Attlee Moves To Meet Split In Labor Party Brief Also Urges Increases In Other Farm Floor Levels

Calls Emergency Meeting To Deal With Bevan Revolt

LONDON, March 6.—(Reuters)—Clement Attlee, fuming over the split in his Labor Party ranks, today scheduled an emergency meeting to decide against the left-wing rebels who failed to support him in yesterday's defence debates.

The full-scale party meeting was set for next Tuesday—the day the Conservative Government will hand down its new budget and when Aneurin Bevan's Labor rebels are expected to kick up more trouble in the opposition ranks.

Bevan, making a bold bid for leadership of the Labor Party, defied Attlee's men in the defence debate voting. Some 55 of his followers went along in abstaining from the main Labor motion doubting the Government's ability to carry out the defence program. Then they voted against the program itself, which had been initiated by the Labor Government before it gave way to Winston Churchill's Conservative.

Bevan's followers have confronted the Labor Party with a grave internal crisis. Some of the Labor old guard would like their leaders to threaten the rebels with expulsion if they continue to defy the party line.

A much larger section thinks such drastic action is impossible, because the rebels represent nearly one-fifth of the party's parliamentary strength.

Bevan supporters today expressed resentment over the way in which their leaders have handled the internal quarrel. Most of them appeared to feel that there is little the party can do by way of disciplinary measures.

Danger of the situation is that the revolt, involving about 10 pacifists as well as the Bevan group, may foment an even bigger split when the government's "austerity" budget is introduced next week.

Bevan plans to attack the budget on the score that proposed new austerity measures are caused by rearmament expenditure.

Evidence Heard In Murder Trial of N. S. Soldier

SEOUL, Korea, March 6.—(AP)—Two British soldiers testified today at the murder trial of Canadian signaller Robert Burns MacDonald, 21, of New Waterford, N.S., that they saw another Canadian shoot in a Korean house.

A Canadian General Court Martial is trying MacDonald on a charge of killing Pte. Harold Carlen Harrison 31, of Truro, N.S., on Jan. 28, Harrison, a member of the 25th Canadian Infantry Brigade Headquarters, died of a bullet wound in the stomach Feb. 2.

MacDonald, a member of the Royal Canadian Horse Artillery, pleaded innocent yesterday. The two Britons said they heard Harrison say to MacDonald, "You shoot me, you dirty dog" after hearing a gun that "popped."

Gunner J. Savage and Charles Parks of the Royal Artillery testified they were in the Korean house when MacDonald came in waving a .45 calibre automatic.

"Nobody leaves or moves, or I shoot," they both quoted the stocky defendant as saying.

Parks said MacDonald was swaying and looked as if he had been drinking.

The British soldiers said Harrison entered from another room, complaining, "What's all the noise about? I want to sleep."

Harrison then turned to MacDonald and said, "You shot me, you dirty dog."

French Assembly Supports Pinay

PARIS, March 6.—(AP)—Antoine Pinay was confirmed by the National Assembly as French Premier today through a dramatic split in the usually solid opposition of de Gaulle's to anyone but their own leader.

Pinay, 60-year-old independent republican (Conservative), then set about to try to form France's first right-wing coalition cabinet since the end of the Second World War.

The confirmation was such a surprise that even official vote tabulators in the Assembly were announcing Pinay's defeat before they discovered 27 followers of Gen. Charles de Gaulle had voted for him in defiance of party orders to abstain.

This gave him 324 votes to 206—11 more than the required constitutional minimum of 313. The socialists and Communists voted against him.

Pinay got an extra lift when two de Gaulle's resigned from the party in a stormy caucus before the vote was taken. De Gaulle himself had ordered party members to abstain. If obeyed by all, this would have beaten Pinay.

Pinay still faces a tough fight next Tuesday to get assembly approval of a cabinet to steer France's budget out of a 400,000,000 franc ($1,143,000,000) deficit, restore the nose-diving franc, continue the costly fight against the Communists in Indo-China and meet France's bigger commitments toward the defence of Europe.

Pinay's victory was hailed as a sign of the future hope of the party.

Earlier in the day the 1,600 scouts, including 50 from Canada, had a display of tent building while Kingfolded. Special postage stamps marking the jamboree went on sale today in two values.

MUNSAN, Korea, March 7.—(Friday)—(AP)—The knotted Korean truce talks were drawn tighter Thursday. Allied negotiators quickly rejected a Communist proposal that neutral truce inspectors, including Russia, be allowed to examine secret military equipment.

