

TO THE EDITOR OF THE COLONIAL HERALD,

Sir: When an individual comes before the public, as a Candidate for the guardianship of their liberties, it is the undoubted right of every man freely to examine into, and openly to express his opinion of the fitness of such person for so important a trust.

Under this impression, therefore, and entertaining, as I did, some doubts as to the identity of one of the individuals named in the report of the proceedings of a meeting stated to have been recently held on Lot 32, I was induced to propound the questions contained in my note of the 8th inst.—not anticipating that such full and satisfactory information as that comprised in the letters of your correspondents, signed AN ELECTOR, and AN INDEPENDENT ELECTOR, would so soon have been given to the public regarding a person so insignificant as this would-be Representative in question turns out to be.

In your last number, Sir, I perceive the 'Squire himself attempts to reply to some of these communications; but mark how guarded he is on the subject of the famous meeting! Does he deny that that mischief-making, officious character, Con. Little-to-do was the instigator of the affair—that he actually penned, or assisted in penning, the Resolutions intended by him to secure to the hitherto luckless Squire a passport to the confidence and support of the Constituency—in fact, that he, and he alone, organised the meeting? No; on this head, he is silent! But he informs us, that it "was fully competent to discharge the duties for which it was convened"—an assertion which I am not disposed to controvert, as I believe the reputed chairman is competent to write his name, and actually did append it to the Resolutions submitted to him by the notable character above alluded to, which was the only duty required of the meeting. The learned gentleman would also wish to bear testimony to the reputable character of the chairman; but by using language which he does not appear to comprehend, and by a total disregard of the common rules of Syntax, the only meaning that can be gathered from this passage of his letter is, that his (the chairman's) character is of no consequence to him or the Electors who attended the meeting—a statement, it is to be hoped, he did not intend to make. The weight of his last argument certainly would denote that he was not from Cork, for he, logically, informs us, that as he reposes the most unlimited confidence in the many, he is therefore guaranteed in his aim by the proffered support of a few. Poor lad!—if he fancies that his nomination at that meeting has galled a sufficient number of Electors to serve his purposes, he is miserably deceived, and must meet the fate he deserves. But, Mr. Editor, what a loss the country will sustain, in being deprived of the valuable services of one who has devoted so much time to the cultivation of his powers of oratory! Must all those lessons he has lately received at the meetings of the Debating Society go for nothing; and those soul-stirring speeches, replete with "words of learned length and thundering sound," (such as his letter to you, Sir, is composed of)—most those, I say, which he delights in delivering, not be heard with rapture within the walls of our Senate House? How affecting is the consideration, and how harrowing will it be to the feelings of the old gentleman himself, to reflect, that, after all his disinterested exertions in behalf of the purple the Squire should be ingratiously neglected by them!

But lest I should, Mr. Editor, trespass at too great length upon your kind indulgence, I will, for the present, take leave of our Candidate.

Yours,
A SUBSCRIBER.

Charlottetown, 23d June, 1842.

TO THE ELECTORS OF THE SECOND DISTRICT OF QUEEN'S COUNTY.

Gentlemen: You are anxious, no doubt, to obtain for yourselves and your beloved offspring an emancipation from Proprietary oppression, to effect which, none but your real friends are competent—and such will freely and voluntarily subscribe to that pledge which the valued majority of the late House of Assembly so tenaciously adhered to, and such candidates as now seek your suffrage, and refuse their acceptance of the test in question, no doubt, intend, if returned to Legislative trust, to operate for the good of that faction which has jeopardised your inherent rights, and prostrated those privileges you ought rightfully to enjoy. They boldly declare their determination of seeking access to the House of Assembly through the interested influence of your inveterate opponents, and at the same time assert their intention of not seeking your liberal suffrage. From such a procedure, what are you to expect from the exertions of such individuals, if elected to the House of Assembly, but the most strenuous opposition to your equitable claims? Four years are only elapsed since you procured in the House of Assembly an efficient majority of your Representatives. Within that period, notwithstanding the obstacles created to counteract their efforts, Addresses have been forwarded to Her Majesty, as also to the House of Commons, in your behalf, and a Colonial Agent (Joseph Hume, Esq.) has pledged himself to devote his services for your redemption—all which will be futile if, in the ensuing Elections, you do not strenuously follow up those measures you commenced in the last general Election, of returning no Representatives but such as pledged themselves faithfully to serve you.

