.

Film Preview Set For YCMA

"The Restless Ones" considered the most successful motion picture yet produced by evangelist Billy Graham will be shown in Charlottetown on Nov. 8 and 9 at Queen Charlotte High School Auditorium.

With the accent on youth this feature length film reports say, deals "imaginatively and dramatically with the teenage crises." With a background setting provided by the 1963 Billy Graham Los Angeles Crusade, and artfully woven into the story pattern, "The Restless Ones" is said to be a hard-hitting, bold approach to social problems.

A preview showing by invitation will be held on Oct. 27 at the YMCA at 12:15 p.m.

PROGRESSIVE CONSERVATIVE POLICIES FOR PEOPLE

WILL BRING A NEW CANADA FOR YOU AND YOUR CHILDREN

● MEDICARE

The Progressive Conservative Party is committed to Medicare. It was a PC Government that brought hospital insurance to Canadians. We will enlarge the same plan to cover all illnesses, including mental illness on exactly the same basis. It was a PC Government that took the first steps to a nation-wide Medicare program in 1961 when it set up the Hall Commission to study health services. If you want a national health plan, including universal Medicare with proper priorities and efficiently managed, vote Progressive Conservative on November 8.

● EDUCATION FOR ALL

Your children will get a full educational opportunity under the Progressive Conservative's "National Policy for Education"—Canada's first. University grants will be more than doubled, meaning LOWER TUITION FEES. Federal-provincial programs for vocational schools—begun by the PC's but allowed to lag—will be stepped up to train our youth for the new age of high skills and automation.

● DEDUCTION OF MUNICIPAL TAXES

As a homeowner, your taxes will be less under a Progressive Conservative Government. Municipal taxes up to $500 will be deductible from taxable income for federal income tax purposes. Rising school costs have put an unfair share of the tax burden on the homeowners, almost to the breaking point. This deduction means a federal sharing of education costs with the provinces and municipalities.

● OLD AGE PENSIONS $100

Our senior citizens will not be left to suffer under the spiralling cost of living. The Canada Pension Plan forgets them. A Progressive Conservative Government will provide $100 per month old age pension—WITHOUT A MEANS TEST. We owe this to those who have built our country.

OTHER SOLID POLICIES FOR PEOPLE AND FOR PROGRESS

- NHA Mortgages on Older Homes to aid labor mobility.
- End of the Sales Tax on Drugs and stop the penalty for being sick.
- Recreational Parks Aid near our cities.
- Consumer's Loan Act to cut the high cost of installment buying.
- Eastern Farm Policy with a feed grain agency.
- $4 per hundredweight payments for industrial milk to help dairy farmers.
- Catch insurance for our East coast saltfish industry.
- National Power Grid to tie Canada together.
- "Roads to Resources" to open our frontiers.
- Department of Youth to help young Canada.
- Confederation Conference to strengthen our unique union of provinces and cultures.
- New Life for ARDA to help farm communities.
- Urban planning research assistance to all communities.
- Aggressive foreign trade sales to build world markets.
- Major port expansion to move Canadian wheat and other products.
- End of the 11% Sales Tax on building materials and production machinery which have added to your cost of living.