The Allies already had vetoed Russia as a neutral inspector, and looked upon the new Red proposal as simply a "needing device."

Negotiation sessions grew shorter as both sides exhausted their arguments on neutral countries and repatriation of war prisoners.

However, truce talks were scheduled to continue at Panmunjom at 11 A.M. today (9 P.M. E.S.T. Thursday).

Observers at advanced United Nations command headquarters said they feel only a top-level decision in Washington, Moscow or Peking can break the stalemate.

Sub-delegations of the main armistice commission met only 12 minutes Thursday in prisoner exchange. The Allies submitted a 24-

Ottawa Boy Bomb Victim

OTTAWA, March 6.—(CP)—Thirteen-year-old Brian Tourangeau was killed today when a mortar bomb exploded as he played with it in the kitchen of his home.

The lad, son of Mrs. Isobel Tourangeau, apparently was alone in the apartment while his mother was at work. He was blown to pieces as the bomb went off and shattered the apartment kitchen.

Called to the scene by police, Coroner Harry Dover identified the explosion as that of a mortar bomb.

Mrs. Mary Perrault, who lives in the apartment above the Tourangeaus, said the blast knocked a hole in her kitchen floor. She and her small baby escaped injury, she said, because she had gone to visit a neighbor a few minutes before the explosion.

A neighbor, Gerald Wheatley, who rushed to the Tourangeau apartment, said "the entire kitchen was aflame, and the walls were scarred with fragments of what I found later was a mortar bomb. I beat out as much of the fire as I could while someone phoned the fire department."

There was no immediate clue as to how the bomb was in the boy's possession.

Prime Minister Indicates Little Hope Of Tax Relief

OTTAWA, March 6.—(CP)—The Commons, voting shortly after Prime Minister St. Laurent warned that Canadians can expect no substantial tax reductions this year, tonight defeated two opposition motions of non-confidence in the government.

Members voted 88 to 44 on a Progressive Conservative motion which charged that the government continues to impose excessive, burdensome and unjust taxation; refuses to eliminate waste and extravagance and to cut down the cost of government; and fails to take adequate steps to deal effectively with inflation and the high cost of living.

By a vote of 90 to 45, members defeated a C. C. F. motion criticizing the government for having "failed" to inaugurate a national health-insurance program with provision for participation by the provinces.

OTTAWA, March 6.—(CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent indicated today that Canadians can expect no substantial reductions in federal taxes until the international situation improves.

Addressing the Commons after George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, had called for immediate assurance of tax reductions, Mr. St. Laurent said the 1952-53 budget may well contain some tax adjustments.

The Prime Minister added: "But so long as the world situation continues as it is, I cannot hold out any hope to the Canadian people of any substantial reduction in the scale of the rate of taxation."

At the same time, he indicated that taxes will not go higher. He said: "I think that most Canadian taxpayers feel that under semi-peaceful conditions, even under conditions of a cold war, taxation has just about reached a high limit, and it is beyond for them to bear at the same time."

Mr. Drew, launching formal debate on the traditional motion in reply to the Speech from the Throne, called for a vote of non-confidence in the government.

Bank Robbery Suspects Wound Toronto Police

TORONTO, March 6.—(CP)—Two men stopped for questioning as bank robbery suspects opened fire today on a crack detective team, wounding the two police officers, one severely.

Sergeant of detectives Edmund Tong, a gangland nemesis, was shot four times through the body. His condition is described as critical.

His partner, Det.-Sgt. Roy Perry, was shot through the wrist. Fellow officers expressed belief the detectives had been on the point of arresting the men wanted in the wave of bank holdups that has swept the Toronto district.

Said deputy police chief M. M. Mulholland: "There is no doubt these men are the bank robbers who got the $24,000 from the Bank of Montreal at College Street and Manning Avenue (in West-Central Toronto) last Tuesday."

From a hospital bed, Sgt. Perry said he and Sgt. Tong, in a police cruiser, had trailed a car carrying two men, pulled abreast of it and ordered the driver to the curb.

"They stopped, Eddie got out and walked toward the door of the car. Suddenly both men jumped out with guns in their hands. They started blazing right away."

The car used by the gunmen was found abandoned. Police said it had been stolen.

More than 1,000 policemen were thrown into the hunt. Mayor Allan Lamport said he will recommend that the city offer a $5,000 reward.