England, the revered parent stock whence we have descended, has conferred freedom on the West India Negroes, at an expense of Twenty Millions of her money. Will it then be asserted, that that philanthropic nation will continue to remain deaf to your appeals? No—consistency and energy are all that are required on your part at the hustings, and triumph will crown your efforts. If those who are adverse to a concession of your long withheld rights, are determined to persecute or oppress a portion of you, for the free exercise of your elective rights, depend upon it, there are in this Island sufficient funds at the disposal of its patriotic electors, which shall be applied, in due season, to ward off your meditated ruin; therefore, rally on the day of trial—rally at the hustings—exercise your elective privileges, and firmly and exclusively sustain your pledged Candidates, paying no regard whatever to the insidious whisperings of such as would have you to vote through regard of country or any particular religious principles, as such destructive measures, if allowed to predominate, will assuredly sap the very vitals of your exertions, and prostrate at the mercy of your enemies, a cause which ought to be sustained wholly and solely by the most judicious, constitutional, and effective efforts.

I am, yours,
AN INDEPENDENT ELECTOR.

Lot 48, June, 1842.

On Tuesday last, at 12 o'clock, a Royal Salute was fired from H. M. B. SAPHO, now lying in this harbour; and also by the Garrison, in honor of Her Majesty's Coronation.

INTERESTING TO LADIES.—The brilliant transparency of a fine complexion is one of the most valuable components of FEMALE BEAUTY! When nature has been niggardly in this respect, or where it is desired to preserve or heighten her charms, ROWLAND'S KALYDOR (a vegetable exotic production) has been found the only efficacious, and at the same time innocuous preparation.

In removing every unsightly irregularity of the skin, whether occasioned by illness, irritation of the surface from exposure, either to cold winds, the sun, sea breezes, or other accidental causes, the operation of the KALYDOR is certain, expeditious, and delightfully soothing and refreshing—never failing to realise a healthy and radiant bloom. [See Advertisement.]

MELANCHOLY ACCIDENT.

Drowned, on the 23rd ult., off the Wood Islands, Mr. Samuel Street, Blacksmith, of this town. The deceased went out on a fishing excursion for a few days, with a lad, son of Mr. John Pippy, a nephew of his own; at the time the deceased was lost, Pippy was unwell, and did not observe his uncle fall overboard, but he had been talking a short time before of letting go the anchor, with the intention of fishing, the splash which he made in falling into the water was thought by Pippy to be occasioned by the anchor; on looking up a minute or so afterwards, he saw the deceased endeavouring to hold up by an oar which must have gone over with him; he then endeavored to get the boat about with a view to rescue his uncle from a watery grave, but being alone, was unable to accomplish his intention, and was driven before the wind to the Nova Scotia shore, whence he had to walk to Pictou, 24 miles, and arrived here from the latter place on Monday, to bring to his distressed family the melancholy intelligence.—Gaz.

TO THE ELECTORS OF THE FIRST DISTRICT OF QUEEN'S COUNTY.

GENTLEMEN:—Believing it to be for the benefit of the Country, that the votes of the popular party should be as little divided as possible at the ensuing Election, I hereby announce my intention of retiring in favour of any Candidates who may pledge themselves to support the interests of the people, to the satisfaction of the Electoral Committee of the Western Section of the District. Should they fail to do so, I shall be ready as ever, to receive the votes of all who are determined that their children shall be free instead of slaves; and from the powerful, unsolicited support which has already been tendered me, I cannot reasonably doubt of the result. Of the remaining popular Candidates, I shall only record my conviction that William Clark will "wheel about, and jump Jim Crow," and is not to be depended upon in public life, however estimable he may be in private. Circumstances have deepened that conviction since the New London meeting, and I shall not hesitate to state them publicly, should Mr. C. call upon me to do so.

The hundred-and-one lies which have been circulated regarding me, only prove that the parties who degrade themselves by inventing and propagating them, are unable to grapple with my public arguments. Should I yet receive your suffrages, and be elected to represent you in Parliament, I shall pay you the compliment of effectually disproving all those calumnies, as publicly as they have been made, by authority too high to be called in question.

Your obdt. Servant,

D. MACLEAN.

I have the honor to be,