Sgt. Tong's reputation as a tracker of criminals received international recognition last September when he trailed William (Skippy) Miller, a bank robbery suspect, to a Minneapolis apartment. Tong combed the underworld of New York, Buffalo, Winnipeg, Chicago and Minneapolis until he ran down his quarry.

Turns Down NATO Post

MONCTON, N. B., March 6.—(CP)—Donald Capson, 27, tonight was found guilty of murder in the Oct. 2 slaying of Mrs. Rosie Wing in her home in Moncton. The jury, after more than three hours' deliberation brought in the verdict along with the "strongest recommendation for clemency."

After hearing the verdict Mr. Justice W. A. I. Anglin adjourned court until tomorrow morning, at which time sentence will be imposed.

Capson, a Moncton house painter was charged with the murder of Mrs. Wing, 54-year-old money-lender, in the debris-littered one-room apartment she occupied here.

Police searching through heaps of papers, tins cans and other refuse which littered Mrs. Wing's living quarters, later discovered more than $24,000 in cash and bonds.

George T. Mitton, crown prosecutor, pressing for a murder conviction in his address to the jury, said the accused visited the Wing home "to rob. He did rob. He did murder. . . . Drinking is no excuse in a court of law."

Requesting an acquittal, J. T. Carvell, defence counsel, told the jury the pattern of evidence introduced by the prosecution had established that murder had been committed, but he maintained insufficient evidence had been produced to link his client with the slaying.

The trial opened Feb. 28. A

New Ferry Service Urged By Yarmouth

YARMOUTH, N.S., March 6.—(CP)—The Yarmouth Board of Trade today asked the Federal Government to speed construction of a proposed new ferry to operate between Bar Harbor, Me., and here.

The Board said it was "greatly perturbed" over reports that a private line now operating a summer service between Yarmouth and Boston had sold its ships to Brazilian interests, subject to approval of the United States Maritime Commission.

The Board urged "immediate construction" of the ferry. The Yarmouth-Boston service has been one of the main routes for tourists entering Nova Scotia.

OTTAWA, March 6.—(CP)—The Canadian Federation of Agriculture today urged the Federal Government to grant price support for beef and lamb, increase the price of wheat to Canadian millers and boost floor prices for pork, eggs, cheese and butter.

The impact of these demands, if granted, would be generally to strengthen the wholesale and retail food price-structure. The Federation said organized farmers would accept lower prices for their products, if there is a corresponding drop in farmers' costs—a drop in prices, profits and wage levels of business, industry and labor.

In a 7,000-word brief that touched on the "national calamity" which has resulted from the outbreak of foot-and-mouth disease in South Saskatchewan, the Federation made these recommendations in a submission to the Cabinet:

1. Prices for beef and lamb should be brought back to where they were a week before the outbreak of foot-and-mouth disease was announced. This should be done by a Government price support program. This would mean that the Government would offer to buy all beef and lamb if the price fell to a certain level.

2. Wheat prices to Canadian millers should be separated from the price Canada gets under the International Wheat Agreement. The domestic price should be linked to changes in production costs and the base should be at least $2 a bushel, basis costs on Jan. 1, 1951. The miller now pays about $1.80, and the increase, if granted, would likely mean a higher price for bread.

3. The Government's floor price for hogs should be raised to a point where it would be $28 a hundredweight for grade B-1 hogs dressed, basis Winnipeg, "appropriate differentials" at all major markets. The present floor price brings it to about $24.50 a hundredweight at Winnipeg.

4. Measures should be provided to protect the dairy industry against imports of low-priced vegetable oils which go into production of margarine. The floor price on butter should be raised from its fixed two-year level of 58 cents a pound wholesale to 63 cents. The Government raised the floor to 63 cents last fall to cover purchases of 10,000,000 pounds from Canadian producers. That offer still remains in force, but the Government may withdraw it at any time. The 58-cent floor is good until 1953.

5. The floor on cheese should be raised to 30 cents a pound from last year's 28 cents and the support on eggs boosted to 44 cents from 38 cents in 1951.

The brief, presented by C.F.A. president H. H. Hannam and his executive, urged also that the Government seek a renewal of the four year International Wheat Agreement which ends in 1953, but to bid for higher floor and ceiling prices to boost the price the Canadian farmer can get for his wheat.

It requested that the Canadian Wheat Board which sells wheat, oats and barley for Western producers also undertake marketing in flax and rye and suggested that the Government look into the question of providing some type of feed-grain storage program for British Columbia and Eastern Canada which sometimes find prices climbing sharply in the midst of a shortage.
